<sup>41</sup> Then you responded to me and admitted, "We have sinned against the LORD. We will now go up and fight as the LORD our God has told us to do." So you each put on your battle gear and prepared to go up to the hill country. <sup>42</sup> But the LORD told me: "Tell them this: 'Do not go up and fight, because I will not be with you and you will be defeated by your enemies.'" <sup>43</sup> I spoke to you, but you did not listen. Instead you rebelled against the LORD‡‡‡ and recklessly went up to the hill country. <sup>44</sup> The Amorite inhabitants of that area§ confronted§† you and chased you like a swarm of bees, striking you down from Seir as far as Hormah. <sup>§††45</sup> Then you came back and wept before the LORD, but he§† paid no attention to you whatsoever. <sup>§††46</sup> Therefore, you remained at Kadesh for a long time – indeed, for the full time. §†

These are the inhabitants of the land otherwise known as Edom, south and east of the Dead Sea. Jacob's brother Esau had settled there after his bitter strife with Jacob ( Gen 36:1-8). "Edom" means "reddish," probably because of the red sandstone of the region, but also by popular etymology because Esau, at birth, was reddish ( Gen 25:25). <sup>18</sup> sn: Mount Seir is synonymous with Edom. <sup>19</sup> tn: Heb includes "with silver." <sup>20</sup> tn: The Hebrew text does not have the first person pronoun; it has been supplied for purposes of English style (the Lord is speaking here). <sup>21</sup> tn: Heb "all the work of your hands." <sup>22</sup> tn: Heb "he has." Solomon ( 1 Kgs 9:28), Uzziah ( 2 Kgs 14:22), and Ahaz ( 2 Kgs 16:5-6) used it as a port but eventually it became permanently part of Edom. It may be what is known today as Tell el-Kheleifeh. Modern Eilat is located further west along the northern coast. See G. Pratico, "Nelson Glueck's 1938-1940 Excavations at Tell el-Kheleifeh: A Reappraisal," BASOR 259 (1985): 1-32. <sup>28</sup> sn: Ezion Geber. A place near the Gulf of Aqaba, Ezion-geber must be distinguished from Elat (cf. 1 Kgs 9:26-28; 2 Chr 8:17-18). It was, however, also a port city ( 1 Kgs 22:48-49). It may be the same as the modern site Gezirat al-Fauran, 15 mi (24 km) south-southwest from Tell el-Kheleifeh. <sup>29</sup> sn: Ar was a Moabite city on the Arnon River east of the Dead Sea. It is mentioned elsewhere in the "Book of the Wars of Yahweh" ( Num 21:15; cf. 21:28; Isa 15:1). Here it is synonymous with the whole land of Moab. <sup>30</sup> sn: The descendants of Lot. Following the destruction of the cities of the plain, Sodom and Gomorrah, as God's judgment, Lot fathered two sons by his two daughters, namely, Moab and Ammon ( Gen 19:30-38). Thus, these descendants of Lot in and around Ar were the Moabites. <sup>31</sup> sn: Emites. These giant people, like the Anakites ( Deut 1:28), were also known as Rephaites (v. 11). They appear elsewhere in the narrative of the invasion of the kings

Instructions Concerning Ammon

<sup>16</sup> So it was that after all the military men had been eliminated from the community, <sup>‡‡‡17</sup> the LORD said to me, <sup>18</sup> “ Today you are going to cross the border of Moab, that is, of Ar. <sup>§19</sup> But when you come close to the Ammonites, do not harass or provoke them because I am not giving you any of the Ammonites’ land as your possession; I have already given it to Lot’s descendants§† as their possession.

of the east where they are said to have lived around Shaveh Kiriathaim, perhaps 9 to 11 mi (15 to 18 km) east of the north end of the Dead Sea ( Gen 14:5). † sn: Rephaites. The earliest reference to this infamous giant race is, again, in the story of the invasion of the eastern kings ( Gen 14:5). They lived around Ashteroth Karnaim, probably modern Tell Ashtarrah (cf. Deut 1:4), in the Bashan plateau east of the Sea of Galilee. Og, king of Bashan, was a Rephaite ( Deut 3:11; Josh 12:4; 13:12). Other texts speak of them or their kinfolk in both Transjordan ( Deut 2:20; 3:13) and Canaan ( Josh 11:21-22; 14:12, 15; 15:13-14; Judg 1:20; 1 Sam 17:4; 1 Chr 20:4-8). They also appear in extra-biblical literature, especially in connection with the city state of Ugarit. See C. L’Heureux, “Ugaritic and Biblical Rephaim,” HTR 67 (1974): 265-74. †† sn: Horites. Most likely these are the same as the well-known people of ancient Near Eastern texts described as Hurrians. They were geographically widespread and probably non-Semitic. Genesis speaks of them as the indigenous peoples of Edom that Esau expelled ( Gen 36:8-19, 31-43) and also as among those who confronted the kings of the east ( Gen 14:6). ‡ tn: Most modern English versions, beginning with the ASV (1901), regard vv. 10-12 as parenthetical to the narrative. ‡† sn: Wadi Zered. Now known as Wadi el-H’Eesa, this valley marked the boundary between Moab to the north and Edom to the south. ‡‡ tn: Heb “we crossed the Wadi Zered.” This has been translated as “we did so” for stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy. ‡‡† tn: Heb “from the middle of.” Although many recent English versions leave this expression untranslated, the point seems to be that these soldiers did not die in battle but “within the camp.” ‡‡‡ tn: Heb “and it was when they were eliminated, all the men of war, to die from the midst of the people.” § sn: Ar. ### Defeat of Sihon, King of Heshbon

This place name (usually occurring as Rabbah; 2 Sam 11:11; 12:27; Jer 49:3) refers to the ancient capital of the Ammonite kingdom, now the modern city of Amman, Jordan. The word means "great [one]," probably because of its political importance. The fact that the sarcophagus "still remain[ed]" there suggests this part of the verse is post-Mosaic, having been added as a matter of explanation for the existence of the artifact and also to verify the claim as to its size. <sup>31</sup> tn: Heb "nine cubits." Assuming a length of 18 in (45 cm) for the standard cubit, this would be 13.5 ft (4.1 m) long. <sup>32</sup> tn: Heb "four cubits." This probably refers to the "short" or "regular" cubit of approximately 18 in (45 cm). <sup>34</sup> tn: The words "the territory extending" are not in the Hebrew text; they are supplied in the translation for stylistic reasons. sn: Aroer. See note on this term in Deut 2:36. <sup>35</sup> sn: Reubenites and Gadites. By the time of Moses' address the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh had already been granted permission to settle rest of Gilead and all of Bashan, the kingdom of Og, I gave to half the tribe of Manasseh. † (All the region of Argob, †† that is, all Bashan, is called the land of Rephaim. 14 Jair, son of Manasseh, took all the Argob region as far as the border with the Geshurites‡ and Maacathites‡‡ (namely Bashan ) and called it by his name, Havvoth-Jair, †† which it retains to this very day.) 15 I gave Gilead to Machir. †††16 To the Reubenites and Gadites I allocated the territory extending from Gilead as far as Wadi Arnon (the exact middle of the wadi was a boundary ) all the way to the Wadi Jabbok, the Ammonite border. 17 The Arabah and the Jordan River‡‡‡ were also a border, from the sea of Chinnereth§ to the sea of the Arabah (that is, the Salt Sea ),§† beneath the watershed§†† of Pisgah§† to the east.

Instructions to the Transjordanian Tribes

18 At that time I instructed you as follows: "The LORD your God has given you this land for your possession. You warriors are to cross over before your fellow Israelites§†† equipped for battle. 19 But your wives, children, and livestock (of which I know you have many ) may remain in the cities I have given you. 20 You must fight§† until the LORD gives your countrymen victory§† as he did you and they take possession of the land that the LORD your God is giving them on the other side of the Jordan River. Then each of you may return to his own territory that I have given you." 21 I also commanded Joshua at the same time, "You have seen everything the LORD your God did to these two kings; he§†† will do the same to all the kingdoms where you

See note on this term in v. 4. ‡ sn: Geshurites. Geshur was a city and its surrounding area somewhere northeast of Bashan (cf. Josh 12:5; 13:11, 13). One of David's wives was Maacah, the daughter of Talmi king of Geshur and mother of Absalom (cf. 2 Sam 13:37; 15:8; 1 Chr 3:2). ‡† sn: Maacathites. These were the people of a territory southwest of Mount Hermon on the Jordan River. The name probably has nothing to do with David's wife from Geshur (see note on "Geshurites" earlier in this verse). ‡‡ sn: Havvoth-Jair. The Hebrew name means "villages of Jair," the latter being named after a son (i.e., descendant) of Manasseh who took the area by conquest. ‡‡† sn: Machir was the name of another descendant of Manasseh (cf. Num 32:41; 1 Chr 7:14-19). ### Denial to Moses of the Promised Land

23 Moreover, at that time I pleaded with the LORD, 24 "O, Lord God, §§§ you have begun to show me<sup>18</sup> your greatness and strength. 19 (What god in heaven or earth can rival your works and mighty deeds?) 25 Let me please cross over to see the good land on the other side of the Jordan River – this good hill country and the Lebanon!" 20<sup>26</sup> But the LORD was angry at me because of you and would not listen to me. Instead, he<sup>21</sup> said to me, "Enough of that!<sup>22</sup> Do not speak to me anymore about this matter. 27 Go up to the top of Pisgah and take a good look to the west, north, south, and east, 23 for you will not be allowed to cross the Jordan. 28 Commission<sup>24</sup> Joshua, and encourage and strengthen him, because he will lead these people over and will enable them to inherit the land you will see." 29 So we settled down in the valley opposite Beth Peor. 25

The Nature of Israel's God

<sup>15</sup> Be very careful,<sup>18</sup> then, because you saw no form at the time the LORD spoke to you at Horeb from the middle of the fire.<sup>16</sup> I say this<sup>19</sup> so you will not corrupt yourselves by making an image in the form of any kind of figure. This includes the likeness of a human male or female,<sup>17</sup> any kind of land animal, any bird that flies in the sky,<sup>18</sup> anything that crawls<sup>20</sup> on the ground, or any fish in the deep waters of the earth.<sup>21</sup> When you look up<sup>22</sup> to the sky<sup>23</sup> and see the sun, moon, and stars – the whole heavenly creation<sup>24</sup> – you must not be seduced to worship and serve them,<sup>25</sup> for the LORD your God has assigned<sup>26</sup> them to all the people<sup>27</sup> of the world. <sup>28</sup><sup>20</sup> You, however, the LORD has selected and brought from Egypt, that iron-smelting furnace,<sup>29</sup> to be his special people<sup>30</sup> as you are today.<sup>21</sup> But the LORD became angry with me because of you and vowed that I would never cross the Jordan nor enter the good land that he<sup>31</sup> is about to give you. <sup>32</sup><sup>22</sup> So I must die here in this land; I will not cross the Jordan. 24 tn: Heb "all the host of heaven." 25 tn: In the Hebrew text the verbal sequence in v. 19 is "lest you look up...and see...and be seduced...and worship them...and serve them." However, the first two actions are not prohibited in and of themselves. The prohibition pertains to the final three actions. The first two verbs describe actions that are logically subordinate to the following actions and can be treated as temporal or circumstantial: "lest, looking up...and seeing..., you are seduced." See Joüon 2:635 §168. h. 26 tn: Or "allotted." 27 tn: Or "nations." 28 tn: Heb "under all the heaven." sn: The OT views the heavenly host as God's council, which surrounds his royal throne ready to do his bidding (see 1 Kgs 22:19). God has given this group, sometimes called the "sons of God" (cf. Job 1:6; 38:7; Ps 89:6), jurisdiction over the nations. See Deut 32:8 (LXX). Some also see this assembly as the addressee in Ps 82. While God delegated his council to rule over the nations, he established a theocratic government over Israel and ruled directly over his chosen people via the Mosaic covenant. See v. 20, as well as Deut 32:9.

<sup>25</sup> After you have produced children and grandchildren and have been in the land a long time, †† if you become corrupt and make an image of any kind†† and do other evil things before the LORD your God that enrage him, <sup>†††26</sup> I invoke heaven and earth as witnesses against you††† today that you will surely and swiftly be removed§ from the very land you are about to cross the Jordan to possess. You will not last long there because you will surely be§† annihilated.<sup>27</sup> Then the LORD will scatter you among the peoples and there will be very few of you§†† among the nations where the LORD will drive you.<sup>28</sup> There you will worship gods made by human hands – wood and stone that can neither see, hear, eat, nor smell.<sup>29</sup> But if you seek the LORD your God from there, you will find him, if, indeed, you seek him with all your heart and soul.<sup>§†30</sup> In your distress when all these things happen to you in the latter days, ††† if you return to the LORD your God and obey him<sup>§†31</sup> (for he§† is a merciful God), he will not let you down§§† or destroy you, for he cannot§§† forget the covenant

The Uniqueness of Israel's God

<sup>32</sup> Indeed, ask about the distant past, starting from the day God created humankind§§§ on the earth, and ask<sup>18</sup> from one end of heaven to the other, whether there has ever been such a great thing as this, or even a rumor of it.<sup>33</sup> Have a people ever heard the voice of God speaking from the middle of fire, as you yourselves have, and lived to tell about it? <sup>34</sup> Or has God<sup>19</sup> ever before tried to deliver<sup>20</sup> a nation from the middle of another nation, accompanied by judgments,<sup>21</sup> signs, wonders, war, strength, power,<sup>22</sup> and other very terrifying things like the LORD your God did for you in Egypt before your very eyes? <sup>35</sup> You have been taught that the LORD alone is God – there is no other besides him.<sup>36</sup> From heaven he spoke to you in order to teach you, and on earth he showed you his great fire from which you also heard his words.<sup>2337</sup> Moreover, because he loved<sup>24</sup> your ancestors, he chose their<sup>25</sup> descendants who followed them and personally brought you out of Egypt with his great power<sup>38</sup> to dispossess nations greater and stronger than you and brought you here this day to give you their land as your property.<sup>2639</sup> Today realize and carefully consider that the LORD is God in heaven above and on earth below – there is no other!<sup>40</sup> Keep his statutes and commandments that I am setting forth<sup>27</sup> today so that it may go well with you and your descendants and that

The verb is not present in the Hebrew text but has been supplied in the translation for clarification. The challenge has both temporal and geographical dimensions. The people are challenged to (1) inquire about the entire scope of past history and (2) conduct their investigation on a worldwide scale. <sup>19</sup> tn: The translation assumes the reference is to Israel's God in which case the point is this: God's intervention in Israel's experience is unique in the sense that he has never intervened in such power for any other people on earth. The focus is on the uniqueness of Israel's experience. Some understand the divine name here in a generic sense, “a god,” or “any god.” In this case God's incomparability is the focus (cf. v. 35, where this theme is expressed). <sup>20</sup> tn: Heb “tried to go to take for himself.” <sup>21</sup> tn: Heb “by testings.” The reference here is the judgments upon Pharaoh in the form of plagues. See Deut 7:19 (cf. v. 18) and 29:3 (cf. v. 2). <sup>22</sup> tn: Heb “by strong hand and by outstretched arm.” <sup>23</sup> tn: Heb “and his words you heard from the midst of the fire.” <sup>24</sup> tn: The concept of love here is not primarily that of emotional affection but of commitment or devotion. This verse suggests that God chose Israel to be his special people because he loved the patriarchs (Abraham, Isaac, Jacob) and had promised to bless their descendants. See as well Deut 7:7-9. <sup>25</sup> tc: The LXX, Smr, Syriac, Targum, and Vulgate read a third person masculine plural suffix for the MT's 3rd person masculine singular, “his descendants.” Cf. Deut 10:15. Quite likely the MT should be emended in this instance. <sup>26</sup> tn: Heb “(as) an inheritance,” that is, landed property that one can pass on to one's descendants. <sup>27</sup> tn: Heb “commanding” (so NRSV).

The Narrative Concerning Cities of Refuge

41 Then Moses selected three cities in the Transjordan, toward the east. 42 Anyone who accidentally killed someone† without hating him at the time of the accident†† could flee to one of those cities and be safe. 43 These cities are Bezer, in the desert plateau, for the Reubenites; Ramoth in Gilead for the Gadites; and Golan in Bashan for the Manassehites.

The Setting and Introduction of the Covenant

44 This is the law that Moses set before the Israelites. 445 These are the stipulations, statutes, and ordinances that Moses spoke to the Israelites after he had brought them out of Egypt, 46 in the Transjordan, in the valley opposite Beth Peor, in the land of King Sihon of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon. (It is he whom Moses and the Israelites attacked after they came out of Egypt. 47 They possessed his land and that of King Og of Bashan – both of whom were Amorite kings in the Transjordan, to the east. 48 Their territory extended‡† from Aroer at the edge of the Arnon valley as far as Mount Siyon‡‡ – that is, Hermon – 49 including all the Arabah of the Transjordan in the east to the sea of the Arabah, ‡‡‡ beneath the watershed‡‡‡ of Pisgah.)

5 Then Moses called all the people of Israel together and said to them:§ “Listen, Israel, to the statutes and ordinances that I am about to deliver to you today; learn them and be careful to keep them! 2 The LORD our God made a covenant with us at Horeb. 3 He§† did not make this covenant with our ancestors§†† but with us, we who are here today, all of us living now. 4 The LORD spoke face to face with you at the mountain, from the middle of the fire. 5 (I was standing between the LORD and you at that time to reveal to you the message§† of the LORD, because you were

18 tn: Heb “visiting the sin of fathers upon sons and upon a third (generation) and upon a fourth (generation) of those who hate me.” God sometimes punishes children for the sins of a father (cf. Num 16:27, 32; Josh 7:24-25; 2 Sam 21:1-9). On the principle of corporate solidarity and responsibility in OT thought see J. Kaminsky, Corporate Responsibility in the Hebrew Bible (JSOTSup). In the idiom of the text, the father is the first generation and the “sons” the second generation, making grandsons the third and great-grandsons the fourth. The reference to a third and fourth generation is a way of emphasizing that the sinner’s punishment would last throughout his lifetime. In this culture, where men married and fathered children at a relatively young age, it would not be unusual for one to see his great-grandsons. In an Aramaic tomb inscription from Nerab dating to the seventh century b.c., Agbar observes that he was surrounded by “children of the fourth generation” as he lay on his death bed (see ANET 661). The language of the text differs from Exod 34:7, the sons are the first generation, the grandsons (literally, “sons of the sons”) the second, great-grandsons the third, and great-great-grandsons the fourth. One could argue that formulation in Deut 5:9 (see also Exod 20:50) is elliptical/abbreviated or that it suffers from textual corruption (the repetition of the words “sons” would invite accidental omission). 19 tn: This theologically rich term (חֲסִידִים)

The Narrative of the Sinai Revelation and Israel's Response

<sup>22</sup> The LORD said these things to your entire assembly at the mountain from the middle of the fire, the cloud, and the darkness with a loud voice, and that was all he said.§§† Then he inscribed the words§§† on two stone tablets and gave them to me.<sup>23</sup> Then, when you heard the voice from the midst of the darkness while the mountain was ablaze, all your tribal leaders and elders approached me.<sup>24</sup> You said, "The LORD our God has shown us his great glory§§§ and we have heard him speak from the middle of the fire. It is now clear to us<sup>18</sup> that God can speak to human beings and they can keep on living.<sup>25</sup> But now, why should we die, because this intense fire will consume us! If we keep hearing the voice of the LORD our God we will die!<sup>26</sup> Who is there from the entire human race<sup>19</sup> who has heard the voice of the living God speaking from the middle of the fire as we have, and has lived?"<sup>27</sup> You go near so that you can hear everything the LORD our God is saying and then you can tell us whatever he<sup>20</sup> says to you; then we will pay attention and do it."<sup>28</sup> When the LORD heard you speaking to me, he<sup>21</sup> said to me, "I have heard what these people have said to you – they have spoken well.<sup>29</sup> If only it would really be their desire to fear me and obey<sup>22</sup> all my commandments in the future, so that it may go well with them and their descendants forever.<sup>30</sup> Go and tell them, 'Return to your tents!'<sup>31</sup> But as for you, remain here with me so I can declare to you all the commandments,<sup>23</sup> statutes, and ordinances that you are to teach them, so that they can carry them out in the land I am about to give them."<sup>24,32</sup> Be careful, therefore, to do exactly what the LORD your God has commanded you; do not turn right or left!<sup>33</sup> Walk just as he<sup>25</sup> has commanded you so that you may live, that it may go well with you, and that you may live long<sup>26</sup> in the land you are going to possess.

These are usually thought to be the same as the Hurrians, a people well-known in ancient Near Eastern texts. They are likely identical to the Horites (see note on the term "Horites" in Deut 2:12). §§§ sn: Jebusites. These inhabited the hill country, particularly in and about Jerusalem (cf. Num 13:29; Josh 15:8; 2 Sam 5:6; 24:16). <sup>18</sup> sn: Seven. This is an ideal number in the OT, one symbolizing fullness or completeness. Therefore, the intent of the text here is not to be precise and list all of Israel's enemies but simply to state that Israel will have a full erful than you – <sup>2</sup> and he<sup>19</sup> delivers them over to you and you attack them, you must utterly annihilate<sup>20</sup> them. Make no treaty<sup>21</sup> with them and show them no mercy! <sup>3</sup> You must not intermarry with them. Do not give your daughters to their sons or take their daughters for your sons, <sup>4</sup> for they will turn your sons away from me to worship other gods. Then the anger of the LORD will erupt against you and he will quickly destroy you. <sup>5</sup> Instead, this is what you must do to them : You must tear down their altars, shatter their sacred pillars, <sup>22</sup> cut down their sacred Asherah poles, <sup>23</sup> and burn up their idols. <sup>6</sup> For you are a people holy<sup>24</sup> to the LORD your God. He<sup>25</sup> has chosen you to be his people, prized<sup>26</sup> above all others on the face of the earth.

The Basis of Israel's Election

complement of foes to deal with. For other lists of Canaanites, some with fewer than seven peoples, see Exod 3:8; 13:5; 23:23, 28; 33:2; 34:11; Deut 20:17; Josh 3:10; 9:1; 24:11. Moreover, the "Table of Nations" ( Gen 10:15-19) suggests that all of these (possibly excepting the Perizzites) were offspring of Canaan and therefore Canaanites. <sup>19</sup> tn: Heb "the LORD

He will not ignore‡‡ those who hate him but will repay them as they deserve!<sup>11</sup> So keep the commandments, statutes, and ordinances that I today am commanding you to do.

Promises of Good for Covenant Obedience

Exhortation to Destroy Canaanite Paganism

<sup>11</sup> Be sure you do not forget the LORD your God by not keeping his commandments, ordinances, and statutes that I am giving you today. <sup>12</sup> When you eat your fill, when you build and occupy good houses, <sup>13</sup> when your cattle and flocks increase, when you have plenty of silver and gold, and when you have abundance of everything, <sup>14</sup> be sure<sup>18</sup> you do not feel self-important and forget the LORD your God who brought you from the land of Egypt, the place of slavery, <sup>15</sup> and who brought you through the great, fearful desert of venomous serpents<sup>19</sup> and scorpions, an arid place with no water. He made water flow<sup>20</sup> from a flint rock and <sup>16</sup> fed you in the desert with manna (which your ancestors had never before known ) so that he might by humbling you test you<sup>21</sup> and eventually bring good to you. <sup>17</sup> Be careful<sup>22</sup> not to say, "My own ability and skill<sup>23</sup> have gotten me this wealth." <sup>18</sup> You must remember the LORD your God, for he is the one who gives ability to get wealth; if you do this he will confirm his covenant that he made by oath to your ancestors, <sup>24</sup> even as he has to this day. <sup>19</sup> Now if you forget the LORD your God at all<sup>25</sup> and follow other gods, worshiping and prostrating yourselves before them, I testify to you today that you will surely be annihilated. <sup>20</sup> Just like the nations the LORD is about to destroy from your sight, so he will do to you<sup>26</sup> because you would not obey him. <sup>27</sup>

You will dispossess and destroy them quickly just as he†† has told you.<sup>4</sup> Do not think to yourself after the LORD your God has driven them out before you, "Because of my own righteousness the LORD has brought me here to possess this land." It is because of the wickedness of these nations that the Lord is driving them out ahead of you.<sup>5</sup> It is not because of your righteousness, or even your inner uprightness,‡‡ that you have come here to possess their land. #### The History of Israel's Stubbornness

7 Remember – don't ever forget§† – how you provoked the LORD your God in the desert; from the time you left the land of Egypt until you came to this place you were constantly rebelling against him.<sup>§††8</sup> At Horeb you provoked him and he was angry enough with you to destroy you.<sup>9</sup> When I went up the mountain to receive the stone tablets, the tablets of the covenant that the LORD made with you, I remained there§† forty days and nights, eating and drinking

<sup>15</sup> So I turned and went down the mountain while it<sup>19</sup> was blazing with fire; the two tablets of the covenant were in my hands.<sup>16</sup> When I looked, you had indeed sinned against the LORD your God and had cast for yourselves a metal calf;<sup>20</sup> you had quickly turned aside from the way he<sup>21</sup> had commanded you!<sup>17</sup> I grabbed the two tablets, threw them down,<sup>22</sup> and shattered them before your very eyes.<sup>18</sup> Then I again fell down before the LORD for forty days and nights; I ate and drank nothing because of all the sin you had committed, doing such evil before the LORD as to enrage him.<sup>19</sup> For I was terrified at the LORD's intense anger<sup>23</sup> that threatened to destroy you. But he<sup>24</sup> listened to me this time as well.<sup>20</sup> The LORD was also angry enough at Aaron to kill him, but at that time I prayed for him<sup>25</sup> too.<sup>21</sup> As for your sinful thing<sup>26</sup> that you had made, the calf, I took it, melted it down,<sup>27</sup> ground it up until it was as fine as dust, and tossed the dust into the

Moses' Plea on Behalf of the LORD's Reputation

Num 33:31-32; 1 Chr 1:42). 27 sn: Moserah. Since Aaron in other texts (Num 20:28; 33:38) is said to have died on Mount Hor, this must be the Arabah region in which Hor was located. 28 sn: Gudgodah. This is probably the same as Haggidgad, which is also associated with Jotbathah (Num 33:33). 29 sn: Jotbathah. This place, whose Hebrew name can be translated “place of wadis,” is possibly modern Ain Tabah, just north of Eilat, or Tabah, 6.5 mi (11 km) south of Eilat on the west shore of the Gulf of Aqaba. 30 sn: The LORD

As the priestly tribe, Levi would have no land allotment except for forty-eight towns set apart for their use (Num 35:1-8; Josh 21:1-42). But theirs was a far greater inheritance, for the LORD

An Exhortation to Love Both God and People

12 Now, Israel, what does the LORD your God require of you except to revere him,†† to obey all his commandments, ††† to love him, to serve him††† with all your mind and being, §13 and to keep the Lord’s commandments and statutes that I am giving§†† you today for your own good? 14 The heavens – indeed the highest heavens – belong to the LORD your God, as does the earth and everything in it. 15 However, only to your ancestors did he§†† show his loving favor, §† and he chose you, their descendants, §†† from all peoples – as is apparent today. 16 Therefore, cleanse§†† your heart and stop being so stubborn! §††17 For the LORD your God is God of gods and Lord of lords, the great, mighty, and awesome God who is unbiased and takes no bribe, 18 who justly treats§†† the orphan and widow, and who loves resident foreigners, giving them food and clothing. 19 So you must love the resident foreigner because you were foreigners in the land of Egypt. 20 Revere the LORD your God, serve him, be loyal to him and take oaths only in his name. 21 He is the one you should praise; §§† he is your God, the one who has done these great and awesome things for you that you have seen. 22 When your ancestors went down to Egypt, they numbered only seventy, but now the LORD

For stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy, “giving” has been used in the translation. §††† tn: Heb “the LORD” §†† tn: Heb “take delight to love.” Here again the verb אָהַב LORD

§††† tn: The Hebrew text includes “after them,” but it is redundant in English style and has not been included in the translation. §†††† tn: Heb “circumcise the foreskin of” (cf. KJV, ASV, NRSV). Reference to the Abrahamic covenant prompts Moses to recall the sign of that covenant, namely, physical circumcision ( Gen 17:9-14). Just as that act signified total covenant obedience, so spiritual circumcision (cleansing of the heart) signifies more internally a commitment to be pliable and obedient to the will of God (cf. Deut 30:6; Jer 4:4; 9:26). §††††† tn: Heb “your neck do not harden again.” See note on the word “stubborn” in Deut 9:6. §§†††† tn: Or “who executes justice for” (so NAB, NRSV); NLT “gives justice to.” §§§††††† tn: Heb “your praise.” The pronoun is subjective and the noun “praise” is used here metonymically for the object of their praise (the Lord).

your God has made you as numerous as the stars of the sky. §§§

11 You must love the LORD your God and do what he requires; keep his statutes, ordinances, and commandments18 at all times. 2 Bear in mind today that I am not speaking19 to your children who have not personally experienced the judgments20 of the LORD your God, which revealed21 his greatness, strength, and power. 223 They did not see23 the awesome deeds he performed24 in the midst of Egypt against Pharaoh king of Egypt and his whole land, 4 or what he did to the army of Egypt, including their horses and chariots, when he made the waters of the Red Sea25 overwhelm them while they were pursuing you and he26 annihilated them. 275 They did not see28 what he did to you in the desert before you reached this place, 6 or what he did to Dathan and Abiram, 29 sons of Eliab the Reubenite, 30 when the earth opened its mouth in the middle of the Israelite camp31 and swallowed them, their fami-

מִשְׁפָּטֵי 19 tn: Heb “that not.” The words “I am speaking” have been supplied in the translation for stylistic reasons. 20 tn: Heb “who have not known and who have not seen the discipline of the Lord.” The collocation of the verbs “know” and “see” indicates that personal experience (knowing by seeing) is in view. The term translated “discipline” (KJV, ASV “chastisement”) may also be rendered “instruction,” but vv. 2b-6 indicate that the referent of the term is the various acts of divine judgment the Israelites had witnessed. 21 tn: The words “which revealed” have been supplied in the translation to show the logical relationship between the terms that follow and the divine judgments. In the Hebrew text the former are in apposition to the latter. 22 tn: Heb “his strong hand and his stretched-out arm.” 23 tn: In the Hebrew text vv. 2-7 are one long sentence. For stylistic reasons the English translation divides the passage into three sentences. To facilitate this stylistic decision the words “They did not see” are supplied at the beginning of both v. 3 and v. 5, and “I am speaking” at the beginning of v. 7. 24 tn: Heb “his signs and his deeds which he did” (NRSV similar). The collocation of “signs” and “deeds” indicates that these acts were intended to make an impression on observers and reveal something about God’s power (cf. v. 2b). The word “awesome” has been employed to bring out the force of the word “signs” in this context. 25 tn: Heb “Reed Sea.” “Reed Sea” (or “Sea of Reeds”) is a more accurate rendering of the Hebrew expression יַרְדֵּן

Heb “the LORD” 27 tn: Heb “and the Lord destroyed them to this day” (cf. NRSV); NLT “he has kept them devastated to this very day.” The translation uses the verb “annihilated” to indicate the permanency of the action. 28 tn: See note on these same words in v. 3. 29 sn: Dathan and Abiram. These two (along with others) had challenged Moses’ leadership in the desert with the result that the earth beneath them opened up and they and their families disappeared ( Num 16:1-3, 31-35). 30 tn: Or “the descendant of Reuben”; Heb “son of Reuben.” 31 tn: Heb “in the midst of all Israel” (so KJV, ASV, NRSV); NASB “among all Israel.” In the Hebrew text these words appear at the end of the verse, but they are logically connected with the verbs. To make this clear the translation places the phrase after the first verb.

The Abundance of the Land of Promise

<sup>8</sup> Now pay attention to all the commandments‡† I am giving‡† you today, so that you may be strong enough to enter and possess the land where you are headed, ††† and that you may enjoy long life in the land the LORD promised to give to your ancestors‡†† and their descendants, a land flowing with milk and honey. <sup>10</sup> For the land where you are headed§ is not like the land of Egypt from which you came, a land where you planted seed and which you irrigated by hand§† like a vegetable garden. <sup>11</sup> Instead, the land you are crossing the Jordan to occupy§†† is one of hills and valleys, a land that drinks in water from the rains, <sup>§††12</sup> a land the LORD your God looks after. §†† He is constantly attentive to it§† from the beginning to the end of the year. <sup>§††13</sup> Now, if you pay close attention§§† to my commandments that I am giving you today and love§§† the LORD your God and serve him with all your mind and being, <sup>§§§14</sup> then he promises, <sup>18</sup> "I will send rain for your land"<sup>19</sup>

† tn: Heb "their houses," referring to all who lived in their household. Cf. KJV, ASV, NASB, NIV, NRSV, NLT "households." †† tn: Heb "and all the substance which was at their feet." ‡ tn: On the addition of these words in the translation see note on "They did not see" in v. 3. ††† tn: Heb "the commandment." The singular מִצְוָה

‡† tn: Heb "commanding" (so NASB, NRSV). For stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy, "giving" has been used in the translation (likewise in vv. 13, 27). ‡††† tn: Heb "which you are crossing over there to possess it." ‡†††† tn: Heb "fathers" (also in v. 21). § tn: Heb "you are going there to possess it"; NASB "into which you are about to cross to possess it"; NRSV "that you are crossing over to occupy." §† tn: Heb "with your foot" (so NASB, NLT). There is a two-fold significance to this phrase. First, Egypt had no rain so water supply depended on human efforts at irrigation. Second, the Nile was the source of irrigation waters but those waters sometimes had to be pumped into fields and gardens by foot-power, perhaps the kind of machinery (Arabic shaduf) still used by Egyptian farmers (see C. Aldred, The Egyptians, 181). Nevertheless, the translation uses "by hand," since that expression is the more common English idiom for an activity performed by manual labor. §††† tn: Heb "which you are crossing over there to possess it." §†† tn: Heb "rain of heaven." §†††† tn: Heb "seeks." The statement reflects the ancient belief that God (Baal in Canaanite thinking) directly controlled storms and rainfall. §†† tn: Heb "the eyes of the LORD

See note on the phrase "the former and the latter rains" in v. 14. §§†††† tn: Heb "if hearing, you will hear." The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute to emphasize the verbal idea. The translation renders this emphasis with the word "close." §§§††††† tn: Again, the Hebrew term בָּרַח

Exhortation to Instruction and Obedience

<sup>16</sup> Make sure you do not turn away to serve and worship other gods! <sup>22</sup> Then the anger of the LORD will erupt<sup>23</sup> against you and he will close up the sky<sup>24</sup> so that it does not rain. The land will not yield its produce, and you will soon be removed<sup>25</sup> from the good land that the Lord<sup>26</sup> is about to give you. <sup>18</sup> Fix these words of mine into your mind and being, <sup>27</sup> and tie them as a reminder on your hands and let them be symbols<sup>28</sup> on your forehead. <sup>19</sup> Teach them to your children and speak of them as you sit in your house, as you walk along the road, <sup>29</sup> as you lie down, and as you get up. <sup>20</sup> Inscribe them on the doorframes of your houses and on your gates<sup>21</sup> so that your days and those of your descendants may be extended in the land which the LORD promised to give to your ancestors, like the days of heaven itself. <sup>30</sup> For if you carefully observe all of these commandments<sup>31</sup> I am giving you<sup>32</sup> and love the LORD your God, live according to his standards, <sup>33</sup> and remain loyal to him, <sup>23</sup> then he<sup>34</sup> will drive out all these nations ahead of you, and you will dispossess nations greater and stronger than you. <sup>24</sup> Every place you set your foot<sup>35</sup> will be yours; your border will extend from the desert to Lebanon and from the River (that is, the Euphrates) as far as the Mediterranean Sea. <sup>36</sup> Nobody will be able

NRSV, TEV, NLT); NAB "at home and abroad." 30 tn: Heb "like the days of the heavens upon the earth," that is, forever. 31 tn: Heb "this commandment." See note at Deut 5:30. 32 tn: Heb "commanding you to do it." For stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy, "giving" has been used in the translation and "to do it" has been left untranslated. 33 tn: Heb "walk in all his ways" (so KJV, NIV); TEV "do everything he commands." 34 tn: Heb "the LORD

Deut 1:36; Ps 7:13; Isa 63:3 Hab 3:19; Zech 9:13). See E. H. Merrill, NIDOTTE 1:992. 36 tn: Heb "the after sea," that is, the sea behind one when one

Anticipation of a Blessing and Cursing Ceremony

Every extant treaty text of the late Bronze Age attests to a section known as the “blessings and curses,” the former for covenant loyalty and the latter for covenant breach. Blessings were promised rewards for obedience; curses were threatened judgments for disobedience. In the Book of Deuteronomy these are fully developed in 27:1–28:68. Here Moses adumbrates the whole by way of anticipation. †† tn: Heb “listen to,” that is, obey. ‡ tn: Heb “do not listen to,” that is, do not obey. ‡† tn: Heb “the commandments of the LORD

These two mountains are near the ancient site of Shechem and the modern city of Nablus. The valley between them is like a great amphitheater with the mountain slopes as seating sections. The place was sacred because it was there that Abraham pitched his camp and built his first altar after coming to Canaan ( Gen 12:6). Jacob also settled at Shechem for a time and dug a well from which Jesus once requested a drink of water ( Gen 33:18-20; John 4:5-7). When Joshua and the Israelites finally brought Canaan under control they assembled at Shechem as Moses commanded and undertook a ritual of covenant reaffirmation ( Josh 8:30-35; 24:1, 25). Half the tribes stood on Mt. Gerizim and half on Mt. Ebal and in antiphonal chorus pledged their loyalty to the LORD

This expression refers to evergreens which, because they keep their foliage throughout the year, provided apt symbolism for nature cults such as those practiced in Canaan. The deity particularly in view is Asherah, wife of the great god El, who was considered the goddess of fertility and whose worship frequently took place at shrines near or among clusters (groves) of such trees (see also Deut 7:5). Gen 8:20; 12:7; 13:18; 22:9; 26:25; 35:1, 3, 7; Exod 17:15). Apart from the corporate worship of the whole theocratic community, however, worship at local altars would still be permitted as in the past (Deut 16:21; Judg 6:24-27; 13:19-20; 1 Sam 7:17; 10:5, 13; 2 Sam 24:18-25; 1 Kgs 18:30). §† tn: Heb “only in all the desire of your soul you may sacrifice and eat flesh according to the blessing of the Lord your God which he has given to you.” §†† tn: Heb “gates” (so KJV, NASB; likewise in vv. 17, 18). §‡ tn: Heb “the LORD §†† tn: See note at Deut 12:12. §† tn: Heb “in all the sending forth of your hands.”

You must pour it out on the ground like water. <sup>25</sup> You must not eat it so that it may go well with you and your children after you; you will be doing what is right in the LORD’s sight. <sup>2026</sup> Only the holy things and votive offerings that belong to you, you must pick up and take to the place the LORD will choose. <sup>2127</sup> You must offer your burnt offerings, both meat and blood, on the altar of the LORD your God; the blood of your other sacrifices<sup>22</sup> you must pour out on his<sup>23</sup> altar while you eat the meat. <sup>28</sup> Pay careful attention to all these things I am commanding you so that it may always go well with you and your children after you when you do what is good and right in the sight of the LORD your God.

The Abomination of Pagan Gods

<sup>29</sup> When the LORD your God eliminates the nations from the place where you are headed and you dispossess them, you will settle down in their land. <sup>2430</sup> After they have been destroyed from your presence, be careful not to be ensnared like they are; do not pursue their gods and say, “How do these nations serve their gods? 13 Suppose a prophet or one who foretells by dreams§† should appear among you and show you a sign or wonder, ‡‡ and the sign or wonder should come to pass concerning what he said to you, namely, “Let us follow other gods” – gods whom you have not previously known – “and let us serve them.” <sup>3</sup> You must not listen to the words of that prophet or dreamer, ‡‡ for the LORD your God will be testing you to see if you love him‡‡ with all your mind and being. <sup>§4</sup> You must follow the LORD your God and revere only him; and you must observe his commandments, obey him, serve him, and remain loyal to him. <sup>5</sup> As for that prophet or dreamer, §† he must be executed because he encouraged rebellion against the LORD your God who brought you from the land of Egypt, redeeming you from that place of slavery, and because he has tried to entice you from the way the LORD your God has commanded you to go. In this way you must purge out evil from within. §††

False Prophets in the Family

Punishment of Community Idolatry

<sup>12</sup> Suppose you should hear in one of your cities, which the LORD your God is giving you as a place to live, that <sup>13</sup> some evil people<sup>20</sup> have departed from among you to entice the inhabitants of their cities, <sup>21</sup> saying, “Let’s go and serve other gods” (whom you a phenomenon found throughout Deuteronomy, but most especially in chap. 12, namely, the alternation of grammatical singular and plural forms of the pronoun (known as Numeruswechsel in German scholarship). Critical scholarship in general resolves the “problem” by suggesting varying literary traditions – one favorable to the singular pronoun and the other to the plural – which appear in the (obviously rough) redacted text at hand. Even the ancient versions were troubled by the lack of harmony of grammatical number and in this verse, for example, offered a number of alternate readings. The MT reads “Everything I am commanding you (plural) you (plural) must be careful to do; you (singular) must not add to it nor should you (singular) subtract from it.” Smr, LXX, Syriac, and Vulgate suggest singular for the first two pronouns but a few Smr MSS

‡ sn: Do not add to it or subtract from it. This prohibition makes at least two profound theological points: (1) This work by Moses is of divine origination (i.e., it is inspired) and therefore can tolerate no human alteration; and (2) the work is complete as it stands (i.e., it is canonical). †† tn: Heb “or a dreamer of dreams” (so KJV, ASV, NASB). The severity of the judgment here (i.e., capital punishment) is because of the severity of the sin, namely, high treason against the Great King. Idolatry is a violation of the first two commandments ( Deut 5:6-10) as well as the spirit and intent of the Shema ( Deut 6:4-5). §‡ tn: Heb “your brother, the son of your mother.” In a polygamous society it was not rare to have half brothers and sisters by way of a common father and different mothers. §‡† tn: In the Hebrew text these words are in the form of a brief quotation: “entice you secretly saying, ‘Let us go and serve other gods.’” §† tn: Heb “fathers” (also in v. 17). §‡ tn: Heb “which you have not known, you or your fathers.” (cf. ### The Offering of Tribute

<sup>22</sup> You must be certain to tithe†† all the produce of your seed that comes from the field year after year.<sup>23</sup> In the presence of the LORD your God you must eat from the tithe of your grain, your new wine, ‡‡ your olive oil, and the firstborn of your herds and flocks in the place he chooses to locate his name, so that you may learn to revere the LORD your God always.<sup>24</sup> When he‡‡‡ blesses you, if the‡‡‡ place where he chooses to locate his name is distant,<sup>25</sup> you may convert the tithe into money, secure the money,§ and travel to the place the LORD your God chooses for himself.<sup>26</sup> Then you may spend the money however you wish for cattle, sheep, wine, beer, or whatever you desire. 15 At the end of every seven years you must declare a cancellation§† of debts.<sup>2</sup> This is the nature of the cancellation: Every creditor must remit what he has loaned to another person; §†† he must not force payment from his fellow Israelite, §‡ for it is to be recognized as "the LORD's cancellation of debts."<sup>3</sup> You may exact payment from a foreigner, but whatever your fellow Israelite§†† owes you, you must remit.<sup>4</sup> However, there should not be any poor among you, for the LORD§† will surely bless§‡ you in the land that he§§† is giving you as an inheritance, §§§ if you carefully obey§§§ him<sup>18</sup> by keeping <sup>19</sup> all these commandments that I am giving<sup>20</sup> you today.<sup>6</sup> For the LORD your God will bless you just as he has promised; you will lend to many nations but will not borrow from any, and you will rule over many nations but they will not rule over you.

Release of Debt Slaves

<sup>19</sup> You must set apart<sup>18</sup> for the LORD your God every firstborn male born to your herds and flocks. You must do this so you will remember for the rest of your life the day you came out of the land of Egypt.<sup>4</sup> There must not be a scrap of yeast within your land<sup>28</sup> for seven days, nor can any of the meat you sacrifice on the evening of the first day

If it is indeed true that such a disgraceful thing‡‡‡ is being done in Israel,<sup>5</sup> you must bring to your city gates§ that man or woman who has done this wicked thing – that very man or woman – and you must stone that person to death.<sup>§‡6</sup> At the testimony of two or three witnesses they must be executed. They cannot be put to death on the testimony of only one witness.<sup>7</sup> The witnesses§†† must be first to begin the execution, and then all the people§‡ are to join in afterward. In this way you will purge evil from among you.

Provision for Kingship

14 When you come to the land the LORD your God is giving you and take it over and live in it and then say, “I will select a king like all the nations surrounding me,”<sup>15</sup> you must select without fail<sup>18</sup> a king whom the LORD your God chooses. From among your fellow citizens<sup>19</sup> you must appoint a king – you may not designate a foreigner who is not one of your fellow Israelites.<sup>20</sup> Moreover, he must not accumulate horses for himself or allow the people to return to Egypt to do so,<sup>21</sup> for the LORD has said you must never again return that way.<sup>17</sup> Furthermore, he must not marry many<sup>22</sup> wives lest his affections turn aside, and he must not accumulate much silver and gold.<sup>18</sup> When he sits on his royal throne he must make a copy of this law<sup>23</sup> on a scroll<sup>24</sup> given to him by the Levitical priests.<sup>19</sup> It must be with him constantly and he must read it as long as he lives, so that he may learn to revere the LORD his God and observe all the words of this law and these statutes and carry them out.<sup>20</sup> Then he will not exalt himself above his fellow citizens or turn from the commandments to the right or left, and he and his descendants will enjoy many years ruling over his kingdom<sup>25</sup> in Israel.

Laws Concerning Witnesses

<sup>14</sup> You must not encroach on your neighbor's property,<sup>28</sup> which will have been defined<sup>29</sup> in the inheritance you will obtain in the land the LORD your God is giving you. <sup>30</sup>

<sup>15</sup> A single witness may not testify<sup>31</sup> against another person for any trespass or sin that he commits. A matter may be legally established<sup>32</sup> only on the testimony of two or three witnesses. <sup>16</sup> If a false<sup>33</sup> witness testifies against another person and accuses him of a crime, <sup>3417</sup> then both parties to the controversy must stand before the LORD , that is, before the priests and judges<sup>35</sup> who will be in office in those days. <sup>18</sup> The judges will thoroughly investigate the matter, and if the witness should prove to be false and to have given false testimony against the accused, <sup>3619</sup> you must do to him what he had intended to do to the accused. In this way you will purge<sup>37</sup> evil from among you. <sup>20</sup> The rest of the people will hear and become afraid to keep doing such evil among you. <sup>21</sup> You must not show pity; the principle will be a life for a life, an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, a hand for a hand, and a foot for a foot. <sup>38</sup>

Laws Concerning Children

This case is the same as when someone attacks another person <sup>25</sup> and murders him, <sup>27</sup> for the man<sup>26</sup> met her in the field and the engaged woman cried out, but there was no one to rescue her.

Purity in the Treatment of the Nonprivileged

<sup>15</sup> You must not return an escaped slave to his master when he has run away to you. <sup>1816</sup> Indeed, he may live among you in any place he chooses, in whichever of your villages<sup>19</sup> he prefers; you must not oppress him.

Purity in Cultic Personnel

Respect for Others' Property

<sup>19</sup> You must not charge interest on a loan to your fellow Israelite,<sup>26</sup> whether on money, food, or anything else that has been loaned with interest. <sup>20</sup> You may lend with interest to a foreigner, but not to your fellow Israelite; if you keep this command the LORD your God will bless you in all you undertake in the land you are about to enter to possess. <sup>21</sup> When you make a vow to the LORD your God you must not delay in fulfilling it, for otherwise he† will surely †† hold you accountable as a sinner. <sup>‡22</sup> If you refrain from making a vow, it will not be sinful. <sup>23</sup> Whatever you vow, you must be careful to do what you have promised, such as what you have vowed to the LORD your God as a freewill offering. <sup>24</sup> When you enter the vineyard of your neighbor you may eat as many grapes as you please, ‡‡ but you must not take away any in a container. <sup>‡‡25</sup> When you go into the ripe grain fields of your neighbor you may pluck off the kernels with your hand, ‡‡‡ but you must not use a sickle on your neighbor's ripe grain.

Since this is not limited to actual siblings, "fellow Israelite" is used in the translation (cf. NAB, NASB "countrymen").

Respect for Human Dignity

Otherwise he will cry out to the LORD against you, and you will be guilty of sin.

This is the only reference to this practice in an OT legal text but it is illustrated in the story of Judah and his sons ( Gen 38) and possibly in the account of Ruth and Boaz ( Ruth 2:8; 3:12; 4:6). §§§†††††††† tn: Heb "and it will be that." 18 tn: Heb "the firstborn." <sup>20</sup> sn: The removal of the sandal was likely symbolic of the relinquishment by the man of any claim to his dead brother's estate since the sandal was associated with the soil or land (cf. Ruth 4:7-8). Spitting in the face was a sign of utmost disgust or disdain, an emotion the rejected widow would feel toward her uncooperative brother-in-law (cf. Num 12:14; Lev 15:8). See W. You will plant a vineyard but not even begin to use it. <sup>31</sup> Your ox will be slaughtered before your very eyes but you will not eat of it. Your donkey will be stolen from you as you watch and will not be returned to you. Your flock of sheep will be given to your enemies and there will be no one to save you. <sup>32</sup> Your sons and daughters will be given to another people while you look on in vain all day, and you will be powerless to do anything about it. <sup>††33</sup> As for the produce of your land and all your labor, a people you do not know will consume it, and you will be nothing but oppressed and crushed for the rest of your lives. <sup>34</sup> You will go insane from seeing all this. <sup>35</sup> The LORD will afflict you in your knees and on your legs with painful, incurable boils – from the soles of your feet to the top of your head. <sup>36</sup> The LORD will force you and your king‡ whom you will appoint over you to go away to a people whom you and your ancestors have not known, and you will serve other gods of wood and stone there. <sup>37</sup> You will become an occasion of horror, a proverb, and an object of ridicule to all the peoples to whom the LORD will drive you.

The Curse of Covenant Termination

You will be uprooted from the land you are about to possess. 64 The LORD will scatter you among all nations, from one end of the earth to the other. There you will worship other gods that neither you nor your ancestors have known, gods of wood and stone. 65 Among those nations you will have no rest nor will there be a place of peaceful rest for the soles of your feet, for there the LORD will give you an anxious heart, failing eyesight, and a spirit of despair. 66 Your life will hang in doubt before you; you will be terrified by night and day and will have no certainty of surviving from one day to the next. 67 In the morning you will say, 'If only it were evening !' And in the evening you will say, 'I wish it were morning !' because of the things you will fear and the things you will see. 68 Then the LORD will make you return to Egypt by ship, over a route I said to you that you would never see again. <sup>11</sup> “ This commandment I am giving‡‡‡ you today is not too difficult for you, nor is it too remote. <sup>12</sup> It is not in heaven, as though one must say, “Who will go up to heaven to get it for us and proclaim it to us so we may obey it?” <sup>13</sup> And it is not across the sea, as though one must say, “Who will cross over to the other side of the sea and get it for us and proclaim it to us so we may obey it?” <sup>14</sup> For the thing is very near you – it is in your mouth and in your mind § so that you can do it.

The use of the phrase here may be polemical; Moses may be asserting that Israel's God, not Baal (called the "rider of the clouds" in the Ugaritic myths), is the true divine king (cf. v. 5) who controls the elements of the storm, grants agricultural prosperity, and delivers his people from their enemies. See R. B. Chisholm, Jr., "The Polemic against Baalism in Israel's Early History and Literature," BSac 151 (1994): 275. ‡ tn: Heb "and from under, arms of perpetuity." The words "you" and "his" are supplied in the translation for clarification. Some have perceived this line to be problematic and have offered alternative translations that differ significantly from the present translation: "He spread out the primeval tent; he extended the ancient canopy" (NAB); "He subdues the ancient gods, shatters the forces of old" (NRSV). These are based on alternate meanings or conjectural emendations rather than textual variants in the MSS

The LORD Commissions Joshua

1 After Moses the LORD's servant died, the LORD said to Joshua son of Nun, Moses' assistant: 2 "Moses my servant is dead. Get ready!† Cross the Jordan River!†† Lead these people into the land which I am ready to hand over to them.‡‡ I am handing over to you every place you set foot, as I promised Moses.‡‡‡ Your territory will extend from the wilderness in the south to Lebanon in the north. As I was with Moses, so I will be with you. I will not abandon you or leave you alone. 6 Be strong and brave! You must lead these people in the conquest of this land that I solemnly promised their ancestors I would hand over to them.§† Make sure you are§†† very strong and brave! ## Joshua Prepares for the Invasion

<sup>10</sup> Joshua instructed<sup>23</sup> the leaders of the people: <sup>11</sup> "Go through the camp and command the people, 'Prepare your supplies, for within three days you will cross the Jordan River and begin the conquest of the land the LORD your God is ready to hand over to you.'" <sup>24</sup>

The third masculine singular pronominal suffix on "hid" has to be a scribal error (see GKC §135. p). §§† tn: Heb "the men came to me." See the note on this phrase in v. 3. §§‡ tn: Heb "And the gate was to be shut in the darkness and the men went out." §§§ tn: Heb "arranged in rows by her." 18 tn: Another way to translate vv. 6-7 would be, "While she took them up to the roof and hid them..., the king's men tried to find them...." Both of the main clauses have the subject prior to the predicate, perhaps indicating simultaneous action. (On the grammatical point, see R. J. Williams, Hebrew Syntax, 42, §235.) In this case Rahab moves the Israelite spies from the hiding place referred to in v. 4 to a safer and less accessible hiding place. 19 tn: The word "River" is not in the Hebrew text, but is supplied for clarity. 20 tn: Heb "And the men chased after them [on] the road [leading to] the Jordan to the fords." The text is written from the perspective of the king's men. As far as they were concerned, they were chasing the spies.

8 Now before the spies<sup>22</sup> went to sleep, Rahab<sup>23</sup> went up <sup>24</sup> to the roof. 9 She said to the men, "I know the LORD is handing this land over to you.<sup>25</sup> We are absolutely terrified of you,<sup>26</sup> and all who live in the land are cringing before<sup>27</sup> you. <sup>28</sup>10 For we heard how the LORD dried up the water of the Red Sea before you when you left Egypt and how you annihilated the two Amorite kings, Sihon and Og, on the other side of the Jordan. <sup>29</sup>11 When we heard the news we lost our courage and no one could even breathe for fear of you.<sup>30</sup> For the LORD your God is God in heaven above and on earth below! 12 So now, promise me this with an oath sworn in the LORD's name.<sup>31</sup> Because I have shown allegiance to you, show allegiance to my family. <sup>32</sup> Give me a solemn pledge<sup>33</sup> that you will spare the lives of my father, mother, brothers, sisters, and all who belong to them, and rescue us<sup>34</sup> from death." 14 The men said to her, "If you<sup>35</sup> die, may we die too!<sup>36</sup> If you do not report what we've been up to,<sup>37</sup> then, when the LORD hands the land over to us, we will show unswerving allegiance<sup>38</sup> to you." 39

Rahab's statement uses the Hebrew perfect, suggesting certitude. 26 tn: Heb "terror of you has fallen upon us." 27 tn: Or "melting away because of." 28 tn: Both of these statements are actually subordinated to "I know" in the Hebrew text, which reads, "I know that the LORD 29 tn: Heb "and what you did to the two Amorite kings who were beyond the Jordan, Sihon and Og, how you annihilated them." 30 tn: Heb "And we heard and our heart[s] melted and there remained no longer breath in a man because of you." 31 tn: Heb "Now, swear to me by the LORD LORD LORD

If the lives of Rahab's family are not spared, then the spies will pay for the broken vow with their own lives. 37 tn: Heb "If you do not report this matter of ours." 38 tn: Heb "allegiance and faithfulness." These virtual synonyms are joined in the translation as "unswerving allegiance" to emphasize the degree of promised loyalty. 39 tn: The second person pronoun is feminine singular, referring specifically to Rahab. 40 tn: Heb "she"; the referent (Rahab) has been specified in the translation for clarity. 41 tc: The phrase "by a rope" is omitted in the LXX. 5 Joshua told the people, "Ritually consecrate yourselves, for tomorrow the LORD will perform miraculous deeds among you." 6 Joshua told the priests, "Pick up the ark of the covenant and pass on ahead of the people." So they picked up the ark of the covenant and went ahead of the people.

7 The LORD told Joshua, "This very day I will begin to honor you before all Israel<sup>29</sup> so they will know that I am with you just as I was with Moses." 8 Instruct the priests carrying the ark of the covenant, "When you reach the bank of the Jordan River, <sup>30</sup> wade into the water."<sup>31</sup>

<sup>8</sup> The Israelites did just as Joshua commanded. They picked up twelve stones, according to the number of the Israelite tribes, from the middle of the Jordan as the LORD had instructed Joshua. They carried them over with them to the camp and put them there.<sup>9</sup> Joshua also set up twelve stones§†† in the middle of the Jordan in the very place where the priests carrying the ark of the covenant stood. They remain there to this very day.

<sup>10</sup> Now the priests carrying the ark of the covenant were standing in the middle of the Jordan until everything the Lord had commanded Joshua to tell the people was accomplished, in accordance with all that Moses had commanded Joshua. The people went across quickly,<sup>11</sup> and when all the people had finished crossing, the ark of the LORD and the priests crossed as the people looked on.<sup>§†12</sup> The Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh crossed over armed for battle ahead of the Israelites, just as Moses had in-

Israel Conquers Jericho

out to fight us like before, we will retreat from them. <sup>6</sup> They will attack‡ us until we have lured them from the city, for they will say, 'They are retreating from us like before.' We will retreat from them. <sup>7</sup> Then you rise up from your hiding place‡ and seize‡ the city. The LORD your God will hand it over to you. <sup>8</sup> When you capture the city, set it<sup>‡1</sup> on fire. Do as the LORD says! See, I have given you orders." <sup>229</sup> Joshua sent them away and they went to their hiding place<sup>‡3</sup> west of Ai, between Bethel<sup>‡4</sup> and Ai. <sup>25</sup> Joshua spent that night with the army. <sup>26</sup>

Covenant Renewal

fices on it and sacrificed tokens of peace.<sup>§§†32</sup> There, in the presence of the Israelites, Joshua inscribed on the stones a duplicate of the law written by Moses.<sup>§§§33</sup> All the people,<sup>18</sup> rulers,<sup>19</sup> leaders, and judges were standing on either side of the ark, in front of the Levitical priests who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD. Both resident foreigners and native Israelites were there.<sup>20</sup> Half the people stood in front of Mount Gerizim and the other half in front of Mount Ebal, as Moses the LORD's servant had previously instructed to them to do for the formal blessing ceremony.<sup>2134</sup> Then<sup>22</sup> Joshua read aloud all the words of the law, including the blessings and the curses, just as they are written in the law scroll.<sup>35</sup> Joshua read aloud every commandment Moses had given<sup>23</sup> before the whole assembly of Israel, including the women, children, and resident foreigners who lived among them.<sup>24</sup>

16 Three days after they made the treaty with them, the Israelites found out they were from the local area and lived nearby.<sup>§††17</sup> So the Israelites set out and on the third day arrived at their cities – Gibeon, Kephirah, Beeroth, and Kiriath Jearim.<sup>18</sup> The Israelites did not attack them because the leaders of the community had sworn an oath to them in the name of the LORD God of Israel.§†† The whole community criticized§† the leaders,<sup>19</sup> but all the leaders told the whole community, "We swore an oath to them in the name of§† the LORD God of Israel. It was larger than Ai and all its men were warriors.<sup>3</sup> So King Adoni-Zedek of Jerusalem sent this message to King Hoham of Hebron, King Piram of Jarmuth, King Japhia of Lachish, and King Debir of Eglon: "4" Come to my aid<sup>35</sup> so we can attack Gibeon, for it has made peace with Joshua and the Israelites."<sup>5</sup> So the five Amorite kings (the kings of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon) and all their troops gathered together and advanced. <sup>10</sup> The LORD routed†† them before Israel. Israel‡ thoroughly defeated them ‡† at Gibeon. They chased them up the road to the pass ‡† of Beth Horon and struck them down all the way to Azekah and Makkedah. <sup>11</sup> As they fled from Israel on the slope leading down from‡†† Beth Horon, the LORD threw down on them large hailstones from the sky, ‡†† all the way to Azekah. They died – in fact, more died from the hailstones than the Israelites killed with the sword.

LORD God of Israel fought for Israel. <sup>43</sup> Then Joshua and all Israel returned to the camp at Gilgal.

A Summary of Israel's Victories

16 Joshua conquered the whole land, †† including the hill country, all the Negev, all the land of Goshen, the lowlands, ††† the Arabah, the hill country of Israel and its lowlands, 17 from Mount Halak on up to Seir, as far as Baal Gad in the Lebanon Valley below Mount Hermon. He captured all their kings and executed them. †††18 Joshua campaigned against‡ these kings for quite some time. §†19 No city made peace with the Israelites (except the Hivites living in Gibeon ),§†† they had to conquer all of them, §†20 for the LORD determined to make them obstinate so they would attack Israel. He wanted Israel to annihilate them without mercy, as he had instructed Moses. §††

21 At that time Joshua attacked and eliminated the Anakites from the hill country§† – from Hebron, Debir, Anab, and all the hill country of Judah and Israel. §† Joshua annihilated them and their cities. 22 No Anakites were left in Israelite territory, though some remained in Gaza, Gath, and Ashdod. 23 Joshua conquered§†† the whole land, just as the LORD had promised Moses, §§† and he assigned Israel their tribal portions. §§§ Then the land was free of war.

12 Now these are the kings of the land whom the Israelites defeated and drove from their land<sup>18</sup> on the east side of the Jordan, 19 from the Arnon Valley to Mount Hermon, including all the eastern Arabah:

4 The territory of King Og of Bashan, one of the few remaining Rephaites, 25 who lived<sup>26</sup> in Ashtaroth and Edrei and ruled over Mount Hermon, Salecah, all of Bashan to the border of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and half of Gilead as far as the border of King Sihon of Heshbon.

6 Moses the LORD's servant and the Israelites defeated them and Moses the LORD's servant assigned their land<sup>27</sup> to Reuben, Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh.

7 These are the kings of the land whom Joshua and the Israelites defeated on the west side of the Jordan, from Baal Gad in the Lebanon Valley to Mount Halak on up to Seir. Joshua assigned this territory to the Israelite tribes, 28 including the hill country, the lowlands, 29 the Arabah, the slopes, the wilderness, and the Negev – the land of<sup>30</sup> the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites:

(He was one of the few remaining Rephaites.) 21 Moses defeated them and took their lands. 22<sup>13</sup> But the Israelites did not conquer<sup>23</sup> the Geshurites and Maacathites; Geshur and Maacah live among Israel to this very day. 14 However, Moses<sup>24</sup> did not assign land as an inheritance<sup>25</sup> to the Levites; their inheritance<sup>26</sup> is the sacrificial offerings<sup>27</sup> made to the LORD God of Israel, as he instructed<sup>28</sup> them.

15 Moses assigned land to the tribe of Reuben<sup>29</sup> by its clans. 16 Their territory started at Aroer<sup>30</sup> (on the edge of the Arnon Valley) and included the city in the middle of the valley, the whole plain of Medeba, 17 Heshbon and all its surrounding cities on the plain, including Dibon, Bamoth Baal, Beth Baal Meon, 18 Jahaz, Kedemoth, Mephaath, 19 Kiriathaim, Sibmah, Zereth Shahar on the hill in the valley, 20 Beth Peor, the slopes of Pisgah, and Beth Jeshimoth. 21 It encompassed<sup>31</sup> all the cities of the plain and the whole realm of King Sihon of the Amorites who ruled in Heshbon. Moses defeated him and the Midianite leaders Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur, and Reba (they were subjects of Sihon and lived in his territory). 32<sup>22</sup> The Israelites killed Balaam son of Beor, the omen reader, 33 along with the others. 34<sup>23</sup> The border of the tribe of Reuben was the Jordan. The land allotted to the tribe of Reuben by its clans included these cities and their towns. 35

<sup>6</sup> The men of Judah approached Joshua in Gilgal, and Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite said to him, "You know what the LORD said about you and me to Moses, the man of God, at Kadesh Barnea. <sup>217</sup> I was forty years old when Moses, the LORD's servant, sent me from Kadesh Barnea to spy on the land and I brought back to him an honest report. <sup>228</sup> My countrymen<sup>23</sup> who accompanied<sup>24</sup> me frightened the people, <sup>25</sup> but I remained loyal to the LORD my God. <sup>269</sup> That day Moses made this solemn promise:<sup>27</sup> 'Surely the land on which you walked<sup>28</sup> will belong to you and your descendants permanently, <sup>29</sup> for you remained loyal to the LORD your God.' <sup>10</sup> So now, look, the LORD has preserved my life, just as he promised, these past forty-five years since the LORD spoke these words to Moses, during which Israel traveled through the wilderness. Now look, I am today eighty-five years old. <sup>11</sup> Today I am still as strong as when Moses sent me out. I can fight and go about my daily activities with the same energy I had then. <sup>3012</sup> Now, assign me this hill country which the LORD promised me at that time! cent, † crossed to Zin, went up from the south to Kadesh Barnea, crossed to Hezron, went up to Addar, and turned toward Karka. <sup>4</sup> It then crossed to Azmon, extended to the Stream of Egypt, †† and ended at the sea. This was their‡ southern border.

The northern border started north of the Salt Sea at the mouth of the Jordan, ‡‡‡ went up to Beth Hoglah, crossed north of Beth Arabah, and went up to the Stone of Bohan son of Reuben. <sup>7</sup> It then went up to Debir from the Valley of Achor, turning northward to Gilgal (which is opposite the Pass‡‡‡ of Adummim south of the valley), crossed to the waters of En Shemesh and extended to En Rogel. <sup>8</sup> It then went up the Valley of Ben Hinnom to the slope of the Jebusites on the south (that is, Jerusalem),§ going up to the top of the hill opposite the Valley of Ben Hinnom to the west, which is at the end of the Valley of the Rephaites to the north. <sup>9</sup> It then went from the top of the hill to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah, extended to the cities of Mount Ephron, and went to Baalah (that is, Kiriath Jearim). <sup>10</sup> It then turned from Baalah westward to Mount Seir, crossed to the slope of Mount Jearim on the north (that is Kesalon), descended to Beth Shemesh, and crossed to Timnah. <sup>11</sup> It then extended to the slope of Ekron to the north, went toward Shikkeron, crossed to Mount Baalah, extended to Jabneel, and ended at the sea.

‡‡† tn: Heb "he"; the referent (Caleb) has been specified in the translation for clarity. ‡‡‡ tn: Heb "she"; the referent (Acsah) has been specified in the translation for clarity. ‡‡‡ tn: Heb "him." The referent of the pronoun could be Othniel, in which case the translation would be, "she incited him [Othniel] to ask her father for a field." This is problematic, however, for Acsah, not Othniel, makes the request in v. 19. The LXX has "he [Othniel] urged her to ask her father for a field." This appears to be an attempt to reconcile the apparent inconsistency and probably does not reflect the original text. If Caleb is understood as the referent of the pronoun, the problem disappears. For a fuller discussion of the issue, see P. G. Mosca, "Who Seduced Whom? A Note on Joshua 15:18 Judges 1:14," CBQ 46 (1984): 18-22. <sup>10</sup> The Ephraimites<sup>18</sup> did not conquer the Canaanites living in Gezer. The Canaanites live among the Ephraimites to this very day and do hard labor as their servants.

17 The tribe of Manasseh, Joseph's firstborn son, was also allotted land.<sup>19</sup> The descendants of Makir, Manasseh's firstborn and the father of Gilead, received land, for they were warriors. <sup>20</sup> They were assigned Gilead and Bashan. <sup>212</sup> The rest of Manasseh's descendants were also assigned land<sup>22</sup> by their clans, including the descendants of Abiezer, Helek, Asriel, Shechem, Hopher, and Shemida. These are the male descendants of Manasseh son of Joseph by their clans.

<sup>3</sup> Now Zelophehad son of Hopher, son of Gilead, son of Makir, son of Manasseh, had no sons, only daughters. These are the names of his daughters : Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah. <sup>4</sup> They went before Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders and said, "The LORD told Moses to assign us land among our relatives." <sup>23</sup> So Joshua<sup>24</sup> assigned them land among their uncles, as the LORD had commanded. <sup>255</sup> Manasseh was allotted ten shares of land,<sup>26</sup> in addition to the land of Gilead and Bashan east of the Jordan, <sup>6</sup> for the daughters of Manasseh were assigned land among his sons. It then went south toward those who live in Tappuah. <sup>8</sup> (The land of Tappuah belonged to Manasseh, but Tappuah, located on the border of Manasseh, belonged to the tribe of Ephraim.) <sup>9</sup> The border then descended southward to

Ephraim was assigned cities there among the cities of Manasseh, † but the border of Manasseh was north of the valley and ended at the sea. <sup>10</sup> Ephraim's territory was to the south, and Manasseh's to the north. The sea was Manasseh's†† western border and their territory‡ touched Asher on the north and Issachar on the east. <sup>11</sup> Within Issachar's and Asher's territory Manasseh was assigned Beth Shean, Ibleam, the residents of Dor, En Dor, the residents of Taanach, the residents of Megiddo, †† the three of Napheth, †† and the towns surrounding all these cities. ††<sup>12</sup> But the men‡‡ of Manasseh were unable to conquer these cities; the Canaanites managed§ to remain in those areas. <sup>13</sup> Whenever the Israelites were strong militarily, they forced the Canaanites to do hard labor, but they never totally conquered them. †

I will send them out to walk through the land and make a map of it for me. <sup>225</sup> Divide it into seven regions. <sup>23</sup> Judah will stay<sup>‡4</sup> in its territory in the south, and the family<sup>‡5</sup> of Joseph in its territory in the north. <sup>6</sup> But as for you, map out the land into seven regions and bring it to me. <sup>8</sup> When the men started out, Joshua told those going to map out the land, "Go, walk through the land, map it out, and return to me. Then I will draw lots for you before the LORD here in Shiloh." <sup>9</sup> The men journeyed<sup>‡8</sup> through the land and mapped it and its cities out into seven regions on a scroll. Then they came to Joshua at the camp in Shiloh. <sup>10</sup> Joshua drew lots for them in Shiloh before the LORD and divided the land among the Israelites according to their allotted portions.

Benjamin's Tribal Lands

the hill that is south of lower Beth Horon. <sup>14</sup> It then turned on the west side southward from the hill near Beth Horon on the south and extended to Kiriath Baal (that is, Kiriath Jearim), a city belonging to the tribe† of Judah. This is the western border. <sup>††15</sup> The southern side started on the edge of Kiriath Jearim and extended westward to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah. <sup>16</sup> The border then descended to the edge of the hill country near the Valley of Ben Hinnom located in the Valley of the Rephaites to the north. It descended through the Valley of Hinnom to the slope of the Jebusites to the south and then down to En Rogel. <sup>17</sup> It went northward, extending to En Shemesh and Geliloth opposite the Pass‡ of Adummim, and descended to the Stone of Bohan son of Reuben. <sup>18</sup> It crossed to the slope in front of the Arabah to the north and descended into the Arabah. <sup>19</sup> It then crossed to the slope of Beth Hoglah to the north and ended at the northern tip of the Salt Sea†† at the mouth of the Jordan River.‡‡ This was the southern border. <sup>20</sup> The Jordan River borders it on the east. These were the borders of the land assigned to the tribe of Benjamin by its clans. ‡‡‡

In v. 28 no conjunction appears before "Haeleph" or "Kiriath" in the Hebrew text. This suggests they should be compounded with the preceding names, yielding "Zelah Haeleph" and "Gibeah Kiriath" respectively. This results in a list of only twelve cities, however, while the summary statement (v. 28) gives the number fourteen. One should note, however, that the city lists in chap. 15 do not consistently use the conjunction before the name of each city. See also Josh 19:7, where no conjunction appears before "Rimmon," but the summary assumes that Ain and Rimmon are distinct. §† tn: Heb "This is the inheritance of the sons of Benjamin." §‡ tn: Heb "and the second lot came out for Simeon, for the tribe of the sons of Simeon by their clans." §§† tn: Heb "and they had in their inheritance." §§‡ tc: The MT has "and Sheba" listed after "Beer Sheba." This was the land assigned to the tribe of Simeon by its clans. <sup>§§§9</sup> Simeon's assigned land was taken from Judah's allotted portion, for Judah's territory was too large for them; so Simeon was assigned land within Judah. <sup>18</sup>

Zebulun's Tribal Lands

Issachar's Tribal Lands

Joshua Receives Land

<sup>49</sup> When they finished dividing the land into its regions, the Israelites gave Joshua son of Nun some land. <sup>2050</sup> As the LORD had instructed, they gave him the city he requested – Timnath Serah in the Ephraimite hill country. He built up the city and lived in it.

dent foreigners living among them. Anyone who accidentally killed someone could escape there and not be executed by† the avenger of blood, at least until his case was reviewed by the assembly.††

21 The tribal leaders of the Levites went before Eleazar the priest and Joshua son of Nun and the Israelite tribal leaders<sup>2</sup> in Shiloh in the land of Canaan and said, "The LORD told Moses to assign us cities in which to live along with the grazing areas for our cattle."<sup>3</sup> So the Israelites assigned these cities and their grazing areas to the Levites from their own holdings, as the LORD had instructed.

30 When Phinehas the priest and the community leaders and clan leaders who accompanied him heard the defense of the Reubenites, Gadites, and the Manassehites, 25 they were satisfied. 2631 Phinehas, son of Eleazar, the priest, said to the Reubenites, Gadites, and the Manassehites, 27 " Today we know that the LORD is among us, because you have not disobeyed the LORD in this. 28 Now29 you have rescued the Israelites from the LORD's judgment." 30

32 Phinehas, son of Eleazar, the priest, and the leaders left the Reubenites and Gadites in the land of Gilead and reported back to the Israelites in the land of Canaan. 3133 The Israelites were satisfied with their report and gave thanks to God. 32 They said nothing more about launching an attack to destroy the land in which the Reubenites and Gadites lived. 3334 The Reubenites and Gadites named the altar, "Surely it is a Reminder to us34 that the LORD is God."

Judah Takes the Lead

1 After Joshua died, the Israelites asked† the LORD, “Who should lead the invasion against the Canaanites and launch the attack?” ††2 The LORD said, “The men of Judah should take the lead. † Be sure of this! I am handing the land over to them.” †††3 The men of Judah said to their relatives, the men of Simeon, †† “Invade our allotted land with us and help us attack the Canaanites. ††† Then we††† will go with you into your allotted land.” So the men of Simeon went with them.

<sup>9</sup> Later the men of Judah went down to attack the Canaanites living in the hill country, the Negev, and the lowlands. §††10 The men of Judah attacked the Canaanites living in Hebron. (Hebron used to be called Kiriath Arba. ) They killed Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmi.

LORD ††† tn: Heb “Judah said to Simeon, his brother.” †††† tn: Heb “Come up with me into our allotted land and let us attack the Canaanites.” ††††† tn: Heb “I.” The Hebrew pronoun is singular, agreeing with the collective singular “Judah” earlier in the verse. English style requires a plural pronoun here, however. § tn: Heb “Judah went up.” §† tn: Or “found.” §†† tn: Elsewhere this verb usually carries the sense of “to gather; to pick up; to glean,” but “lick up” seems best here in light of the peculiar circumstances described by Adoni-Bezek. §†† tn: The words “food scraps” are not in the Hebrew text, but are implied. §††† tn: Heb “Just as I did, so God has repaid me.” Note that the phrase “to them” has been supplied in the translation to clarify what is meant. §† map: For location see . §†† tn: Or “foothills”; Heb “the Shephelah.”

The LXX has “he [Othniel] urged her to ask her father for a field.” This appears to be an attempt to reconcile the apparent inconsistency and probably does not reflect the original text. If Caleb is understood as the referent of the pronoun, the problem disappears. For a fuller discussion of the issue, see P. G. Mosca, “Who Seduced Whom? A Note on Joshua 15:18 Judges 1:14,” CBQ 46 (1984): 18-22. The translation takes Caleb to be the referent, specified as “her father.” <sup>20</sup> tn: Elsewhere the Hebrew word כָּבַד

The End of an Era

NAB, NASB), pluralize the transliterated Hebrew singular form ("Ashtoreths," cf. NIV), or use a variation of the name ("Astartes," cf. NRSV). sn: The Ashtars were local manifestations of the goddess Astarte. §§§ tn: Or "The LORD" <sup>18</sup> tn: Heb "robbers who robbed them." (The verb נָדַד

Instead they prostituted themselves to other gods and worshiped<sup>28</sup> them. They quickly turned aside from the path<sup>29</sup> their ancestors<sup>30</sup> had walked. Their ancestors had obeyed the LORD's commands, but they did not. <sup>3118</sup> When the LORD raised up leaders for them, the LORD was with each leader and delivered the people<sup>32</sup> from their enemies while the leader remained alive. The LORD felt sorry for them<sup>33</sup> when they cried out in agony because of what their harsh oppressors did to them. <sup>3419</sup> When a leader died, the next generation<sup>35</sup> would again <sup>36</sup> act more wickedly than the previous one. <sup>37</sup> They would follow after other gods, worshipping them<sup>38</sup> and bowing down to them. They did not give up<sup>39</sup> their practices or their stubborn ways.

A Divine Decision

3 These were the nations the LORD permitted to remain so he could use them to test Israel – he wanted to test all those who had not experienced battle against the Canaanites. <sup>‡††2</sup> He left those nations simply because he wanted to teach the subsequent generations of Israelites, who had not experienced the earlier battles, how to conduct holy war. <sup>§3</sup> These were the nations:§† the five lords of the Philistines, all the Canaanites, the Sidonians, and the Hivites living in Mount Lebanon, from Mount Baal Hermon to Lebo-Hamath. <sup>§††4</sup> They were left to test Israel, so the LORD would know if his people would obey the commands he gave their ancestors through Moses. §†

Othniel: A Model Leader

7 The Israelites did evil in the LORD’s sight. §† They forgot the LORD their God and worshiped the Baals and the Asherahs. <sup>§§†8</sup> The LORD was furious with Is-

Deceit, Assassination, and Deliverance

jaminites purposely trained several of their young men to be left-

men would have a distinct military advantage, especially when at-

Take with you ten thousand men from Naphtali and Zebulun! <sup>7</sup> I will bring Sisera, the general of Jabin’s army, to you at the Kishon River, along with his chariots and huge army.<sup>43</sup> I will hand him over to you.” <sup>8</sup> Barak said to her, “If you go with tent peg in one hand and a hammer in the other.<sup>22</sup> She crept up on him, drove the tent peg through his temple into the ground<sup>23</sup> while he was asleep from exhaustion, <sup>24</sup> and he died. <sup>22</sup> Now Barak was chasing Sisera. Jael went out to welcome him. She said to him, "Come here and I will show you the man you are searching for." He went with her into the tent,<sup>25</sup> and there he saw Sisera sprawled out dead<sup>26</sup> with the tent peg in his temple.

5 On that day Deborah and Barak son of Abinoam sang this victory song: <sup>30</sup>

†† tn: Or "ceased." ‡ tn: The translation assumes that the verb is an archaic second feminine singular form. Though Deborah is named as one of the composers of the song (v. 1), she is also addressed within it (v. 12). Many take the verb as first person singular, "I arose" (cf. NAB, NASB, NIV). ‡† tn: Heb "mother." The translation assumes that the image portrays Deborah as a protector of the people. It is possible that the metaphor points to her prophetic role. Just as a male prophet could be called "father," so Deborah, a prophetess, is called "mother" (B. Lindars, Judges 1-5, 239). ‡†† tn: Or "warriors." The Hebrew text reads literally, "He chose God/gods new." Some take "Israel" as the subject of the verb, "gods" as object, and "new" as an adjective modifying "gods." This yields the translation, "(Israel) chose new gods." In this case idolatry is the cause of the trouble alluded to in the context. The present translation takes "God" as subject of the verb and "new" as substantival, referring to the new leaders raised up by God (see v. 9a). For a survey of opinions and a defense of the present translation, see B. You are not going to die!" <sup>24</sup> Gideon built an altar for the LORD there, and named it "The LORD is on friendly terms with me."††† To this day it is still there in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

Gideon Destroys the Altar

<sup>25</sup> That night the LORD said to him, "Take the bull from your father's herd, as well as a second bull, one that is seven years old.§ Pull down your father's Baal altar and cut down the nearby Asherah pole. <sup>26</sup> Then build an altar for the LORD your God on the top of this stronghold according to the proper pattern. §† Take the second bull and offer it as a burnt sacrifice on the wood from the Asherah pole that you cut down." <sup>27</sup> So Gideon took ten of his servants§†† and did just as the LORD had told him. He was too afraid of his father's family§† and the men of the city to do it in broad daylight, so he waited until nighttime. §††

Gideon Summons an Army and Seeks Confirmation

<sup>36</sup> Gideon said to God, "If you really intend to use me to deliver Israel, <sup>32</sup> as you promised, then give me a sign as proof. <sup>33,37</sup> Look, I am putting a wool fleece on the threshing floor. If there is dew only on the fleece, and the ground around it<sup>34</sup> is dry, then I will be sure<sup>35</sup> that you will use me to deliver Israel, <sup>36</sup> as you promised." <sup>38</sup> The LORD did as he asked. <sup>37</sup> When he got up the next morning, he squeezed the fleece, and enough dew dripped from it to fill a bowl. <sup>38,39</sup> Gideon said to God, "Please do not get angry at me, when I ask for just one more sign.<sup>39</sup> Please allow me one more test with the fleece. This time make only the fleece dry, while the ground around it is covered with dew." <sup>40,40</sup> That night God did as he asked.<sup>41</sup> Only the fleece was dry and the ground around it was covered with dew.

The LXX reads "and Amalek" (cf. v. 12; 6:33).

† tn: Heb "the people who are with you are too numerous for me to give Midian into their hand." †† tn: Heb "might glorify itself against me." ‡ tn: Heb "my hand has delivered me." ‡† tn: Heb "call into the ears of the people." ‡‡ tn: Heb "afraid and shaking." ‡‡† tc: Many interpreters reject the MT reading "and leave Mount Gilead" for geographical reasons. A possible alternative, involving rather radical emendation of the Hebrew text, would be, "So Gideon tested them" (i.e., thinned the ranks in this manner). ‡‡‡ tn: Heb "people." The translation uses "men" because warriors are in view, and in ancient Israelite culture these would be only males. (This is also the case in vv. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.) § tn: Or "turned around, back." §† tn: Heb "too many people." §†† tn: Heb "test them for you there." §‡ tn: Heb "he should go with you." §‡† tn: Heb also has "to you." §† tn: Heb "he should not go." §‡ tn: Heb "the people." §§† tn: Heb "Everyone who laps with his tongue from the water, as a dog laps, put him by himself, as well as the one who gets down on his knees to drink." §§‡ tc: The Hebrew text adds, "with their hands to their mouths," This makes no sense in light of v. 5, which distinguishes between dog-like lappers (who would not use their hands to drink) and those who kneel (who would use their hands). It seems likely that the words "with their hands to their mouths" have been misplaced from v. 6. They fit better at the end of v. 5 or v. 6. Perhaps these words were originally a marginal scribal note which was later accidentally inserted into the text in the wrong place. §§§ tn: Heb "the people." <sup>18</sup> tn: Heb "you." But if you are afraid to attack, go down to the camp with Purah your servant<sup>11</sup> and listen to what they are saying. Then you will be brave<sup>31</sup> and attack the camp." So he went down with Purah his servant to where the sentries were guarding the camp. <sup>3212</sup> Now the Midianites, Amalekites, and the people from the east covered the valley like a swarm of locusts. <sup>33</sup> Their camels could not be counted; they were as innumerable as the sand on the seashore. <sup>13</sup> When Gideon arrived, he heard a man telling another man about a dream he had.<sup>34</sup> The man <sup>35</sup> said, "Look ! I had a dream. I saw<sup>36</sup> a stale cake of barley bread rolling into the Midianite camp. It hit a tent so hard it knocked it over and turned it upside down. The tent just collapsed."<sup>3714</sup> The other man said, <sup>38</sup> " Without a doubt this symbolizes<sup>39</sup> the sword of Gideon son of Joash, the Israelite. God is handing Midian and all the army over to him."

Gideon Routs the Enemy

<sup>15</sup> When Gideon heard the report of the dream and its interpretation, he praised God.<sup>40</sup> Then he went back to the Israelite camp and said, "Get up, for the LORD is handing the Midianite army over to you!" <sup>16</sup> He divided the three hundred men into three units. <sup>41</sup> He gave them all trumpets and empty jars with torches inside them. <sup>4217</sup> He said to them, "Watch me and do as I do. Watch closely!<sup>43</sup> I am going to the edge of the camp. Do as I do! <sup>18</sup> When I and all who are with me blow our trumpets, you also blow your trumpets all around the camp. Then say, 'For the LORD and for Gideon!'"

Gideon Appeals the Ephraimites

8 The Ephraimites said to him, "Why have you done such a thing to us? You did not summon us§§† when you went to fight the Midianites!" They argued vehemently with him.<sup>2</sup> He said to them, "Now what have I accomplished compared to you? Even Ephraim's leftover grapes§§† are better quality than Abiezer's harvest!<sup>§§§3</sup> It was to you that God handed over the Midianite generals, Oreb and Zeeb! What did I accomplish to rival that?"<sup>18</sup> When he said this, they calmed down.<sup>19</sup>

This has not been repeated in the translation for stylistic reasons. §† tn: Heb "Midian." §† tn: Heb "beyond the Jordan." The word "River" is not in the Hebrew text but has been supplied in the translation for clarity (also in 8:4). §§† tn: Heb "by not summoning us." §§‡ tn: Heb "gleanings." §§§ sn: Ephraim's leftover grapes are better quality than Abiezer's harvest. Gideon employs an agricultural metaphor. He argues that Ephraim's mopping up operations, though seemingly like the inferior grapes which are missed initially by the harvesters or left for the poor, are actually more noteworthy than the military efforts of Gideon's family. 18 tn: Heb "What was I able to do compared to you?" 19 tn: Heb "Then their spirits relaxed from against him, when he spoke this word."

Gideon Tracks Down the Midianite Kings

20 tn: Heb "And Gideon arrived at the Jordan, crossing over, he and the three hundred men who were with him, exhausted and chasing." The English past perfect ("had crossed") is used because this verse flashes back chronologically to an event that preceded the hostile encounter described in vv. 1-3. (Note that 7:25 assumes Gideon had already crossed the Jordan.) 21 tn: Or perhaps, "sell." 22 tn: Heb "people." The translation uses "men" because these were warriors and in ancient Israelite culture would have been exclusively males. 23 tn: Heb "who are at my feet." 24 tn: Or perhaps, "sell." 25 tn: Heb "Are the palms of Zebah and Zalmunna now in your hand, that we should give to your army bread?" Perhaps the reference to the kings' "palms" should be taken literally. The officials of Succoth may be alluding to the practice of mutilating prisoners or enemy corpses (see R. G. Boling, Judges [AB], 155). sn: The officials of Succoth are hesitant to give (or sell) food to Gideon's forces because they are not sure of the outcome of the battle. Perhaps they had made an alliance with the Midianites which demanded their loyalty. 26 tn: Heb "Therefore." 27 sn: I will thresh. The metaphor is agricultural. Threshing was usually done on a hard threshing floor. As farm animals walked over the stalks, pulling behind them a board embedded with sharp stones, the stalks and grain would be separated. See O. Borowski, Agriculture in Iron Age Israel, 63-65. Gideon threatens to use thorns and briers on his sledge. 28 tn: Or "flesh." 29 tn: This is apparently a rare instrumental use of the Hebrew preposition  $\text{בְּ}$

Heb "in peace." 35 tn: Heb "About fifteen thousand [in number] were all the ones remaining from the army of the sons of the east. ran away, Gideon† chased them and captured the two Midianite kings, Zebah and Zalmunna. He had surprised†† their entire army.

<sup>18</sup> He said to Zebah and Zalmunna, “Describe for me§†† the men you killed at Tabor.” They said, “They were like you. Each one looked like a king's son.” <sup>§†19</sup> He said, “They were my brothers, the sons of my mother. I swear, §†† as surely as the LORD is alive, if you had let them live, I would not kill you.” <sup>20</sup> He ordered Jether his firstborn son, “Come on §† Kill them!” But Jether was too afraid to draw his sword, §† because he was still young. <sup>21</sup> Zebah and Zalmunna said to Gideon, §§† “Come on, §§† you strike us, for a man is judged by his strength.” §§§ So Gideon killed<sup>18</sup> Zebah and Zalmunna, and he took the crescent-shaped ornaments which were on the necks of their camels.

them, “I will not rule over you, nor will my son rule over you. The LORD will rule over you.” <sup>24</sup> Gideon continued,<sup>20</sup> “I would like to make one request. Each of you give me an earring from the plunder you have taken.” <sup>21</sup> (The Midianites <sup>22</sup> had gold earrings because they were Ishmaelites.) <sup>25</sup> They said, “We are happy to give you earrings.” <sup>23</sup> So they <sup>24</sup> spread out a garment, and each one threw an earring from his plunder onto it. <sup>26</sup> The total weight of the gold earrings he requested came to seventeen hundred gold shekels. <sup>25</sup> This was in addition to the crescent-shaped ornaments, jewelry, <sup>26</sup> purple clothing worn by the Midianite kings, and the necklaces on the camels. <sup>2727</sup> Gideon used all this to make<sup>28</sup> an ephod, <sup>29</sup> which he put in his hometown of Ophrah. All the Israelites<sup>30</sup> prostituted themselves to it by worshiping it<sup>31</sup> there. It became a snare to Gideon and his family.

Gideon's Story Ends

In some cases an ephod is used to obtain a divine oracle ( 1 Sam 23:9; 30:7). Here the ephod is made of gold and is described as being quite heavy (70-75 lbs?). Some identify it as an idol, but it was more likely a cultic object fashioned in the form of a garment which was used for oracular purposes. For discussion of the ephod in the OT, see C. F. Burney, Judges, 236-43, and R. de Vaux, Ancient Israel, 349-52. 30 tn: Heb “Israel” (a collective singular). 31 tn: The words “by worshiping it” are supplied in the translation for clarity. 32 tn: Heb “Midian was humbled before the Israelites, and they no longer lifted their heads.” 33 tn: Heb “in the days of Gideon.” 34 tn: Heb “went and lived in his house.” 35 tn: Heb “Gideon had seventy sons who went out from his thigh, for he had many wives.” The Hebrew word יָרַךְ

A concubine's status was more elevated than a mere servant, but she was not free and did not have the legal rights of a free wife. The children of a concubine could, in some instances, become equal heirs with the children of the free wife. After the period of the Judges concubines may have become more of a royal prerogative ( 2 Sam 21:10-14; 1 Kgs 11:3). 37 sn: The name Abimelech means “my father is king.” 38 tn: Heb “good.”

Israel Returns to Baal-Worship

<sup>33</sup> After Gideon died, the Israelites again prostituted themselves to the Baals. They made Baal-Berith† their god. <sup>34</sup> The Israelites did not remain true†† to the LORD their God, who had delivered them from all the enemies who lived around them. <sup>35</sup> They did not treat‡ the family of Jerub-Baal (that is, Gideon ) fairly in return for all the good he had done for Israel.

9 Now Abimelech son of Jerub-Baal went to Shechem to see his mother's relatives. † He said to them and to his mother's entire extended family, ††<sup>2</sup> " Tell††† all the leaders of Shechem this: 'Why would you want††† to have seventy men, all Jerub-Baal's sons, ruling over you, when you can have just one ruler? Recall that I am your own flesh and blood.'" †† His mother's relatives†† spoke on his behalf to††† all the leaders of Shechem and reported his proposal. † The leaders were drawn to Abimelech; ††† they said, "He is our close relative." ††† They paid him seventy silver shekels out of the temple of Baal-Berith. Abimelech then used the silver to hire some lawless, dangerous†† men as his followers. ††† He went to his father's home in Ophrah and murdered his half-brothers, ††† the seventy legitimate††† sons of Jerub-Baal, on one stone. Only Jotham, Jerub-Baal's youngest son, escaped, <sup>18</sup> because he hid. <sup>6</sup> All the leaders of Shechem and Beth Millo assembled and then went and made Abimelech king by the oak near the pillar<sup>19</sup> in Shechem.

Jotham's Parable

God Fulfills Jotham's Curse

This piracy certainly interrupted or discouraged trade, and probably deprived Abimelech of tariffs or tribute. See C. F. Burney, Judges, 277; G. F. Moore, Judges (ICC), 253.

‡‡‡ tn: Heb "on the tops of." § tn: Heb "It was told to Abimelech." §† sn: The name Gaal derives from, or at least sounds like, a Hebrew verb meaning "to abhor, loathe." His father's name, Ebed, means "servant." Perhaps then this could be translated, "loathsome one, son of a servant." This individual's very name (which may be the narrator's nickname for him, not his actual name) seems to hint at his immoral character and lowly social status.

§†† tn: Heb "trusted in him." Here the verb probably describes more than a mental attitude. It is likely that the Shechemites made an alliance with Gaal and were now trusting him for protection in return for their loyalty (and probably tribute). §† tn: Heb "vineyards." §†† tn: Heb "stomped" or "trampled." This refers to the way in which the juice was squeezed out in the wine vats by stepping on the grapes with one's bare feet. For a discussion of grape harvesting in ancient Israel, see O. <sup>30</sup> When Zebul, the city commissioner, heard the words of Gaal son of Ebed, he was furious. <sup>2131</sup> He sent messengers to Abimelech, who was in Arumah, <sup>22</sup> reporting, "Beware!" <sup>23</sup> Gaal son of Ebed and his brothers are coming<sup>24</sup> to Shechem and inciting the city to rebel against you. <sup>2532</sup> Now, come up<sup>26</sup> at night with your men<sup>27</sup> and set an ambush in the field outside the city. <sup>2833</sup> In the morning at sunrise quickly attack the city. <sup>34</sup> So Abimelech and all his men came up<sup>30</sup> at night and set an ambush outside Shechem – they divided into<sup>31</sup> four units. <sup>35</sup> When Gaal son of Ebed came out and stood at the entrance to the city's gate, Abimelech and his men got up from their hiding places. <sup>36</sup> Gaal saw the men<sup>32</sup> and said to Zebul, "Look, men are com-tn: Heb "Look!" <sup>24</sup> tn: The participle, as used here, suggests Gaal and his brothers are in the process of arriving, but the preceding verses imply they have already settled in. Perhaps Zebul uses understatement to avoid the appearance of negligence on his part. After all, if he made the situation sound too bad, Abimelech, when he was informed, might ask why he had allowed this rebellion to reach such a stage. <sup>25</sup> tn: The words "to rebel" are interpretive. The words "they divided into" are supplied in the translation for clarification. <sup>32</sup> tn: Heb "the people" (also in vv. 38, 43, 48). These were warriors, so "men" has been used in the translation, since in ancient Israelite culture soldiers would have been exclusively males.

ing down from the tops of the hills." But Zebul said to him, "You are seeing the shadows on the hills – it just looks like men." <sup>†37</sup> Gaal again said, "Look, men are coming down from the very center†† of the land. A unit‡ is coming by way of the Oak Tree of the Diviners." <sup>‡†38</sup> Zebul said to him, "Where now are your bragging words, ‡† Who is Abimelech that we should serve him? Are these not the men‡†† you insulted? <sup>‡†††</sup> Go out now and fight them!" <sup>39</sup> So Gaal led the leaders of Shechem out§ and fought Abimelech. <sup>40</sup> Abimelech chased him, and Gaal§† ran from him. Many Shechemites§†† fell wounded at the entrance of the gate. <sup>41</sup> Abimelech went back§† to Arumah; Zebul drove Gaal and his brothers out of Shechem. §††

† tn: Heb "the shadow on the hills you are seeing, like men."

 ‡†† tn: Heb "is your mouth that says." ‡††† tn: Heb "the people." ‡†††† tn: Or "despised." § tn: Heb "So Gaal went out before the leaders of Shechem." §† tn: Heb "he"; the referent (Gaal) has been specified in the translation for clarity. §†† tn: The word "Shechemites" is not in the Hebrew text, but is supplied for clarification. §† tc: Heb "stayed." Some scholars revise the vowel pointing on this verb from that of the MT, resulting in the translation "and he returned to." The Lucianic recension of the LXX understands the word in this way. §††† tn: Heb "drove...out from dwelling in Shechem." §†††† tn: Heb "the people"; the referent (the Shechemites) has been specified in the translation for clarity. §††††† tn: Heb "And they told Abimelech." §§†††† tn: Heb "his people." §§††††† tn: Heb "And he saw and, look, the people were coming out of the city." §§§††††† tn: Heb "he arose against them and struck them."
 18 tn: Or possibly, "the unit that was with him." 19 tn: Heb "stood [at]." 20 tn: Or "destroyed." 21 tn: Heb "sowed it with salt." sn: The spreading of salt over the city was probably a symbolic act designed to place the site under a curse, deprive it of fertility, and prevent any future habitation. The practice is referred to outside the Bible as well. For example, one of the curses in the Aramaic Sefire treaty states concerning Arpad: "May Hadad sow in them salt and weeds, and may it not be mentioned again!" See J. A. Fitzmyer, The Aramaic Inscriptions of Sefire (BibOr), 15, 53. Deut 29:23, Jer 17:6, and Zeph 2:9 associate salt flats or salty regions with infertility and divine judgment. 22 sn: Perhaps the Tower of Shechem was a nearby town, distinct from Shechem proper, or a tower within the city. 23 tn: Apparently this rare word refers here to the most inaccessible area of the temple, perhaps the inner sanctuary or an underground chamber. It appears only here and in 1 Sam 13:6, where it is paired with "cisterns" and refers to subterranean or cave-like

10 After Abimelech's death,<sup>46</sup> Tola son of Puah, grandson<sup>47</sup> of Dodo, from the tribe of Issachar, <sup>48</sup> rose up to deliver Israel. He lived in Shamir in the Ephraimite hill country. <sup>2</sup> He led<sup>49</sup> Israel for twenty-three years, then died and was buried in Shamir.

The same Hebrew term occurs once more in this verse and twice in v. 52. 39 sn: A hand mill consisted of an upper stone and larger lower stone. One would turn the upper stone with a handle to grind the grain, which was placed between the stones. An upper millstone, which was typically about two inches thick and a foot or so in diameter, probably weighed 25-30 pounds (11.4-13.6 kg). See G. F. Moore, Judges (ICC), 268; C. F. 6 The Israelites again did evil in the LORD's sight. † They worshiped†† the Baals and the Ashtars, †† as well as the gods of Syria, Sidon, ††† Moab, the Ammonites, and the Philistines. ††† They abandoned the LORD and did not worship‡ him. 7 The LORD was furious with Israel‡† and turned them over to‡†† the Philistines and Ammonites. 8 They ruthlessly oppressed‡† the Israelites that eighteenth year‡†† – that is, all the Israelites living east of the Jordan in Amorite country in Gilead. 9 The Ammonites crossed the Jordan to fight with Judah, Benjamin, and Ephraim. ‡† Israel suffered greatly. ‡†

17 The Ammonites assembled26 and camped in Gilead; the Israelites gathered together and camped in Mizpah. 18 The leaders27 of Gilead said to one another, "Who is willing to lead the charge28 against the Ammonites ? He will become the leader of all who live in Gilead!"

11 Now Jephthah the Gileadite was a brave warrior. His mother was a prostitute, but Gilead was his father. 292 Gilead's wife also gave30 him sons. When his wife's sons grew up, they made Jephthah leave and said to him, "You are not going to inherit any of our father's wealth,31 because you are another woman's son." 3 So Jephthah left32 his half-brothers33 and lived in the land of Tob. Lawless men joined Jephthah's gang and traveled with him. 34

4 It was some time after this when the Ammonites fought with Israel. 5 When the Ammonites attacked, 35 the leaders36 of Gilead asked Jephthah to come back37 from the land of Tob. 6 They said, 38 " Come, be our commander, so we can fight with the Ammonites." 7 Jephthah said to the leaders of Gilead, "But you hated me and made me leave39 my father's house. Why do you come to me now, when you are in trouble?" 8 The leaders of Gilead said to Jephthah, "That may be true, 40 but now we pledge to you our loyalty.41 Come with us and fight with the Ammonites. The people made him their leader and commander. Jephthah repeated the terms of the agreement††† before the LORD in Mizpah.

Jephthah Gives a History Lesson

A Foolish Vow Spells Death for a Daughter

<sup>34</sup> When Jephthah came home to Mizpah, there was his daughter hurrying outst to meet him, dancing to the rhythm of tambourines. <sup>st†</sup> She was his only child; except for her he had no son or daughter. <sup>35</sup> When he saw her, he ripped his clothes and said, "Oh no! He permitted her to leave<sup>24</sup> for two months. She went with her friends and mourned her virginity as she walked through the hills. <sup>2539</sup> After two months she returned to her father, and he did to her as he had vowed. She died a virgin. <sup>26</sup> Her tragic death gave rise to a custom in Israel. <sup>2740</sup> Every year<sup>28</sup> Israelite women commemorate<sup>29</sup> the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite for four days. <sup>30</sup>

12 The Ephraimites assembled<sup>31</sup> and crossed over to Zaphon. They said to Jephthah, "Why did you go and fight<sup>32</sup> with the Ammonites without asking<sup>33</sup> us to go with you? We will burn your house down right over you!" <sup>34</sup>

<sup>2</sup> Jephthah said to them, "My people and I were entangled in controversy with the Ammonites. <sup>35</sup> I asked for your help, but you did not deliver me from their power. <sup>363</sup> When I saw that you were not going to help, <sup>37</sup> I risked my life<sup>38</sup> and advanced against<sup>39</sup> the Ammonites, and the LORD handed them over to me. Jephthah assembled all the men of Gilead and they fought with Ephraim. The men of Gilead defeated Ephraim, because the Ephraimites insulted them, saying, †“ You Gileadites are refugees in Ephraim, living within Ephraim’s and Manasseh’s territory.” ††5 The Gileadites captured the fords of the Jordan River‡ opposite Ephraim. †† Whenever an Ephraimite fugitive‡†† said, “Let me cross over,” the men of Gilead asked‡†† him, “Are you an Ephraimite ?” If he said, “No,” 6 then they said to him, “Say ‘Shibboleth !’”‡†† If he said, “Sibboleth” (and could not pronounce the word‡ correctly), they grabbed him and executed him right there at the fords of the Jordan. On that day forty-two thousand Ephraimites fell dead. 7 Jephthah led‡† Israel for six years; then he‡†† died and was buried in his city in Gilead. ‡†

According to this interpretation, in v. 5 the angel reveals the truth to her – actually she has recently conceived and is now pregnant (see the translation in R. G. Boling, Judges [AB], 217). 21 The LORD’s messenger did not appear again to Manoah and his wife. <sup>5</sup> Samson went down to Timnah. When he approached§ the vineyards of Timnah, he saw a roaring young lion attacking him. §§ The LORD’s spirit empowered<sup>§§††</sup> him and he tore the lion§† in two with his bare hands§†† as easily as one would tear a young goat. † tn: Heb “I have seen a woman in Timnah, one of the daughters of the Philistines.” †† tn: Heb “my.” The singular may seem strange, since the introduction to the quotation attributes the words to his father and mother. But Samson’s father apparently speaks for both himself and his wife. However, the Lucianic recension of the LXX and the Syriac Peshitta have a second person pronoun here (“you”), and this may represent the original reading. ‡ tn: Heb “Is there not among the daughters of your brothers or among all my people a woman that you have to go to get a wife among the uncircumcised Philistines?” ‡† tn: “Her” is first in the Hebrew word order for emphasis. Samson wanted this Philistine girl, no one else. See C. F. When they approached...” Verse 6b states that Samson did not tell his parents about his encounter with the lion (vv. 5b-6a), but v. 5a gives the impression they would have seen the entire episode. One could assume that Samson separated from his parents prior to the lion’s attack, but the Hebrew text does not indicate this. It seems more likely that the words “with his father and his mother” were accidentally copied into the text, perhaps under the influence of v. 4a, where the same phrase appears. An original singular verb (“he approached”) may have been changed to the plural form (“they approached”) after the words “his father and his mother” were accidentally added to the text. §† tn: Heb “and look, a young lion of the lions was roaring to meet him.” §†† tn: Heb “rushed on.” §‡ tn: Heb “him” or “it”; the referent (the lion) has been specified in the translation for clarity. §‡† tn: Heb “and there was nothing in his hand.” §† tn: Heb “He went down.” §‡ tn: Heb “She was the right one in the eyes of Samson.” §§† tn: Heb “get.” §§‡ tn: Heb “and look, a swarm of bees...” §§§ tn: Heb “went.” Samson apparently went home to his parents before going to Timnah for the marriage. Seeing and tasting the honey appears to encourage Manoah to go with his son to Timnah. Perhaps both Samson and his father viewed the honey as a good omen of future blessing. Possibly Samson considered it a symbol of sexual pleasure or an aphrodisiac. Note the use of honey imagery in Song 4:11 and 5:1.

did not tell them he had scooped the honey out of the lion’s carcass.<sup>18</sup>

“Out of the one who eats came something to eat; out of the strong one came something sweet.”

They could not solve the riddle for three days. <sup>15</sup> On the fourth<sup>27</sup> day they said to Samson’s bride, “Trick your husband into giving the solution to the riddle. <sup>28</sup> If you refuse,<sup>29</sup> we will burn up<sup>30</sup> you and your father’s family. <sup>31</sup> Did you invite us here<sup>32</sup> to make us poor?”<sup>33</sup> So Samson’s bride cried on his shoulder<sup>34</sup> and said, “You must<sup>35</sup> hate me; you do not love me! You told the young men<sup>36</sup> a riddle, but you have not told me the solution.” He said to her, “Look, I have not even told my father or mother. He said to them,

<sup>4</sup> After this Samson fell in love with a woman named Delilah, who lived in the Sorek Valley. <sup>5</sup> The rulers of the Philistines went up to visit her and said to her, "Trick him! Find out what makes him so strong and how we can subdue him and humiliate<sup>22</sup> him. Each one of us will give you eleven hundred silver pieces."

The rest of the verse suggests that "the town" is the object, not "the house." Though the Gazites knew Samson was in the town, apparently they did not know exactly where he had gone. Otherwise, they would could have just gone into or surrounded the house and would not have needed to post guards at the city gate. §‡ tn: Heb "and they lay in wait for him all night in the city gate." §§† tn: Heb "were silent." §§‡ tn: Heb "saying." §§§ tn: The words "He will not leave" are supplied in the translation for clarification. <sup>18</sup> tn: Heb "until the light of the morning." <sup>19</sup> tn: Heb "And Samson lay until the middle of the night and arose in the middle of the night." <sup>20</sup> tn: Heb "with the bar." <sup>21</sup> tn: Heb "which is upon the face of Hebron." <sup>22</sup> tn: Heb "subdue him in order to humiliate him."

<sup>6</sup> So Delilah said to Samson, "Tell me what makes you so strong and how you can be subdued and humiliated." <sup>237</sup> Samson said to her, "If they tie me up with seven fresh<sup>24</sup> bowstrings<sup>25</sup> that have not been dried, I will become weak and be just like any other man." <sup>8</sup> So the rulers of the Philistines brought her seven fresh bowstrings which had not been dried and they tied him up with them. <sup>9</sup> They hid<sup>26</sup> in the bedroom and then she said to him, "The Philistines are here,<sup>27</sup> Samson!" He snapped the bowstrings as easily as a thread of yarn snaps when it is put close to fire. <sup>28</sup> The secret of his strength was not discovered. <sup>29</sup>

<sup>10</sup> Delilah said to Samson, "Look, you deceived<sup>30</sup> me and told me lies! Now tell me how you can be subdued." <sup>11</sup> He said to her, "If they tie me tightly with brand new ropes that have never been used, <sup>31</sup> I will become weak and be just like any other man." <sup>12</sup> So Delilah took new ropes and tied him with them and said to him, "The Philistines are here,<sup>32</sup> Samson!" (The Philistines were hiding in the bedroom.) <sup>33</sup> But he tore the ropes<sup>34</sup> from his arms as if they were a piece of thread.

<sup>13</sup> Delilah said to Samson, "Up to now you have deceived me and told me lies. Tell me how you can be subdued." He said to her, "If you weave the seven braids of my hair<sup>35</sup> into the fabric on the loom<sup>36</sup> and secure it with the pin, I will become weak and be like any other man." <sup>14</sup> So she made him go to sleep, wove the seven braids of his hair into the fabric on the loom, fastened it with the pin, and said to him, "The

Samson's Death and Burial

<sup>23</sup> The rulers of the Philistines gathered to offer a great sacrifice to Dagon their god and to celebrate. They said, "Our god has handed Samson, our enemy, over to us." <sup>24</sup> When the people saw him,<sup>25</sup> they praised their god, saying, "Our god has handed our enemy over to us, the one who ruined our land and killed so many of us!"<sup>26</sup>

<sup>25</sup> When they really started celebrating, <sup>27</sup> they said, "Call for Samson so he can entertain us!" So they summoned Samson from the prison and he entertained them.<sup>28</sup> They made him stand between two pillars. <sup>26</sup> Samson said to the young man who held his hand, "Position me so I can touch the pillars that support the temple. <sup>29</sup> Then I can lean on them." <sup>27</sup> Now the temple<sup>30</sup> was filled with men and women, and all the rulers of the Philistines were there. There were three thousand men and women on the roof watching Samson entertain. <sup>28</sup> Samson called to the LORD, "O Master, LORD,<sup>31</sup> remember me ! Strengthen me just one more time, O God, so I can get swift revenge<sup>32</sup> against the Philistines for my two eyes!" <sup>29</sup> Samson took hold of the two middle pillars that supported the temple<sup>33</sup> and he leaned against them, with his right hand on one and his left hand on the other. <sup>30</sup> Samson said, "Let me die with the Philistines !" He pushed hard<sup>34</sup> and the temple collapsed on the rulers and all the people in it. He killed many more people in his death than he had killed during his life. <sup>35</sup><sup>31</sup> His brothers and all his family<sup>36</sup> went down and brought him back. <sup>37</sup> They buried him between Zorah and Eshtaol in the tomb of Manoah his father. He had led<sup>38</sup> Israel for twenty years.

17 There was a man named Micah from the Ephraimite hill country. <sup>2</sup> He said to his mother, "You know<sup>39</sup> the eleven hundred pieces of silver which were stolen<sup>40</sup> from you, about which I heard you pro-

<sup>24</sup> tn: Heb "the hair of his head." <sup>25</sup> tn: Most interpret this as a reference to Samson, but this seems premature, since v. 25 suggests he was not yet standing before them. Consequently some prefer to see this statement as displaced and move it to v. 25 (see C. F. Burney, Judges, 387). It seems more likely that the pronoun refers to an image of Dagon. <sup>26</sup> tn: Heb "multiplied our dead." <sup>27</sup> tn: Heb "When their heart was good." <sup>28</sup> tn: Heb "before them." <sup>29</sup> tn: Heb "the pillars upon which the house is founded." <sup>30</sup> tn: Heb "house." <sup>31</sup> tn: The Hebrew has הָיָה לְיָדֵי הָאֱלֹהִים

nounce a curse? Look here, I have the silver. I stole† it, but now I am giving it back to you.†† His mother said, "May the LORD reward‡ you, my son!"<sup>3</sup> When he gave back to his mother the eleven hundred pieces of silver, his mother said, "I solemnly dedicate‡‡ this silver to the LORD. It will be for my son's benefit. We will use it to make a carved image and a metal image."‡‡‡ When he gave the silver back to his mother, she‡‡‡ took two hundred pieces of silver‡‡‡ to a silversmith, who made them into a carved image and a metal image. She then put them in Micah's house.<sup>55</sup> Now this man Micah owned a shrine.<sup>5†</sup> He made an ephod<sup>5††</sup> and some personal idols and hired one of his sons to serve as a priest.<sup>5‡6</sup> In those days Israel had no king. Each man did what he considered to be right.<sup>5††</sup>

Micah Hires a Professional

<sup>7</sup> There was a young man from Bethlehem<sup>5†</sup> in Judah. He was a Levite who had been temporarily residing among the tribe of Judah.<sup>5‡8</sup> This man left the town of Bethlehem in Judah to find another place to live. He came to the Ephraimite hill country and made his way to Micah's house.<sup>5‡†9</sup> Micah said to him, "Where do you come from?" He replied, "I am a Levite from Bethlehem in Judah. I am looking for a new place to live."<sup>5‡†10</sup> Micah said to him, "Stay with me. Become my adviser<sup>5‡‡‡</sup> and priest. I will give you ten pieces of sil-

† tn: Heb "took." †† tn: In the Hebrew text the statement, "but now I am giving it back to you," appears at the end of v. 3 and is spoken by the mother. But v. 4 indicates that she did not give the money back to her son. Unless the statement is spoken by the woman to the LORD, it appears to be misplaced and fits much better in v. 2. It may have been accidentally omitted from a manuscript, written in the margin, and then later inserted in the wrong place in another manuscript. ‡ tn: Traditionally, "bless." ‡† tn: Heb "dedicating, I dedicate." In this case the emphatic infinitive absolute lends a mood of solemnity to the statement. ‡‡ tn: Heb "to the LORD from my hand for my son to make a carved image and cast metal image." She cannot mean that she is now taking the money from her hand and giving it back to her son so he can make an image. Verses 4-6 indicate she took back the money and used a portion of it to hire a silversmith to make an idol for her son to use. The phrase "a carved image and cast metal image" is best taken as referring to two idols (see 18:17-18), even though the verb at the end of v. 4, וַיַּחֲזֵק

‡‡† tn: Heb "his mother." The pronoun ("she") has been substituted for the noun ("mother") in the translation because of English style. ‡‡‡ tn: The Hebrew text has "and gave it." The referent (the pieces of silver) has been specified in the translation for clarity. § tn: Heb "and it was in Micah's house." §† tn: Heb "house of God." §†† sn: Here an ephod probably refers to a priestly garment (cf. Exod 28:4-6). §‡ tn: Heb "and he filled the hand of one of his sons and he became his priest." §‡† tn: Heb "Each was doing what was right in his [own] eyes." §† map: For location see. §‡ tn: Heb "There was a young man from Bethlehem of Judah, from the tribe of Judah, and he was a Levite, and he was temporarily residing there." §‡† tn: Heb "He came to the Ephraimite hill country, to Micah's house, making his way." §‡‡ tn: Heb "And I am going to reside in a place I can find." §‡‡‡ tn: Heb "father." "Father" is here a title of honor that suggests the priest will give advice and protect the interests of the family, primarily by divining God's will in matters, perhaps through the use of the ephod. (See R. G. Boling, Judges [AB], 257; also Gen 45:8, where Joseph, who was a diviner and interpreter of dreams, is called Pharaoh's "father," and 2 ver per year, plus clothes and food."<sup>1811</sup> So the Levite agreed to stay with the man; the young man was like a son to Micah.<sup>1912</sup> Micah paid<sup>20</sup> the Levite; the young man became his priest and lived in Micah's house.<sup>13</sup> Micah said, "Now I know God will make me rich,<sup>21</sup> because I have this Levite as my priest."

18 In those days Israel had no king. And in those days the Danite tribe was looking for a place<sup>22</sup> to settle, because at that time they did not yet have a place to call their own among the tribes of Israel.<sup>232</sup> The Danites sent out from their whole tribe five representatives,<sup>24</sup> capable men<sup>25</sup> from Zorah and Eshtaol, to spy out the land and explore it. They said to them, "Go, explore the land." They came to the Ephraimite hill country and spent the night at Micah's house.<sup>263</sup> As they approached<sup>27</sup> Micah's house, they recognized the accent<sup>28</sup> of the young Levite. So they stopped<sup>29</sup> there and said to him, "Who brought you here? What are you doing in this place? What is your business here?"<sup>304</sup> He told them what Micah had done for him, saying,<sup>31</sup> "He hired me and I became his priest."<sup>5</sup> They said to him, "Seek a divine oracle for us,<sup>32</sup> so we can know if we will be successful on our mission."<sup>336</sup> The priest said to them, "Go with confidence.<sup>34</sup> The LORD will be with you on your mission."<sup>35</sup>

Kgs 6:21; 13:14, where a prophet is referred to as a "father." Note also 2 Kgs 8:9, where a king identifies himself as a prophet's "son." One of a prophet's main functions was to communicate divine oracles. Cf. 2 Kgs 8:9ff.; 13:14-19). 18 tn: The Hebrew text expands with the phrase: "and the Levite went." This only makes sense if taken with "to live" in the next verse. Apparently "the Levite went" and "the Levite agreed" are alternative readings which have been juxtaposed in the text. 19 tn: Heb "the young man became like one of his sons." 20 tn: Heb "filled the hand of." 21 tn: Heb "do good for me." 22 tn: Heb "an inheritance." 23 tn: Heb "because there had not fallen to them by that day in the midst of the tribes of Israel an inheritance." 24 tn: Heb "The Danites sent from their tribe five men, from their borders." 25 tn: Heb "men, sons of strength." 26 tn: Heb "They came to the Ephraimite hill country, to Micah's house, and spent the night there." 27 tn: Or "When they were near." 28 tn: Heb "voice." This probably means that "his speech was Judahite [i.e., southern] like their own, not Israelite [i.e., northern]" (R. G. Boling, Judges [AB], 263). 29 tn: Heb "turned aside." 30 tn: Heb "What [is there] to you here?" 31 tn: Heb "He said to them, 'Such and such Micah has done for me.'" Though the statement is introduced and presented, at least in part, as a direct quotation (note especially "for me"), the phrase "such and such" appears to be the narrator's condensed version of what the Levite really said. 32 tn: Heb "Ask God." 33 tn: Heb "so we can know if our way on which we are going will be successful." 34 tn: Heb "in peace." 35 tn: Heb "In front of the LORD is your way in which you are going." 36 tn: Or "went." 37 tn: Heb "who were in its midst." 38 tn: Heb "according to the custom of the Sidonians." 39 tn: Heb "and there was no one humiliating anything in the land, one taking possession [by] force." 40 tc: Heb "and a thing there was not to them with men." Codex Alexandrinus (A) of the LXX and Symmachus read "Syria" here rather than the MT's "men." This reading to their tribe† in Zorah and Eshtaol, their kinsmen†† asked them, "How did it go?"<sup>9</sup> They said, "Come on, let's attack them,†† for ‡‡ we saw their land and it is very good. You seem lethargic, ‡‡‡ but don't hesitate‡‡‡ to invade and conquer§ the land."<sup>10</sup> When you invade,§† you will encounter§†† unsuspecting people. The land is wide ‡‡ God is handing it over to you – a place that lacks nothing on earth!"§††

11 When they got near Jebus, it was getting quite late<sup>29</sup> and the servant<sup>30</sup> said to his master, "Come on, let's stop at<sup>31</sup> this Jebusite city and spend the night in it." <sup>12</sup> But his master said to him, "We should not stop at a foreign city where non-Israelites live.<sup>32</sup> We will travel on to Gibeah." <sup>13</sup> He said to his servant, <sup>33</sup> "Come on, we will go into one of the other towns<sup>34</sup> and spend the night in Gibeah or Ramah." <sup>14</sup> So they traveled on, <sup>35</sup> and the sun went down when they were near Gibeah in the territory of Benjamin. <sup>36</sup><sup>15</sup> They stopped there and decided to spend the night<sup>37</sup> in Gibeah. They came into the city and sat down in the town square, but no one invited them to spend the night. <sup>38</sup>

16 But then an old man passed by, returning at the end of the day from his work in the field. <sup>39</sup> The man was from the Ephraimite hill country, he was living temporarily in Gibeah. (The residents of the town were Benjaminites.) <sup>40</sup><sup>17</sup> When he looked up and saw the traveler<sup>41</sup> in the town square, the old man said, "Where are you heading? Where do you come from?" <sup>18</sup> The Levite<sup>42</sup> said to him, "We are traveling from Bethlehem<sup>43</sup> in Judah to the remote region of the Ephraimite hill country. That's where I'm from. I had business in Bethlehem in Judah, but now I'm heading home. <sup>44</sup> But no one has invited me into their home. <sup>19</sup> We have enough straw and grain for our donkeys, and there is enough food and wine for me, your female servant, <sup>45</sup> and the young man who is with your servants. <sup>46</sup> We lack nothing." <sup>20</sup> The old man said, "Everything is just fine!<sup>47</sup> I will take care of all your needs. They said to the old man who owned the house, "Send out the man who came to visit you so we can have sex with him."<sup>††23</sup> The man who owned the house went outside and said to them, "No, my brothers ! Don't do this wicked thing ! After all, this man is a guest in my house. Don't do such a disgraceful thing!<sup>24</sup> Here are my virgin daughter and my guest's‡ concubine. I will send them out and you can abuse them and do to them whatever you like.†† But don't do such a disgraceful thing to this man!"<sup>25</sup> The men refused to listen to him, so the Levite‡‡ grabbed his concubine and made her go outside.‡‡‡ They raped‡‡‡ her and abused her all night long until morning. They let her go at dawn.<sup>26</sup> The woman arrived back at daybreak and was sprawled out on the doorstep of the house where her master§ was staying until it became light.<sup>§†27</sup> When her master§†† got up in the morning, opened the doors of the house, and went outside to start on his journey, there was the woman, his concubine, sprawled out on the doorstep of the house with her hands on the threshold.<sup>28</sup> He said to her, "Get up, let's leave!" But there was no response. He put her on the donkey and went home.<sup>§†29</sup> When he got home, he took a knife, grabbed his concubine, and carved her up into twelve pieces.§†† Then he sent the pieces throughout Israel.<sup>§†30</sup> Everyone who saw the sight§† said, "Nothing like this has happened or been witnessed during the entire time since§§† the Israelites left

When the men hiding in ambush† sent up a smoke signal from the city,<sup>39</sup> the Israelites counterattacked.†† Benjamin had begun to strike down the Israelites;‡ they struck down‡† about thirty men. They said, "There's no doubt about it! They are totally defeated as in the earlier battle."<sup>40</sup> But when the signal, a pillar of smoke, began to rise up from the city, the Benjaminites turned around and saw the whole city going up in a cloud of smoke that rose high into the sky.<sup>‡‡41</sup> When the Israelites turned around, the Benjaminites panicked‡‡‡ because they could see that disaster was on their doorstep.<sup>‡‡‡42</sup> They retreated before the Israelites, taking the road to the wilderness. According to v. 15, the Benjaminite army numbered 26,700 (26,000 + 700). The figures in vv. 35 (rounded in vv. 44-46) and 47 add up to 25,700. What happened to the other 1,000 men? The most reasonable explanation is that they were killed during the first two days of fighting. G. F. Moore (Judges [ICC], 429) and C. F. Burney (Judges, 475) reject this proposal, arguing that the narrator is too precise and concerned about details to omit such a fact. However, the account of the first two days' fighting emphasizes Israel's humiliating defeat. To speak of Benjaminite casualties would diminish the literary effect. In vv. 35, 44-47 the narrator's emphasis is the devastating defeat that Benjamin experienced on this final day of battle. To mention the earlier days' casualties at this point is irrelevant to his literary purpose. He allows readers who happen to be concerned with such details to draw conclusions for themselves.

They wiped out the cities,<sup>20</sup> the animals, and everything they could find. They set fire to every city in their path.<sup>21</sup>

21 The Israelites had taken an oath in Mizpah, saying, "Not one of us will allow his daughter to marry a Benjaminites." <sup>2</sup> So the people came to Bethel<sup>22</sup> and sat there before God until evening, weeping loudly and uncontrollably.<sup>233</sup> They said, "Why, O LORD God of Israel, has this happened in Israel?" An entire<sup>24</sup> tribe has disappeared from Israel today!"

<sup>4</sup> The next morning the people got up early and built an altar there. They offered up burnt sacrifices and tokens of peace.<sup>255</sup> The Israelites asked, "Who from all the Israelite tribes has not assembled before the LORD?" They had made a solemn oath that whoever did not assemble before the LORD at Mizpah must certainly be executed.<sup>266</sup> The Israelites regretted what had happened to<sup>27</sup> their brother Benjamin. They said, "Today we cut off an entire<sup>28</sup> tribe from Israel! <sup>7</sup> How can we find wives for those who are left? <sup>29</sup> After all, we took an oath in the LORD's name not to give them our daughters as wives." <sup>8</sup> So they asked, "Who from all the Israelite tribes did not assemble before the LORD at Mizpah?" Now it just so happened no one from Jabesh Gilead had come to the gathering.<sup>309</sup> When they took roll call,<sup>31</sup> they noticed <sup>32</sup> none of the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead were there. <sup>10</sup> So the assembly sent 12,000 capable warriors<sup>33</sup> against Jabesh Gilead.<sup>34</sup> They commanded them, "Go and kill with your swords<sup>35</sup> the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead, including the women and little children. <sup>11</sup> Do this :<sup>36</sup> exterminate every male, as well as every woman who has had sexual relations with a male. <sup>37</sup> But spare the lives of any virgins." She ate until she was full and saved the rest. <sup>2115</sup> When she got up to gather grain, Boaz told<sup>22</sup> his male servants, "Let her gather grain even among<sup>23</sup> the bundles ! In v. 10, where Ruth uses the perfect, she simply states the fact that Boaz is kind. Here the Hebrew text switches to the imperfect, thus emphasizing the ongoing attitude of kindness displayed by Boaz. Ruth Returns to Naomi

When Ruth returned to her mother-in-law, Naomi<sup>20</sup> asked, <sup>21</sup> “How did things turn out for you,<sup>22</sup> my daughter ?” Ruth<sup>23</sup> told her about all the man had done for her. <sup>24</sup>17 She said, “He gave me these sixty pounds of barley, for he said to me, <sup>25</sup>’ Do not go to your mother-in-law empty-handed.’” <sup>26</sup>18 Then Naomi<sup>27</sup> said, “Stay put,<sup>28</sup> my daughter, until you know how the matter turns out. Six ephahs, the equivalent of 180-300 pounds, is clearly too heavy, especially if carried in a garment. Six omers (an omer being a tenth of an ephah) seems too little, since this would have amounted to six-tenths of an ephah, less than Ruth had gleaned in a single day (cf. 2:17). Thus a seah (one third of an ephah) may be in view here; six seahs would amount to two ephahs, about 60 pounds (27 kg). See R. L. Hubbard, Jr., Ruth (NICOT), 222, and F. W. On the other hand, Boaz viewed marriage to Ruth as voluntary in 3:13 (“If he does not want to redeem you, I will redeem you”), and presented the acquisition of the field as voluntary in 4:4 (“If you want to exercise your right...but if not, tell me!”). Initially, Boaz makes the transaction appear to be a mere land deal in 4:4. When the nearest relative jumped at the land offer, Boaz confronted him with the attendant social/family obligation of marrying Ruth to raise up an heir for the deceased to inherit this very land. By conducting the transaction in public where the close relative would need to save face, Boaz forced him either to reject the offer entirely or to include Ruth in the deal – but he could not take the land and reject Ruth. Either way, Ruth would be cared for and Elimelech’s line continued. But if he took Ruth, the acquisition of the land would be more economically burdensome than beneficial, so he yielded his purchase option to Boaz. For discussion, see F. W. of Ruth may be summarized as follows: God cares for needy people like Naomi and Ruth; he is their ally in this chaotic world. He richly rewards people like Ruth and Boaz who demonstrate sacrificial love and in so doing become his instruments in helping the needy. God's rewards for those who sacrificially love others sometimes exceed their wildest imagination and transcend their lifetime.

Hannah Gives Birth to Samuel

1 There was a man from Ramathaim Zophim, † from the hill country of Ephraim, whose name was Elkanah. He was the son of Jeroham, the son of Elihu, the son of Tohu, the son of Zuph, an Ephraimite. 2 He had two wives; the name of the first was Hannah and the name of the second was Peninnah. Now Peninnah had children, but Hannah was childless. 3 Year after year†† this man would go up from his city to worship and to sacrifice to the LORD of hosts at Shiloh. It was there that the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phineas, served as the LORD's priests. 4 Whenever the day came for Elkanah to sacrifice, he used to give meat portions to his wife Peninnah and to all her sons and daughters. 5 But he would give a double‡ portion to Hannah, because he especially loved her. †† Now the LORD had not enabled her to have children. ‡‡ Her rival wife used to upset her and make her worry, ‡‡ for the LORD had not enabled her to have children. 7 Peninnah‡‡ would behave this way year after year.

The translation also adds the adverb "especially" to clarify the meaning of the text. Without this addition one might get the impression that only Hannah, not Peninnah, was loved by her husband. But the point of the text is that Hannah was his favorite. ‡‡ tn: Heb "and the LORD

Why are you so sad? ‡†† Am I not better to you than ten§‡ sons?"

The ephah was equal to approximately one-half to two-thirds of a bushel. ‡† tn: The Hebrew term translated "container" may denote either a clay storage jar (cf. CEV "a clay jar full of wine") or a leather container (cf. NAB, NIV, NRSV "a skin of wine"; NCV "a leather bag filled with (full of TEV) wine." ‡‡† tc: Heb "and the boy was a boy." If the MT is correct the meaning apparently is that the boy was quite young at the time of these events. On the other hand, some scholars have suspected a textual problem, emending the text to read either "and the boy was with them" (so LXX) or "and the boy was with her" (a conjectural emendation). In spite of the difficulty it seems best to stay with the MT here. ‡‡† tn: Heb "he," apparently referring to Samuel (but cf. CEV "Elkanah"). A few medieval manuscripts and some ancient versions take the verb as plural (cf. TEV, NLT). ‡‡‡ tn: Heb "prayed and said." This is somewhat redundant in contemporary English and has been simplified in the translation. <sup>18</sup> sn: Horns of animals have always functioned as both offensive and defensive weapons for them. As a figure of speech the horn is therefore often used in the Bible as a symbol of human strength (see also in v. 10). The allusion in v. 1 to the horn being lifted high suggests a picture of an animal elevating its head in a display of strength or virility. <sup>19</sup> tn: Heb "my mouth opens wide against." <sup>20</sup> tn: Heb "for I rejoice in your deliverance." <sup>21</sup> sn: In this context God's holiness refers primarily to his sovereignty and incomparability. If MT is original, the repetition of the word is for emphasis, stressing the arrogance of those addressed. However, a few medieval Hebrew manuscripts and some other textual witnesses do not reflect the repetition, suggesting that the Hebrew text may be dittographic. <sup>24</sup> tc: The MT (Qere) reads "and by him actions are weighed." ### Eli's Sons Misuse Their Sacred Office

<sup>15</sup> Even before they burned the fat, the priest's attendant would come and say to the person who was making the sacrifice, "Hand over some meat for the priest to roast! He won't take boiled meat from you, but only raw." <sup>2216</sup> If the individual said to him, "First let the fat be burned away, and then take for yourself whatever you wish," he would say, "No!<sup>23</sup> Hand it over right now! If you don't, I will take it forcibly!"

<sup>22</sup> Now Eli was very old when he heard about everything that his sons used to do to all the people of Is-

It is possible that the text of the MT is incorrect here (cf. the ancient versions), in which case the text should be changed to read either a passive participle or better, the third feminine singular of the verb. If the MT is correct here, perhaps the masculine is to be understood in a non-specific and impersonal way, allowing for a feminine antecedent. In any case, the syntax of the MT is unusual here. <sup>27</sup> tn: Heb "his." <sup>28</sup> tn: Heb "with the LORD LORD

For the report that I hear circulating among the LORD's people is not good.<sup>25</sup> If a man sins against a man, one may appeal to God on his behalf. But if a man sins against the LORD, who then will intercede for him?" But Eli's sons‡‡ would not listen to their father, for the LORD had decided‡‡‡ to kill them.

<sup>26</sup> Now the boy Samuel was growing up and finding favor both with the LORD and with people.

The Lord Judges the House of Eli

<sup>30</sup> Therefore the LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'I really did say§†† that your house and your ancestor's house would serve§† me forever.' But now the LORD says, 'May it never be!‡‡ For I will honor those who honor me, but those who despise me will be cursed!<sup>31</sup> In fact, days are coming when I will remove your strength§§† and the strength§§‡ of your father's house. 3 Now the boy Samuel continued serving the LORD under Eli's supervision.<sup>30</sup> Word from the LORD was rare in those days; revelatory visions were infrequent.

<sup>2</sup> Eli's eyes had begun to fail, so that he was unable to see well. At that time he was lying down in his place,<sup>3</sup> and the lamp of God had not yet been extinguished. So Samuel got up and went to Eli and said, "Here I am, for you called me." But Eli<sup>32</sup> said, "I didn't call you, my son. Go back and lie down."

So he got up and went to Eli and said, "Here I am, for you called me!" Eli then realized that it was the LORD who was calling the boy.<sup>9</sup> So Eli said to Samuel, "Go back and lie down. <sup>10</sup> Then the LORD came and stood nearby, calling as he had previously done, “Samuel ! Samuel !” Samuel replied, “Speak, for your servant is listening!” <sup>11</sup> The LORD said to Samuel, “Look ! I am about to do something in Israel; † when anyone hears about it, both of his ears will tingle. <sup>12</sup> On that day I will carry out†† against Eli everything that I spoke about his house – from start to finish! <sup>13</sup> You‡ should tell him that I am about to judge his house forever because of‡† the sin that he knew about. For his sons were cursing God,‡‡ and he did not rebuke them. <sup>14</sup> Therefore I swore an oath to the house of Eli, ‘The sin of the house of Eli can never be forgiven by sacrifice or by grain offering.’”

<sup>15</sup> So Samuel lay down until morning. Then he opened the doors of the LORD’s house. But Samuel was afraid to tell Eli about the vision. <sup>16</sup> However, Eli called Samuel and said, “Samuel, my son !” He replied, “Here I am.” <sup>17</sup> Eli‡‡‡ said, “What message did he speak to you? #### The Ark of the Covenant is Lost to the Philistines

<sup>3</sup> When the army<sup>20</sup> came back to the camp, the elders of Israel said, “Why did the LORD let us be defeated today by<sup>21</sup> the Philistines ? Let’s take with us the ark of the covenant of the LORD from Shiloh. When it is with us, it will save us<sup>22</sup> from the hand of our enemies.

Hophni and Phineas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.<sup>5</sup> When the ark of the covenant of the LORD arrived at the camp, all Israel shouted so loudly† that the ground shook.

<sup>6</sup> When the Philistines heard the sound of the shout, they said, "What is this loud shout in the camp of the Hebrews?" Then they realized that the ark of the LORD had arrived at the camp.<sup>7</sup> The Philistines were scared because they thought that gods had come to the camp.†† They said, "Too bad for‡ us! Eli§†† asked, "How did things go, my son?"<sup>17</sup> The messenger replied, "Israel has fled from§† the Philistines! The army has suffered a great defeat! and died, for he§§† was old and heavy. He had judged Israel for forty years.

<sup>19</sup> His daughter-in-law, the wife of Phineas, was pregnant and close to giving birth. When she heard that the ark of God was captured and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead, she doubled over and gave birth. But her labor pains were too much for her.<sup>20</sup> As she was dying, the women who were there with her said, "Don't be afraid! You have given birth to a son!" But she did not reply or pay any attention.§§‡

<sup>21</sup> She named the boy Ichabod,§§§ saying, "The glory has departed from Israel," referring to the capture of the ark of God and the deaths of her father-in-law and her husband.<sup>22</sup> She said, "The glory has departed from Israel, because the ark of God has been captured."

<sup>8</sup> So they assembled<sup>25</sup> all the leaders of the Philistines and asked, "What should we do with the ark of the God of Israel?" They replied, "The ark of the God of Israel should be moved to Gath." So they moved the ark of the God of Israel.

<sup>9</sup> But after it had been moved the LORD attacked† that city as well, causing a great deal of panic. He struck all the people of that city†† with sores. <sup>10</sup> So they sent the ark of God to Ekron.

But when the ark of God arrived at Ekron, the residents of Ekron cried out saying, "They have brought the ark of the God of Israel here†† to kill our‡‡ people!"

6 When the ark of the LORD had been in the land§†† of the Philistines for seven months, <sup>§†2</sup> the Philistines called the priests and the omen readers, saying, "What should we do with the ark of the LORD? Advise us as to how we should send it back to its place."

<sup>3</sup> They replied, "If you are going to send the ark of§† the God of Israel back, don't send it away empty. Be sure to return it with a guilt offering. Then you will be healed, and you will understand why his hand is not removed from you." <sup>4</sup> They inquired, "What is the guilt offering that we should send to him?"

They replied, "The Philistine leaders number five. So send five gold sores and five gold mice, for it is the same plague that has afflicted both you and your leaders. <sup>5</sup> You should make images of the sores and images of the mice§§† that are destroying the land. You should honor the God of Israel. Perhaps he will release his grip on you, your gods, and your land. <sup>§§†6</sup> Why harden your hearts like the Egyptians and Pharaoh did?§§§ When God <sup>18</sup> treated them harshly, didn't the Egyptians send the Israelites on their way? <sup>197</sup> So now go and make a new cart. Get two cows that have calves and that have never had a yoke placed on them. Harness the cows to the cart and take their calves from them back to their stalls. <sup>8</sup> Then take the ark of the LORD and place it on the cart, and put in a chest beside it the gold objects you are sending to him as a guilt offering. You should then send it on its way. <sup>9</sup> But keep an eye on it. If it should go up by the way of its own border to Beth Shemesh, then he has brought this great calamity on us. But if that is not the case, then we will know that it was not his hand that struck us; rather, it just happened to us by accident."

<sup>10</sup> So the men did as instructed. <sup>20</sup> They took two cows that had calves and harnessed them to a cart; they also removed their calves to their stalls. <sup>11</sup> They put the ark of the LORD on the cart, along with the chest, the gold mice, and the images of the sores. <sup>12</sup> Then the cows went directly on the road to Beth Shemesh. They went along, mooing as they went; they turned neither to the right nor to the left. The leaders of the Philistines were walking along behind them all the way to the border of Beth Shemesh.

<sup>13</sup> Now the residents of Beth Shemesh were harvesting wheat in the valley. When they looked up and saw the ark, they were pleased at the sight. <sup>14</sup> The cart was coming to the field of Joshua, who was from Beth Shemesh. It paused there near a big stone. Then they cut up the wood of the cart and offered the cows as a burnt offering to the LORD. <sup>15</sup> The Levites took down the ark of the LORD and the chest that was with it, which contained the gold objects. They placed them near the big stone. At that time the people of Beth Shemesh offered burnt offerings and made sacrifices to the LORD. <sup>16</sup> The five leaders of the Philistines watched what was happening and then returned to Ekron on the same day.

<sup>19</sup> But the LORD <sup>22</sup> struck down some of the people of Beth Shemesh because they had looked into the ark of the LORD; he struck down 50,070<sup>23</sup> of the men. The people grieved because the LORD had struck the people with a hard blow. <sup>20</sup> The residents of Beth Shemesh asked, "Who is able to stand before the LORD, this holy God? To whom will the ark<sup>24</sup> go up from here?"

<sup>21</sup> So they sent messengers to the residents of Kiriath Jearim, saying, "The Philistines have returned the ark of the LORD. Come down here and take it back home with you."

Further Conflict with the Philistines

<sup>2</sup> It was quite a long time – some twenty years in all – that the ark stayed at Kiriath Jearim. All the people†† of Israel longed for‡ the LORD. <sup>3</sup> Samuel said to all the people of Israel, "If you are really turning to the LORD with all your hearts, remove from among you the foreign gods and the images of Ashtoreth. ‡† Give your hearts to the LORD and serve only him. Then he will deliver you‡† from the hand of the Philistines." <sup>4</sup> So the Israelites‡†† removed the Baals and images of Ashtoreth. They served only the LORD.

<sup>5</sup> Then Samuel said, "Gather all Israel to Mizpah, and I will pray to the LORD on your behalf." <sup>6</sup> After they had assembled at Mizpah, they drew water and poured it out before the LORD. They fasted on that day, and they confessed‡†† there, "We have sinned against the LORD." So Samuel led§ the people of Israel at Mizpah.

<sup>7</sup> When the Philistines heard that the Israelites had gathered at Mizpah, the leaders of the Philistines went up against Israel. When the Israelites heard about this, they were afraid of the Philistines. <sup>8</sup> The Israelites said to Samuel, "Keep§† crying out to the LORD our§†† God so that he may save us§† from the hand of the Philistines!" <sup>9</sup> So Samuel took a nursing lamb§†† and offered it as a whole burnt offering to the LORD. Samuel cried out to the LORD on Israel's behalf, and the LORD answered him.

<sup>10</sup> As Samuel was offering burnt offerings, the Philistines approached to do battle with Israel. §† But on that day the LORD thundered loudly against the

The words "images of" are supplied for clarity. <sup>sn</sup>: The Semitic goddess Astarte was associated with love and war in the ancient Near East. The presence of Ashtarot in Israel is a sign of pervasive pagan and idolatrous influences; hence Samuel calls for their removal. See 1 Sam 31:10, where the Philistines deposit the armor of the deceased Saul in the temple of the Ashtarot, and 1 Kgs 11:5, 33; 2 Kgs 23:13, where Solomon is faulted for worshiping the Ashtarot. ‡†† tn: Following imperatives, the jussive verbal form with the prefixed conjunction indicates purpose/result. <sup>‡†††</sup> tn: Heb "the sons of Israel." <sup>‡††††</sup> tn: Heb "said." § tn: Heb "judged"; NAB "began to judge"; TEV "settled disputes among." §† tn: Heb "don't stop." §†† tc: The LXX reads "your God" rather than the MT's "our God." §† tn: After the negated jussive, the prefixed verbal form with the prefixed conjunction indicates purpose/result. §†† tn: Heb "a lamb of milk"; NAB "an unweaned lamb"; NIV "a suckling lamb"; NCV "a baby lamb." §† tn: Heb "approached for battle against Israel."

Philistines. He caused them to panic, and they were defeated by§† Israel. <sup>11</sup> Then the men of Israel left Mizpah and chased the Philistines, striking them down all the way to an area below Beth Car.

<sup>12</sup> Samuel took a stone and placed it between Mizpah and Shen. §§† He named it Ebenezer, §§† saying, "Up to here the LORD has helped us." <sup>13</sup> So the Philistines were defeated; they did not invade Israel again. The hand of the LORD was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel.

<sup>4</sup> So all the elders of Israel gathered together and approached Samuel at Ramah. <sup>5</sup> They said to him, "Look, you are old, and your sons don't follow your ways. So now appoint over us a king to lead<sup>23</sup> us, just like all the other nations have."

<sup>6</sup> But this request displeased Samuel, for<sup>24</sup> they said, "Give us a king to lead us." So Samuel prayed to the LORD. <sup>7</sup> The LORD said to Samuel, "Do everything the people request of you.<sup>25</sup> For it is not you that they have rejected, but it is me that they have rejected as their king. <sup>8</sup> Just as they have done<sup>26</sup> from the day that I brought them up from Egypt until this very day, they have rejected me and have served other gods. This is what they are also doing to you. <sup>9</sup> So now do as they say.<sup>27</sup> But seriously warn<sup>28</sup> them and make them aware of the policies of the king who will rule over them." <sup>29</sup>

<sup>10</sup> So Samuel spoke all the words of the LORD to the people who were asking him for a king. <sup>11</sup> He said, "Here are the policies of the king who will rule over

<sup>19</sup> But the people refused to heed Samuel's warning.‡ Instead they said, "No! There will be a king over us!" <sup>20</sup> We will be like all the other nations. Our king will judge us and lead us‡‡ and fight our battles."

<sup>21</sup> So Samuel listened to everything the people said and then reported it to the LORD. <sup>‡‡22</sup> The LORD said to Samuel, "Do as they say‡‡ and install a king over them." Then Samuel said to the men of Israel, "Each of you go back to his own city."

9 There was a Benjamite man named Kish son of Abiel, the son of Zeror, the son of Becorath, the son of Aphiah of Benjamin. He was a prominent person. <sup>2</sup> He had a son named Saul, a handsome young man. There was no one among the Israelites more handsome than he was; he stood head and shoulders above all the people.

<sup>5</sup> When they came to the land of Zuph, Saul said to his servant who was with him, "Come on, let's head back before my father quits worrying about the donkeys and becomes anxious about us!" <sup>6</sup> But the servant said to him, "Look, there is a man of God in this town. He is highly respected. Everything that he says really happens. §†† Now let's go there. Perhaps he will tell us where we should go from here." <sup>§††7</sup> So Saul said to his servant, "All right, §† we can go. But what can we bring the man, since the food in our bags is used up? We have no gift to take to the man of God. What do we have?" <sup>8</sup> The servant went on to answer Saul, "Look, I happen to have in my hand a quarter shekel§§† of silver. I will give it to the man of God and he will tell us where we should go." <sup>§§†9</sup> (Now it used to be in Israel that whenever someone went to inquire of God he would say, "Come on, let's go to the seer." For today's prophet used to be called a seer.) <sup>10</sup> So Saul said to his servant, "That's a good idea! §§§ Come on. Let's go." So they went to the town where the man of God was.

<sup>11</sup> As they were going up the ascent to the town, they met some girls coming out to draw water. They said to them, "Is this where the seer is?" <sup>12</sup> They replied, "Yes, straight ahead! But hurry now, for he came to the town today, and the people are making a sacrifice at the high place. <sup>13</sup> When you enter the town, you can find him before he goes up to the high place to eat. The people won't eat until he arrives, for he must bless the sacrifice. Once that happens, those who have been invited will eat. Now go on up, for<sup>18</sup> this is the time when you can find him!"

<sup>17</sup> When Samuel saw Saul, the LORD said, <sup>22</sup> "Here is the man that I told you about! He will rule over my people." <sup>18</sup> As Saul approached Samuel in the middle of the gate, he said, "Please tell me where the seer's house is."

<sup>19</sup> Samuel replied to Saul, "I am the seer ! Go up in front of me to the high place ! Today you will eat with me and in the morning I will send you away. I will tell you everything that you are thinking. <sup>†20</sup> Don't be concerned†† about the donkeys that you lost three days ago, for they have been found. Whom does all Israel desire ? Is it not you, and all your father's family?" ‡

<sup>21</sup> Saul replied, "Am I not a Benjaminite, from the smallest of Israel's tribes, and is not my family clan the smallest of all the tribes of Benjamin ? Why do you speak to me in this way?"

<sup>22</sup> Then Samuel brought‡† Saul and his servant into the room and gave them a place at the head of those who had been invited. There were about thirty people present. <sup>23</sup> Samuel said to the cook, "Give me the portion of meat that I gave to you – the one I asked you to keep with you."

<sup>24</sup> So the cook picked up the leg and brought it and set it in front of Saul. Samuel‡† said, "What was kept is now set before you! Eat, for it has been kept for you for this meeting time, from the time I said, 'I have invited the people.'" So Saul ate with Samuel that day.

<sup>25</sup> When they came down from the high place to the town, Samuel spoke with Saul on the roof. <sup>26</sup> They got up at dawn and Samuel called to Saul on the roof, "Get up, so I can send you on your way." So Saul got up and the two of them – he and Samuel – went outside. <sup>27</sup> While they were going down to the edge of town, Samuel said to Saul, "Tell the servant to go on ahead of us." So he did.‡†† Samuel then said,‡†† "You remain here awhile, so I can inform you of God's message."

Samuel‡† kissed him and said, "The LORD has chosen you ‡†† to lead his people Israel! You will rule over the LORD 's people and you will deliver them from the power of the enemies who surround them. ### Saul Becomes King

<sup>12</sup> A man who was from there replied, "And who is their father ?" Therefore this became a proverb : "Is

<sup>14</sup> Saul's uncle asked him and his servant, "Where did you go?" Saul†† replied, "To look for the donkeys. But when we realized they were lost, † we went to Samuel."

<sup>15</sup> Saul's uncle said, "Tell me what Samuel said to you."

<sup>††16</sup> Saul said to his uncle, "He assured us that the donkeys had been found." But Saul†† did not tell him what Samuel had said about the matter of kingship.

<sup>17</sup> Then Samuel called the people together before the LORD at Mizpah. <sup>18</sup> He said to the Israelites, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says, 'I brought Israel up from Egypt and I delivered you from the power††† of the Egyptians and from the power of all the kingdoms that oppressed you. <sup>19</sup> But today you have rejected your God who saves you from all your trouble and distress. <sup>20</sup> Then Samuel brought all the tribes of Israel near, and the tribe of Benjamin was chosen by lot. <sup>21</sup> Then he brought the tribe of Benjamin near by its families, and the family of Matri was chosen by lot. At last Saul son of Kish was chosen by lot. But when they looked for him, he was nowhere to be found. <sup>22</sup> So they inquired again of the LORD, "Has the man arrived here yet?" The LORD said, "He has hidden himself among the equipment."§

<sup>23</sup> So they ran and brought him from there. When he took his position among the people, he stood head and shoulders above them all. <sup>24</sup> Then Samuel said to all the people, "Do you see the one whom the LORD has chosen? Indeed, there is no one like him among all the people!" All the people shouted out, "Long live the king!"

<sup>25</sup> Then Samuel talked to the people about how the kingship would work.§† He wrote it all down on a scroll and set it before the LORD. Then Samuel sent all the people away to their homes. <sup>26</sup> Even Saul went to his home in Gibeah. ### Saul Is Established as King

<sup>12</sup> Then the people said to Samuel, "Who were the ones asking, 'Will Saul reign over us?' Hand over those men so we may execute them!" <sup>13</sup> But Saul said, "No one will be killed on this day. For today the LORD has given Israel a victory!" <sup>14</sup> Samuel said to the people, "Come on! Let's go to Gilgal and renew the kingship there." <sup>15</sup> So all the people went to Gilgal, where‡‡ they established Saul as king in the LORD's presence. They offered up peace offerings there in the LORD's presence. Saul and all the Israelites were very happy. ‡‡

<sup>12</sup> Samuel said to all Israel, "I have done‡‡‡ everything you requested. ‡‡‡ I have given you a king. ‡‡ Now look ! This king walks before you. As for me, I am old and gray, though my sons are here with you. I have walked before you from the time of my youth till the present day. <sup>3</sup> Here I am. Bring a charge against me before the LORD and before his chosen king. ‡† Whose ox have I taken ? Whose donkey have I taken ? Whom have I wronged ? Whom have I oppressed ? From whose hand have I taken a bribe so that I would overlook something? Tell me,‡†† and I will return it to you!"

<sup>4</sup> They replied, "You have not wronged us or oppressed us. You have not taken anything from the hand of anyone." <sup>5</sup> He said to them, "The LORD is witness against you, and his chosen king‡† is witness this day, that you have not found any reason to accuse me." ‡†† They said, "He is witness!"

<sup>12</sup> " When you saw that King Nahash of the Ammonites was advancing against you, you said to me, 'No ! A king will rule over us' – even though the LORD your God is your king! <sup>13</sup> Now look ! Here is the king you have chosen – the one that you asked for! Look, the LORD has given you a king! <sup>14</sup> If you fear the LORD , serving him and obeying him<sup>25</sup> and not rebelling against what he says,<sup>26</sup> and if both you and the king who rules over you follow the LORD your God, all will be well. <sup>27</sup> <sup>15</sup> But if you don't obey<sup>28</sup> the LORD and rebel against what the LORD says, the hand of the LORD will be against both you and your king. <sup>29</sup>

The KJV, attempting to resolve this, reads "Saul reigned one year," but that is not the normal meaning of the Hebrew text represented by the MT. Although most LXX MSS

††††† tc: The MT has "two years" here. If this number is to be accepted as correct, the meaning apparently would be that after a lapse of two years at the beginning of Saul's reign, he then went about the task of consolidating an army as described in what follows (cf. KJV, ASV, CEV). But if the statement in v. 1 is intended to be a comprehensive report on the length of Saul's reign, the number is too small. According to Acts 13:21 Saul reigned for forty years. Some English versions (e.g., NIV, NCV, NLT), taking this forty to be a round number, add it to the "two years" of the MT and translate the number in 2 Sam 13:1 as "forty-two years." While this is an acceptable option, the present translation instead replaces the MT's "two" with the figure "forty." Admittedly the textual evidence for this decision is weak, but the same can be said of any attempt to restore sense to this difficult text (note the ellipsis marks at this point in NAB, NRSV). The Syriac Peshitta lacks this part of v. 1. ††††† map:

So the people were summoned to join§† Saul at Gilgal.

<sup>5</sup> For the battle with Israel the Philistines had amassed 3,000§§† chariots, 6,000 horsemen, and an army as numerous as the sand on the seashore. They went up and camped at Micmash, east of Beth Aven. <sup>6</sup> The men of Israel realized they had a problem because their army was hard pressed. ## Jonathan Ignites a Battle

14 Then one day Jonathan son of Saul said to his armor bearer, ‡†† "Come on, let's go over to the Philistine garrison that is opposite us." But he did not let his father know.

<sup>2</sup> Now Saul was sitting under a pomegranate tree in Migron, on the outskirts of Gibeah. The army that was with him numbered about six hundred men. <sup>3</sup> Now Ahijah was carrying‡‡ an ephod. He was the son of Ahitub, who was the brother of Ichabod and a son of Phineas, son of Eli, the priest of the LORD in Shiloh. The army was unaware that Jonathan had left.

<sup>4</sup> Now there was a steep cliff on each side of the pass through which Jonathan intended to go to reach the Philistine garrison. One cliff was named Bozez, the other Seneh. <sup>5</sup> The cliff to the north was closer to Micmash, the one to the south closer to Geba.

<sup>6</sup> Jonathan said to his armor bearer, "Come on, let's go over to the garrison of these uncircumcised men. Perhaps the LORD will intervene‡†† for us. Nothing can prevent the LORD from delivering, whether by many or by a few." <sup>7</sup> His armor bearer said to him, "Do everything that is on your mind. ‡† Do as you're inclined. I'm with you all the way!" ‡‡

<sup>8</sup> Jonathan replied, "All right ‡‡† We'll go over to these men and fight them. <sup>9</sup> If they say to us, 'Stay put until we approach you,' we will stay‡‡‡ right there and not go up to them. <sup>10</sup> But if they say, 'Come up against us,' we will go up. For in that case the LORD has given them in to our hand – it will be a sign to us."

<sup>11</sup> When they‡‡‡ made themselves known to the Philistine garrison, the Philistines said, "Look! The Hebrews are coming out of the holes in which they hid themselves." <sup>12</sup> Then the men of the garrison said to Jonathan and his armor bearer, "Come on up to us so we can teach you a thing or two!"<sup>18</sup> Then Jonathan said to his armor bearer, "Come up behind me, for the LORD has given<sup>19</sup> them into the hand of Israel!"

down about twenty men in an area that measured half an acre.

<sup>15</sup> Then fear overwhelmed† those who were in the camp, those who were in the field, all the army in the garrison, and the raiding bands. They trembled and the ground shook. This fear was caused by God. ††

<sup>††17</sup> So Saul said to the army that was with him, "Mustering the troops and see who is no longer with us." When they mustered the troops, ††† Jonathan and his armor bearer were not there. <sup>18</sup> So Saul said to Ahijah, "Bring near the ephod,"††† for he was at that time wearing the ephod. <sup>§19</sup> While§† Saul spoke to the priest, the panic in the Philistines' camp was becoming greater and greater. So Saul said to the priest, "Withdraw your hand!"

This seems to be the most straightforward reading of the sentence. It is possible, however, that the word "God" functions here simply to intensify the accompanying word "fear," in which one might translate "a very great fear" (cf. NAB, NRSV). It is clear that on some occasions that the divine name carries such a superlative nuance. For examples see Joüon 2:525 §141.n. ‡ tn: Heb "at Gibeah of Benjamin." <sup>25</sup> Now the whole army§† entered the forest and there was honey on the ground. <sup>§§†26</sup> When the army entered the forest, they saw§§† the honey flowing, but no one ate any of it, §§§ for the army was afraid of the oath. <sup>27</sup> But Jonathan had not heard about the oath his father had made the army take. He extended the end of his staff that was in his hand and dipped it in the honeycomb. When he ate it,<sup>18</sup> his eyes gleamed. <sup>1928</sup> Then someone from the army informed him, "Your father put the army under a strict oath<sup>20</sup> saying, 'Cursed be the man who eats food today ! That is why the army is tired.'" <sup>29</sup> Then Jonathan said, "My father has caused trouble for the land. See how my eyes gleamed<sup>21</sup> when I tasted just a little of this honey. <sup>30</sup> Certainly if the army had eaten some of the enemies' provisions that they came across today, would not the slaughter of the Philistines have been even greater?"

<sup>33</sup> Now it was reported to Saul, "Look, the army is sinning against the LORD by eating even the blood." He said, "All of you have broken the covenant !<sup>24</sup> Roll a large stone over here to me." <sup>34</sup> Then Saul said, "Scatter out among the army and say to them, 'Each of you bring to me your ox and sheep and slaughter them in this spot and eat. But don't sin against the LORD by eating the blood.'" So that night each one brought his ox and slaughtered it there. <sup>2535</sup> Then Saul built an altar for the LORD ; it was the first time he had built an altar for the LORD.

<sup>38</sup> Then Saul said, "All you leaders of the army come here. Find out†† how this sin occurred today."<sup>39</sup> For as surely as the LORD, the deliverer of Israel, lives, even if it turns out to be my own son Jonathan, he will certainly die!‡ But no one from the army said anything.‡

<sup>40</sup> Then he said to all Israel, "You will be on one side, and I and my son Jonathan will be on the other side." The army replied to Saul, "Do whatever you think is best."

<sup>41</sup> Then Saul said, "O LORD God of Israel! If this sin has been committed by me or by my son Jonathan, then, O LORD God of Israel, respond with Urim. But if this sin has been committed by your people Israel, respond with Thummim."‡ Then Jonathan and Saul were indicated by lot, while the army was exonerated.

<sup>‡‡42</sup> Then Saul said, "Cast the lot between me and my son Jonathan!"‡‡‡ Jonathan was indicated by lot.

Members of Saul's Family

<sup>49</sup> The sons of Saul were Jonathan, Ishvi, and Malki-Shua.§‡ He had two daughters; the older one was named Merab and the younger Michal.<sup>50</sup> The name of Saul's wife was Ahinoam, the daughter of Ahimaaz. The name of the general in command of his army was Abner son of Ner, Saul's uncle.<sup>§§†51</sup> Kish was the father of Saul, and Ner the father of Abner was the son§§‡ of Abiel.

<sup>52</sup> There was fierce war with the Philistines all the days of Saul. So whenever Saul saw anyone who was a warrior or a brave individual, he would conscript him.

7 Then Saul struck down the Amalekites all the way from Havilah to†† Shur, which is next to Egypt. 8 He captured King Agag of the Amalekites alive, but he executed all Agag's people‡ with the sword. 9 However, Saul and the army spared Agag, along with the best of the flock, the cattle, the fatlings, †† and the lambs, as well as everything else that was of value.‡‡ They were not willing to slaughter them. But they did slaughter everything that was despised‡‡‡ and worthless.

10 Then the word of the LORD came to Samuel: 11 " I regret that I have made Saul king, for he has turned away from me and has not done what I told him to do." Samuel became angry and he cried out to the LORD all that night.

12 Then Samuel got up early to meet Saul the next morning. But Samuel was informed, "Saul has gone to Carmel where‡‡‡ he is setting up a monument for himself. Then Samuel left‡ and went down to Gilgal." §†13 When Samuel came to him, §†† Saul said to him, "May the LORD bless you ! I have done what the LORD said."

14 Samuel replied, "If that is the case,§† then what is this sound of sheep in my ears and the sound of cattle that I hear?" 15 Saul said, "They were brought§†† from the Amalekites; the army spared the best of the flocks and cattle to sacrifice to the LORD our God. But everything else we slaughtered."

16 Then Samuel said to Saul, "Wait a minute !§† Let me tell you what the LORD said to me last night." Saul§† said to him, "Tell me." 17 Samuel said, "Is it not true that when you were insignificant in your own eyes, you became head of the tribes of Israel? The LORD chose§§† you as king over Israel. 18 The LORD sent you on a campaign§§† saying, 'Go and exterminate those sinful Amalekites ! Fight against them until you§§§ have destroyed them.' 19 Why haven't you obeyed18 the LORD ? Instead you have greedily rushed upon the plunder ! You have done what is wrong in the LORD's estimation." 19

20 Then Saul said to Samuel, "But I have obeyed20 the LORD ! I went on the campaign21 the LORD sent me on. I brought back King Agag of the Amalekites after exterminating the Amalekites. 21 But the army took from the plunder some of the sheep and cattle – the best of what was to be slaughtered – to sacrifice to the LORD your God in Gilgal."

22 Then Samuel said, "Does the LORD take pleasure in burnt offerings and sacrifices as much as he does in obedience ?22

Certainly, 23 obedience24 is better than sacrifice; paying attention is better than25 the fat of rams.

23 For rebellion is like the sin of divination, and presumption is like the evil of idolatry. Because you have rejected the word of the LORD , he has rejected you as26 king."

24 Then Saul said to Samuel, "I have sinned, for I have disobeyed what the LORD commanded27 and what you said as well.28 For I was afraid of the army, and I followed their wishes. 2925 Now please forgive my sin ! Go back with me so I can worship30 the LORD."

26 Samuel said to Saul, "I will not go back with you, for you have rejected the word of the LORD, and the LORD has rejected you from being king over Israel!"

27 When Samuel turned to leave, Saul31 grabbed the edge of his robe and it tore. 28 Samuel said to him, "The LORD has torn the kingdom of Israel from you this day and has given it to one of your colleagues who is better than you! 29 The Preeminent One32 of Israel does not go back on his word33 or change his mind, for he is not a human being who changes his mind." 3430 Saul35 again replied, "I have sinned. 4 Samuel did what the LORD told him.<sup>st†</sup> When he arrived in Bethlehem, <sup>s†</sup> the elders of the city were afraid to meet him. They<sup>st†</sup> said, “Do you come in peace?” 5 He replied, “Yes, in peace. I have come to sacrifice to the LORD. Consecrate yourselves and come with me to the sacrifice.” So he consecrated Jesse and his sons and invited them to the sacrifice.

8 Then Jesse called Abinadab and presented him to Samuel. <sup>20</sup> But Samuel<sup>21</sup> said, “The LORD has not chosen this one, either.” 9 Then Jesse presented<sup>22</sup> Shammah. But Samuel said, “The LORD has not chosen this one either.” <sup>10</sup> Jesse presented seven of his sons to Samuel. <sup>23</sup> But Samuel said to Jesse, “The LORD has not chosen any of these.” <sup>11</sup> Then Samuel said to Jesse, “Is that all of the young men?” Jesse<sup>24</sup> replied, “There is still the youngest one, but he’s taking care of the flock.” Samuel said to Jesse, “Send and get him, for we cannot turn our attention to other things until he comes here.”

<sup>12</sup> So Jesse had him brought in.<sup>25</sup> Now he was ruddy, with attractive eyes and a handsome appearance. The LORD said, “Go and anoint him. This is the one!” <sup>13</sup> So Samuel took the horn full of olive oil and anointed him in the presence of his brothers. The Spirit of the LORD rushed upon David from that day onward. Then Samuel got up and went to Ramah.

Then whenever the evil spirit from God comes upon you, he can play the lyre and you will feel better." 17 So Saul said to his servants, "Find me a man who plays well and bring him to me." 18 One of his attendants replied, "I have seen a son of Jesse in Bethlehem who knows how to play the lyre. He is a brave warrior and is articulate and handsome, for the LORD is with him."

19 So Saul sent messengers to Jesse and said, "Send me your son David, who is out with the sheep." 20 So Jesse took a donkey loaded with bread, a container of wine, and a young goat and sent them to Saul with his son David. 21 David came to Saul and stood before him. Saul liked him a great deal, and he became his armor bearer. 22 Then Saul sent word to Jesse saying, "Let David be my servant, for I really like him."

23 So whenever the spirit from God would come upon Saul, David would take his lyre and play it. This would bring relief to Saul and make him feel better. Then the evil spirit would leave him alone.

The LXX for chs. 17-18 is much shorter than the MT, lacking almost half of the material (39 of a total of 88 verses). Many scholars (e.g., McCarter, Klein) think that the shorter text of the LXX is preferable to the MT, which in their view has been expanded by incorporation of later material. Other scholars (e.g., Wellhausen, Driver) conclude that the shorter Greek text (or the Hebrew text that underlies it) reflects an attempt to harmonize certain alleged inconsistencies that appear in the longer version of the story. Given the translation characteristics of the LXX elsewhere in this section, it does not seem likely that these differences are due to deliberate omission of these verses on the part of the translator. It seems more likely that the Greek translator has faithfully rendered here a Hebrew text that itself was much shorter than the MT in these chapters. Whether or not the shorter text represented by the LXX is to be preferred over the MT in 1 Sam 17-18 is a matter over which textual scholars are divided. For a helpful discussion of the major textual issues in this unit see D. Barthélemy, D. W. Gooding, J. Lust, and E. Tov, The Story of David and Goliath (OBO). Overall it seems preferable to stay with the MT, at least for the most part. However, the major textual differences between the LXX and the MT will be mentioned in the notes that accompany the translation so that the reader may be alert to the major problem passages. §§† tn: Heb "camps." §§‡

The Philistines were standing on one hill, and the Israelites on another hill, with the valley between them.

4 Then a champion came out from the camp of the Philistines. His name was Goliath; he was from Gath. He was close to seven feet tall. 195 He had a bronze helmet on his head and was wearing scale body armor. The weight of his bronze body armor was five thousand shekels. 206 He had bronze shin guards on his legs, and a bronze javelin was slung over his shoulders. 7 The shaft of his spear was like a weaver's beam, and the iron point of his spear weighed six hundred shekels. 23 His shield bearer was walking before him.

8 Goliath stood and called to Israel's troops, 25 "Why do you come out to prepare for battle? Am I not the Philistine, and are you not the servants of Saul? Choose for yourselves a man so he may come down to me! 9 If he is able to fight with me and strike me down, we will become your servants. But if I prevail against him and strike him down, you will become our servants and will serve us." 10 Then the Philistine said, "I defy Israel's troops this day! Give me a man so we can fight each other!" 11 When Saul and all the Israelites heard these words of the Philistine, they were upset and very afraid. 12 30

tn: Heb "the men of Israel" (so KJV, NASB); NAB, NIV, NRSV "the Israelites." §§§ tn: Heb "to meet." 18 tn: Heb "Israel." 19 tn: Heb "the man of the space between the two [armies]." See v. 23. 20 tc: Heb "his height was six cubits and a span" (cf. KJV, NASB, NRSV). A cubit was approximately eighteen inches, a span nine inches. So, according to the Hebrew tradition, Goliath was about nine feet, nine inches tall (cf. NIV, CEV, NLT "over nine feet"; NCV "nine feet, four inches"; TEV "nearly 3 metres"). However, some Greek witnesses, Josephus, and a manuscript of 1 Samuel from Qumran read "four cubits and a span" here, that is, about six feet, nine inches (cf. NAB "six and a half feet"). This seems more reasonable; it is likely that Goliath's height was exaggerated as the story was retold. See P. K. McCarter, 1 Samuel (AB), 286, 291. 21 sn: Although the exact weight of Goliath's defensive body armor is difficult to estimate in terms of modern equivalency, it was obviously quite heavy. Driver, following Kennedy, suggests a modern equivalent of about 220 pounds (100 kg); see S. R. Driver, Notes on the Hebrew Text and the Topography of the Books of Samuel, 139. Klein, taking the shekel to be equal to .403 ounces, arrives at a somewhat smaller weight of about 126 pounds (57 kg); see R. W. Klein, 1 Samuel (WBC), 175. But by any estimate it is clear that Goliath presented himself as a formidable foe indeed. 22 sn: Or "greaves." These were coverings (probably lined for comfort) that extended from about the knee to the ankle, affording protection for the shins of a warrior. 23 tn: The translation follows the Qere and many medieval Hebrew MSS

Now David was the son of this Ephrathite named Jesse from Bethlehem† in Judah. He had eight sons, and in Saul's days he was old and well advanced in years. ††† Jesse's three oldest sons had followed Saul to war. The names of the‡ three sons who went to war were Eliab, his firstborn, Abinadab, the second oldest, and Shammah, the third oldest. 14 Now David was the youngest. While the three oldest sons followed Saul, 15 David was going back and forth‡† from Saul in order to care for his father's sheep in Bethlehem.

16 Meanwhile for forty days the Philistine approached every morning and evening and took his position. 17 Jesse said to his son David, "Take your brothers this ephah of roasted grain and these ten loaves of bread; go quickly‡† to the camp to your brothers. 18 Also take these ten portions of cheese to their commanding officer. ‡† Find out how your brothers are doing‡† and bring back their pledge that they received the goods. §19 They are with Saul and the whole Israelite army‡† in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philistines."

20 So David got up early in the morning and entrusted the flock to someone else who would watch over it. §†† After loading up, he went just as Jesse had instructed him. He arrived at the camp‡† as the army was going out to the battle lines shouting its battle cry. 21 Israel and the Philistines drew up their battle lines opposite one another. 22 After David had entrusted his cargo to the care of the supply officer,‡† he ran to the battlefield. When he arrived, he asked his brothers how they were doing. 23 As he was speaking with them, the champion named Goliath, the Philistine from Gath, was coming up from the battle lines of the Philistines. He spoke the way he usually did,‡† and David heard it. 24 When all the men of Israel saw this man, they retreated‡† from his presence and were very afraid.

25 The men of Israel said, "Have you seen this man who is coming up? He does so‡† to defy Israel. But the king will make the man who can strike him down very wealthy! He will give him his daughter in marriage, and he will make his father's house exempt from tax obligations in Israel."

26 David asked the men who were standing near him, "What will be done for the man who strikes down this Philistine and frees Israel from this humiliation? §§† For who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he defies the armies of the living God?" 27 The soldiers‡† told him what had been promised, saying, 18 "This is what will be done for the man who can strike him down."

28 When David's‡19 oldest brother Eliab heard him speaking to the men, he became angry‡0 with David and said, "Why have you come down here? To whom did you entrust those few sheep in the desert? I am familiar with your pride and deceit! ‡† You have come down here to watch the battle!"

29 David replied, "What have I done now? Can't I say anything?" ‡† Then he turned from those who were nearby to someone else and asked the same question, 23 but they‡4 gave him the same answer as before. 31 When David's words were overheard and reported to Saul, he called for him. 25

32 David said to Saul, "Don't let anyone be discouraged. 26 Your servant will go and fight this Philistine!"

33 But Saul replied to David, "You aren't able to go against this Philistine and fight him! You're just a boy! He has been a warrior from his youth!"

34 David replied to Saul, "Your servant has been a shepherd for his father's flock. Whenever a lion or bear would come and carry off a sheep from the flock, 35 I would go out after it, strike it down, and rescue the sheep from its mouth. If it rose up against me, I would grab it by its jaw, strike it, and kill it. 36 Your servant has struck down both the lion and the bear. This uncircumcised Philistine will be just like one of them. 27 For he has defied the armies of the living God!" 37 David went on to say, "The LORD who delivered me from the lion and the bear will also deliver me from the hand of this Philistine!" Then Saul said to David, "Go! The LORD will be with you." 28

38 Then Saul clothed David with his own fighting attire and put a bronze helmet on his head. He also put body armor on him. 39 David strapped on his sword over his fighting attire and tried to walk around, but he was not used to them. 29 David said to Saul, "I can't walk in these things, for I'm not used to them." So David removed them. 40 He took his staff in his hand, picked out five smooth stones from the stream, placed them in the pouch‡0 of his shepherd's bag, took his sling in hand, and approached the Philistine. 41 31

The Philistine kept coming closer to David, with his shield bearer walking in front of him.<sup>42</sup> When the Philistine looked carefully at David, he despised him, for he was only a ruddy and handsome boy.<sup>43</sup> The Philistine said to David, "Am I a dog, that you are coming after me with sticks?"<sup>44</sup> Then the Philistine cursed David by his gods.<sup>44</sup> The Philistine said to David, "Come here to me, so I can give your flesh to the birds of the sky and the wild animals of the field!"††

<sup>45</sup> But David replied to the Philistine, "You are coming against me with sword and spear and javelin. But I am coming against you in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel's armies, whom you have defied!<sup>46</sup> This very day the LORD will deliver you into my hand! I will strike you down and cut off your head. This day I will give the corpses of the Philistine army to the birds of the sky and the wild animals of the land. Then all the land will realize that Israel has a God<sup>47</sup> and all this assembly will know that it is not by sword or spear that the LORD saves! For the battle is the LORD's, and he will deliver you into our hand."

<sup>48</sup> The Philistine drew steadily closer to David to attack him, while David quickly ran toward the battle line to attack the Philistine.<sup>49</sup> David reached his hand into the bag and took out a stone. He slung it, striking the Philistine on the forehead. The stone sank deeply into his forehead, and he fell down with his face to the ground.<sup>50 ††</sup>

David prevailed over the Philistine with just the sling and the stone. He struck down the Philistine and killed him. David did not even have a sword in his hand.<sup>51</sup> David ran and stood over the Philistine. He grabbed Goliath's<sup>52 †††</sup> sword, drew it from its sheath, <sup>53 †††</sup> killed him, and cut off his head with it. When the Philistines saw their champion was dead, they ran away.

Now as Saul watched David going out to fight the Philistine, he asked Abner, the general in command of the army, "Whose son is this young man, Abner?" Abner replied, "As surely as you live, O king, I don't know."<sup>56</sup> The king said, "Find out whose son this boy is!"

<sup>57</sup> So when David returned from striking down the Philistine, Abner took him and brought him before Saul. He still had the head of the Philistine in his hand.<sup>58</sup> Saul said to him, "Whose son are you, young man?" David replied, "I am the son of your servant Jesse in Bethlehem."<sup>59 ††</sup>

<sup>71</sup> This made Saul very angry. The statement displeased him and he thought,<sup>72</sup> "They have attributed to David tens of thousands, but to me they have attributed only thousands. What does he lack, except the kingdom?"<sup>73</sup> So Saul was keeping an eye on David from that day onward.

Then Saul said to David, "Here's my oldest daughter, Merab. I want to give her to you in marriage. Only be a brave warrior‡‡† for me and fight the battles of the LORD." For Saul thought, "There's no need for me to raise my hand against him. Let it be the hand of the Philistines!"

<sup>18</sup> David said to Saul, "Who am I? Who are my relatives or the clan of my father‡‡† in Israel that I should become the king's son-in-law?" <sup>19</sup> When the time came for Merab, Saul's daughter, to be given to David, she instead was given in marriage to Adriel, who was from Meholah.

<sup>20</sup> Now Michal, Saul's daughter, loved David. When they told Saul about this, it§ pleased him. <sup>21</sup> Saul said, "I will give her to him so that she may become a snare to him and the hand of the Philistines may be against him." So Saul said to David, "Today is the second time for you to become my son-in-law." §†

<sup>22</sup> Then Saul instructed his servants, "Tell David secretly, 'The king is pleased with you, and all his servants like you. So now become the king's son-in-law.'" and presented all of them to the king so he could become the king's son-in-law. Saul then gave him his daughter Michal in marriage.

<sup>6</sup> Saul accepted Jonathan's advice<sup>29</sup> and took an oath, "As surely as the LORD lives, he will not be put to death." <sup>7</sup> Then Jonathan called David and told him all these things. Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he served him as he had done formerly. <sup>30</sup>

<sup>8</sup> Now once again there was war. So David went out to fight the Philistines. He defeated them thoroughly<sup>31</sup> and they ran away from him. <sup>9</sup> Then an evil spirit from the LORD came upon<sup>32</sup> Saul. He was sitting in his house with his spear in his hand, while David was playing the lyre. <sup>3310</sup> Saul tried to nail David to the wall with the spear, but he escaped from Saul's presence and the spear drove into the wall. <sup>34</sup> David escaped quickly<sup>35</sup> that night.

11 Saul sent messengers to David's house to guard it and to kill him in the morning. Then David's wife Michal told him, "If you do not save yourself† tonight, tomorrow you will be dead!" 12 So Michal lowered David through the window, and he ran away and escaped.

13 Then Michal took a household idol†† and put it on the bed. She put a quilt‡ made of goat's hair over its head‡† and then covered the idol with a garment. 14 When Saul sent messengers to arrest David, she said, "He's sick."

15 Then Saul sent the messengers back to see David, saying, "Bring him up to me on his bed so I can kill him." 16 When the messengers came, they found only the idol on the bed and the quilt made of goat's hair at its head.

17 Saul said to Michal, "Why have you deceived me this way by sending my enemy away? Now he has escaped!" Michal replied to Saul, "He said to me, 'Help me get away or else I will kill you!'" ‡

18 Now David had run away and escaped. He went to Samuel in Ramah and told him everything that Saul had done to him. Then he and Samuel went and stayed at Naioth. 19 It was reported to Saul saying, "David is at Naioth in Ramah." 20 So Saul sent messengers to capture David. When they saw a company of prophets prophesying with Samuel standing there as their leader, the spirit of God came upon Saul's messengers, and they also prophesied. 21 When it was reported to Saul, he sent more messengers, but they prophesied too. So Saul sent messengers a third time, but they also prophesied. 22 Finally Saul‡†† himself went to Ramah. When he arrived at the large cistern that is in Secu, he asked, "Where are Samuel and David?" They said, "At Naioth in Ramah."

23 So Saul went to Naioth in Ramah. The Spirit of God came upon him as well, and he walked along prophesying until he came to Naioth in Ramah. 24 He even stripped off his clothes and prophesied before Samuel. He lay there‡†† naked all that day and night. (For that reason it is asked, "Is Saul also among the prophets?")

20 David fled from Naioth in Ramah. He came to Jonathan and asked,§ "What have I done? What

3 Taking an oath, David again§† said, "Your father is very much aware of the fact§† that I have found favor with you, and he has thought, §†† 'Don't let Jonathan know about this, or he will be upset.' But as surely as the LORD lives and you live, there is about one step between me and death!" 4 Jonathan replied to David, "Tell me what I can do for you." §§†

5 David said to Jonathan, "Tomorrow is the new moon, and I am certainly expected to join the king for a meal. §§§ You must send me away so I can hide in the field until the third evening from now. 6 If your father happens to miss me, you should say, 'David urgently requested me to let him go'<sup>18</sup> to his city Bethlehem, 19 for there is an annual sacrifice there for his entire family.' 7 If he should then say, 'That's fine,<sup>20</sup> then your servant is safe. When the two of them had gone out into the field, 12 Jonathan said to David, "The LORD God of Israel is my witness.<sup>25</sup> I will feel out my father about this time the day after tomorrow. <sup>24</sup> So David hid in the field. When the new moon came, the king sat down to eat his meal. <sup>25</sup> The king sat down in his usual place by the wall, with Jonathan opposite him§†† and Abner at his side. §† But David's place was vacant. <sup>26</sup> However, Saul said nothing about it§‡ that day, for he thought, §§† "Something has happened to make him ceremonially unclean. Saul said to his son Jonathan, "Why has Jesse's son not come to the meal yesterday or today?"

So now, if I have found favor with you, let me go<sup>18</sup> to see my brothers.' For that reason he has not come to the king's table."

Ahimelech was shaking with fear when he met††† David, and said to him, "Why are you by yourself with no one accompanying you?" <sup>2</sup> David replied to Ahimelech the priest, "The king instructed me to do something, but he said to me, 'Don't let anyone know the reason I am sending you or the instructions I have given you.'‡‡‡ I have told my soldiers§ to wait at a certain place. <sup>§†3</sup> Now what do you have at your disposal? §†† Give me five loaves of bread, or whatever can be found."

It is hard to see what meaning the MT reading "from beside the south" would have as it stands, since such a location lacks specificity. The NIV treats it as an elliptical expression, rendering the phrase as "from the south side of the stone (rock NCV)." This is perhaps possible, but it seems better to follow the LXX rather than the MT here. ‡ tn: Heb "fell." †† sn: Beginning with 20:42b, the verse numbers through 21:15 in the English Bible differ from the verse numbers in the Hebrew text ( BHS), with 20:42b ET = 21:1 HT, 21:1 ET = 21:2 HT, 21:2 ET = 21:3 HT, etc., through 21:15 ET = 21:16 HT. It occurs in the OT only here, in 2 Kgs 6:8, and in Ruth 4:1, where Boaz uses it to refer to Naomi's unnamed kinsman-redeemer. A contracted form of the expression appears in Dan 8:13. §†† tn: Heb "under your hand." §‡ tn: Heb "servants." §†† tn: Heb "have kept themselves from women" (so NASB, NIV, NRSV); TEV "haven't had sexual relations recently"; NLT "have not slept with any women recently." §† tn: Heb "servants."

<sup>6</sup> So the priest gave him holy bread, for there was no bread there other than the bread of the Presence. It had been removed from before the LORD in order to replace it with hot bread on the day it had been taken away. <sup>7</sup> (One of Saul's servants was there that day, detained before the LORD. His name was Doeg the Edomite, who was in charge of Saul's shepherds.) <sup>8</sup> David said to Ahimelech, "Is there no sword or spear here at your disposal? I don't have my own sword or equipment in hand due to the urgency of the king's instructions."

David Goes to Gath

<sup>9</sup> The priest replied, "The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom you struck down in the valley of Elah, is wrapped in a garment behind the ephod. If you wish, take it for yourself. Other than that, there's nothing here." David said, "There's nothing like it! Give it to me!" <sup>10</sup> So on that day David arose and fled from Saul. He went to King Achish of Gath. <sup>11</sup> The servants of Achish said to him, "Isn't this David, the king of the land? Isn't he the one that they sing about when they dance, saying,

' Saul struck down his thousands,
But David his tens of thousands?'"

<sup>14</sup> Achish said to his servants, "Look at this madman! Why did you bring him to me? <sup>15</sup> Do I have a shortage of fools, that you have brought me this man to display his insanity in front of me? Should this man enter my house?"

22 So David left there and escaped to the cave of Adullam. When his brothers and the rest of his father's family§§§ learned about it, they went down there to him. <sup>2</sup> All those who were in trouble or owed someone money or were discontented<sup>18</sup> gathered around<sup>19</sup> him, and he became their leader. He had about four hundred men with him.

<sup>3</sup> Then David went from there to Mizpah in Moab, where he said to the king of Moab, "Please let my father and mother stay<sup>20</sup> with you until I know what God is going to do for me." <sup>4</sup> So he had them stay with the king of Moab; they stayed with him the whole time<sup>21</sup> that David was in the stronghold. <sup>5</sup> Then Gad the prophet said to David, "Don't stay in the stronghold. Go to the land of Judah." So David left and went to the forest of Hereth.

Saul Executes the Priests

6 But Saul found out the whereabouts of David and the men who were with him.† Now Saul was sitting at Gibeah under the tamarisk tree at an elevated location with his spear in hand and all his servants stationed around him. 7 Saul said to his servants who were stationed around him, "Listen up, you Benjaminites! Is Jesse's son giving fields and vineyards to all of you? Or is he making all of you†† commanders and officers?"‡ 8 For all of you have conspired against me! No one informs me‡‡ when my own son makes an agreement with this son of Jesse! Not one of you feels sorry for me or informs me that my own son has commissioned my own servant to hide in ambush against me, as is the case today!"

9 But Doeg the Edomite, who had stationed himself with the servants of Saul, replied, "I saw this son of Jesse come to Ahimelech son of Ahitub at Nob." 10 He inquired of the LORD for him and gave him provisions. He also gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine."

11 Then the king arranged for a meeting with the priest Ahimelech son of Ahitub and all the priests of his father's house who were at Nob. They all came to the king. 12 Then Saul said, "Listen, son of Ahitub." He replied, "Here I am, my lord." 13 Saul said to him, "Why have you conspired against me, you and this son of Jesse? You gave‡‡ him bread and a sword and inquired of God on his behalf, so that he opposes‡‡‡ me and waits in ambush, as is the case today!"

14 Ahimelech replied to the king, "Who among all your servants is faithful like David? He is the king's son-in-law, the leader of your bodyguard, and honored in your house! 15 Was it just today that I began to inquire of God on his behalf? Far be it from me! The king should not accuse‡‡‡ his servant or any of my father's house. For your servant is not aware of all this – not in whole or in part!"§

16 But the king said, "You will surely die, Ahimelech, you and all your father's house! 17 Then the king said to the messengers§† who were stationed beside him, "Turn and kill the priests of the LORD, for they too have sided§†† with David! They knew he was fleeing, but they did not inform me." But the king's servants refused to harm§‡ the priests of the LORD.

18 Then the king said to Doeg, "You turn and strike down the priests!" So Doeg the Edomite turned and struck down the priests. He killed on that day eighty-five§†† men who wore the linen ephod. 19 As for Nob, the city of the priests, he struck down with the sword men and women, children and infants, oxen, donkeys, and sheep – all with the sword.

† tn: Heb "and Saul heard that David and the men who were with him were known." †† tc: The MT has "to all of you." If this reading is correct, we have here an example of a prepositional phrase functioning as the equivalent of a dative of advantage, which is not impossible from a grammatical point of view. However, the LXX, the Syriac Peshitta, and Vulgate all have "and." A conjunction rather than a preposition should probably be read on the front of this phrase. ‡ tn: Heb "officers of a thousand and officers of a hundred." ‡† tn: Heb "uncovers my ear." ‡‡ tn: Heb "by giving." ‡‡† tn: Heb "rises up against." ‡‡‡ tn: Heb "set a matter against." § tn: Heb "small or great." §† tn: Heb "runners." §†† tn: Heb "their hand is." §‡ tn: Heb "to extend their hand to harm."

20 But one of the sons of Ahimelech son of Ahitub escaped and fled to David. His name was Abiathar. 21 Abiathar told David that Saul had killed the priests of the LORD. 22 Then David said to Abiathar, "I knew that day when Doeg the Edomite was there that he would certainly tell Saul! I am guilty§† of all the deaths in your father's house! 23 Stay with me. Don't be afraid! Whoever§‡ seeks my life is seeking your life as well. You are secure with me."

23 They told David, "The Philistines are fighting in Keilah and are looting the threshing floors." 2 So David asked the LORD, "Should I go and strike down these Philistines?" The LORD said to David, "Go, strike down the Philistines and deliver Keilah."

3 But David's men said to him, "We are afraid while we are still here in Judah! What will it be like if we go to Keilah against the armies of the Philistines?" 4 So David asked the LORD once again. But again the LORD replied, "Arise, go down to Keilah, for I will give the Philistines into your hand."

5 So David and his men went to Keilah and fought the Philistines. He took away their cattle and thoroughly defeated them.§§† David delivered the inhabitants of Keilah.

David Eludes Saul Again

6 Now when Abiathar son of Ahimelech had fled to David at Keilah, he had brought with him an ephod. <sup>§§†7</sup> When Saul was told that David had come to Keilah, Saul said, "God has delivered§§§ him into my hand, for he has boxed himself into a corner by entering a city with two barred gates." <sup>188</sup> So Saul mustered all his army to go down to Keilah and besiege David and his men.†

<sup>9</sup> When David realized that Saul was planning to harm him,†† he told Abiathar the priest, "Bring the ephod!"†† <sup>10</sup> Then David said, "O LORD God of Israel, your servant has clearly heard that Saul is planning‡ to come to Keilah to destroy the city because of me. <sup>11</sup> Will the leaders of Keilah deliver me into his hand? Will Saul come down as your servant has heard? O LORD God of Israel, please inform your servant!"

Then the LORD said, "He will come down."†† <sup>12</sup> David asked, "Will the leaders of Keilah deliver me and my men into Saul's hand?" The LORD said, "They will deliver you over."

<sup>16</sup> Then Jonathan son of Saul left and went to David at Horesh. He encouraged him§ through God. <sup>17</sup> He said to him, "Don't be afraid! For the hand of my father Saul cannot find you. You will rule over Israel, and I will be your second in command. Even my father Saul realizes this."†† <sup>18</sup> When the two of them had made a covenant before the LORD, David stayed on at Horesh, but Jonathan went to his house.

Since in English "bar" could be understood as a saloon, it has been translated as an attributive: "two barred gates."† tn: Heb "So Saul mustered all his army for battle to go down to Keilah to besiege against David and his men."†† tn: Heb "Saul was planning the evil against him."‡ tn: Heb "seeking."†† tn: Heb "they went where they went."‡‡ tn: Heb "all the days."‡‡† tn: Heb "him"; the referent (David) has been specified in the translation for clarity. ‡‡‡ tn: Heb "saw."§ tn: Heb "strengthened his hand."§† tn: Heb "to all the desire of your soul."§†† tn: Heb "know and see." <sup>24</sup> So they left and went to Ziph ahead of Saul. Now David and his men were in the desert of Maon, in the Arabah to the south of Jeshimon. <sup>25</sup> Saul and his men went to look for him.§† But David was informed and went down to the rock and stayed in the desert of Maon. When Saul heard about it, he pursued David in the desert of Maon. <sup>26</sup> Saul went on one side of the mountain, while David and his men went on the other side of the mountain. David was hurrying to get away from Saul, but Saul and his men were surrounding David and his men so they could capture them. <sup>27</sup> But a messenger came to Saul saying, "Come quickly, for the Philistines have raided the land!"

Now David and his men were sitting in the recesses of the cave. <sup>4</sup> David's men said to him, "This is the day about which the LORD said to you, 'I will give your enemy into your hand, and you can do to him whatever seems appropriate to you.'"†† So David got up and quietly cut off an edge of Saul's robe. <sup>5</sup> Afterward David's conscience bothered him††† because he had cut off an edge of Saul's robe. <sup>6</sup> He said to his men, "May the LORD keep me far away from doing such a thing to my lord, who is the LORD's chosen one, <sup>23</sup> by extending my hand against him. After all, <sup>24</sup> he is the LORD's chosen one."††† David restrained his men with these words and did not allow them to rise up against Saul. Then Saul left the cave and started down††† the road.

<sup>8</sup> Afterward David got up and went out of the cave. He called out after Saul, "My lord, O king!" When Saul

This reading is followed by a number of English versions (e.g., NAB, NIV, NCV, NLT). The MT, however, reads "Paran," a location which would parallel this portion of David's life with that of the nation Israel which also spent time in Paran (Num 10:12). Also, the desert of Paran was on the southern border of Judah's territory and would be the most isolated location for hiding from Saul.

David Marries Abigail the Widow of Nabal

<sup>20</sup> Riding on her donkey, she went down under cover of the mountain. David and his men were coming down to meet her, and she encountered them. <sup>21</sup> Now David had been thinking, § "In vain I guarded everything that belonged to this man in the desert. I didn't take anything from him. But he has repaid my good with evil. <sup>22</sup> God will severely punish David, §† if I leave alive until morning even one male§†† from all those who belong to him!"

<sup>23</sup> When Abigail saw David, she got down quickly from the donkey, threw herself down before David, and bowed to the ground. <sup>24</sup> Falling at his feet, she said, "My lord, I accept all the guilt! But please let your female servant speak with my lord! Please listen to the May no evil be found in you all your days! <sup>29</sup> When someone sets out to chase you and to take your life, the life of my lord will be wrapped securely in the bag§§† of the living by the LORD your God. But he will sling away the lives of your enemies from the sling's pocket! <sup>30</sup> The LORD will do for my lord everything that he promised you, §§† and he will make §§§ you a leader over Israel. <sup>31</sup> Your conscience will not be overwhelmed with guilt<sup>18</sup> for having poured out innocent blood and for having taken matters into your own hands. When the LORD has granted my lord success,<sup>19</sup> please remember your servant."

<sup>32</sup> Then David said to Abigail, "Praised<sup>20</sup> be the LORD, the God of Israel, who has sent you this day to meet me! <sup>33</sup> Praised be your good judgment! May you yourself be rewarded<sup>21</sup> for having prevented me this day from shedding blood and taking matters into my own hands! <sup>34</sup> Otherwise, as surely as the LORD, the God of Israel, lives – he who has prevented me from harming you – if you had not come so quickly to meet me, by morning's light not even one male belonging to Nabal would have remained alive!" <sup>35</sup> Then David took from her hand what she had brought to him. He said to her, "Go back<sup>22</sup> to your home in peace. Be assured that I have listened to you<sup>23</sup> and responded favorably." <sup>24</sup>

<sup>36</sup> When Abigail went back to Nabal, he was holding a banquet in his house like that of the king. Nabal was having a good time<sup>25</sup> and was very intoxicated. <sup>39</sup> When David heard that Nabal had died, he said, "Praised be the LORD who has vindicated me and avenged the insult that I suffered from Nabal!†† The LORD has kept his servant from doing evil, and he has repaid Nabal for his evil deeds."‡ Then David sent word to Abigail and asked her to become his wife.

<sup>40</sup> So the servants of David went to Abigail at Carmel and said to her, "David has sent us to you to bring you back to be his wife."<sup>41</sup> She arose, bowed her face toward the ground, and said, "Your female servant, like a lowly servant, will wash‡‡ the feet of the servants of my lord."<sup>42</sup> Then Abigail quickly went and mounted her donkey, with five of her female servants accompanying her.‡‡ She followed David's messengers and became his wife.

26 The Ziphites came to Saul at Gibeah and said, "Isn't David hiding on the hill of Hakilah near‡‡‡ Jeshimon?"<sup>2</sup> So Saul arose and went down to the desert of Ziph, accompanied by three thousand select men of Israel, to look for David in the desert of Ziph.<sup>3</sup> Saul camped by the road on the hill of Hakilah near Jeshimon, but David was staying in the desert. When he realized that Saul had come to the desert to find§ him,<sup>4</sup> David sent scouts and verified that Saul had indeed arrived.§†

<sup>5</sup> So David set out and went to the place where Saul was camped. David saw the place where Saul and Abner son of Ner, the general in command of his army, were sleeping. Now Saul was lying in the entrenchment, and the army was camped all around him.<sup>6</sup> David said to Ahimelech the Hittite and Abishai son of Zeruiah, Joab's brother, "Who will go down with me to Saul in the camp?" Abishai replied, "I will go down with you."

<sup>7</sup> So David and Abishai approached the army at night and found Saul lying asleep in the entrenchment with his spear stuck in the ground by his head. Abner and the army were lying all around him.<sup>8</sup> Abishai said to David, "Today God has delivered your enemy into your hands. Now let me drive the spear§†† right through him into the ground with one swift jab!§† A second jab won't be necessary!"

<sup>9</sup> But David said to Abishai, "Don't kill him! Who can extend his hand against the LORD's chosen one§†† and remain guiltless?"<sup>10</sup> David went on to say, "As the LORD lives, the LORD himself will strike him down. Either his day will come and he will die, or he will go down into battle and be swept away."<sup>11</sup> But may the LORD prevent me from extending my hand against the LORD's chosen one! Now take the spear by Saul's head and the jug of water, and let's get out of here!"<sup>12</sup> So David took the spear and the jug of water by Saul's head, and they got out of there. No one saw them or was aware of their presence or woke up. All of them were asleep, for the LORD had caused a deep sleep to fall on them.

<sup>13</sup> Then David crossed to the other side and stood on the top of the hill some distance away; there was a considerable distance between them.<sup>14</sup> David called to the army and to Abner son of Ner, "Won't you answer, Abner?" Abner replied, "Who are you, that you have called to the king?"<sup>15</sup> David said to Abner, "Aren't you a man? After all, who is like you in Israel? Why then haven't you protected your lord the king? One of the soldiers came to kill your lord the king."<sup>16</sup> This failure on your part isn't good!§† As surely as the LORD lives, you people who have not protected your lord, the LORD's chosen one, are as good as dead!§† Now look where the king's spear and the jug of water that was by his head are!"

<sup>17</sup> When Saul recognized David's voice, he said, "Is that your voice, my son David?" David replied, "Yes, it's my voice, my lord the king."<sup>18</sup> He went on to say, "Why is my lord chasing his servant? What have I done? What wrong have I done?<sup>§§†19</sup> So let my lord the king now listen to the words of his servant. If the LORD has incited you against me, may he take delight in§§† an offering. But if men have instigated this,§§§ may they be cursed before the LORD! For they have driven me away this day from being united with the LORD's inheritance, saying, 'Go on, serve other gods!'"<sup>20</sup> Now don't let my blood fall to the ground away from the LORD's presence, for the king of Israel has gone out to most certainly refers to Saul's own spear, which according to the previous verse was stuck into the ground beside him as he slept. This is reflected in a number of English versions: TEV, CEV "his own spear"; NLT "that spear." Cf. NIV, NCV "my spear," in which case Abishai refers to his own spear rather than Saul's, but this is unlikely since (1) Abishai would probably not have carried a spear along since such a weapon would be unwieldy when sneaking into the enemy camp; and (2) this would not explain the mention of Saul's own spear stuck in the ground beside him in the previous verse. §† tn: Heb "let me strike him with the spear and into the ground one time." §†† tn: Heb "anointed" (also in vv. 11, 16, 23). §† tn: Heb "Not good [is] this thing which you have done." §‡ tn: Heb "you are sons of death." §§† tn: Heb "What in my hand [is] evil?" §§‡ tn: Heb "may he smell." The implication is that Saul should seek to appease God, for such divine instigation to evil would a sign of God's disfavor. For a fuller discussion of this passage see R. B. Chisholm, Jr., "Does God Deceive?" BSac 155 (1998): 19-21. §§§ tn: Heb "but if the sons of men."

21 Saul replied, "I have sinned. Come back, my son David. I won't harm you, for you treated my life with value†† this day. I have behaved foolishly and have made a very terrible mistake!" 22 David replied, "Here is the king's spear! Let one of your servants cross over and get it. 23 The LORD rewards each man for his integrity and loyalty. †† Even though today the LORD delivered you into my hand, I was not willing to extend my hand against the LORD's chosen one. 24 In the same way that I valued your life this day, †† may the LORD value my life††† and deliver me from all danger." 25 Saul replied to David, "May you be rewarded, ††† my son David! You will without question be successful!†† So David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

27 David thought to himself, †† " One of these days I'm going to be swept away by the hand of Saul! There is nothing better for me than to escape to the land of the Philistines. Then Saul will despair of searching for me through all the territory of Israel and I will escape from his hand."

2 So David left and crossed over to King Achish son of Maoch of Gath accompanied by his six hundred men. 3 David settled with Achish in Gath, along with his men and their families. ††† David had with him his two wives, Ahinoam the Jezreelite and Abigail the Carmelite, Nabal's widow. 4 When Saul learned that David had fled to Gath, he did not mount a new search for him.

5 David said to Achish, "If I have found favor with you, let me be given a place in one of the country towns so that I can live there. Why should your servant settle in the royal city with you?" 6 So Achish gave him Ziklag on that day. (For that reason Ziklag has belonged to the kings of Judah until this very day.) 7 The length of time†† that David lived in the Philistine countryside was a year††† and four months.

8 Then David and his men went up and raided the Geshurites, the Girzites, and the Amalekites. (They had been living in that land for a long time, from the approach†† to Shur as far as the land of Egypt.) 9 When David would attack a district, †† he would leave neither man nor woman alive. donkeys, camels, and clothing and would then go back to Achish. 10 When Achish would ask, "Where††† did you raid today?" David would say, "The Negev of Judah" or "The Negev of Jeharmeel" or "The Negev of the Kenites." 11 Neither man nor woman would David leave alive so as to bring them back to Gath. He was thinking, "This way they can't tell on us, saying, 'This is what David did.'" Such was his practice the entire time††† that he lived in the country of the Philistines. 12 So Achish trusted David, thinking to himself,†††† "He is really hated 18 among his own people in 19 Israel! From now on 20 he will be my servant."

28 In those days the Philistines gathered their troops 21 for war in order to fight Israel. Achish said to David, "You should fully understand that you and your men must go with me into the battle." 22 David replied to Achish, "That being the case, you will come to know what your servant can do!" Achish said to David, "Then I will make you my bodyguard 23 from now on." 24

3 Now Samuel had died, and all Israel had lamented over him and had buried him in Ramah, his hometown. 25 In the meantime Saul had removed the mediums 26 and magicians 27 from the land. 4 The Philistines assembled; they came and camped at Shunem. Saul mustered all Israel and camped at Gilboa. 5 When Saul saw the camp of the Philistines, he was absolutely terrified. 286 So Saul inquired of the LORD, but the LORD did not answer him – not by dreams nor by Urim 29 nor by the prophets. 7 So Saul instructed his servants, "Find me a woman who is a medium, 30 so that I may go to her and inquire of her." His servants replied to him, "There is a woman who is a medium in Endor."

In v. 7 the witch of Endor is called the owner of a ritual pit. See H. Hoffner, "Second Millennium Antecedents to the Hebrew 'OñBù,'" JBL 86 (1967): 385-401. Here the term refers by metonymy to the owner of such a pit (see H. A. Hoffner, TDOT 1:133). 27 sn: See Isa 8:19 for another reference to magicians who attempted to conjure up underworld spirits. 28 tn: Heb "he was afraid, and his heart was very terrified." 29 sn: See the note at 1 Sam 14:41. 30 tn: Heb "an owner of a ritual pit." <sup>8</sup> So Saul disguised himself and put on other clothing and left, accompanied by two of his men. They came to the woman at night and said, "Use your ritual pit to conjure up for me the one I tell you."†

Then Saul realized it was Samuel, and he bowed his face toward the ground and kneeled down.<sup>15</sup> Samuel said to Saul, "Why have you disturbed me by bringing me up?" Saul replied, "I am terribly troubled! The Philistines are fighting against me and God has turned away from me. He does not answer me – not by the prophets nor by dreams. So I have called on you to tell me what I should do."

<sup>16</sup> Samuel said, "Why are you asking me, now that the LORD has turned away from you and has become your enemy?"<sup>17</sup> The LORD has done exactly as I prophesied!‡‡‡ The LORD has torn the kingdom from your hand and has given it to your neighbor David!<sup>18</sup> Since you did not obey the LORD§ and did not carry out his fierce anger against the Amalekites, the LORD has done this thing to you today.<sup>19</sup> The LORD will hand you and Israel over to the Philistines.‡† Tomorrow both you and your sons will be with me.‡†† The LORD will also hand the army‡‡ of Israel over to the Philistines!"

<sup>20</sup> Saul quickly fell full length on the ground and was very afraid because of Samuel's words. He was completely drained of energy,‡†† not having eaten anything‡† all that day and night.<sup>21</sup> When the woman came to Saul and saw how terrified he was, she said to him, "Your servant has done what you asked. ‡‡ I took

<sup>3</sup> The leaders of the Philistines asked, "What about these Hebrews?" Achish said to the leaders of the Philistines, "Isn't this David, the servant of King Saul of Israel, who has been with me for quite some time?<sup>22</sup> I have found no fault with him from the day of his defection until the present time!"<sup>23</sup>

<sup>4</sup> But the leaders of the Philistines became angry with him and said<sup>24</sup> to him, "Send the man back! Let him return to the place that you assigned him! Don't let him go down with us into the battle, for he might become<sup>25</sup> our adversary in the battle. What better way to please his lord than with the heads of these men?"<sup>26</sup> Isn't this David, of whom they sang as they danced,<sup>27</sup>

"Saul has struck down his thousands, but David his tens of thousands?"

<sup>6</sup> So Achish summoned David and said to him, "As surely as the LORD lives, you are an honest man, and I am glad to have you<sup>28</sup> serving<sup>29</sup> with me in the army. <sup>30</sup> I have found no fault with you from the day that you first came to me until the present time. <sup>11</sup> So David and his men got up early in the morning to return‡‡‡ to the land of the Philistines, but the Philistines went up to Jezreel.

But David drew strength from the LORD his God.

<sup>7</sup> Then David said to the priest Abiathar son of Ahimelech, "Bring me the ephod." So Abiathar brought the ephod to David.<sup>8</sup> David inquired of the LORD, saying, "Should I pursue this raiding band? Will I overtake them?" He said to him, "Pursue, for you will certainly overtake them and carry out a rescue!"

<sup>9</sup> So David went, accompanied by his six hundred men. When he came to the Wadi Besor, those who were in the rear stayed there.<sup>§§†10</sup> David and four hundred men continued the pursuit, but two hundred men who were too exhausted to cross the Wadi Besor stayed there.

<sup>11</sup> Then they found an Egyptian in the field and brought him to David. They gave him bread to eat and water to drink.<sup>12</sup> They gave him a slice of pressed figs and two bunches of raisins to eat. This greatly refreshed him,§§‡ for he had not eaten food or drunk water for three days and three nights.<sup>13</sup> David said to him, "To whom do you belong, and where are you from?" The young man said, "I am an Egyptian, the servant of an Amalekite man. My master abandoned me when I was ill for three days.<sup>14</sup> We conducted a raid on the Negev of the Kerethites, on the area of Judah, and on the Negev of Caleb. We burned Ziklag."<sup>§§§15</sup> David said to him, "Can you take us down to this raiding party?" He said, "Swear to me by God that you will not kill me or hand me over to my master, and I will take you down to this raiding party."

<sup>4</sup> Saul said to his armor bearer, "Draw your sword and stab me with it! Otherwise these uncircumcised people will come, stab me, and torture me." But his armor bearer refused to do it, because he was very afraid. So Saul took his sword and fell on it. <sup>5</sup> When his armor bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his own sword and died with him. <sup>6</sup> So Saul, his three sons, his armor bearer, and all his men died together that day.

<sup>7</sup> When the men of Israel who were in the valley and across the Jordan saw that the men of Israel had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned the cities and fled. The Philistines came and occupied them.

David Learns of the Deaths of Saul and Jonathan

1 After the death of Saul, † when David had returned from defeating the Amalekites, †† he stayed at Ziklag‡ for two days. 2 On the third day a man arrived from the camp of Saul with his clothes torn and dirt on his head. †† When he approached David, the man‡† threw himself to the ground. †††
 3 David asked him, “Where are you coming from?” He replied, “I have escaped from the camp of Israel.” 4 David inquired, “How were things going?‡†† Tell me !” He replied, “The people fled from the battle and many of them§ fell dead. §† Even Saul and his son Jonathan are dead!” 5 David said to the young man§†† who was telling him this, “How do you know that Saul and his son Jonathan are dead?” §†§ The young man who was

† sn: This chapter is closely linked to 1 Sam 31. It should be kept in mind that 1 and 2 Samuel were originally a single book, not separate volumes. Whereas in English Bible tradition the books of Samuel, Kings, Chronicles, and Ezra-Nehemiah are each regarded as two separate books, this was not the practice in ancient Hebrew tradition. Early canonical records, for example, counted them as single books respectively. The division into two books goes back to the Greek translation of the OT and was probably initiated because of the cumbersome length of copies due to the Greek practice (unlike that of Hebrew) of writing vowels. The present division into two books can be a little misleading in terms of perceiving the progression of the argument of the book; in some ways it is preferable to treat the books of 1-2 Samuel in a unified fashion. †† sn: The Amalekites were a nomadic people who inhabited Judah and the Transjordan. They are mentioned in Gen 36:15-16 as descendants of Amalek who in turn descended from Esau. In Exod 17:8-16 they are described as having acted in a hostile fashion toward Israel as the Israelites traveled to Canaan from Egypt. In David's time the Amalekites were viewed as dangerous enemies who raided, looted, and burned Israelite cities (see 1 Sam 30). ‡ sn: Ziklag was a city in the Negev which had been given to David by Achish king of Gath. For more than a year David used it as a base from which he conducted military expeditions (see 1 Sam 27:5-12). According to 1 Sam 30:1-19, Ziklag was destroyed by the Amalekites while Saul fought the Philistines. †† sn: Tearing one's clothing and throwing dirt on one's head were outward expressions of grief in the ancient Near East, where such demonstrable reactions were a common response to tragic news. ††† tn: Heb “he”; the referent (the man mentioned at the beginning of v. 2) has been specified in the translation to avoid confusion as to who fell to the ground. †††† tn: Heb “he fell to the ground and did obeisance.” ††††† tn: Heb “What was the word?” § tn: Heb “from the people.” §† tn: Heb “fell and died.” §†† tn: In v. 2 he is called simply a “man.” The word used here in v. 5 (so also in vv. 6, 13, 15), though usually referring to a young man or servant, may in this context designate a “fighting” man, i.e., a soldier. §† tc: Instead of the MT “who was recounting this to him, ‘How do you know that Saul and his son Jonathan are dead?’” the Syriac Peshitta reads “declare to me how Saul and his son Jonathan died.”

The chariots and leaders of the horsemen were in hot pursuit of him. 7 When he turned around and saw me, he called out to me. I answered, ‘Here I am!’ 8 He asked me, ‘Who are you?’ I told him, ‘I'm§† an Amalekite.’ 9 He said to me, ‘Stand over me and finish me off.†§† I'm very dizzy, §§†† even though I'm still alive.’ §§††† So I stood over him and put him to death, since I knew that he couldn't live in such a condition.§§§ Then I took the crown which was on his head and the<sup>18</sup> bracelet which was on his arm. The point seems to be that he is unable to kill himself because he is weak and disoriented. §§††† tn: The Hebrew text here is grammatically very awkward (Heb “because all still my life in me”). Whether the broken construct phrase is due to the fact that the alleged speaker is in a confused state of mind as he is on the verge of dying, or whether the MT has sustained corruption in the transmission process, is not entirely clear. The former seems likely, although P. K. McCarter understands the MT to be the result of conflation of two shorter forms of text (P. K. McCarter, II Samuel [AB], 57, n. 9). Early translators also struggled with the verse, apparently choosing to leave part of the Hebrew text untranslated. For example, the Lucianic recension of the LXX lacks “all,” while other witnesses (namely, one medieval Hebrew ms

<sup>19</sup> sn: The claims that the soldier is making here seem to contradict the story of Saul's death as presented in 1 Sam 31:3-5. In that passage it appears that Saul took his own life, not that he was slain by a passerby who happened on the scene. Some scholars account for the discrepancy by supposing that conflicting accounts have been brought together in the MT. However, it is likely that the young man is here fabricating the account in a self-serving way so as to gain favor with David, or so he supposes. He probably had come across Saul's corpse, stolen the crown and bracelet from the body, and now hopes to curry favor with David by handing over to him these emblems of Saul's royalty. But in so doing the Amalekite greatly miscal-

<sup>11</sup> David then grabbed his own clothes† and tore them, as did all the men who were with him. <sup>12</sup> They lamented and wept and fasted until evening because Saul, his son Jonathan, the LORD's people, and the house of Israel had fallen by the sword.

<sup>13</sup> David said to the young man who told this to him, "Where are you from?" He replied, "I am an Amalekite, the son of a resident foreigner."<sup>††14</sup> David replied to him, "How is it that you were not afraid to reach out your hand to destroy the LORD's anointed?"<sup>15</sup> Then David called one of the soldiers‡ and said, "Come here and strike him down!" So he struck him down, and he died. <sup>16</sup> David said to him, "Your blood be on your own head! Your own mouth has testified against you, saying I have put the LORD's anointed to death."

David's Tribute to Saul and Jonathan

<sup>12</sup> Then Abner son of Ner and the servants of Ish-bosheth son of Saul went out from Mahanaim to Gibeon. <sup>13</sup> Joab son of Zeruiah and the servants of David also went out and confronted them at the pool of Gibeon. One group stationed themselves on one side of the pool, and the other group on the other side of the pool. <sup>14</sup> Abner said to Joab, “Let the soldiers get up and fight‡‡ before us.” Joab said, “So be it!”‡††

<sup>26</sup> Then Abner called out to Joab, “Must the sword devour forever? Don't you realize that this will turn bitter in the end? When will you tell the people to turn aside from pursuing their brothers?” <sup>27</sup> Joab replied, “As surely as God lives, if you had not said this, it would have been morning before the people would have abandoned pursuit<sup>25</sup> of their brothers!” <sup>28</sup> Then Joab blew the ram's horn and all the people stopped in their tracks.<sup>26</sup> They stopped chasing Israel and ceased fighting. <sup>2729</sup> Abner and his men went through the

But because the Canaanite storm god was named “Baal,” that part of the name was later replaced with the word “shame.” § tc: The MT here reads “the Ashurite,” but this is problematic if it is taken to mean “the Assyrian.” Ish-bosheth's kingdom obviously was not of such proportions as to extend to Assyria. The Syriac Peshitta renders the word as “the Geshurite,” while the Targum has “of the house of Ashur.” We should probably emend the Hebrew text to read “the Geshurite.” The Geshurites lived in the northeastern part of the land of Palestine. §† tn: Heb “house.” §†† tn: Heb “And the number of the days in which David was king in Hebron over the house of Judah was seven years and six months.” §‡ tn: Heb “play.” What is in view here is a gladiatorial contest in which representative groups of soldiers engage in mortal combat before the watching armies. §† tn: Heb “and they grabbed each one the head of his neighbor with his sword in the side of his neighbor and they fell together.” §‡ tn: The meaning of the name “Helkath Hazzurim” (so NIV; KJV, NASB, NRSV similar) is not clear. BHK relates the name to the Hebrew term for “side,” and this is reflected in NAB “the Field of the Sides”; the Greek OT revocalizes the Hebrew to mean something like “Field of Adversaries.” Cf. also TEV, NLT “Field of Swords”; CEV “Field of Daggers.” §§† tn: Heb “servants.” So also elsewhere. §§‡ tn: Heb “young men.” So also elsewhere. §§§ tn: Heb “Why should I strike you to the ground?” <sup>18</sup> tn: Heb “lift.” <sup>19</sup> tn: Heb “he”; the referent (Asahel) has been specified in the translation for clarity. <sup>20</sup> tn: Heb “the.” The article functions here as a possessive pronoun. <sup>21</sup> tn: Heb “he”; the referent (Asahel) has been specified in the translation for clarity. <sup>22</sup> tn: Heb “him”; the referent (Abner) has been specified in the translation for clarity. <sup>23</sup> tn: Heb “and they stand.” <sup>24</sup> tn: Heb “were gathered together.” <sup>25</sup> tn: The Hebrew verb הָלַךְ

Arabah all that night. They crossed the Jordan River† and went through the whole region of Bitron†† and came to Mahanaim.

<sup>30</sup> Now Joab returned from chasing Abner and assembled all the people. Nineteen of David's soldiers were missing, in addition to Asahel. <sup>31</sup> But David's soldiers had slaughtered the Benjaminites and Abner's men – in all, 360 men had died! <sup>32</sup> They took Asahel's body and buried him in his father's tomb at Bethlehem. ‡ Joab and his men then traveled all that night and reached Hebron by dawn.

3 However, the war was prolonged between the house of Saul and the house of David. David was becoming steadily stronger, while the house of Saul was becoming increasingly weaker.

Abner Defects to David's Camp

<sup>6</sup> As the war continued between the house of Saul and the house of David, Abner was becoming more influential‡†† in the house of Saul. <sup>7</sup> Now Saul had a concubine named Rizpah daughter of Aiah. Ish-bosheth§ said to Abner, "Why did you have sexual relations with§† my father's concubine?" §††

The statement may have a negative sense here, perhaps suggesting that Abner was overstepping the bounds of political propriety in a self-serving way. § tc: The Hebrew of the MT reads simply "and he said," with no expressed subject for the verb. It is not likely that the text originally had no expressed subject for this verb, since the antecedent is not immediately clear from the context. As such it

<sup>8</sup> These words of Ish-bosheth really angered Abner and he said, "Am I the head of a dog that belongs to Judah? This very day I am demonstrating§† loyalty to the house of Saul your father and to his relatives§†† and his friends! I have not betrayed you into the hand of David. Yet you have accused me of sinning with this woman today! §††† God will severely judge Abner§† if I do not do for David exactly what the LORD has promised him, §†††† namely, to transfer the kingdom from the house of Saul and to establish the throne of David over Israel and over Judah all the way from Dan to Beer Sheba!" <sup>11</sup> Ish-bosheth§†† was unable to answer Abner with even a single word because he was afraid of him.

<sup>12</sup> Then Abner sent messengers§§§ to David saying, "To whom does the land belong? Make an agreement<sup>18</sup> with me, and I will do whatever I can<sup>19</sup> to cause all Israel to turn to you." <sup>13</sup> So David said, "Good! I will make an agreement with you. I ask only one thing from you. You will not see my face unless you bring Saul's daughter Michal when you come to visit me." <sup>20</sup>

<sup>19</sup> Then Abner spoke privately<sup>30</sup> with the Benjaminites. Abner also went to Hebron to inform David privately<sup>31</sup> of all that Israel and the entire house of

The context calls for the 1st person common singular imperfect of the verb rather than the 3rd person masculine singular perfect. <sup>29</sup> tn: Heb "from the hand of." <sup>30</sup> tn: Heb "into the ears of." <sup>31</sup> tn: Heb "also Abner went to speak into the ears of David in Hebron."

Benjamin had agreed to.<sup>120</sup> When Abner, accompanied by twenty men, came to David in Hebron, David prepared a banquet for Abner and the men who were with him.<sup>21</sup> Abner said to David, "Let me leave so that I may go and gather all Israel to my lord the king so that they may make an agreement†† with you. Then you will rule over all that you desire." So David sent Abner away, and he left in peace.

Abner Is Killed

<sup>24</sup> So Joab went to the king and said, "What have you done? Abner‡‡ has come to you! Why would you send him away? Now he's gone on his way!<sup>‡‡‡25</sup> You know Abner the son of Ner! Surely he came here to spy on you and to determine when you leave and when you return‡‡‡ and to discover everything that you are doing!"

disease or one who works at the spindle§‡ or one who falls by the sword or one who lacks food!"

"Should Abner have died like a fool?

You fell the way one falls before criminals."

All the people<sup>18</sup> wept over him again.<sup>35</sup> Then all the people came and encouraged David to eat food while it was still day. But David took an oath saying, "God will punish me severely<sup>19</sup> if I taste bread or anything whatsoever before the sun sets!"

<sup>36</sup> All the people noticed this and it pleased them.<sup>20</sup>

In fact, everything the king did pleased all the people.

<sup>37</sup> All the people and all Israel realized on that day that the killing of Abner son of Ner was not done at the king's instigation.<sup>21</sup>

<sup>38</sup> Then the king said to his servants, "Do you not realize that a great leader<sup>22</sup> has fallen this day in Israel?

<sup>39</sup> Today I am weak, even though I am anointed as king. These men, the sons of Zeruiah, are too much for me to bear!<sup>23</sup> May the LORD punish appropriately the one who has done this evil thing!"<sup>24</sup>

4 When Ish-bosheth<sup>25</sup> the son of Saul heard that Abner had died in Hebron, he was very disheart-

§‡ tn: The expression used here is difficult. The translation "one who works at the spindle" follows a suggestion of S. R. Driver that the expression pejoratively describes an effeminate man who, rather than being a mighty warrior, is occupied with tasks that are normally fulfilled by women (S. R. Driver, Notes on the Hebrew Text and the Topography of the Books of Samuel, 250-51; cf. NAB "one unmanly"; TEV "fit only to do a woman's work"; CEV "cowards"). But P. K. McCarter, following an alleged Phoenician usage of the noun to refer to "crutches," adopts a different view. He translates the phrase "clings to a crutch," seeing here a further description of physical lameness (II Samuel [AB], 118). Such an idea fits the present context well and is followed by NIV, NCV, and NLT, although the evidence for this meaning is questionable. According to DNWSI 2:915-16, the noun consistently refers to a spindle in Phoenician, as it does in Ugaritic (see UT 468). §§† tn: Heb "was walking." §§‡ tn: Heb "lifted up his voice and wept." The expression is a verbal hendiadys. §§§ tc: The translation follows many medieval Hebrew manuscripts and several ancient versions in reading "your hands," rather than "your hand."<sup>18</sup> tc: 4QSam a ened,† and all Israel was afraid.<sup>2</sup> Now Saul's son†† had two men who were in charge of raiding units; one was named Baanah and the other Recab. They were sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, who was a Benjaminite. (Beeroth is regarded as belonging to Benjamin,<sup>3</sup> for the Beerothites fled to Gittaim and have remained there as resident foreigners until the present time.)‡

<sup>4</sup> Now Saul's son Jonathan had a son who was crippled in both feet. He was five years old when the news about Saul and Jonathan arrived from Jezreel. His nurse picked him up and fled, but in her haste to get away, he fell and was injured.‡† Mephibosheth was his name.

<sup>9</sup> David replied to Recab and his brother Baanah, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, "As surely as the LORD lives, who has delivered my life from all adversity,<sup>10</sup> when someone told me that Saul was dead – even though he thought he was bringing good news§† – I seized him and killed him in Ziklag. That was the good news I gave to him!<sup>11</sup> Surely when wicked men have killed an innocent man as he slept§‡ in his own house, should I not now require his blood from your hands and remove§†† you from the earth?"

David Occupies Jerusalem

<sup>6</sup> Then the king and his men advanced to Jerusalem<sup>26</sup> against the Jebusites who lived in the land. The Jebusites<sup>27</sup> said to David, "You cannot invade this place! Even the blind and the lame will turn you back, saying, 'David cannot invade this place!'"

<sup>7</sup> But David captured the fortress of Zion (that is, the city of David).<sup>8</sup> David said on that day, "Whoever attacks the Jebusites must approach the 'lame' and the 'blind' who are David's enemies<sup>28</sup> by going through the water tunnel."<sup>29</sup> For this reason it is said, "The blind and the lame cannot enter the palace."<sup>30</sup>

Conflict with the Philistines

<sup>17</sup> When the Philistines heard that David had been designated‡‡‡ king over Israel, they all‡‡‡ went up to search for David. When David heard about it, he went down to the fortress. <sup>18</sup> Now the Philistines had arrived and spread out in the valley of Rephaim. <sup>19</sup> So David asked the LORD , "Should I march up against the Philistines ? Will you hand them over to me?" The LORD said to David, "March up, for I will indeed‡§ hand the Philistines over to you."

<sup>20</sup> So David marched against Baal Perazim and defeated them there. Then he said, "The LORD has burst out against my enemies like water bursts out." So he called the name of that place Baal Perazim. §†‡<sup>21</sup> The Philistines§†† abandoned their idols§‡ there, and David and his men picked them up.

<sup>22</sup> The Philistines again came up and spread out in the valley of Rephaim. <sup>23</sup> So David asked the LORD what he should do.§†† This time §† the LORD §‡ said to him, "Don't march straight up. Instead, circle around behind them and come against them opposite the trees. §§†<sup>24</sup> When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the trees, act decisively. For at that moment the LORD is going before you to strike down the army§§‡ of the Philistines." <sup>25</sup> David did just as the LORD commanded him, and he struck down the Philistines from Gibeon all the way to Gezer. §§§

David Offers a Prayer to God

<sup>18</sup> King David went in, sat before the LORD, and said, "Who am I, O LORD God, and what is my family, ‡ that you should have brought me to this point? <sup>19</sup> And you didn't stop there, O LORD God! You have also spoken about the future of your servant's family. ‡‡ Is this your usual way of dealing with men, ‡‡‡ O LORD God? <sup>20</sup> What more can David say to you? You have given your servant special recognition, § O LORD God! <sup>21</sup> For the sake of your promise and according to your purpose§† you have done this great thing in order to reveal it to your servant. <sup>§††22</sup> Therefore you are great, O LORD God, for there is none like you! There is no God besides you! What we have heard is true! <sup>§†23</sup> Who is like your people, Israel, a unique nation§†† on the earth? Their God§† went§† to claim§§† a nation for himself and to make a name for himself! This part of the verse is very enigmatic; no completely satisfying solution has yet been suggested. The present translation tries to make sense of the MT by understanding the phrase as a question that underscores the uniqueness of God's dealings with David as described here. The parallel passage in 1 Chr 17:17 reads differently (see the note there). § tn: Heb "and you know your servant." The verb here refers to recognizing another in a special way and giving them special treatment (see 1 Chr 17:18). Some English versions take this to refer to the Lord's knowledge of David himself: CEV "you know my thoughts"; NLT "know what I am really like." §† tn: Heb "for the sake of your word and according to your heart." §†† tn: Heb "to make known, your servant." §††† tn: Heb "in all which we heard with our ears." The phrase translated "in all" כָּל כָּל §†††† tn: Heb "a nation, one." §††††† tn: Heb "whose God" or "because God." In the Hebrew text this clause is subordinated to what precedes. The clauses are separated in the translation for stylistic reasons. §†††††† tn: The verb is plural in Hebrew, agreeing grammatically with the divine name, which is a plural of degree.

He made them lie on the ground and then used a rope to measure them off. He put two-thirds of them to death and spared the other third.<sup>34</sup> The Moabites became David's subjects and brought tribute. <sup>353</sup> David defeated King Hadadezer son of Rehob of Zobah when he came to reestablish<sup>36</sup> his authority<sup>37</sup> over the Euphrates<sup>38</sup> River.

§§† tn: Heb "redeem." §§†† tn: Heb "and to do for you [plural form] the great [thing] and awesome [things] for your land." §§§ tn: Heb "from Egypt, nations and their gods." Following the imperative in v. 23b, the prefixed verbal form with vav conjunctive indicates purpose/result. 22 tn: Heb "saying." The words "as people" are supplied in the translation for clarification and stylistic reasons. 23 tn: Heb "the house." See the note on "dynastic house" in the following verse. 24 tn: Heb "have uncovered the ear of." 25 tn: Heb "a house." This maintains the wordplay from v. 11 (see the note on the word "house" there) and is continued in v. 29. 26 tn: Heb "has found his heart." 27 tn: Heb "the God." The article indicates uniqueness here. 28 tn: The translation understands the prefixed verb form as a jussive, indicating David's wish/prayer. Another option is to take the form as an imperfect and translate "your words are true." 29 tn: Heb "and you have spoken to your servant this good thing." 30 tn: Heb "house" (again later in this verse). See the note on "dynastic house" in v. 27. 31 tn: Or "permanently"; cf. NLT "it is an eternal blessing." 32 tn: Heb "the bridle of one cubit." Many English versions treat this as a place name because the parallel text in 1 Chr 18:1 reads "Gath" (which is used by NLT here). It is possible that "the bridle of one cubit" is to be understood as "the token of surrender," referring to the Philistine's defeat rather than a specific place (cf. TEV, CEV). 33 tn: Heb "from the hand [i.e., control] of the Philistines." 34 tn: Heb "and he measured [with] two [lengths] of rope to put to death and [with] the fullness of the rope to keep alive." 35 tn: Heb "and the Moabites were servants of David, carriers of tribute." 36 tc: The LXX has ἐπιστῆσαι episthsai

David cut the hamstrings of all but a hundred of the chariot horses. <sup>††5</sup> The Arameans of Damascus came to help King Hadadezer of Zobah, but David killed 22,000 of the Arameans. <sup>6</sup> David placed garrisons in the territory of the Arameans of Damascus; the Arameans became David's subjects and brought tribute. The LORD protected# David wherever he campaigned. <sup>††7</sup> David took the golden shields that belonged to Hadadezer's servants and brought them to Jerusalem. <sup>††8</sup> From Tebah††† and Berothai, Hadadezer's cities, King David took a great deal of bronze.

9 Then David asked, "Is anyone still left from the family<sup>27</sup> of Saul, so that I may extend kindness to him for the sake of Jonathan?"

<sup>2</sup> Now there was a servant from Saul's house named Ziba, so he was summoned to David. The king asked him, "Are you Ziba?" He replied, "At your service." <sup>283</sup> The king asked, "Is there not someone left from Saul's family, <sup>29</sup> that I may extend God's kindness to him?" Ziba said to the king, "One of Jonathan's sons is left; both of his feet are crippled." <sup>4</sup> The king asked him, "Where is he?" <sup>21</sup> tc: The MT is repetitious here: "He placed in Edom garrisons; in all Edom he placed garrisons." The Vulgate lacks "in all Edom"; most of the Greek tradition (with the exception of the Lucianic recension and the recension of Origen) and the Syriac Peshitta lack "he placed garrisons." The MT reading appears here to be the result of a conflation of variant readings. <sup>22</sup> tn: Heb "and David was doing what is just and fair for all his people." <sup>23</sup> tn: Heb "was over." <sup>24</sup> tc: Here Ahimelech is called "the son of Abiathar," but NCV, CEV, and REB reverse this to conform with 1 Sam 22:20. <sup>9</sup> Then the king summoned Ziba, Saul's attendant, and said to him, "Everything that belonged to Saul and to his entire house I hereby give to your master's grandson. <sup>10</sup> You will cultivate‡† the land for him – you and your sons and your servants. You will bring its produce ‡ and it will be ‡†† food for your master's grandson to eat. ‡†† But Mephibosheth, your master's grandson, will be a regular guest at my table." (Now Ziba had fifteen sons and twenty servants.)

had happened,<sup>20</sup> so he summoned them, for the men were thoroughly humiliated. The king said, "Stay in Jericho<sup>21</sup> until your beards have grown again; then you may come back."

<sup>10</sup> So they informed David, "Uriah has not gone down to his house." So David said to Uriah, "Haven't you just arrived from a journey? Why haven't you gone down to your house?" <sup>11</sup> Uriah replied to David, "The ark and Israel and Judah reside in temporary shelters, and my lord Joab and my lord's soldiers are camping in the open field. Should I go to my house to eat and drink and have marital relations<sup>21</sup> with my wife? As surely as you are alive, <sup>22</sup> I will not do this thing!"

<sup>12</sup> So David said to Uriah, "Stay here another day. Tomorrow I will send you back." So Uriah stayed in Jerusalem both that day and the following one. <sup>23</sup><sup>13</sup> Then David summoned him. He ate and drank with him, and got him drunk. But in the evening he went out to sleep on his bed with the servants of his lord; he did not go down to his own house.

<sup>14</sup> In the morning David wrote a letter to Joab and sent it with Uriah. <sup>15</sup> In the letter he wrote: "Station Uriah in the thick of the battle and then withdraw from him so he will be cut down and killed."

Encourage him with these words." ‡‡‡

<sup>5</sup> Then David became very angry at this man. He said to Nathan, "As surely as the LORD lives, the man who did this deserves to die! <sup>236</sup> Because he committed this cold-hearted crime, he must pay for the lamb four times over!" <sup>24</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Nathan said to David, "You are that man ! This is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'I chose<sup>25</sup> you to be king over Israel and I rescued you from the hand of Saul. <sup>8</sup> I gave you your master's house, and put your master's wives into your arms. <sup>26</sup> I also gave you the house of Israel and Judah. And if all that somehow seems insignificant, I would have given you so much more as well! <sup>9</sup> Why have you shown contempt for the word of the LORD by doing evil in my<sup>27</sup> sight ? You have struck down Uriah the Hittite with the sword and you have taken his wife as your own!<sup>28</sup> You have killed him with the sword of the Ammonites. <sup>10</sup> So now the sword will never depart from your house. For you have despised me by taking the wife of Uriah the Hittite as your own!' <sup>11</sup> This is what the LORD says : 'I am about to bring disaster on you<sup>29</sup> from inside your own household !<sup>30</sup> Right before your eyes I will take your wives and hand them over to your companion. <sup>31</sup> He will have sexual relations with<sup>32</sup> your wives in broad daylight!<sup>33</sup> Although you have acted in secret, I will do this thing before all Israel, and in broad daylight.'" <sup>34</sup>

<sup>13</sup> Then David exclaimed to Nathan, "I have sinned against the LORD !" Nathan replied to David, "Yes, and the LORD has forgiven<sup>35</sup> your sin. You are not going to die. <sup>14</sup> Nonetheless, because you have treated the LORD with such contempt<sup>36</sup> in this matter, the son who has been born to you will certainly die."

<sup>18</sup> On the seventh day the child died. But the servants of David were afraid to inform him that the child had died, for they said, "While the child was still alive he would not listen to us† when we spoke to him. How can we tell him that the child is dead? He will do himself harm!"††

David's Forces Defeat the Ammonites §†

13 Now David's son Absalom had a beautiful sister named Tamar. In the course of time David's son Amnon fell madly in love with her.<sup>192</sup> But Amnon became frustrated because he was so lovesick<sup>20</sup> over his sister Tamar. For she was a virgin, and to Amnon it seemed out of the question to do anything to her.

<sup>3</sup> Now Amnon had a friend named Jonadab, the son of David's brother Shimeah. Jonadab was a very crafty man.<sup>4</sup> He asked Amnon,<sup>21</sup> "Why are you, the king's son,<sup>22</sup> so depressed every morning? Can't you tell me?" So Amnon said to him, "I'm in love with Tamar the sister of my brother Absalom."<sup>5</sup> Jonadab replied to him, "Lie down on your bed and pretend to be sick.<sup>23</sup> When your father comes in to see you, say to him, §† sn: Here the narrative resumes the battle story that began in 11:1 (see 11:25). The author has interrupted that story to give the related account of David's sin with Bathsheba and the murder of Uriah. He now returns to the earlier story and brings it to a conclusion.

§†† sn: The expression translated the water supply of the city (Heb "the city of the waters") apparently refers to that part of the fortified city that guarded the water supply of the entire city. While some translations render the pronoun as third person plural ("they"), implying that both David and Bathsheba together named the child, it is likely that the name "Solomon," which is related to the Hebrew word for "peace" (and may be derived from it) had special significance for David, who would have regarded the birth of a second child to Bathsheba as a confirming sign that God had forgiven his sin and was at peace with him. §† tn: Heb "him," referring to the child. §†† sn: The name Jedidiah means "loved by the LORD

<sup>6</sup> So Amnon lay down and pretended to be sick. When the king came in to see him, Amnon said to the king, "Please let my sister Tamar come in so she can make a couple of cakes in my sight. Then I will eat from her hand."

<sup>7</sup> So David sent Tamar to the house saying, "Please go to the house of Amnon your brother and prepare some food for him." <sup>8</sup> So Tamar went to the house of Amnon her brother, who was lying down. She took the dough, kneaded it, made some cakes while he watched, † and baked them. ††<sup>9</sup> But when she took the pan and set it before him, he refused to eat. <sup>10</sup> Then Amnon said to Tamar, "Bring the cakes into the bedroom; then I will eat from your hand." So Tamar took the cakes that she had prepared and brought them to her brother Amnon in the bedroom.

<sup>11</sup> As she brought them to him to eat, he grabbed her and said to her, "Come on ! Get in bed with me,‡‡ my sister!"

<sup>12</sup> But she said to him, "No, my brother ! Don't humiliate me! This just isn't done in Israel ! ### Absalom Has Amnon Put to Death

<sup>26</sup> Then Absalom said, "If you will not go, <sup>25</sup> then let my brother Amnon go with us." The king replied to him, "Why should he go with you?" <sup>27</sup> But when Absalom pressed him, he sent Amnon and all the king's sons along with him.

<sup>28</sup> Absalom instructed his servants, "Look ! When Amnon is drunk<sup>26</sup> and I say to you, 'Strike Amnon down,' kill him then and there. Don't fear ! Is it not I who have given you these instructions ? Be strong and courageous!" <sup>2729</sup> So Absalom's servants did to Amnon

<sup>12</sup> Then the woman said, "Please permit your servant to speak to my lord the king about another matter." He replied, "Tell me." <sup>13</sup> The woman said, "Why have you devised something like this against God's people? Perhaps the king will do what his female servant†† asks. 16 Yes † The king may†† listen and deliver his female servant‡‡ from the hand of the man who seeks to remove‡‡ both me and my son from the inheritance God has given us! ‡‡‡17 So your servant said, 'May the word of my lord the king be my security, for my lord the king is like the angel of God when it comes to deciding between right and wrong! May the LORD your God be with you!'"

18 Then the king replied to the woman, "Don't hide any information from me when I question you." The woman said, "Let my lord the king speak!" 19 The king said, "Did Joab put you up to all of this ?" 20 The woman answered, "As surely as you live, my lord the king, there is no deviation to the right or to the left from all that my lord the king has said. For your servant Joab gave me instructions. He has put all these words in your servant's mouth. 20 Your servant Joab did this so as to change this situation. But my lord has wisdom like that of the angel of God, and knows everything that is happening in the land." †

21 Then the king said to Joab, "All right! ††† will do this thing ! Go and bring back the young man Absalom! 22 Then Joab bowed down with his face toward the ground and thanked‡‡ the king. Joab said, "Today your servant knows that I have found favor in your sight, my lord the king, because the king has granted the request of your‡‡† servant!"

23 So Joab got up and went to Geshur and brought Absalom back to Jerusalem. ††24 But the king said, "Let him go over‡‡ to his own house. He may not see my face." So Absalom went over‡‡† to his own house; he did not see the king's face.

25 Now in all Israel everyone acknowledged that there was no man as handsome as Absalom. ‡‡‡ From the sole of his feet to the top of his head he was perfect in appearance. ‡‡‡26 When he would shave his head – at the end of every year he used to shave his head, for it grew too long<sup>18</sup> and he would shave it – he used to weigh the hair of his head at three pounds <sup>19</sup> according to the king's weight. 27 Absalom had<sup>20</sup> three sons and one daughter, whose name was Tamar. She was a very attractive woman. 21

28 Absalom lived in Jerusalem for two years without seeing the king's face. 29 Then Absalom sent a message to Joab asking him to send him to the king, but Joab was not willing to come to him. So he sent a second message to him, but he still was not willing to come. 30 So he said to his servants, "Look, Joab has a portion of field adjacent to mine and he has some barley there. Go and set it on fire." 22 So Absalom's servants set Joab's<sup>23</sup> portion of the field on fire.

31 Then Joab got up and came to Absalom's house. He said to him, "Why did your servants set my portion of field on fire?" 32 Absalom said to Joab, "Look, I sent a message to you saying, 'Come here so that I can send you to the king with this message:24 "Why have I come from Geshur ? It would be better for me if I were still there." Let me now see the face of the king. If I am at fault, let him put me to death!"

33 So Joab went to the king and informed him. The king<sup>25</sup> summoned Absalom, and he came to the king. Absalom<sup>26</sup> bowed down before the king with his face toward the ground and the king kissed him. 27

15 Some time later Absalom managed to acquire<sup>28</sup> a chariot and horses, as well as fifty men to serve as his royal guard. 292 Now Absalom used to get up early and stand beside the road that led to the city gate. Whenever anyone came by who had a complaint to bring to the king for arbitration, Absalom would call out to him, "What city are you from ?" The person would answer, "I, your servant, 30 am from one of the tribes of Israel." 3 Absalom would then say to him, "Look, your claims are legitimate and appropriate. 31 But there is no representative of the king who will listen to you." 4 Absalom would then say, "If only they would make me<sup>32</sup> a judge in the land ! <sup>5</sup> When someone approached to bow before him, Absalom†† would extend his hand and embrace him and kiss him. <sup>6</sup> Absalom acted this way toward everyone in Israel who came to the king for justice. In this way Absalom won the loyalty‡ of the citizens‡† of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> After four‡‡ years Absalom said to the king, "Let me go and repay my vow that I made to the LORD while I was in Hebron. <sup>8</sup> For I made this vow‡†† when I was living in Geshur in Aram : 'If the LORD really does allow me to return to Jerusalem, ‡‡‡ I will serve the LORD.'" <sup>9</sup> The king replied to him, "Go in peace." So Absalom‡ got up and went to Hebron.

<sup>10</sup> Then Absalom sent spies through all the tribes of Israel who said, "When you hear the sound of the horn, you may assume‡† that Absalom rules in Hebron." <sup>11</sup> Now two hundred men had gone with Absalom from Jerusalem. Since they were invited, they went naively and were unaware of what Absalom was planning. <sup>‡††12</sup> While he was offering sacrifices, Absalom sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's adviser, ‡† to come from his city, Giloh. ‡†† The conspiracy was gaining momentum, and the people were starting to side with Absalom.

David Flees from Jerusalem

<sup>25</sup> Then the king said to Zadok, "Take the ark of God back to the city. If I find favor in the LORD's sight he will bring me back and enable me to see both it and his dwelling place again. <sup>26</sup> However, if he should say, 'I do not take pleasure in you,' then he will deal with me in a way that he considers appropriate." <sup>40</sup>

<sup>30</sup> As David was going up the Mount of Olives, he was weeping as he went; his head was covered and his feet were bare. All the people who were with him also had their heads covered and were weeping as they went up. <sup>31</sup> Now David‡ had been told, "Ahithophel has sided with the conspirators who are with Absalom. So David prayed, ‡† " Make the advice of Ahithophel foolish, O LORD!"

<sup>32</sup> When David reached the summit, where he used to worship God, Hushai the Arkite met him with his clothes torn and dirt on his head. <sup>33</sup> David said to him, "If you leave‡† with me you will be a burden to me. <sup>34</sup> But you will be able to counter the advice of Ahithophel if you go back to the city and say to Absalom, 'I will be your servant, O king! <sup>37</sup> So David's friend Hushai arrived in the city, just as Absalom was entering Jerusalem.

Shimei Curses David and His Men

<sup>5</sup> Then King David reached§§† Bahurim. There a man from Saul's extended family named Shimei son of Gera came out, yelling curses as he approached. <sup>§§§6</sup> He threw stones at David and all of King David's servants, as well as all the people and the soldiers who were on his right and on his left. <sup>7</sup> As he yelled curses, Shimei said, "Leave! Leave! You man of bloodshed, you wicked man! <sup>188</sup> The LORD has punished you for<sup>19</sup> all the spilled blood of the house of Saul, in whose place you rule. Now the LORD has given the kingdom into the hand of your son Absalom. Disaster has overtaken you, for you are a man of bloodshed!"

<sup>9</sup> Then Abishai son of Zeruiah said to the king, "Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? Let me go over and cut off his head!" <sup>10</sup> But the king said, "What do we have in common,<sup>20</sup> you sons of Zeruiah? If he curses because the LORD has said to him, 'Curse David!', who can say to him, 'Why have you done this?'" <sup>11</sup> Then David said to Abishai and to all his servants, "My own son, my very own flesh and blood, <sup>21</sup> is trying to take my life. So also now this Benjaminite! Leave him alone so that he can curse, for the LORD has spoken to him. <sup>12</sup> Perhaps the LORD will notice my affliction<sup>22</sup> and this day grant me good in place of his curse."<sup>23</sup>

<sup>13</sup> So David and his men went on their way. But Shimei kept going along the side of the hill opposite

The Advice of Ahithophel

<sup>17</sup> Absalom said to Hushai, "Do you call this loyalty to your friend? Why didn't you go with your friend?" <sup>18</sup> Hushai replied to Absalom, "No, I will be loyal to the one whom the LORD, these people, and all the men of Israel have chosen. <sup>††19</sup> Moreover, whom should I serve? Should it not be his son? Just as I served your father, so I will serve you." ‡‡‡

<sup>20</sup> Then Absalom said to Ahithophel, "Give us your advice. What should we do?" <sup>21</sup> Ahithophel replied to Absalom, "Have sex with§ your father's concubines whom he left to care for the palace. All Israel will hear that you have made yourself repulsive to your father. Then your followers will be motivated to support you." <sup>‡†22</sup> So they pitched a tent for Absalom on the roof, ‡†† and Absalom had sex with§† his father's concubines in the sight of all Israel.

17 Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Let me pick out twelve thousand men. Then I will go and pursue David this very night. <sup>2</sup> When I catch up with§† him he will be exhausted and worn out.‡†† I will rout him, and the entire army that is with him will flee. I will kill only

† tn: Heb "and he cursed and threw stones, opposite him, pelting [them] with dirt." He simultaneously threw stones and dirt. †† tn: Heb "he"; the referent (David) has been specified in the translation for clarity. ‡ tn: Heb "and all the people, the men of Israel." †† map: For location see . ‡‡ tn: Heb "to Absalom." the king<sup>3</sup> and will bring the entire army back to you. In exchange for the life of the man you are seeking, you will get back everyone. ‡‡† The entire army will return unharmed." ‡‡‡

<sup>7</sup> Hushai replied to Absalom, "Ahithophel's advice is not sound this time." <sup>218</sup> Hushai went on to say, "You know your father and his men – they are soldiers and are as dangerous as a bear out in the wild that has been robbed of her cubs. <sup>22</sup> Your father is an experienced soldier; he will not stay overnight with the army. <sup>9</sup> At this very moment he is hiding out in one of the caves or in some other similar place. If it should turn out that he attacks our troops first, <sup>23</sup> whoever hears about it will say, 'Absalom's army has been slaughtered!' <sup>10</sup> If that happens even the bravest soldier – one who is lion-hearted – will virtually melt away. For all Israel knows that your father is a warrior and that those who are with him are brave. <sup>11</sup> My advice therefore is this: Let all Israel from Dan to Beer Sheba – in number like the sand by the sea! – be mustered to you, and you lead them personally into battle. <sup>12</sup> We will come against him wherever he happens to be found. We will descend on him like the dew falls on the ground. Neither he nor any of the men who are with him will be spared alive – not one of them! <sup>13</sup> If he regroups in a city, all Israel will take up ropes to that city and drag it down to the valley, so that not a single pebble will be left there!"

<sup>14</sup> Then Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Arkite sounds better than the advice of Ahithophel." Now the LORD had decided<sup>24</sup> to frustrate the sound advice of Ahithophel, so that the LORD could bring disaster on Absalom.

desert† tonight. Instead, be sure you cross over,†† or else the king and everyone who is with him may be overwhelmed.”‡

<sup>17</sup> Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz were staying in En Rogel. A female servant would go and inform them, and they would then go and inform King David. It was not advisable for them to be seen going into the city.<sup>18</sup> But a young man saw them on one occasion and informed Absalom. So the two of them quickly departed and went to the house of a man in Bahurim. There was a well in his courtyard, and they got down in it.<sup>19</sup> His wife then took the covering and spread it over the top of the well and scattered some grain over it. No one was aware of what she had done.

<sup>27</sup> When David came to Mahanaim, Shobi the son of Nahash from Rabbah of the Ammonites, Makir the son of Ammiel from Lo Debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite from Rogelim<sup>28</sup> brought bedding, basins, and pottery utensils. They also brought food for David and all who were with him, including wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, lentils,<sup>§†29</sup> honey, curds, flocks, and cheese.§† For they said, “The people are no doubt hungry, tired, and thirsty there in the desert.”§§†

18 David assembled the army that was with him. He appointed leaders of thousands and leaders of hundreds.<sup>2</sup> David then sent out the army – a third under the leadership of Joab, a third under the leadership of Joab’s brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and a third under the leadership of Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, “I too will indeed march out with you.”

So the king stayed beside the city gate, while all the army marched out by hundreds and by thousands.<sup>5</sup> The king gave this order to Joab, Abishai, and Ittai: “For my sake deal gently with the young man Absalom.” Now the entire army was listening when the king gave all the leaders this order concerning Absalom.

14 Joab replied, "I will not wait around like this for you!" He took three spears in his hand and thrust them into the middle of Absalom while he was still alive in the middle of the oak tree. <sup>§†15</sup> Then ten soldiers who were Joab's armor bearers struck Absalom and finished him off.

16 Then Joab blew the trumpet§†† and the army turned back from chasing Israel, for Joab had called for the army to halt. 17 They took Absalom, threw him into a large pit in the forest, and stacked a huge pile of stones over him. In the meantime all the Israelite soldiers fled to their homes. §‡

18 Prior to this§†† Absalom had set up a monument§† and dedicated it to himself in the King's Valley, reasoning "I have no son who will carry on my name." He named the monument after himself, and to this day it is known as Absalom's Memorial.

There is a play on the word "heart" here that is difficult to reproduce in English. Literally the Hebrew text says "he took three spears in his hand and thrust them into the heart of Absalom while he was still alive in the heart of the oak tree." This figure of speech involves the use of the same word in different senses and is known as antanaclassis. It is illustrated in the familiar saying from the time of the American Revolution: "If we don't hang together, we will all hang separately." The present translation understands "heart" to be used somewhat figuratively for "chest" (cf. TEV, CEV), which explains why Joab's armor bearers could still "kill" Absalom after he had been stabbed with three spears through the "heart." Since trees do not have "chests" either, the translation uses "middle." §†† tn: Heb "the shophar" (the ram's horn trumpet). §‡ tn: Heb "and all Israel fled, each to his tent." 21 Then Joab said to the Cushite, "Go and tell the king what you have seen." After bowing to Joab, the Cushite ran off. 22 Ahimaaz the son of Zadok again spoke to Joab, "Whatever happens, let me go after the Cushite." But Joab said, "Why is it that you want to go, my son ? You have no good news that will bring you a reward." 23 But he said, §§† "Whatever happens, I want to go!" So Joab§§§ said to him, "Then go!" So Ahimaaz ran by the way of the Jordan plain, and he passed the Cushite.

24 Now David was sitting between the inner and outer gates, <sup>18</sup> and the watchman went up to the roof over the gate at the wall. When he looked, he saw a man running by himself. 25 So the watchman called out and informed the king. The king said, "If he is by himself, he brings good news." 19 The runner<sup>20</sup> came ever closer.

26 Then the watchman saw another man running. The watchman called out to the gatekeeper, "There is another man running by himself." The king said, "This one also is bringing good news." 27 The watchman said, "It appears to me that the first runner is Ahimaaz<sup>21</sup> son of Zadok." The king said, "He is a good man, and he comes with good news."

28 Then Ahimaaz called out and said to the king, "Greetings !"<sup>22</sup> He bowed down before the king with his face toward the ground and said, "May the LORD your God be praised because he has defeated<sup>23</sup> the men who opposed<sup>24</sup> my lord the king!"

29 The king replied, "How is the young man Absalom ?" Ahimaaz replied, "I saw a great deal of confusion when Joab was sending the king's servant and me, your servant, but I don't know what it was all about."

30 The king said, "Turn aside and take your place here." So he turned aside and waited.

31 Then the Cushite arrived and said, <sup>25</sup> " May my lord the king now receive the good news! The LORD has vindicated you today and delivered you from the hand of all who have rebelled against you!" <sup>2632</sup> The king asked the Cushite, "How is the young man Absalom ?" The Cushite replied, "May the enemies of my lord the king and all who have plotted against you<sup>27</sup> be like that young man!"

<sup>33</sup> † The king then became very upset. He went up to the upper room over the gate and wept. As he went he said, "My son, Absalom ! My son, my son, †† Absalom ! If only I could have died in your place ! Absalom, my son, my son!" ‡

19 Joab was told, "The king is weeping and mourning over Absalom." <sup>2</sup> So the victory of that day was turned to mourning as far as all the people were concerned. For the people heard on that day, "The king is grieved over his son." <sup>3</sup> That day the people stole away to go to the city the way people who are embarrassed steal away in fleeing from battle. <sup>4</sup> The king covered his face and cried out loudly, †† " My son, Absalom ! Absalom, my son, my son!"

<sup>5</sup> So Joab visited†† the king at his home. He said, "Today you have embarrassed all your servants who have saved your life this day, as well as the lives of your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your concubines. <sup>6</sup> You seem to love your enemies and hate your friends ! For you have as much as declared today that leaders and servants don't matter to you. I realize now†† that if†† Absalom were alive and all of us were dead today, § it would be all right with you. <sup>7</sup> So get up now and go out and give some encouragement to†† your servants. For I swear by the LORD that if you don't go out there, not a single man will stay here with you tonight ! This disaster will be worse for you than any disaster that has overtaken you from your youth right to the present time!"

<sup>8</sup> So the king got up and sat at the city gate. When all the people were informed that the king was sitting at the city gate, they††† all came before him.

But the Israelite soldiers † had all fled to their own homes. †††† All the people throughout all the tribes of Israel were arguing among themselves saying, "The king delivered us from the hand of our enemies. Now the people of Judah<sup>22</sup> had come to Gilgal to meet the king and to help him<sup>23</sup> cross the Jordan. <sup>16</sup> Shimei son of Gera the Benjaminite from Bahurim came down quickly with the men of Judah to meet King David. <sup>17</sup> There were a thousand men from Benjamin with him, along with Ziba the servant<sup>24</sup> of Saul's household, and with him his fifteen sons and twenty servants. They hurriedly crossed<sup>25</sup> the Jordan within sight of the king. <sup>18</sup> They crossed at the ford in order to help the king's household cross and to do whatever he thought appropriate.

Now after he had crossed the Jordan, Shimei son of Gera threw himself down before the king. <sup>19</sup> He said to the king, "Don't think badly of me, my lord, and don't recall the sin of your servant on the day when you, my lord the king, left<sup>26</sup> Jerusalem !<sup>27</sup> Please don't call it to mind! <sup>20</sup> For I, your servant, <sup>28</sup> know that I sinned, and I have come today as the first of all the house of Joseph to come down to meet my lord the king."

It is one of fifteen places where the Masoretes placed a dot over each of the letters of the word in question in order to call attention to their suspicion of the word. Their concern in this case apparently had to do with the fact that this verb and the two preceding verbs alternate from third person to second and back again to third. Words marked in this way in Hebrew manuscripts or printed editions are said to have puncta extrordinaria, or "extraordinary points." <sup>27</sup> map: For location see . <sup>28</sup> tn: The Hebrew text has simply "your servant."

common,† you sons of Zeruiah? You are like my enemy today! Should anyone be put to death in Israel today? Don't you realize that today I am king over Israel?"<sup>23</sup> The king said to Shimei, "You won't die." The king vowed an oath†† concerning this.

<sup>25</sup> When he came from Jerusalem to meet the king, the king asked him, "Why didn't you go with me, Mephibosheth?" <sup>26</sup> He replied, "My lord the king, my servant deceived me! ‡ said, 'Let me get my donkey saddled so that I can ride on it and go with the king,' for I‡† am lame. <sup>27</sup> But my servant‡†† has slandered me‡‡ to my lord the king. But my lord the king is like an angel of God. Do whatever seems appropriate to you.

<sup>29</sup> Then the king replied to him, "Why should you continue speaking like this? You and Ziba will inherit the field together." <sup>30</sup> Mephibosheth said to the king, "Let him have‡†† the whole thing! My lord the king has returned safely‡‡‡ to his house!"

<sup>31</sup> Now when Barzillai the Gileadite had come down from Rogelim, he crossed the Jordan with the king so he could send him on his way from there. <sup>‡‡‡‡‡</sup> But Barzillai was very old – eighty years old, in fact – and he had taken care of the king when he stayed in Mahanaim, for he was a very rich <sup>18</sup> man. <sup>33</sup> So the king said to Barzillai, "Cross over with me, and I will take care of you while you are with me in Jerusalem."

the king reward me in this way?<sup>37</sup> Let me<sup>22</sup> return so that I may die in my own city near the grave of my father and my mother. But look, here is your servant Kimham. Let him cross over with my lord the king. Do for him whatever seems appropriate to you."

<sup>38</sup> The king replied, "Kimham will cross over with me, and I will do for him whatever I deem appropriate. And whatever you choose, I will do for you."

<sup>41</sup> Then all the men of Israel began coming to the king. They asked the king, "Why did our brothers, the men of Judah, sneak the king away and help the king and his household cross the Jordan – and not only him but all of David's men as well?"

"We have no share in David;
we have no inheritance in this son of Jesse!

3 Then David went to his palace†† in Jerusalem. The king took the ten concubines he had left to care for the palace and placed them under confinement. ‡‡ Though he provided for their needs, he did not have sexual relations with them.‡‡‡ They remained in confinement until the day they died, living out the rest of their lives as widows.

4 Then the king said to Amasa, "Call the men of Judah together for me in three days, ‡‡‡ and you be present here with them too." <sup>5</sup> So Amasa went out to call Judah together. But in doing so he took longer than the time that the king had allotted him.

Otherwise he will secure§ fortified cities for himself and get away from us." <sup>7</sup> So Joab's men, accompanied by the Kerethites, the Pelethites, and all the warriors, left Jerusalem to pursue Sheba son of Bicri.

§† sn: The significance of the statement it fell out here is unclear. If the dagger fell out of its sheath before Joab got to Amasa, how then did he kill him? Josephus, Ant. 7.11.7 (7.284), suggested that as Joab approached Amasa he deliberately caused the dagger to fall to the ground at an opportune moment as though by accident. When he bent over and picked it up, he then stabbed Amasa with it. Others have tried to make a case for thinking that two swords are referred to – the one that fell out and another that Joab kept concealed until the last moment. But nothing in the text clearly supports this view. Perhaps Josephus' understanding is best, but it is by no means obvious in the text either. §†† tn: Heb "he"; the referent (Joab) has been specified in the translation for clarity.

stabbed him in the abdomen, causing Amasa's§† intestines to spill out on the ground. There was no need to stab him again; the first blow was fatal. §†† Then Joab and his brother Abishai pursued Sheba son of Bicri.

When they had assembled, <sup>20</sup> they too joined him. <sup>15</sup> So Joab's men<sup>21</sup> came and laid siege against him in Abel of Beth Maacah. They prepared a siege ramp outside the city which stood against its outer rampart. As all of Joab's soldiers were trying to break through<sup>22</sup> the wall so that it would collapse, <sup>16</sup> a wise woman called out from the city, "Listen up! Listen up! Tell Joab, 'Come near so that I may speak to you.'"

I'm listening." <sup>18</sup> She said, "In the past they would always say, 'Let them inquire in Abel,' and that is how they settled things. <sup>19</sup> I represent the peaceful and the faithful in Israel. <sup>22</sup> Then the woman went to all the people with her wise advice and they cut off Sheba's head and threw it out to Joab. Joab‡ blew the trumpet, and his men‡‡ dispersed from the city, each going to his own home. ‡‡ Joab returned to the king in Jerusalem.

21 During David's reign there was a famine for three consecutive years. So David inquired of the LORD. §† The LORD said, "It is because of Saul and his bloodstained family, §†† because he murdered the Gibeonites."

<sup>4</sup> The Gibeonites said to him, "We§† have no claim to silver or gold from Saul or from his family, §‡ nor would we be justified in putting to death anyone in Israel." David asked, §‡† "What then are you asking me to do for you?" <sup>5</sup> They replied to the king, "As for this man who exterminated us and who schemed against us so that we were destroyed and left without status throughout all the borders of Israel – <sup>6</sup> let seven of his male descendants be turned over to us, and we will execute§‡† them before the LORD in Gibeah of Saul, who was the LORD's chosen one." <sup>§‡‡‡</sup> The king replied, "I will turn them over."

<sup>7</sup> The king had mercy on Mephibosheth son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, in light of the LORD's oath that had been taken between David and Jonathan son of Saul. <sup>8</sup> So the king took Armoni and Mephibosheth, the two sons of Aiah's daughter Rizpah whom she had born to Saul, and the five sons of Saul's daughter Merab<sup>18</sup> whom she had born to Adriel the son of Barzillai the Meholathite. <sup>9</sup> He turned them over to the Gibeonites, and they executed them on a hill before the LORD. The seven of them<sup>19</sup> died <sup>20</sup> together; they were put to death during harvest time – during the first days of the beginning <sup>21</sup> of the barley harvest.

18 Later there was another battle with the Philistines, this time in Gob. On that occasion Sibbekai the Hushathite killed Saph, who was one of the descendants of Rapha. 19 Yet another battle occurred with the Philistines in Gob. On that occasion Elhanan the son of Jair§ the Bethlehemite killed the brother of Goliath the Gittite, §† the shaft of whose spear was like a ‡‡‡ tn: The Hebrew text reads simply "a new [thing]," prompting one to ask "A new what?" Several possibilities have been proposed to resolve the problem: perhaps a word has dropped out of the Hebrew text here; or perhaps the word "new" is the result of misreading a different, less common, word; or perhaps a word (e.g., "sword," so KJV, NAB, NASB, NIV, CEV, NLT) is simply to be inferred. The translation generally follows the latter possibility, while at the same time being deliberately nonspecific ("weapon").

The term is omitted in the parallel account in 1 Chr 20:5, which has simply "Jair." §† sn: The Hebrew text as it stands reads, "Elhanan son of Jaare-Oregim the Bethlehemite killed Goliath the Gittite." Who killed Goliath the Gittite? According to 1 Sam 17:4-58 it was David who killed Goliath, but according to the MT of 2 Sam 21:19 it was Elhanan who killed him. Many scholars believe that the two passages are hopelessly at variance with one another. Others have proposed various solutions to the difficulty, such as identifying David with Elhanan or positing the existence of two Goliaths. But in all likelihood the problem is the result of difficulties in the textual weaver's beam. 20 Yet another battle occurred in Gath. On that occasion there was a large man§†† who had six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot, twenty-four in all! He too was a descendant of Rapha. 21 When he taunted Israel, Jonathan, the son of David's brother Shimeah, killed him. 22 These four were the descendants of Rapha who lived in Gath; they were killed§‡ by David and his soldiers. §††

The horn of the wild ox is frequently a metaphor for military strength; the idiom "exalt the horn" signifies military victory (see 1 Sam 2:10; Pss 89:17, 24; 92:10; Lam 2:17). In the ancient Near East powerful warrior-kings would sometimes compare themselves to a goring bull that uses its horns to kill its enemies. For examples, see P. Miller, "El the Warrior," HTR 60 (1967): 422-25, and R. B. Chisholm, "An Exegetical and Theological Study of Psalm 18/ 2 Samuel 22" (Th.D. diss., Dallas Theological Seminary, 1983), 135-36. 2 Sam 22:3 uses the metaphor of the horn in a slightly different manner. Here the Lord himself is compared to a horn. He is to the psalmist what the horn is to the ox, a source of defense and victory. 23 tn: The parallel version of the song in Ps 18 does not include this last line. 24 tn: In this song of thanksgiving, where David recalls how the

Perhaps "his hand" should be supplied by ellipsis (see Ps 144:7). In this poetic narrative context the three prefixed verbal forms in this verse are best understood as preterites indicating past tense, not imperfects. ‡†† tn: Heb "mighty waters." The waters of the sea symbolize the psalmist's powerful enemies, as well as the realm of death they represent (see v. 5 and Ps 144:7). ‡† tn: The singular refers either to personified death or collectively to the psalmist's enemies. The following line, which refers to "those [plural] who hate me," favors the latter. ‡† tn: The same verb is translated "trapped" in v. 6. In this poetic narrative context the prefixed verbal form is best understood as a preterite indicating past tense, not imperfect. Cf. NAB, NCV, TEV, NLT "attacked." ‡†† tn: Heb "became my support." ‡‡† tn: Or "delighted in me" (so KJV, NASB, NIV, NRSV). ‡‡‡ tn: In this poetic narrative context the prefixed verbal form is best understood as a preterite indicating past tense, not imperfect. 18 tn: Heb "according to my righteousness." As vv. 22-25 make clear, David refers here to his unwavering obedience to God's commands. He explains that the Lord was pleased with him and willing to deliver him because he had been loyal to God and obedient to his commandments. Ancient Near Eastern literature contains numerous parallels. A superior (a god or king) would typically reward a subject (a king or the servant of a king, respectively) for loyalty and obedience. See R. B. Chisholm, "An Exegetical and Theological Study of Psalm 18/ 2 Samuel 22" (Th.D. diss., Dallas Theological Seminary, 1983), 211-13. 19 tn: The unreduced Hiphil prefixed verbal form appears to be an imperfect, in which case the psalmist would be generalizing. However, both the preceding and following contexts (see especially v. 25) suggest he is narrating his experience. Despite its unreduced form, the verb is better taken as a preterite. For other examples of unreduced Hiphil preterites, see Pss 55:14a; 68:9a, 10b; 80:8a; 89:43a; 107:38b; 116:6b. 20 tn: Heb "according to the purity of my hands he repaid to me." Hands suggest activity and behavior. 21 tn: Heb "for I have kept the ways of the LORD cording to my righteousness." See v. 21. † tn: Heb "according to my purity before his eyes." †† tn: The imperfect verbal forms in vv. 26-30 draw attention to God's characteristic actions. Based on his experience, the psalmist generalizes about God's just dealings with people (vv. 26-28) and about the way in which God typically empowers him on the battlefield (vv. 29-30). The Hitpaël stem is used in vv. 26-27 in a reflexive resultative (or causative) sense. God makes himself loyal, etc. in the sense that he conducts or reveals himself as such. On this use of the Hitpaël stem, see GKC 149-50 §54. e. †† tn: Or "to a faithful follower." א תסיד

David's Warriors

8 These are the names of David's warriors: Josheb-Basshebeth, a Tahkemonite, was head of the officers. ‡‡† He killed eight hundred men with his spear in one battle. ‡‡†9 Next in command‡‡‡ was Eleazar son of Dodo, 18 the son of Ahohi. He was one of the three warriors who were with David when they defied the Philistines who were assembled there for battle. When the men of Israel retreated, 1910 he stood his ground20 and fought the Philistines until his hand grew so tired that it21 seemed stuck to his sword. The LORD gave a great victory on that day. When the army returned to him, the only thing left to do was to plunder the corpses.

11 Next in command22 was Shammah son of Agee the Hararite. When the Philistines assembled at Lehi,23 where there happened to be an area of a field that was full of lentils, the army retreated before the Philistines. 12 But he made a stand in the middle of that area. He defended24 it and defeated the Philistines; the LORD gave them a great victory.

band of Philistines was camped in the valley of Rephaim. <sup>14</sup> David was in the stronghold at the time, while a Philistine garrison was in Bethlehem. <sup>15</sup> David was thirsty and said, "How I wish someone would give me some water to drink from the cistern in Bethlehem near the gate!" <sup>16</sup> So the three elite warriors broke through the Philistine forces and drew some water from the cistern in Bethlehem near the gate. They carried it back to David, but he refused to drink it. He poured it out as a drink offering to the LORD <sup>17</sup> and said, "O LORD, I will not do this! †† It is equivalent to the blood of the men who risked their lives by going." ‡ So he refused to drink it. Such were the exploits of the three elite warriors. ‡†

<sup>9</sup> Joab reported the number of warriors <sup>24</sup> to the king. In Israel there were 800,000 sword-wielding warriors, and in Judah there were 500,000 soldiers.

The Samuel version gives an underlying theological perspective, while the Chronicler simply describes what happened from a human perspective. The adversary in 1 Chr 21:1 is likely a human enemy, probably a nearby nation whose hostility against Israel pressured David into numbering the people so he could assess his military strength. <sup>13</sup> Gad went to David and told him, "Shall seven‡ years of famine come upon your land? Or shall you flee for three months from your enemy with him in hot pursuit? Or shall there be three days of plague in your land? Now decide†† what I should tell the one who sent me." <sup>14</sup> David said to Gad, "I am very upset! David replied, "To buy from you the threshing floor so I can build an altar for the LORD, so that the plague may be removed from the people." <sup>22</sup> Araunah told David, "My lord the king may take whatever he wishes§†† and offer it. So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty pieces of silver. <sup>§§†25</sup> Then David built an altar for the LORD there and offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings. And the LORD accepted prayers for the land, and the plague was removed from Israel.

Adonijah Tries to Seize the Throne

The appositive expression, “a young girl, a virgin,” is idiomatic; the second term specifically defines the more general first term (see IBHS 230 §12.3b). †† tn: Heb “and she will stand before the king.” The Hebrew phrase “stand before” can mean “to attend; to serve” (BDB 764 s.v. נָצַח ††† tn: Heb “and she will lie down in your bosom.” The expression might imply sexual intimacy (see 2 Sam 12:3 [where the lamb symbolizes Bathsheba] and Mic 7:5), though v. 4b indicates that David did not actually have sex with the young woman. ††† tn: Heb “and my master, the king, will be warm.” † tn: Heb “through all the territory of Israel.” †† tn: Heb “did not know her.” ††† tn: Heb “son of Haggith,” but since this formula usually designates the father (who in this case was David), the translation specifies that David was Adonijah’s father. sn: Haggith was one of David’s wives ( 2 Sam 3:4; 2 Chr 3:2). †† tn: Heb “lifting himself up.” ††† tn: Heb “saying.” †† tn: Or “he acquired for himself.” †† tn: Heb “to run ahead of him.” ††† tn: Or “disciplined.” ††† tn: Heb “did not correct him from his days.” The phrase “from his days” means “from his earliest days,” or “ever in his life.” See GKC 382 §119. w, n. 2. ††† tn: Heb “and she gave birth to him after Absalom.” This does not imply they had the same mother; Absalom’s mother was Maacah, not Haggith ( 2 Sam 3:4). <sup>18</sup> tn: Heb “his words were.” <sup>19</sup> tn: Heb “helped after” (i.e., stood by). <sup>20</sup> tn: Heb “Adonijah.” The proper name has been re-

Nathan entered and bowed before the king with his face to the floor. <sup>‡‡‡24</sup> Nathan said, "My master, O king, did you announce, 'Adonijah will be king after me; he will sit on my throne?' <sup>25</sup> For today he has gone down and sacrificed many cattle, steers, and sheep and has invited all the king's sons, the army commanders, and Abiathar the priest. ### David Picks Solomon as His Successor

19 So Bathsheba visited King Solomon to speak to him on Adonijah's behalf. The king got up to greet ††† her, bowed to her, and then sat on his throne. He ordered a throne to be brought for the king's mother, § and she sat at his right hand. 20 She said, "I would like to ask you for just one small favor. †† Please don't refuse me. ††† He said, †† " Go ahead and ask, my mother, for I would not refuse you." 21 She said, "Allow Abishag the Shunammite to be given to your brother Adonijah as a wife." 22 King Solomon answered his mother, "Why just request Abishag the Shunammite for him? ††† Since he is my older brother, you should also request the kingdom for him, for Abiathar the priest, and for Joab son of Zeruiah!"

23 King Solomon then swore an oath by the LORD, "May God judge me severely, †† if Adonijah does not pay for this request with his life! †††24 Now, as certainly as the LORD lives (he who made me secure, allowed me to sit on my father David's throne, and established a dynasty ††† for me as he promised), Adonijah will be executed today!" 25 King Solomon then sent ††† Benaiah son of Jehoiada, and he killed Adonijah. ††† heard<sup>26</sup> that Joab had run to the tent of the LORD and was right there beside the altar, he ordered Benaiah son of Jehoiada, <sup>27</sup> "Go, strike him down." <sup>30</sup> When Benaiah arrived at the tent of the LORD, he said to him, "The king says, 'Come out!'" But he replied, "No, I will die here!" So Benaiah sent word to the king and reported Joab's reply. <sup>28,31</sup> The king told him, "Do as he said! Strike him down and bury him. Take away from me and from my father's family<sup>29</sup> the guilt of Joab's murderous, bloody deeds. <sup>30,32</sup> May the LORD punish him for the blood he shed,<sup>31</sup> behind my father David's back he struck down and murdered with the sword two men who were more innocent and morally upright than he <sup>32</sup> – Abner son of Ner, commander of Israel's army, and Amasa son of Jether, commander of Judah's army. <sup>33</sup> May Joab and his descendants be perpetually guilty of their shed blood, but may the LORD give perpetual peace to David, his descendants, his family, <sup>33</sup> and his dynasty." <sup>34,34</sup> So Benaiah son of Jehoiada went up and executed Joab;<sup>35</sup> he was buried at his home in the wilderness. <sup>35</sup> The king appointed Benaiah son of Jehoiada to take his place at the head of<sup>36</sup> the army, and the king appointed Zadok the priest to take Abiathar's place. <sup>37</sup>

<sup>36</sup> Next the king summoned<sup>38</sup> Shimei and told him, "Build yourself a house in Jerusalem<sup>39</sup> and live there – but you may not leave there to go anywhere! <sup>40,37</sup> If you ever do leave and cross the Kidron Valley, know for sure that you will certainly die! You will be responsible for your own death." <sup>41,38</sup> Shimei said to the king, "My master the king's proposal is acceptable. <sup>42</sup> Your servant will do as you say." <sup>43</sup> So Shimei lived in Jerusalem for a long time. <sup>44</sup>

<sup>39</sup> Three years later two of Shimei's servants ran away to King Achish son of Maacah of Gath. Shimei was told, "Look, your servants are in Gath." <sup>40</sup> So Shimei got up, saddled his donkey, and went to Achish at Gath to find his servants; Shimei went and brought

16 Then two prostitutes came to the king and stood before him. 17 One of the women said, "My master, this woman and I live in the same house. I had a baby while she was with me in the house. 18 Then three days after I had my baby, this woman also had a baby. We were alone; there was no one else in the house except the two of us. 19 This woman's child suffocated†† during the night when she rolled‡ on top of him. 20 She got up in the middle of the night and took my son from my side, while your servant was sleeping. She put him in her arms, and put her dead son in my arms. 21 I got up in the morning to nurse my son, and there he was,‡† dead ! But when I examined him carefully in the morning, I realized it was not my baby." ‡‡22 The other woman said, "No ! My son is alive; your son is dead !" But the first woman replied, "No, your son is dead; my son is alive." Each presented her case before the king. ‡‡†

23 The king said, "One says, 'My son is alive; your son is dead,' while the other says, 'No, your son is dead; my son is alive.'" 24 The king ordered, "Get me a sword !" So they placed a sword before the king. 25 The king then said, "Cut the living child in two, and give half to one and half to the other!" 26 The real mother‡‡† spoke up to the king, for her motherly instincts were aroused. § She said, "My master, give her the living child ! Whatever you do, don't kill him!"§† But the other woman said, "Neither one of us will have him! Let them cut him in two!" 27 The king responded, "Give the first woman the living child; don't kill him. She is the mother." 28 When all Israel heard about the judicial decision which the king had rendered, they respected§†† the king, for they realized§† that he possessed supernatural wisdom§†† to make judicial decisions.

7 Solomon had twelve district governors appointed throughout Israel who acquired supplies for the king and his palace. Each was responsible for one month in the year. <sup>8</sup> These were their names :

Ben-Hur was in charge of the hill country of Ephraim.

9 Ben-Deker was in charge of Makaz, Shaalbim, Beth Shemesh, and Elon Beth Hanan.

10 Ben-Hesed was in charge of Arubboth; he controlled Socoh and all the territory of Hopher.

11 Ben-Abinadab was in charge of Naphath Dor. (He was married to Solomon's daughter Taphath.)

12 Baana son of Ahilud was in charge of Taanach and Megiddo, <sup>20</sup> as well as all of Beth Shan next to Zarethan below Jezreel, from Beth Shan to Abel Meholah and on past Jokmeam.

13 Ben-Geber was in charge of Ramoth Gilead; he controlled the tent villages of Jair son of Manasseh in Gilead, as well as the region of Argob in Bashan, including sixty large walled cities with bronze bars locking their gates.

14 Ahinadab son of Iddo was in charge of Mahanaim.

15 Ahimaaz was in charge of Naphtali. (He married Solomon's daughter Basemath.)

16 Baana son of Hushai was in charge of Asher and Aloth.

17 Jehoshaphat son of Paruah was in charge of Issachar.

18 Shimei son of Ela was in charge of Benjamin.

19 Geber son of Uri was in charge of the land of Gilead (the territory which had once belonged to King Sihon of the Amorites and to King Og of Bashan ). He was sole governor of the area.

Solomon's Wealth and Fame

20 The people of Judah and Israel were as innumerable as the sand on the seashore; they had plenty to eat and drink and were happy. <sup>21 21</sup> Solomon ruled all the kingdoms from the Euphrates River<sup>22</sup> to the land of the Philistines, as far as the border of Egypt. These kingdoms paid tribute as Solomon's subjects throughout his lifetime.<sup>122</sup> Each day Solomon's royal court consumed†† thirty cors‡ of finely milled flour, sixty cors of cereal,<sup>23</sup> ten calves fattened in the stall,†† twenty calves from the pasture, and a hundred sheep, not to mention rams, gazelles, deer, and well-fed birds.<sup>24</sup> His royal court was so large because‡‡ he ruled over all the kingdoms west of the Euphrates River from Tiphrah‡‡† to Gaza; he was at peace with all his neighbors.<sup>‡‡‡25</sup> All the people of Judah and Israel had security; everyone from Dan to Beer Sheba enjoyed the produce of their vines and fig trees throughout Solomon's lifetime.<sup>§26</sup> Solomon had 4,000§† stalls for his chariot horses and 12,000 horses.<sup>27</sup> The district governors acquired supplies for King Solomon and all who ate in his royal palace.§†† Each was responsible for one month in the year; they made sure nothing was lacking.<sup>28</sup> Each one also brought to the assigned location his quota of barley and straw for the various horses.§

Solomon Commissions Hiram to Supply the Temple

The translation supplies "pomegranates" after "two rows," and understands "pillars," rather than "pomegranates," to be the correct reading after "on top of." The latter change finds support from many Hebrew mss ticework, there were two hundred pomegranate-shaped ornaments arranged in rows all the way around.<sup>2121</sup> He set up the pillars on the porch in front of the main hall. He erected one pillar on the right<sup>22</sup> side and called it Jakin;<sup>23</sup> he erected the other pillar on the left<sup>24</sup> side and called it Boaz.<sup>2522</sup> The tops of the pillars were shaped like lilies. So the construction of the pillars was completed.

feet long. † On the edge of the opening were carvings in square frames. ††32 The four wheels were under the frames and the crossbars of the axles were connected to the stand. Each wheel was two and one-quarter feet‡ high. 33 The wheels were constructed like chariot wheels; their crossbars, rims, spokes, and hubs were made of cast metal. 34 Each stand had four supports, one per side projecting out from the stand. ††35 On top of each stand was a round opening three-quarters of a foot deep; †† there were also supports and frames on top of the stands. 36 He engraved ornamental cherubs, lions, and palm trees on the plates of the supports and frames wherever there was room, ††† with wreaths††† all around. 37 He made the ten stands in this way. All of them were cast in one mold and were identical in measurements and shape.

38 He also made ten bronze basins, each of which could hold about 240 gallons. § Each basin was six feet in diameter,§† there was one basin for each stand. 39 He put five basins on the south side of the temple and five on the north side. He put "The Sea" on the south side, in the southeast corner.

40 Hiram also made basins, shovels, and bowls. He§†† finished all the work on the LORD's temple he had been assigned by King Solomon. §†41 He made§†† the two pillars, the two bowl-shaped tops of the pillars, the latticework for the bowl-shaped tops of the two pillars, 42 the four hundred pomegranate-shaped ornaments for the latticework of the two pillars (each latticework had two rows of these ornaments at the bowl-shaped top of the pillar), 43 the ten movable stands with their ten basins, 44 the big bronze basin called "The Sea" with its twelve bulls underneath, §†45 and the pots, shovels, and bowls. All these items King Solomon assigned Hiram to make for the LORD's temple§† were made from polished bronze. 46 The king had them cast in earth foundries§§† in the region of the Jordan between Succoth and Zarethan. 47 Solomon left all these items un-weighed; there were so many of them they did not weigh the bronze. §§†

48 Solomon also made all these items for the LORD's temple : the gold altar, the gold table on which was kept the Bread of the Presence, §§§49 the pure gold lampstands at the entrance to the inner sanctuary (five on the right and five on the left ), the gold flower-shaped ornaments, lamps, and tongs, 50 the pure gold bowls, trimming shears, basins, pans, and censers, and the gold door sockets for the inner sanctuary (the most holy place) and for the doors of the main hall of the temple. 51 When King Solomon finished constructing the LORD's temple, he<sup>18</sup> put the holy items that belonged to his father David (the silver, gold, and other articles ) in the treasuries of the LORD's temple.

8 Then Solomon convened in Jerusalem<sup>19</sup> Israel's elders, all the leaders of the Israelite tribes and families, so they could witness the transfer of the ark of the LORD's covenant from the city of David (that is, Zion). 202 All the men of Israel assembled before King Solomon during the festival<sup>21</sup> in the month Ethanim<sup>22</sup> (the seventh month). 3 When all Israel's elders had arrived, the priests lifted the ark. 4 The priests and Levites carried the ark of the LORD , the tent of meeting, 23 and all the holy items in the tent. 245 Now King Solomon and all the Israelites who had assembled with him went on ahead of the ark and sacrificed more sheep and cattle than could be counted or numbered. 25

6 The priests brought the ark of the LORD's covenant to its assigned<sup>26</sup> place in the inner sanctuary of the temple, in the most holy place, under the wings of the cherubs. 7 The cherubs' wings extended over the place where the ark sat; the cherubs overshadowed the ark and its poles. 278 The poles were so long their ends were visible from the holy place in front of the inner sanctuary, but they could not be seen from beyond

In the Hebrew text the words "and forgive" conclude v. 30, but the accusative sign at the beginning of v. 31 suggests the verb actually goes with what follows in v. 31. The parallel text in 2 Chr 6:22 begins with "and if," rather than the accusative sign. ### Solomon Dedicates the Temple

Foreign Affairs and Building Projects

Solomon's Wealth

The throne had two armrests with a statue of a lion standing on each side. <sup>120</sup> There were twelve statues of lions on the six steps, one lion at each end of each step. There was nothing like it in any other kingdom. ††

<sup>21</sup> All of King Solomon's cups were made of gold, and all the household items in the Palace of the Lebanon Forest were made of pure gold. There were no silver items, for silver was not considered very valuable in Solomon's time. <sup>‡22</sup> Along with Hiram's fleet, the king had a fleet of large merchant ships†† that sailed the sea. Once every three years the fleet†† came into port with cargoes of††† gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks. ‡‡

<sup>9</sup> The LORD was angry with Solomon because he had shifted his allegiance<sup>37</sup> away from the LORD, the God of Israel, who had appeared to him on two occasions<sup>3810</sup> and had warned him about this very thing, so that he would not follow other gods. <sup>39</sup> But he did not obey<sup>40</sup> the LORD's command. <sup>11</sup> So the LORD said to Solomon, "Because you insist on doing these things and have not kept the covenantal rules I gave you,<sup>41</sup> I will surely tear the kingdom away from you and give it some men and organized a raiding band. <sup>19</sup> When David tried to kill them,<sup>20</sup> they went to Damascus, where they settled down and gained control of the city. <sup>25</sup> He was Israel's enemy throughout Solomon's reign and, like Hadad, caused trouble. He loathed<sup>21</sup> Israel and ruled over Syria.

Solomon's Reign Ends

<sup>6</sup> King Rehoboam consulted with the older advisers who had served<sup>23</sup> his father Solomon when he had been alive. He asked them,<sup>24</sup> "How do you advise me to answer these people?" <sup>7</sup> They said to him, "Today if you show a willingness to help these people and grant their request, they will be your servants from this time forward." <sup>258</sup> But Rehoboam rejected their advice and consulted the young advisers who served him, with whom he had grown up. <sup>269</sup> He asked them, "How do you advise me<sup>27</sup> to respond to these people who said to me, 'Lessen the demands your father placed on us?'" <sup>2810</sup> The young advisers with whom Rehoboam<sup>29</sup> had grown up said to him, "Say this to these people who have said to you, 'Your father made us work hard, but now lighten our burden.'" <sup>30</sup> Say this to them: 'I am a lot harsher than my father! <sup>3111</sup> My father imposed heavy demands on you; I will make them even heavier. <sup>32</sup> My father punished you with ordinary whips; I will punish you with whips that really sting your flesh.'" <sup>33</sup>

<sup>12</sup> Jeroboam and all the people reported<sup>34</sup> to Rehoboam on the third day, just as the king had ordered when he said, "Return to me on the third day." <sup>13</sup> The king responded to the people harshly. <sup>16</sup> When all Israel saw that the king refused to listen to them, the people answered the king, “We have no portion in David, no share in the son of Jesse!‡† Return to your homes, O Israel!‡† Now, look after your own dynasty, O David!”††† So Israel returned to their homes.<sup>‡††17</sup> (Rehoboam continued to rule over the Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah.)<sup>18</sup> King Rehoboam sent Adoniram,§ the supervisor of the work crews,§† out after them, but all Israel stoned him to death. King Rehoboam managed to jump into his chariot and escape to Jerusalem.<sup>§††19</sup> So Israel has been in rebellion against the Davidic dynasty to this very day.<sup>20</sup> When all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, they summoned him to the assembly and made him king over all Israel. No one except the tribe of Judah remained loyal to the Davidic dynasty.§†

He will sacrifice on you the priests of the high places who offer sacrifices on you. Human bones will be burned on you.'" <sup>††3</sup> That day he also announced‡ a sign, "This is the sign the LORD has predetermined.‡† The altar will be split open and the ashes‡† on it will fall to the ground." <sup>‡††4</sup> When the king heard what the prophet‡†† cried out against the altar in Bethel, Jeroboam, standing at the altar, extended his hand§ and ordered, §† "Seize him!" The hand he had extended shriveled up§†† and he could not pull it back. <sup>5</sup> The altar split open and the ashes§† fell from the altar to the ground,§†† in fulfillment of the sign the prophet had announced with the LORD's authority. <sup>§††6</sup> The king pled with§† the prophet, §†† "Seek the favor of§†† the LORD your God and pray for me, so that my hand may be restored." So the prophet sought the LORD's favor§§§ and the king's hand was restored to its former condition. <sup>187</sup> The king then said to the prophet, "Come home with me and have something to eat. I'd like to give a present." <sup>8</sup> But the prophet said to the king, "Even if you were to give me half your possessions, <sup>19</sup> I could not go with you and eat and drink<sup>20</sup> in this place. <sup>9</sup> For the LORD gave me strict orders, <sup>21</sup> 'Do not eat or drink<sup>22</sup> there and do not go home the way you came.'" <sup>10</sup> So he started back on another road; he did not travel back on the same road he had taken to Bethel.

Elah's Reign over Israel

Zimri's revolt took place while the army was deployed† in Gibbethon, which was in Philistine territory. <sup>16</sup> While deployed there, the army received this report :†† "Zimri has conspired against the king and assassinated him."‡ So all Israel made Omri, the commander of the army, king over Israel that very day in the camp. <sup>17</sup> Omri and all Israel went up from Gibbethon and besieged Tirzah. <sup>18</sup> When Zimri saw that the city was captured, he went into the fortified area of the royal palace. He set the palace on fire and died in the flames. <sup>††19</sup> This happened because of the sins he committed. He did evil in the sight of‡‡ the LORD and followed in Jeroboam's footsteps and encouraged Israel to continue sinning. ‡‡

Omri's Reign over Israel

<sup>21</sup> At that time the people of Israel were divided in their loyalties. Half the people supported Tibni son of Ginath and wanted to make him king; the other half supported Omri. <sup>22</sup> Omri's supporters were stronger than those who supported Tibni son of Ginath. Tibni died; Omri became king.

Right now I am gathering a couple of sticks for a fire. Then I'm going home to make one final meal for my son and myself. After we have eaten that, we will die of starvation." <sup>††13</sup> Elijah said to her, "Don't be afraid. Go and do as you planned.‡ But first make a small cake for me and bring it to me; then make something for yourself and your son." <sup>14</sup> For this is what the LORD God of Israel says, "The jar of flour will not be empty and the jug of oil will not run out until the day the LORD makes it rain on the surface of the ground."<sup>15</sup> She went and did as Elijah told her; there was always enough food for Elijah and for her and her family. <sup>††16</sup> The jar of flour was never empty and the jug of oil never ran out, just as the LORD had promised†† through Elijah.

<sup>18</sup> Some time later, in the third year of the famine, the LORD told Elijah, §†† "Go, make an appearance before Ahab, so I may send rain on the surface of the ground." <sup>2</sup> So Elijah went to make an appearance before Ahab.

Now the famine was severe in Samaria. <sup>§†3</sup> So Ahab summoned Obadiah, who supervised the palace. (Now Obadiah was a very loyal follower of the LORD. <sup>§†4</sup> When Jezebel was killing§† the LORD's prophets, Obadiah took one hundred prophets and hid them in two caves in two groups of fifty. He also brought them food and water.) <sup>5</sup> Ahab told Obadiah, "Go through the land to all the springs and valleys. Maybe we can find some grazing areas§† so we can keep the horses and mules alive and not have to kill§†† some of the animals." <sup>6</sup> They divided up the land between them; Ahab went§†† one way and Obadiah went the other.

Elijah Confronts Baal's Prophets

<sup>20</sup> Ahab sent messengers to all the Israelites and had the prophets assemble at Mount Carmel. <sup>21</sup> Elijah approached all the people and said, "How long are you going to be paralyzed by indecision ‡‡ If the LORD is the true God, ‡† then follow him, but if Baal is, follow him!" But the people did not say a word. <sup>22</sup> Elijah said to them ‡†† "I am the only prophet of the LORD who is left, but there are 450 prophets of Baal. <sup>23</sup> Let them bring us two bulls. Let them choose one of the bulls for themselves, cut it up into pieces, and place it on the wood. But they must not set it on fire. I will do the same to the other bull and place it on the wood. But I will not set it on fire. <sup>24</sup> Then you‡‡ will invoke the name of your god, and I will invoke the name of the LORD. The god who responds with fire will demonstrate that he is the true God." ‡‡† All the people responded, "This will be a fair test." ‡†

yelled louder and, in accordance with their prescribed ritual,<sup>19</sup> mutilated themselves with swords and spears until their bodies were covered with blood. <sup>20:29</sup> Throughout the afternoon they were in an ecstatic frenzy, <sup>21</sup> but there was no sound, no answer, and no response. <sup>22</sup>

<sup>30</sup> Elijah then told all the people, "Approach me." So all the people approached him. He repaired the altar of the LORD that had been torn down. <sup>23:31</sup> Then Elijah took twelve stones, corresponding to the number of tribes that descended from Jacob, to whom the LORD had said, "Israel will be your new<sup>24</sup> name." <sup>25:32</sup> With the stones he constructed an altar for the LORD. <sup>26</sup> Around the altar he made a trench large enough to contain two seahs<sup>27</sup> of seed. <sup>33</sup> He arranged the wood, cut up the bull, and placed it on the wood. <sup>34</sup> Then he said, "Fill four water jars and pour the water on the offering and the wood." When they had done so,<sup>28</sup> he said, "Do it again." So they did it again. Then he said, "Do it a third time." So they did it a third time. <sup>35</sup> The water flowed down all sides of the altar and filled the trench. <sup>36</sup> When it was time for the evening offering, <sup>29</sup> Elijah the prophet approached the altar<sup>30</sup> and prayed: "O LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, prove<sup>31</sup> today that you are God in Israel and that I am your servant and have done all these things at your command. <sup>37</sup> Answer me, O LORD, answer me, so these people will know that you, O LORD, are the true God<sup>32</sup> and that you are winning back their allegiance." <sup>33:38</sup> Then fire from the LORD fell from the sky.<sup>34</sup> It consumed the offering, the wood, the stones, and the dirt, and licked up the water in the trench. <sup>39</sup> When all the people saw this, they threw themselves down with their faces to the ground and said, "The LORD is the true God!" <sup>35</sup> The LORD is the true God!"<sup>40</sup> Elijah told them, "Seize the prophets of Baal ! Don't let even one of them escape !" So they seized them, and Elijah led them down to the Kishon Valley and executed<sup>t</sup> them there.

19 Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, including a detailed account of how he killed all the prophets with the sword. <sup>2</sup> Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah with this warning, §† "May the gods judge me severely§†† if by this time tomorrow I do not take your life as you did theirs!"§†

<sup>207</sup> The LORD's angelic messenger came back again, touched him, and said, "Get up and eat, for otherwise you won't be able to make the journey."<sup>218</sup> So he got up and ate and drank. That meal gave him the strength to travel forty days and forty nights until he reached Horeb, the mountain of God.

<sup>5</sup> The messengers came again and said, "This is what Ben Hadad says, 'I sent this message to you, "You must give me your silver, gold, wives, and sons.'" <sup>6</sup> But now at this time tomorrow I will send my servants to you and they will search through your palace and your servants' houses. They will carry away all your valuables." <sup>¶¶7</sup> The king of Israel summoned all the leaders§ of the land and said, "Notice how this man is looking for trouble. §† Indeed, he demanded my wives, sons, silver, and gold, and I did not resist him." <sup>8</sup> All the leaders and people said to him, "Do not give in or agree to his demands." <sup>§††9</sup> So he said to the messengers of Ben Hadad, "Say this to my master, the king, 'I will give you everything you demanded at first from your servant, but I am unable to agree to this latest demand.'" ¶¶ So the messengers went back and gave their report.

The Lord Delivers Israel

<sup>13</sup> Now a prophet visited King Ahab of Israel and said, "This is what the LORD says, 'Do you see this huge army?' §§§ Look, I am going to hand it over to you this very day. Then you will know that I am the LORD.'" <sup>14</sup> Ahab asked, "By whom will this be accomplished?" <sup>18</sup> He answered, "This is what the LORD says, 'By the servants of the district governors.'" Ahab<sup>19</sup> asked, "Who will launch the attack?" He answered, "You will."

The Lord Gives Israel Another Victory

So Ben Hadad came out to him, and Ahab pulled him up into his chariot.<sup>34</sup> Ben Hadad<sup>19</sup> said, "I will return the cities my father took from your father. You may set up markets<sup>20</sup> in Damascus, just as my father did in Samaria."<sup>21</sup> Ahab then said, "I want to make a treaty with you before I dismiss you."<sup>22</sup> So he made a treaty with him and then dismissed him.

A Prophet Denounces Ahab's Actions

<sup>35</sup> One of the members of the prophetic guild, speaking with divine authority, ordered his companion, "Wound me!"<sup>23</sup> But the man refused to wound him.<sup>36</sup> So the prophet<sup>24</sup> said to him, "Because you have disobeyed the LORD, as soon as you leave me a lion will kill you." When he left him, a lion attacked and killed him.<sup>37</sup> He found another man and said, "Wound me!" So the man wounded him severely.<sup>2538</sup> The prophet then went and stood by the road, waiting for the king. He also disguised himself by putting a bandage down over his eyes.<sup>39</sup> When the king passed by, he called out to the king, "Your servant went out into the heat<sup>26</sup> of the battle, and then a man turned aside and brought me a prisoner.<sup>27</sup> He told me, 'Guard this prisoner. If he ends up missing for any reason,<sup>28</sup> you will pay with your life or with a talent<sup>29</sup> of silver.'<sup>3040</sup> Well, it just so happened that while your servant was doing this and that, he disappeared." The king of Israel said to him, "Your punishment is already determined by your own testimony."<sup>3141</sup> The prophet<sup>32</sup> quickly removed the bandage from his eyes and the king of Israel recognized he was one of the prophets.<sup>42</sup> The

21 After this the following episode took place.†† Naboth the Jezreelite owned a vineyard in Jezreel adjacent to the palace of King Ahab of Samaria.<sup>‡‡2</sup> Ahab said to Naboth, "Give me your vineyard so I can make a vegetable garden out of it, for it is adjacent to my palace. I will give you an even better vineyard in its place, or if you prefer, ‡‡‡ I will pay you silver for it." <sup>‡‡‡3</sup> But Naboth replied to Ahab, "The LORD forbid that I should sell you my ancestral inheritance." §

the LORD said, 'They have no master. I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, with all the heavenly assembly standing on his right and on his left."<sup>20</sup> The LORD said, 'Who will deceive Ahab, so he will attack Ramoth Gilead and die†† there?' One said this and another that.<sup>21</sup> Then a spirit‡ stepped forward and stood before the LORD. He said, 'I will deceive him.' The LORD asked him, 'How?'<sup>22</sup> He replied, 'I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets.' The LORD‡† said, 'Deceive and overpower him.‡‡ Go out and do as you have proposed.'<sup>23</sup> So now, look, the LORD has placed a lying spirit in the mouths of all these prophets of yours; but the LORD has decreed disaster for you."<sup>24</sup> Zedekiah son of Kenaanah approached, hit Micaiah on the jaw, and said, "Which way did the LORD's spirit go when he went from me to speak to you?"<sup>25</sup> Micaiah replied, "Look, you will see in the day when you go into an inner room to hide."<sup>26</sup> Then the king of Israel said, "Take Micaiah and return him to Amon the city official and Joash the king's son."<sup>27</sup> Say, 'This is what the king says, "Put this man in prison. Give him only a little bread and water‡‡‡ until I safely return.'"<sup>28</sup> Micaiah said, "If you really do safely return, then the LORD has not spoken through me." Then he added, "Take note, § all you people."

So the king of Israel disguised himself and then entered into the battle.<sup>31</sup> Now the king of Syria had ordered his thirty-two chariot commanders, "Do not fight common soldiers or high-ranking officers;‡†† fight only the king of Israel."<sup>32</sup> When the chariot commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they said, "He must be the king of Israel." So they turned and attacked him, but Jehoshaphat cried out.<sup>33</sup> When the chariot commanders realized he was not the king of Israel, they turned away from him.<sup>34</sup> Now an archer shot an arrow at random, § and it struck the king of Israel between the plates of his armor. The king‡†† ordered his charioteer, "Turn around and take me from the battle line, §† because I'm wounded."<sup>35</sup> While the battle raged throughout the day, the king stood propped up in his chariot opposite the Syrians. He died in the evening; the blood from the wound ran down into the bottom of the chariot.<sup>36</sup> As the sun was setting, a cry went through the camp, "Each one should return to his city and to his homeland."<sup>37</sup> So the king died and was taken to Samaria, where they buried him. <sup>§†‡‡</sup> They washed off the chariot at the pool of Samaria (this was where the prostitutes bathed);‡‡† dogs licked his blood, just as the LORD had said would happen. §§†

Elijah Confronts the King and His Commanders

<sup>3</sup> But the LORD's angelic messenger told Elijah the Tishbite, "Get up, go to meet the messengers from the king of Samaria. Say this to them: 'You must think there is no God in Israel! That explains why you are on your way to seek an oracle from Baal Zebub the god of Ekron. <sup>‡‡†4</sup> Therefore this is what the LORD says, "You will not leave the bed you lie on, for you will certainly die!"'" So Elijah went on his way.

<sup>5</sup> When the messengers returned to the king, ‡‡‡ he asked them, "Why have you returned?" <sup>6</sup> They replied, § "A man came up to meet us. He told us, "Go back to the king who sent you and tell him, 'This is what the LORD says: "You must think there is no God in Israel! That explains why you are sending for an oracle from Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron. §† Therefore you will not leave the bed you lie on, for you will certainly die.'"<sup>7</sup> The king§†† asked them, "Describe the appearance§‡ of this man who came up to meet you and told you these things."<sup>8</sup> They replied, §†† "He was a hairy man§† and

The name appears to mean "Lord of the Flies," but it may be a deliberate scribal corruption of Baal Zebul, "Baal, the Prince," a title known from the Ugaritic texts. For further discussion and bibliography, see HALOT 261 s.v. ‡‡† tn: Heb "Is it

The translation seeks to bring out the sarcastic tone of the rhetorical question. ‡‡‡ tn: Heb "to him." sn: The narrative is elliptical and telescoped here. The account of Elijah encountering the messengers and delivering the Lord's message is omitted; we only here of it as the messengers report what happened to the king. § tn: Heb "said to him." §† tn: Heb "Is it because there is no God in Israel [that] you are sending to inquire of Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron?" The translation seeks to bring out the sarcastic tone of the rhetorical question. In v. 3 the messengers are addressed (in the phrase "you are on your way" the second person plural pronoun is used in Hebrew), but here the king is addressed (in the phrase "you are sending" the second person singular pronoun is used). §†† tn: Heb "he"; the referent (the king) has been specified in the translation for clarity. §‡ tn: Heb "What was the manner...?" §‡† tn: Heb "said to him." §† tn: Heb "an owner of hair." Fire then came down<sup>23</sup> from the sky and consumed him and his fifty soldiers.

He went up and told him, <sup>25</sup> "Prophet, this is what the king says, 'Come down at once!'" <sup>2612</sup> Elijah replied to them, <sup>27</sup> "If I am indeed a prophet, may fire come down from the sky and consume you and your fifty soldiers!" Fire from God<sup>28</sup> came down from the sky and consumed him and his fifty soldiers.

You must think there is no God in Israel from whom you can seek an oracle <sup>!‡††</sup> Therefore you will not leave the bed you lie on, for you will certainly die.'" ‡‡

<sup>2</sup> Just before§† the LORD took Elijah up to heaven in a windstorm, Elijah and Elisha were traveling from Gilgal. <sup>2</sup> Elijah told Elisha, "Stay here, for the LORD has sent me to Bethel." §†† But Elisha said, "As certainly as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not leave you." So they went down to Bethel. <sup>3</sup> Some members of the prophetic guild§† in Bethel came out to Elisha and said, "Do you know that today the LORD is going to take your master from you?"§† He answered, "Yes, I know. Be quiet."

The repetition emphasizes one of the chapter's main themes. Israel's leaders should seek guidance from their own God, not a pagan deity, for Israel's sovereign God is the one who controls life and death. § tn: Heb "according to the word of the LORD

So they went to Jericho. <sup>5</sup> Some members of the prophetic guild in Jericho approached Elisha and said, "Do you know that today the LORD is going to take your master from you?" He answered, "Yes, I know. Be quiet."

<sup>6</sup> Elijah said to him, "Stay here, for the LORD has sent me to the Jordan." But he replied, "As certainly as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not leave you." So they traveled on together. <sup>7</sup> The fifty members of the prophetic guild went and stood opposite them at a distance, while Elijah and Elisha§§† stood by the Jordan. <sup>8</sup> Elijah took his cloak, folded it up, and hit the water with it. The water divided, and the two of them crossed over on dry ground.

<sup>15</sup> When the members of the prophetic guild in Jericho, <sup>26</sup> who were standing at a distance, <sup>27</sup> saw him do this, they said, "The spirit that energized Elijah<sup>28</sup> rests upon Elisha." They went to meet him and bowed down

However, the juxtaposition with "my father" (clearly a reference to Elijah as Elisha's mentor), and the parallel in 2 Kgs 13:14 (where the king addresses Elisha with these words), suggest that Elisha is referring to Elijah. In this case Elijah is viewed as a one man army, as it were. When the Lord spoke through him, his prophetic word was as powerful as an army of chariots and horses. See M. A. Beek, "The Meaning of the Expression 'The Chariots and Horsemen of Israel' (II Kings ii 12)," The Witness of Tradition (OTS 17), 1-10. <sup>25</sup> tn: Heb "Elijah's cloak, which had fallen off him." to the ground before him. <sup>16</sup> They said to him, "Look, there are fifty capable men with your servants. Let them go and look for your master, for the wind sent from the LORD† may have carried him away and dropped him on one of the hills or in one of the valleys." But Elisha†† replied, "Don't send them out." <sup>17</sup> But they were so insistent, he became embarrassed. So he said, "Send them out." They sent the fifty men out and they looked for three days, but could not find Elijah. <sup>18</sup> When they came back, Elisha†† was staying in Jericho. He said to them, "Didn't I tell you, 'Don't go'?"

Elisha Demonstrates His Authority

<sup>13</sup> Elisha said to the king of Israel, "Why are you here?<sup>31</sup> Go to your father's prophets or your mother's prophets!" The king of Israel replied to him, "No, for the LORD is the one who summoned these three kings so that he can hand them over to Moab." <sup>14</sup> Elisha said, "As certainly as the LORD who rules over all<sup>32</sup> lives (whom I serve ),<sup>33</sup> if I did not respect King Jehoshaphat of Judah, <sup>34</sup> I would not pay attention to you or acknowledge you. <sup>35</sup><sup>15</sup> But now, get me a musician." <sup>36</sup>

There was an outburst of divine anger against Israel,<sup>20</sup> so they broke off the attack<sup>21</sup> and returned to their homeland.

Elisha Gives Life to a Boy

hind her and left. <sup>22</sup> She called to her husband, "Send me one of the servants and one of the donkeys, so I can go see the prophet quickly and then return."<sup>23</sup> He said, "Why do you want to go see him today? It is not the new moon<sup>25</sup> or the Sabbath." She said, "Everything's fine."<sup>2624</sup> She saddled the donkey and told her servant, "Lead on. <sup>27</sup> Do not stop unless I say so."<sup>28</sup>

<sup>25</sup> So she went to visit<sup>29</sup> the prophet at Mount Carmel. When he<sup>30</sup> saw her at a distance, he said to his servant Gehazi, "Look, it's the Shunammite woman. <sup>26</sup> Now, run to meet her and ask her, 'Are you well? Are your husband and the boy well?'" She told Gehazi, <sup>31</sup> "Everything's fine."<sup>27</sup> But when she reached the prophet on the mountain, she grabbed hold of his feet. Gehazi came near to push her away, but the prophet said, "Leave her alone, for she is very upset. <sup>32</sup> The LORD has kept the matter hidden from me; he didn't tell me about it."<sup>28</sup> She said, "Did I ask my master for a son? Didn't I say, 'Don't mislead me?'" <sup>29</sup> Elisha<sup>33</sup> told Gehazi, "Tuck your robes into your belt, take my staff, <sup>34</sup> and go! Don't stop to exchange greetings with anyone! <sup>35</sup> Place my staff on the child's face."<sup>30</sup> The mother of the child said, "As certainly as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not leave you." So Elisha<sup>36</sup> got up and followed her back.

Elisha Miraculously Feeds a Hundred People

<sup>8</sup> When Elisha the prophet<sup>28</sup> heard that the king had torn his clothes, he sent this message to the king, "Why did you tear your clothes? Send him<sup>29</sup> to me so he may know there is a prophet in Israel." <sup>9</sup> So Naaman came with his horses and chariots and stood in the doorway of Elisha's house. <sup>10</sup> Elisha sent out a messenger who told him, "Go and wash seven times in the Jordan; your skin will be restored<sup>30</sup> and you will be healed." <sup>11</sup> Naaman went away angry. He said, "Look, I thought for sure he would come out, stand there, invoke the name of the LORD his God, wave his hand over the area, and cure the skin disease." <sup>12</sup> The rivers of Damascus, the Abana and Pharpar, are better than any of the waters of Israel. <sup>31</sup> Could I not wash in them and be healed?" He gave them to two of his servants and they carried them for Gehazi.<sup>2424</sup> When he arrived at the hill, he took them from the servants<sup>25</sup> and put them in the house. Then he sent the men on their way.<sup>26</sup>

<sup>20</sup> When they had entered Samaria, Elisha said, "O LORD, open their eyes, so they can see." The LORD opened their eyes and they saw that they were in the middle of Samaria.<sup>21</sup><sup>21</sup> When the king of Israel saw them, he asked Elisha, "Should I strike them down, <sup>22</sup> my master?"<sup>23</sup><sup>22</sup> He replied, "Do not strike them down! You did not capture them with your sword or bow, so what gives you the right to strike them down?<sup>24</sup> Give them some food and water, so they can eat and drink and then go back to their master."<sup>23</sup> So he threw a big banquet<sup>25</sup> for them and they ate and drank. Then he sent them back<sup>26</sup> to their master. After that no Syrian raiding parties again invaded the land of Israel.

The Lord Saves Samaria

<sup>12</sup> The king got up in the night and said to his advisers, <sup>37</sup> "I will tell you what the Syrians have done to us. They know we are starving, so they left the camp and hid in the field, thinking, 'When they come out of the city, we will capture them alive and enter the city.'" <sup>13</sup> One of his advisers replied, "Pick some men and have them take five of the horses that are left in the city. (Even if they are killed, their fate will be no different than that of all the Israelite people – we're all going to die!)" <sup>38</sup> Let's send them out so we can know for sure what's going on." <sup>3914</sup> So they picked two horsemen and the king sent them out to track the Syrian army. <sup>40</sup> He ordered them, "Go and find out what's going on." <sup>4115</sup> So they tracked them<sup>42</sup> as far as the Jordan. The road was filled with clothes and equipment that the Syrians had discarded in their haste. <sup>43</sup> The scouts<sup>44</sup> went back and told the king.<sup>16</sup> Then the people went out and looted the Syrian camp. A seah† of finely milled flour sold for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, just as the LORD had said they would.††

8 Now Elisha advised the woman whose son he had brought back to life, "You and your family should go and live somewhere else for a while,§† for the LORD has decreed that a famine will overtake the land for seven years."<sup>2</sup> So the woman did as the prophet said.§†† She and her family went and lived in the land of the Philistines for seven years.<sup>3</sup> After seven years the woman returned from the land of the Philistines and went to ask the king to give her back her house and field.<sup>§‡4</sup> Now the king was talking to Gehazi, the prophet's§†† servant, and said, "Tell me all the great things which Elisha has done."<sup>5</sup> While Gehazi§† was telling the king how Elisha§† had brought the dead back to life, the woman whose son he had brought back to life came to ask the king for her house and field.§§† Gehazi said, "My master, O king, this is the very woman and this is her son whom Elisha

Elisha Meets with Hazael

Then Hazael replaced him as king.

Jehoram's Reign over Judah

<sup>16</sup> In the fifth year of the reign of Israel's King Joram, son of Ahab, Jehoshaphat's son Jehoram became king over Judah.<sup>‡†17</sup> He was thirty-two years old when he became king and he reigned for eight years in Jerusalem.<sup>‡†18</sup> He followed in the footsteps of the kings of Israel, just as Ahab's dynasty had done, for he married Ahab's daughter.§ He did evil in the sight of‡† the LORD.<sup>19</sup> But the LORD was unwilling to destroy Judah. He preserved Judah for the sake of‡†† his servant David to whom he had promised a perpetual dynasty.§†

The first reference to "Jehoshaphat king of Judah" is probably due to a scribe accidentally copying the phrase from the later in the verse. If the Hebrew text is retained, the verse probably refers to the beginning of a coregency between Jehoshaphat and Jehoram. ‡†† map: For location see . § tn: Heb "he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, just as the house of Ahab did, for the daughter of Ahab was his wife." §† tn: Heb "in the eyes of." §†† tn: The Hebrew has only one sentence, "and the LORD

§† tn: Heb "just as he had promised to give him and his sons a lamp all the days." The metaphorical "lamp" symbolizes the Davidic dynasty; this is reflected in the translation. §†† tn: Heb "in his days Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah and enthroned a king over them." §† sn: Joram is a short form of the name Jehoram. §† tn: Heb "and he arose at night and defeated Edom, who had surrounded him, and the chariot officers." The Hebrew text as it stands gives the impression that Joram was surrounded and launched a victorious night counterattack. It would then be quite natural to understand the last statement in the verse to refer to an Edomite retreat. Yet v. 22 goes on to state that the Edomite revolt was successful. Therefore, if the MT is retained, it may be better to understand the final statement in v. 21 as a reference to an Israelite retreat (made in spite of the success described in the preceding sentence). The translation above assumes an emendation of the Hebrew text. Adding a third masculine singular pronominal suffix to the accusative sign bearmy retreated to their homeland.<sup>§††22</sup> So Edom has remained free from Judah's control to this very day.§†† At that same time Libnah also rebelled.

Ahaziah Takes the Throne of Judah

9 Now Elisha the prophet summoned a member of the prophetic guild<sup>25</sup> and told him, "Tuck your robes into your belt, take this container<sup>26</sup> of olive oil in your hand, and go to Ramoth Gilead.<sup>2</sup> When you arrive there, look for Jehu son of Jehoshaphat son of Nimshi and take him aside into an inner room.<sup>27</sup> Take the container of olive oil, pour it over his head, and say, 'This is what the LORD says, "I have designated<sup>28</sup> you as king over Israel.'" Then open the door and run away quickly!"<sup>29</sup>

Then the prophet‡‡‡ poured the olive oil on his head and said to him, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says, 'I have designated you as king over the LORD's people Israel. <sup>7</sup> You will destroy the family of your master Ahab. ‡‡‡ I will get revenge against Jezebel for the shed blood of my servants the prophets and for the shed blood of all the LORD's servants. §§ Ahab's entire family will die. ¶† I will cut off every last male belonging to Ahab in Israel, including even the weak and incapacitated. <sup>§†††</sup> I will make Ahab's dynasty§§ like those of Jeroboam son of Nebat and Baasha son of Ahijah. <sup>10</sup> Dogs will devour Jezebel on the plot of ground in Jezreel; she will not be buried.'" §†† Then he opened the door and ran away.

Jehu tries to deflect their question by reminding them that the man is an eccentric individual who says strange things. His reply suggests that the man said nothing of importance. The translation seeks to bring out the tone and intent of Jehu's reply. §§§ tn: Heb "So he said, 'Like this and like this he said to me, saying.'" The words "like this and like this" are probably not a direct quote of Jehu's words to his colleagues. Rather this is the narrator's way of avoiding repetition and indicating that Jehu repeated, or at least summarized, what the prophet had said to him.

Jehu the Assassin

That is, "What concern is that to you?" <sup>37</sup> tn: Heb "and he came to them." <sup>38</sup> tc: The MT has simply "peace," omitting the prefixed interrogative particle. It is likely that the particle has been accidentally omitted; several ancient witnesses include it or assume its presence. <sup>39</sup> tn: Heb "and the driving is like the driving of Jehu son of Nimshi."

Jehoram ordered, "Hitch up my chariot." † When his chariot had been hitched up, †† King Jehoram of Israel and King Ahaziah of Judah went out in their respective chariots‡ to meet Jehu. They met up with him‡† in the plot of land that had once belonged to Naboth of Jezreel.

In this instance "adulterous acts" is employed metaphorically for idolatry. As elsewhere in the OT, worshipping other gods is viewed as spiritual adultery and unfaithfulness to the one true God. The phrase "many acts of sorcery" could be taken literally, for Jezebel undoubtedly utilized pagan divination practices, but the phrase may be metaphorical, pointing to her devotion to pagan customs in general. ††† tn: Heb "and Jehoram turned his hands and fled." The phrase "turned his hands" refers to how he would have pulled on the reins in order to make his horses turn around. †††† tn: Heb "Deceit, Ahaziah." § tn: Heb "and Jehu filled his hand with the bow and he struck Jehoram between his shoulders." §† tn: Heb "went out from." §†† tn: Heb "said to." §‡ tn: Heb "and I will repay you in this plot of land." §‡† tn: Heb "according to the word of the LORD §† tn: Heb "and Ahaziah king of Judah saw and fled." §‡† tn: After Jehu's order ("kill him too"), the MT has simply, "to the chariot in the ascent of Gur which is near Ibleam." Who?" Two or three<sup>20</sup> eunuchs looked down at him. <sup>33</sup> He said, "Throw her down!" So they threw her down, and when she hit the ground, <sup>21</sup> her blood splattered against the wall and the horses, and Jehu drove his chariot over her. <sup>2234</sup> He went inside and had a meal. <sup>23</sup> Then he said, "Dispose of this accursed woman's corpse. Bury her, for after all, she was a king's daughter." <sup>2435</sup> But when they went to bury her, they found nothing left but<sup>25</sup> the skull, feet, and palms of the hands. <sup>36</sup> When they went back and told him, he said, "The LORD's word through his servant, Elijah the Tishbite, has come to pass. He warned, <sup>26</sup> ' In the plot of land at Jezreel, dogs will devour Jezebel's flesh. <sup>37</sup> Jezebel's corpse will be like manure on the surface of the ground in the plot of land at Jezreel. People will not be able to even recognize her.'" <sup>27</sup>

10 Ahab had seventy sons living in Samaria. <sup>28</sup> So Jehu wrote letters and sent them to Samaria to the leading officials of Jezreel and to the guardians of Ahab's dynasty. This is what the letters said, <sup>292</sup> " You have with you the sons of your master, chariots and horses, a fortified city, and weapons. So when this letter arrives, <sup>303</sup> pick the best and most capable<sup>31</sup> of your master's sons, place him on his father's throne, and defend<sup>32</sup> your master's dynasty."

19 sn: Jezebel associates Jehu with another assassin, Zimri, who approximately 44 years before had murdered King Elah, only to meet a violent death just a few days later ( 1 Kgs 16:9-20). On the surface Jezebel's actions seem contradictory. On the one hand, she beautifies herself as if to seduce Jehu, but on the other hand, she insults and indirectly threatens him with this comparison to Zimri. Upon further reflection, however, her actions reveal a clear underlying motive. She wants to retain her power, not to mention her life. By beautifying herself, she appeals to Jehu's sexual impulses; by threatening him, she reminds him that he is in the same precarious position as Zimri. But, if he makes Jezebel his queen, he can consolidate his power. In other words through her actions and words Jezebel is saying to Jehu, "You desire me, don't you? And you need me!" <sup>20</sup> tn: Heb "two, three." The narrator may be intentionally vague or uncertain here, or the two numbers may represent alternate traditions. <sup>21</sup> tn: The words "when she hit the ground" are added for stylistic reasons. <sup>22</sup> tn: Heb "and he trampled her." <sup>23</sup> tn: Heb "and he went and ate and drank." <sup>24</sup> tn: Heb "Attend to this accursed woman and bury her for she was the daughter of a king." <sup>25</sup> tn: Heb "they did not find her, except for." <sup>26</sup> tn: Heb "It is the word of the LORD

It is not certain why the officials of Jezreel would be in Samaria. They may have fled there after they heard what happened to Joram and before Jehu entered the city. They would have had time to flee while Jehu was pursuing Ahaziah. <sup>30</sup> tn: Heb "And now when this letter comes to you - with you are the sons of your master and with you are chariots and horses and a fortified city and weapons." <sup>31</sup> tn: Hebrew וְיָרָא

Jehu† said to the servants of Baal, "Make sure there are no servants of the LORD here with you; there must be only servants of Baal." <sup>††24</sup> They went inside to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings. Now Jehu had stationed eighty men outside. He had told them, "If any of the men inside get away, you will pay with your lives!" ‡

<sup>25</sup> When he finished offering the burnt sacrifice, Jehu ordered the royal guard‡‡ and officers, "Come in and strike them down! Don't let any escape!" So the royal guard and officers struck them down with the sword and left their bodies lying there.‡‡ Then they entered the inner sanctuary of the temple of Baal. <sup>‡‡26</sup> They hauled out the sacred pillar of the temple of Baal and burned it. <sup>27</sup> They demolished‡‡‡ the sacred pillar of Baal and§ the temple of Baal; it is used as§† a latrine§†† to this very day. <sup>28</sup> So Jehu eradicated Baal worship§† from Israel.

A Summary of Jehu's Reign

11 When Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she was determined to destroy the entire royal line. <sup>232</sup> So Jehosheba, the daughter of King Joram and sister of Ahaziah, took Ahaziah's son Joash and sneaked<sup>24</sup> him away from the rest of the royal descendants who were to be executed. She hid him and his nurse in the room where the bed covers were stored. <sup>25</sup> So he was hidden from Athaliah and escaped execution. <sup>263</sup> He hid out with his nurse in the LORD's temple<sup>27</sup> for six years, while Athaliah was ruling over the land.

Joash's Reign over Judah

21 † Jehoash †† was seven years old when he began to reign.

12 In Jehu's seventh year Jehoash became king; he reigned for forty years in Jerusalem. ‡ His mother was Zibiah, who was from Beer Sheba. 2 Through-out his lifetime Jehoash did what the LORD approved, † just as †† Jehoiada the priest taught him. 3 But the high places were not eliminated; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense on the high places.

4 Jehoash said to the priests, "I place at your disposal ††† all the consecrated silver that has been brought to the LORD's temple, including the silver collected from the census tax, ††† the silver received from those who have made vows, § and all the silver that people have voluntarily contributed to the LORD's temple. §†5 The priests should receive the silver they need from the treasurers and repair any damage to the temple they discover." §††

6 By the twenty-third year of King Jehoash's reign the priests had still not repaired the damage to the temple. 7 So King Jehoash summoned Jehoiada the priest along with the other priests, and said to them, "Why have you not repaired the damage to the temple? Now, take no more silver from your treasurers unless you intend to use it to repair the damage." §†8 The priests agreed §†† not to collect silver from the people and relieved themselves of personal responsibility for the temple repairs. §†

This does not mean that the priests were no longer interested in repairing the temple. As the following context makes clear, the priests decided to hire skilled workers to

9 Jehoiada the priest took a chest and drilled a hole in its lid. He placed it on the right side of the altar near the entrance of †† the LORD's temple. The priests who guarded the entrance would put into it all the silver brought to the LORD's temple. 10 When they saw the chest was full of silver, the royal secretary §† and the high priest counted the silver that had been brought to the LORD's temple and bagged it up. §††11 They would then hand over §§§ the silver that had been weighed to the construction foremen 18 assigned to the LORD's temple. They hired carpenters and builders to work on the LORD's temple, 12 as well as masons and stonecutters. They bought wood and chiseled stone to repair the damage to the LORD's temple and also paid for all the other expenses. 1913 The silver brought to the LORD's temple was not used for silver bowls, trimming shears, basins, trumpets, or any kind of gold or silver implements. 14 It was handed over 20 to the foremen who used it to repair the LORD's temple. 15 They did not audit the treasurers who disbursed 21 the funds to the foremen, for they were honest. 2216 (The silver collected in conjunction with reparation offerings and sin offerings was not brought to the LORD's temple; it belonged to the priests.)

17 At that time King Hazael of Syria attacked 23 Gath and captured it. Hazael then decided to attack Jerusalem. 2418 King Jehoash of Judah collected all the sacred items that his ancestors Jehoshaphat, Jehoram, and Ahaziah, kings of Judah, had consecrated, as well as his own sacred items and all the gold that could be found in the treasuries of the LORD's temple and the royal palace. He sent it all 25 to King Hazael of Syria, who then withdrew 26 from Jerusalem.

19 The rest of the events of Joash's reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah. 2720 His servants conspired against him 28 and murdered Joash at Beth-Millo, on the road that goes down to Silla. 2921 His servants Jozabad son of Shimeath and Jehozabad son of Shomer murdered him. 30 He was buried 31 with his an-

Elisha Makes One Final Prophecy

<sup>14</sup> Now Elisha had a terminal illness. <sup>32</sup> King Joash of Israel went down to visit him. <sup>33</sup> He wept before him and said, "My father, my father ! The chariot<sup>34</sup> and horsemen of Israel!" <sup>3515</sup> Elisha told him, "Take a bow and some arrows," and he did so. <sup>3616</sup> Then Elisha<sup>37</sup> told the king of Israel, "Aim the bow." <sup>38</sup> He did so,<sup>39</sup> and Elisha placed his hands on the king's hands. <sup>17</sup> Elisha<sup>40</sup> said, "Open the east window," and he did so. <sup>41</sup> Elisha said, "Shoot !" and he did so. <sup>42</sup> Elisha<sup>43</sup> said, "This arrow symbolizes the victory the LORD will give you over Syria. <sup>44</sup> You will annihilate Syria in Aphek!" <sup>4518</sup> Then Elisha<sup>46</sup> said, "Take the arrows," and he did so. <sup>47</sup> He told the king of Israel, "Strike the ground !" He struck the ground three times and stopped. <sup>19</sup> The prophet<sup>48</sup> got angry at him and said, "If you had struck the ground five or six times, you would have annihilated Syria ! <sup>49</sup> But now, you will defeat Syria only three times."

name it has retained to this very day. <sup>8</sup> Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash son of Jehoahaz son of Jehu, king of Israel. He said, "Come, let's meet face to face."<sup>269</sup> King Jehoash of Israel sent this message back to King Amaziah of Judah, "A thornbush in Lebanon sent this message to a cedar in Lebanon, 'Give your daughter to my son as a wife.' Then a wild animal<sup>27</sup> of Lebanon came by and trampled down the thorn. <sup>2810</sup> You thoroughly defeated Edom<sup>29</sup> and it has gone to your head!<sup>30</sup> Gloat over your success,<sup>31</sup> but stay in your palace. Why bring calamity on yourself? Why bring down yourself and Judah along with you?" <sup>3211</sup> But Amaziah would not heed the warning,<sup>33</sup> so King Jehoash of Israel attacked.<sup>34</sup> He and King Amaziah of Judah met face to face<sup>35</sup> in Beth Shemesh of Judah. <sup>12</sup> Judah was defeated by Israel, and each man ran back home. <sup>3613</sup> King Jehoash of Israel captured King Amaziah of Judah, son of Jehoash son of Ahaziah, in Beth Shemesh. He<sup>37</sup> attacked <sup>38</sup> Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate – a distance of about six hundred feet. <sup>3914</sup> He took away all the gold and silver, all the items found in the LORD's temple and in the treasuries of the royal palace, and some hostages. <sup>40</sup> Then he went back to Samaria. <sup>41</sup>

Jeroboam II's Reign over Israel

<sup>28</sup> The rest of the events of Jeroboam's reign, including all his accomplishments, his military success in restoring Israelite control over Damascus and Hamath, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel. <sup>§§§29</sup> Jeroboam passed away<sup>18</sup> and

The phrase "to Judah" is probably not original; it may be a scribal addition by a Judahite scribe who was trying to link Jeroboam's conquests with the earlier achievements of David and Solomon, who was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel. <sup>19</sup> His son Zechariah replaced him as king.

15 In the twenty-seventh year of King Jeroboam's reign over Israel, Amaziah's son Azariah became king over Judah. <sup>2</sup> He was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for fifty-two years in Jerusalem. <sup>20</sup> His mother's name was Jeholiah, who was from Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup> He did what the LORD approved, just as his father Amaziah had done. <sup>214</sup> But the high places were not eliminated; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense on the high places. <sup>5</sup> The LORD afflicted the king with an illness; he suffered from a skin disease<sup>22</sup> until the day he died. He lived in separate quarters,<sup>23</sup> while his son Jotham was in charge of the palace and ruled over the people of the land.

Zechariah's Reign over Israel

He struck down all who lived in the city and the surrounding territory, because they would not surrender. §† He even ripped open the pregnant women.

Pekahiah's Reign over Israel

Pekah's Reign over Israel

The usual assumption is that they were officials assassinated along with Pekahiah, or that they were two of the more prominent Gileadites involved in the revolt. For discussion see M. Cogan and H. Tadmor, II Kings (AB), 173. <sup>27</sup> tn: Heb "As for the rest of the events of Pekahiah, and all which he did, look, they are written on the scroll of the events of the days of the kings of Israel." <sup>28</sup> map: For location see . <sup>29</sup> tn: Heb "in the eyes of." <sup>30</sup> tn: Heb "turn away from." <sup>31</sup> map: For location see . <sup>32</sup> tn: Heb "them." <sup>33</sup> tn: Heb "and struck him down and killed him."

Jotham's Reign over Judah

<sup>32</sup> In the second year of the reign of Israel's King Pekah son of Remaliah, Uzziah's son Jotham became king over Judah. <sup>33</sup> He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for sixteen years in Jerusalem. †† His mother was Jerusha the daughter of Zadok. <sup>34</sup> He did what the LORD approved, just as his father Uzziah had done. †<sup>35</sup> But the high places were not eliminated; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense on the high places. He built the Upper Gate to the LORD's temple.

in Elat and live there to this very day.) <sup>7</sup> Ahaz sent messengers to King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria, saying, "I am your servant and your dependent. <sup>18</sup> March up and rescue me from the power<sup>19</sup> of the king of Syria and the king of Israel, who have attacked<sup>20</sup> me." <sup>8</sup> Then Ahaz took the silver and gold that were<sup>21</sup> in the LORD's temple and in the treasuries of the royal palace and sent it as tribute<sup>22</sup> to the king of Assyria. <sup>9</sup> The king of Assyria responded favorably to his request;<sup>23</sup> he <sup>24</sup> attacked Damascus and captured it. He deported the people<sup>25</sup> to Kir and executed Rezin.

<sup>13</sup> The LORD solemnly warned Israel and Judah through all his prophets and all the seers, "Turn back from your evil ways; obey my commandments and rules that are recorded in the law. I ordered your ancestors to keep this law and sent my servants the prophets to remind you of its demands." <sup>24<sup>14</sup></sup> But they did not pay attention and were as stubborn as their ancestors, <sup>25</sup> who had not trusted the LORD their God. <sup>15</sup> They rejected his rules, the covenant he had made with their ancestors, and the laws he had commanded them to obey.<sup>26</sup> They paid allegiance to<sup>27</sup> worthless idols, and so became worthless to the LORD. <sup>28</sup> They copied the practices of the surrounding nations in blatant disregard of the LORD's command. <sup>29<sup>16</sup></sup> They abandoned all the commandments of the LORD their God; they made two metal calves and an Asherah pole, bowed down to all the stars in the sky, <sup>30</sup> and wor-

This idiom probably does not mean much if translated literally. It is found most often in Deuteronomy or in literature related to the covenant. It refers in the first instance to loyalty to God and to His covenant or His commandments ( 1 Kgs 14:8; 2 Chr 34:31) with the metaphor of a path or way underlying it ( Deut 11:28; 28:14). To "follow other gods" was to abandon this way and this loyalty (to "abandon" or "forget" God, Judg 2:12; Hos 2:13) and to follow the customs or religious traditions of the pagan nations ( 2 Kgs 17:15). The classic text on "following" God or another god is 1 Kgs 18:18, 21 where Elijah taunts the people with "halting between two opinions" whether the LORD

The King of Assyria Populates Israel with Foreigners

Sennacherib Invades Judah

In vv. 23-24 the chief adviser develops further the argument begun in v. 21. His reasoning seems to be as follows: "In your weakened condition you obviously need military strength. Agree to the king's terms and I will personally give you more horses than you are capable of outfitting. If I, a mere minor official, am capable of giving you such military might, just think what power the king has. There is no way the Egyptians can match our strength. It makes much better sense to deal with us." ‡ tn: Heb "Go." †† sn: In v. 25 the chief adviser develops further the argument begun in v. 22. So how can the LORD rescue Jerusalem from my power?" <sup>§††36</sup> The people were silent and did not respond, for the king had ordered, "Don't respond to him."

<sup>5</sup> When King Hezekiah's servants came to Isaiah,<sup>6</sup> Isaiah said to them, "Tell your master this: 'This is what the LORD says: "Don't be afraid because of the things you have heard – these insults the king of Assyria's servants have hurled against me.<sup>26</sup> Look, I will take control of his mind;<sup>27</sup> he will receive<sup>28</sup> a report and re-

35 That very night the LORD's messenger went out and killed 185,000 men in the Assyrian camp. When they<sup>19</sup> got up early the next morning, there were all the corpses. 20<sup>36</sup> So King Sennacherib of Assyria broke camp and went on his way. He went home and stayed in Nineveh. 21<sup>37</sup> One day,<sup>22</sup> as he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, <sup>23</sup> his sons<sup>24</sup> Adrammelech and Sharezer struck him down with the sword. <sup>25</sup> They escaped to the land of Ararat; his son Esarhaddon replaced him as king.

Amon’s Reign over Judah

19 tn: Heb “walked in all the way which his father walked.” 20 sn: See the note at 1 Kgs 15:12. 21 tn: Heb “and he served the disgusting idols which his father served and he bowed down to them.” 22 tn: Heb “and did not walk in the way of the LORD 23 tn: Heb “the people of the land.” The pronoun “they” has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons, to avoid the repetition of the phrase “the people of the land” from the beginning of the verse. 24 tc: Heb “As for the rest of the things of Amon which he did, are they not written on the scroll of the events of the days of the kings of Judah?” Many Hebrew MSS וְלִי אֲשֶׁר 25 tn: Heb “he buried him.” Here “he” probably refers to Amon’s son Josiah. 26 map: For location see . 27 tn: Heb “the name of his mother.” 28 tn: Heb “he did what was proper in the eyes of the LORD 29 tn: Heb “and walked in all the way of David his father.” 30 tn: Heb “with these orders, saying.” 31 tc: The MT has וְלִי אֲשֶׁר 32 tn: Heb “doers of the work.” 33 tn: Heb “and let them give it to the doers of the work who are in the house of the LORD 34 tn: Heb “and to buy wood and chiseled stone to repair the house.” 35 tn: Heb “only the silver that is given into their hand should not be reckoned with them, for in faithfulness they are acting.”

Hilkiah gave the scroll to Shaphan and he read it.<sup>9</sup> Shaphan the scribe went to the king and reported,† "Your servants melted down the silver in the temple†† and handed it over to the construction foremen assigned to the LORD's temple."<sup>10</sup> Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, "Hilkiah the priest has given me a scroll." Shaphan read it out loud before the king.<sup>11</sup> When the king heard the words of the law scroll, he tore his clothes.<sup>12</sup> The king ordered Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam son of Shaphan, Acbor son of Micaiah, Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah the king's servant,<sup>13</sup> "Go, seek an oracle from‡ the LORD for me and the people – for all Judah. Find out about‡‡ the words of this scroll that has been discovered. For the LORD's fury has been ignited against us,‡‡ because our ancestors have not obeyed the words of this scroll by doing all that it instructs us to do."‡‡‡

The translation assumes that this refers to idols they have manufactured (note the preceding reference to "other gods," as well as 19:18). However, it is possible that this is a general reference to their sinful practices, in which case one might translate, "angering me by all the things they do." §† tn: Heb "Because your heart was tender." §‡ tn: Heb "how I said concerning this place and its residents to become [an object of] horror and [an example of] a curse." 23 The king summoned all the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>§§§2</sup> The king went up to the LORD's temple, accompanied by all the people of Judah, all the residents of Jerusalem, the priests, and the prophets. All the people were there, from the youngest to the oldest. He read aloud<sup>18</sup> all the words of the scroll of the covenant that had been discovered in the LORD's temple. <sup>3</sup> The king stood by the pillar and renewed<sup>19</sup> the covenant before the LORD, agreeing to follow<sup>20</sup> the LORD and to obey his commandments, laws, and rules with all his heart and being, <sup>21</sup> by carrying out the terms<sup>22</sup> of this covenant recorded on this scroll. All the people agreed to keep the covenant. <sup>23</sup>

He crushed them up§† and threw the dust in the Kidron Valley. 13 The king ruined the high places east of Jerusalem, south of the Mount of Destruction, §†† that King Solomon of Israel had built for the detestable Sidonian goddess Astarte, the detestable Moabite god Chemosh, and the horrible Ammonite god Milcom. 14 He smashed the sacred pillars to bits, cut down the Asherah pole, and filled those shrines§† with human bones.

15 He also tore down the altar in Bethel§†† at the high place made by Jeroboam son of Nebat, who encouraged Israel to sin. §† He burned all the combustible items at that high place and crushed them to dust, including the Asherah pole. §†16 When Josiah turned around, he saw the tombs there on the hill. So he ordered the bones from the tombs to be brought;§†† he burned them on the altar and defiled it. This fulfilled the LORD's announcement made by the prophet while Jeroboam stood by the altar during a festival. King Josiah§§† turned and saw the grave of the prophet who had foretold this. §§§17 He asked, "What is this grave marker I see?" The men from the city replied, "It's the grave of the prophet18 who came from Judah and foretold these very things you have done to the altar of Bethel." 18 The king19 said, "Leave it alone! No one must touch his bones." So they left his bones undisturbed, as well as the bones of the Israelite prophet buried beside him. 20

19 Josiah also removed all the shrines on the high places in the cities of Samaria. The kings of Israel had made them and angered the LORD. 21 He did to them what he had done to the high place in Bethel. 2220 He sacrificed all the priests of the high places on the al-

If the phrase "the bones of the prophet" were appositional to "his bones," one would expect the sentence to end "from Judah" (see v. 17). Apparently the "prophet" referred to in the second half of the verse is the old prophet from Bethel who buried the man of God from Judah in his own tomb and instructed his sons to bury his bones there as well ( 1 Kgs 13:30-31). One expects the text to read "from Bethel," but "Samaria" (which was not even built at the time of the incident recorded in 1 Kgs 13) is probably an anachronistic reference to the northern kingdom in general. <sup>21</sup> The king ordered all the people, "Observe the Passover of the LORD your God, as prescribed in this scroll of the covenant."<sup>22</sup> He issued this edict because† a Passover like this had not been observed since the days of the judges; it was neglected for the entire period of the kings of Israel and Judah.<sup>††23</sup> But in the eighteenth year of King Josiah's reign, such a Passover of the LORD was observed in Jerusalem.

<sup>26</sup> Yet the LORD's great anger against Judah did not subside; he was still infuriated by all the things Manasseh had done.<sup>§27</sup> The LORD announced, "I will also spurn Judah,§† just as I spurned Israel. I will reject this city that I chose – both Jerusalem and the temple, about which I said, "I will live there."§††

24 During Jehoiakim's reign,<sup>28</sup> King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked.<sup>29</sup> Jehoiakim was his subject for three years, but then he rebelled against him.<sup>302</sup> The LORD sent against him Babylonian, Syrian, Moabite, and Ammonite raiding bands; he sent them to destroy Judah, as he had warned he would do through his servants the prophets.<sup>313</sup> Just as the LORD had announced, he rejected Judah because of all the

Jehoiachin's Reign over Judah

Zedekiah's Reign over Judah

<sup>25</sup> tn: The MT has simply "of the month," but the parallel passage in Jer 52:6 has "fourth month," and this is followed by almost all English translations. The word "fourth," however, is not actually present in the MT of 2 Kgs 25:3. sn: According to modern reckoning that would have been July 18, 586 B.C.

him.<sup>7</sup> Zedekiah's sons were executed while Zedekiah was forced to watch. † The king of Babylon†† then had Zedekiah's eyes put out, bound him in bronze chains, and carried him off to Babylon.

Nebuchadnezzar Destroys Jerusalem

Nebuchadnezzar had set up his base camp for conducting his campaigns against the Palestinian states there and was now sitting in judgment on prisoners brought to him. <sup>33</sup> tn: The Hebrew text has the plural form of the verb, but the parallel passage in Jer 52:9 has the singular. † tn: Heb "were killed before his eyes." †† tn: Heb "he"; the referent (the king of Babylon) has been specified in the translation for clarity. ‡ tn: The parallel account in Jer 52:12 has "tenth." ‡† sn: The seventh day of the month would have been August 14, 586 B.C.

Gedaliah Appointed Governor

<sup>22</sup> Now King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, as governor over the people whom he allowed to remain in the land of Judah. <sup>2323</sup> All of the officers of the Judahite army<sup>24</sup> and their troops heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah to govern. So they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. The officers who came were Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan son of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah son of the Maacathite. <sup>24</sup> Gedaliah took an oath so as to give them and their troops some assurance of safety.<sup>25</sup> He said, "You don't need to be afraid to submit to the Babylonian officials. Settle down in the land and submit to the king of Babylon. Then things will go well for you." <sup>25</sup> But in the seventh month<sup>26</sup> Ishmael son of Nethaniah, son of Elishama, who was a member of the royal family,<sup>27</sup> came with ten of his men and murdered Gedaliah, <sup>28</sup> as well as the Judeans and Babylonians

The word "Judahite" has been supplied in the translation for clarity. <sup>25</sup> tn: The words "so as to give them...some assurance of safety" are supplied in the translation for clarification. <sup>26</sup> sn: It is not altogether clear whether this is in the same year that Jerusalem fell or not. The wall was breached in the fourth month (= early July; Jer 39:2) and Nebuzaradan came and burned the palace, the temple, and many of the houses and tore down the wall in the fifth month (= early August; Jer 52:12). That would have left time between the fifth month and the seventh month (October) to gather in the harvest of grapes, dates and figs, and olives (Jer 40:12). However, many commentators feel that too much activity takes place in too short a time for this to have been in the same year and posit that it happened the following year or even five years later when a further deportation took place, possibly in retaliation for the murder of Gedaliah and the Babylonian garrison at Mizpah (Jer 52:30). The assassination of Gedaliah had momentous consequences and was commemorated in one of the post exilic fast days lamenting the fall of

Jehoiachin in Babylon

Adam's Descendants

Japheth's Descendants

Gomer, Magog, Madai, Javan, Tubal, Meshech, and Tiras.

Elishah, Tarshish, the Kittites, and the Rodanites. ††

Ham's Descendants

Seba, Havilah, Sabta, Raamah, and Sabteca.
The sons of Raamah:
Sheba and Dedan.

Shem's Descendants

Isaac and Ishmael.

<sup>29</sup> These were their descendants:

Ishmael's Descendants

Keturah's Descendants

Zimran, Jokshan, Medan, Midian, Ishbak, Shuah.

The sons of Jokshan:

Ephah, Ephraim, Hanoch, Abida, and Eldaah. All these were the sons of Keturah.

Isaac's Descendants

Esau and Israel.

Esau's Descendants

Eliphaz, Reuel, Jeush, Jalam, and Korah.
<sup>36</sup> The sons of Eliphaz:
Teman, Omar, Zephi, † Gatam, Kenaz, and (by Timna) Amalek. ††
Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah.

The Descendants of Seir

<sup>38</sup> The sons of Seir:
Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah, Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan.
<sup>39</sup> The sons of Lotan:
Hori and Homam. (Timna was Lotan's sister.) ‡
<sup>40</sup> The sons of Shobal:
Alyan, †† Manahath, Ebal, Shephi, †† and Onam.
The sons of Zibeon:
Aiah and Anah.
<sup>41</sup> The son††† of Anah:

8 The son‡ of Ethan:
Azariah.

9 The sons born to Hezron:
Jerahmeel, Ram, and Caleb. ††

Ram's Descendants

10 Ram was the father of Amminadab, and Amminadab was the father of Nahshon, the tribal chief of Judah. 11 Nahshon was the father of Salma, †† and Salma was the father of Boaz. 12 Boaz was the father of Obed, and Obed was the father of Jesse.

13 Jesse was the father of Eliab, his firstborn; Aminadab was born second, Shimea third, 14 Nethanel fourth, Raddai fifth, 15 Ozem sixth, David seventh. 16 Their sisters were Zeruiah and Abigail. Zeruiah's three sons were Abshai, ††† Joab, and Asahel. 17 Abigail bore Amasa, whose father was Jether the Ishmaelite.

Caleb's Descendants

18 Caleb son of Hezron fathered sons by his wife Azubah (also known as Jerioth). ††† Her sons were Jesh-er, Shobab, and Ardon. 19 When Azubah died, Caleb married§ Ephrath, who bore him Hur. 20 Hur was the father of Uri, and Uri was the father of Bezalel.

21 Later§† Hezron had sexual relations with§†† the daughter of Makir, the father of Gilead. (He had married§† her when he was sixty years old.) She bore him Segub. 22 Segub was the father of Jair, who owned twenty-three cities in the land of Gilead. 23 (Geshur and Aram captured the towns of Jair, ††† along with Kenath and its sixty surrounding towns.) All these were descendants of Makir, the father of Gilead.

24 After Hezron's death, Caleb had sexual relations with Ephrath, his father Hezron's widow, and she bore to him Ashhur the father of Tekoa. ††

† tc: The Hebrew text has "Achar," which means "disaster," but a few medieval Hebrew MSS †† tn: Heb "the troubler of Israel who was unfaithful with respect to the devoted [things]." † tn: Heb "sons." The Hebrew text has the plural, but only one son is listed. †† tn: The Hebrew text has "Celubai," but see v. 18, where Caleb is described as the son of Hezron. †† tc: The LXX reads "Salmon" (cf. Ruth 4:21) and is followed by some English versions (e.g., NIV, NCV, TEV, NLT). ††† tn: In 2 Sam 2:18 this name appears as "Abishai," a spelling followed by many English versions here. ††† tn: Heb "and Caleb son of Hezron fathered [children] with Azubah, a wife, and with Jerioth." Jerioth could be viewed as a second wife (so NLT; cf. also NASB, NIV, NRSV), but the following context mentions only "her [presumably Azubah's] sons." Another option, the one chosen in the translation, is that Jerioth is another name for Azubah. § tn: Heb "took for himself." §† sn: This means "later" in relation to the births of the three sons (Jerahmeel, Ram and Caleb) mentioned in v. 9. §†† tn: Heb "Hezron went to." §† tn: Heb "he took," referring to taking in marriage. §†† tn: Or "Havvoth Jair" (NIV, NRSV). Some translations do not translate the phrase ("havvoth" = "the towns of"), but treat it as part of the place name. §† tn: Heb "And after the death of Hezron in Caleb Ephrathah, and the wife of Hezron, Abijah, and she bore to him Ashhur the father of Tekoa." Perhaps one could translate: "After Hezron died in Caleb Ephrathah, Abijah, Hezron's wife, bore to him Ashhur,

Jerahmeel's Descendants

25 The sons of Jerahmeel, Hezron's firstborn, were Ram, the firstborn, Bunah, Oren, Ozem, and Ahijah. 26 Jerahmeel had another wife named Atarah; she was Onam's mother.

27 The sons of Ram, Jerahmeel's firstborn, were Maaz, Jamin, and Eker.

28 The sons of Onam were Shammai and Jada.

The sons of Shammai:
Nadab and Abishur.

29 Abishur's wife was Abihail, who bore him Ahban and Molid.

30 The sons of Nadab:

Seled and Appaim. (Seled died without having sons.)

31 The son§† of Appaim:

Ishi.

The son of Ishi:

Sheshan.

The son of Sheshan:

Ahlai.

32 The sons of Jada, Shammai's brother:

Jether and Jonathan. (Jether died without having sons.)

33 The sons of Jonathan:

Peleth and Zaza.

These were the descendants of Jerahmeel.

34 Sheshan had no sons, only daughters. Sheshan had an Egyptian servant named Jarha. 35 Sheshan gave his daughter to his servant Jarha as a wife; she bore him Attai.

36 Attai was the father of Nathan, and Nathan was the father of Zabad. 37 Zabad was the father of Ephlal, and Ephlal was the father of Obed. 38 Obed was the father of Jehu, and Jehu was the father of Azariah. 39 Azariah was the father of Helez, and Helez was the father of Eleasah. 40 Eleasah was the father of Sismai, and Sismai was the father of Shallum. 41 Shallum was the father of Jekamiah, and Jekamiah was the father of Elishama.

More of Caleb's Descendants

42 The sons of Caleb, Jerahmeel's brother. His firstborn Mesha, the father of Ziph, and his second son Mareshah, † the father of Hebron.

43 The sons of Hebron: Korah, Tappuah, Rekem, and Shema.

44 Shema was the father of Raham, the father of Jorkeam. Rekem was the father of Shammai. 45 Sham-mai's son was Maon, who was the father of Beth-Zur.

46 Caleb's concubine†† Ephah bore Haran, Moza, and Gazez. Haran was the father of Gazez.

47 The sons of Jahdai: Regem, Jotham, Geshan, Pelet, Ephah, and Shaaph.

48 Caleb's concubine Maacah bore Sheber and Tirhanah. 49 She also bore Shaaph the father of Mad-mannah and Sheva the father of Machbenah and Gibeon. Caleb's daughter was Achsah.

50 These were the descendants of Caleb. The sons‡ of Hur, the firstborn of Ephrath: ††

Shobal, the father of Kiriath Jearim, 51 Salma, the father of Bethlehem, Hareph, the father of Beth-Gader.

52 The sons of Shobal, the father of Kiriath Jearim, were Haroeh, half of the Manahathites, ††53 the clans of Kiriath Jearim – the Ithrites, Puthites, Shumathites, and Mishraites. (The Zorathites and Eshtaolites descended from these groups.) †††

54 The sons of Salma: Bethlehem, the Netophathites, Atroth Beth-Joab, half the Manahathites, the Zorites, 55 and the clans of the scribes††† who lived in Jabez: the Tirathites, Shimeath-ites, and Sucathites. These are the Kenites who descended§ from Hammath, the father of Beth-Rechab. ††

3 These were the sons of David who were born to him in Hebron:

The firstborn was Amnon, whose mother was Ahinoam from Jezreel;

the second was Daniel, whose mother was Abigail from Carmel;

2 the third was Absalom whose mother was Maacah, daughter of King Talmai of Geshur;

Joash his son, 12 Amaziah his son,

Azariah his son, Jotham his son,

13 Ahaz his son, Hezekiah his son,

Manasseh his son, 14 Amon his son,

Josiah his son. 15 The sons of Josiah:

Johanan was the firstborn; Jehoiakim was born second; Zedekiah third; and Shallum fourth.

17 The sons of Jehoiachin the exile: <sup>20</sup> Shealtiel his son, <sup>18</sup> Malkiram, Pedaiiah, Shenazzar, Zerubbabel and Shimei.

The sons of Zerubbabel:

Meshullam and Hananiah. Shelomith was their sister.

Elioenai, Hizkiah, and Azrikam – three in all.

Hodaviah, Eliashib, Pelaiah, Akkub, Johanan, Delaiah, and Anani – seven in all.

Perez, Hezron, Carmi, Hur, and Shobal.

<sup>2</sup> Reaiah the son of Shobal was the father of Jahath, and Jahath was the father of Ahumai and Lahad. These were the clans of the Zorathites.

Jezreel, Ishma, and Idbash. Their sister was Hazzelelponi.

<sup>4</sup> Penuel was the father of Gedor, and Ezer was the father of Hushah. These were the descendants of Hur, the firstborn of Ephrathah and the father of Bethlehem.

<sup>5</sup> Ashhur the father of Tekoa had two wives, Helah and Naarah. <sup>6</sup> Naarah bore him Ahuzzam, Hopher, Temeni, and Haahashtari. These were the sons of Naarah. <sup>7</sup> The sons of Helah : Zereth, Zohar, Ethnan, <sup>8</sup> and Koz, who was the father of Anub, Hazzobebah, and the clans of Aharhel the son of Harum.

<sup>9</sup> Jabez was more respected than his brothers. His mother had named him Jabez, for she said, "I experienced pain when I gave birth to him." <sup>†10</sup> Jabez called out to the God of Israel, "If only†† you would greatly bless me and expand my territory! May your hand be with me! Keep me from harm so I might not endure pain!" ‡ God answered his prayer. ‡‡

Othniel and Seraiah.

The sons of Othniel:

Hathath and Meonothai. <sup>‡‡‡14</sup> Meonothai was the father of Ophrah.

Seraiah was the father of Joab, the father of those who live in Ge Harashim, who were craftsmen. ‡‡‡

Iru, Elah, and Naam.

The son of Elah:

Ziph, Ziphah, Tiria, and Asarel.

Jether, Mered, Ephraim, and Jalon.

Mered's wife Bithiah§† gave birth to Miriam, Shammai, and Ishbah, the father of Eshtemoa. <sup>18</sup> (His Judahite wife gave birth to Jered the father of Gedor, Heber the father of Soco, and Jekuthiel the father of Zanoah.) These were the sons of Pharaoh's daughter Bithiah, whom Mered married. §††

Amnon, Rinnah, Ben-Hanan, and Tilon.

The descendants of Ishi:

Zoheth and Ben Zoheth. §†

Er the father of Lecah, Laadah the father of Mare-shah, the clans of the linen workers at Beth-Ashbea, <sup>22</sup> Jokim, the men of Cozeba, and Joash and Saraph, both of whom ruled in Moab and Jashubi Lehem. (This information is from ancient records.) <sup>§††23</sup> They were the potters who lived in Netaim and Gederah; they lived there and worked for the king. §†

Simeon's Descendants

His son Hammuel, his son Zaccur, and his son Shimei.

Tochen, and Ashan – five towns.<sup>33</sup> They also lived in all the settlements that surrounded these towns as far as Baal. † These were their settlements; they kept genealogical records.

Meshobab, Jamlech, Joshah son of Amaziah,<sup>35</sup> Joel, Jehu son of Joshibiah (son of Seraiah, son of Asiel),<sup>36</sup> Eleoenai, Jaakobah, Jeshohaiah, Asaiah, Adiel, Jesimiel, Benaiah,<sup>37</sup> Ziza son of Shipi (son of Allon, son of Jedaijah, son of Shimri, son of Shemaiah).<sup>38</sup> These who are named above were the leaders of their clans.

Their extended families increased greatly in numbers.<sup>39</sup> They went to the entrance of Gedor, to the east of the valley, looking for pasture for their sheep.<sup>40</sup> They found fertile and rich pasture; the land was very broad, undisturbed and peaceful. Indeed some Hamites had been living there prior to that.<sup>41</sup> The men whose names are listed came during the time of King Hezekiah of Judah and attacked the Hamites' settlements, ‡ as well as the Meunites they discovered there, and they wiped them out to this very day. They dispossessed them,†† for they found pasture for their sheep there.<sup>42</sup> Five hundred men of Simeon, led by Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel, the sons of Ishi, went to the hill country of Seir<sup>43</sup> and defeated the rest of the Amalekite refugees;†† they live there to this very day.

5 The sons of Reuben, Israel's firstborn – (Now he was the firstborn, but when he defiled his father's bed, ††† his rights as firstborn were given to the sons of Joseph, Israel's son. So Reuben is not listed as firstborn in the genealogical records. †††2 Though Judah was the strongest among his brothers and a leader descended from him,<sup>5</sup> the right of the firstborn belonged to Joseph.)

The leader Jeiel, Zechariah,<sup>8</sup> and Bela son of Azaz, son of Shema, son of Joel.

They lived in Aroer as far as Nebo and Baal Meon.<sup>9</sup> In the east they settled as far as the entrance to the desert that stretches to the Euphrates River, for their cattle had increased in numbers in the land of Gilead.<sup>10</sup> During the time of Saul they attacked the Hagrites and defeated them. They took over their territory in the entire eastern region of Gilead. §†

Gad's Descendants

<sup>12</sup> They included Joel the leader, Shapham the second in command, Janai, and Shaphat in Bashan.<sup>13</sup> Their relatives, listed according to their families, §††† included Michael, Meshullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jacan, Zia, and Eber – seven in all.

<sup>14</sup> These were the sons of Abihail son of Huri, son of Jaroah, son of Gilead, son of Michael, son of Jeshishai, son of Jahdo, son of Buz.<sup>15</sup> Ahi son of Abdiel, son of Guni, was the leader of the family. §†††† They lived in Gilead, in Bashan and its surrounding settlements, and in the pasturelands of Sharon to their very borders. §††††† All of them were listed in the genealogical records in the time of King Jotham of Judah and in the time of King Jeroboam of Israel.

<sup>18</sup> The Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh had 44,760 men in their combined armies, warriors who carried shields and swords, were equipped with bows, and were trained for war. §††††† They attacked §†††† the Hagrites, Jetur, Naphish, and Nodab.<sup>20</sup> They received divine help in fighting them, and the Hagrites and all their allies were handed over to them. They cried out to God during the battle; he responded to their prayers because they trusted in him. §§§††† They seized the Hagrites<sup>18</sup> animals, including 50,000 camels, 250,000 sheep, and 2,000 donkeys. They also took captive 100,000 people.<sup>22</sup> Because God fought for them,<sup>19</sup> they killed many of the enemy.<sup>20</sup> They dispossessed the Hagrites and lived in their land until the exile.<sup>21</sup>

The Half-Tribe of Manasseh

<sup>24</sup> These were the leaders of their families: † Epher, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel. They were skilled warriors, men of reputation, †† and leaders of their families. <sup>25</sup> But they were unfaithful to the God of their ancestors‡ and worshiped instead‡‡ the gods of the native peoples‡‡ whom God had destroyed before them. <sup>26</sup> So the God of Israel stirred up‡‡‡ King Pul of Assyria (that is, King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria )‡‡‡ and he carried away the Reubenites, Gadites, and half-tribe of Manasseh and took them to Halah, Habor, Hara, and the river of Gozan, where they remain to this very day.

Professional Musicians

From the Kohathites:

Heman the musician, son of Joel, son of Samuel, <sup>34</sup> son of Elkanah, son of Jeroham, son of Eliel, son of Toah, <sup>35</sup> son of Zuph, son of Elkanah, son of Mahath, son of Amasai, <sup>36</sup> son of Elkanah, son of Joel, son of Azariah, son of Zephaniah, <sup>37</sup> son of Tahath, son of Assir, son of Ebiasaph, son of Korah, <sup>38</sup> son of Izhar, son of Kohath, son of Levi, son of Israel.

Within the territory of the half-tribe of Manasseh: Golan in Bashan and its pasturelands and Ashtaroth and its pasturelands.

Jeiel's Descendants

<sup>8</sup> The next day, when the Philistines came to strip loot from the corpses, they discovered Saul and his sons lying dead on Mount Gilboa.<sup>9</sup> They stripped his corpse, and then carried off his head and his armor. They sent messengers throughout the land of the Philistines proclaiming the news to their idols and their people.<sup>10</sup> They placed his armor in the temple of their gods<sup>21</sup> and hung his head in the temple of Dagon.<sup>11</sup> When all the residents of Jabesh Gilead heard about everything the Philistines had done to Saul,<sup>12</sup> all the warriors went and recovered the bodies of Saul and his sons<sup>22</sup> and brought them to Jabesh.

If it refers only to the male members of his household who would have stood in succession to the throne (cf. NLT, "bringing his dynasty to an end,") even here there is an exception, since one of Saul's sons, Eshbaal (or "Ishbosheth" in 2 Sam 2:8) was not killed in the battle and became king over Israel, which he ruled for two years (2 Sam 2:10) until he was assassinated by Rechab and Baanah (2 Sam 4:5-6). The tribe of Judah never acknowledged Ishbosheth as king; instead they followed David (2 Sam 2:10). 20 tn: Heb "they"; the referent (the army) has been specified in the translation for clarity. 21 tn: Or "god." The Hebrew term may be translated as singular or plural depending on the context. 22 tn: Heb "arose and carried away the corpse of Saul and the corpses of his sons."

<sup>13</sup> So Saul died because he was unfaithful to the LORD and did not obey the LORD's instructions; he even tried to conjure up underworld spirits. <sup>††14</sup> He did not seek the LORD's guidance, so the LORD ‡ killed him and transferred the kingdom to David son of Jesse.

11 All Israel joined David at Hebron and said, "Look, we are your very flesh and blood! <sup>‡‡2</sup> In the past, even when Saul was king, you were Israel's commanding general. ‡‡ The LORD your God said to you, 'You will shepherd my people Israel; you will rule over my people Israel.'" <sup>3</sup> When all the leaders‡‡‡ of Israel came to the king at Hebron, David made an agreement‡‡‡ with them in Hebron before the LORD. They anointed§ David king over Israel, just as the LORD had announced through Samuel. §†

David's Warriors

Jashobeam, a Hacmonite, was head of the officers. <sup>22</sup> He killed three hundred men with his spear in a single battle. <sup>23</sup>

The same expression occurs later in this verse. <sup>33</sup> tn: Heb "These things the three warriors did." <sup>34</sup> tc: The Syriac reads "thirty" here and at the beginning of v. 21; this reading is followed by some English translations (cf. <sup>22</sup> Benaiah son of Jehoiada was a brave warrior from Kabzeel who performed great exploits. He struck down the two sons of Ariel of Moab; † he also went down and killed a lion inside a cistern on a snowy day. <sup>23</sup> He even killed an Egyptian who was seven and a half feet†† tall. The Egyptian had a spear as big as the crossbeam of a weaver's loom; Benaiah attacked‡ him with a club. He grabbed the spear out of the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear. <sup>24</sup> Such were the exploits of Benaiah son of Jehoiada, who gained fame along with the three elite warriors. <sup>25</sup> He received honor from‡‡ the thirty warriors, though he was not one of the three elite warriors. David put him in charge of his bodyguard.

<sup>8</sup> Some of the Gadites joined David at the stronghold in the desert. They were warriors who were trained for battle; they carried shields and spears. They were as fierce as lions and could run as quickly as gazelles across the hills. <sup>9</sup> Ezer was the leader, Obadiah the second in command, Eliab the third, <sup>10</sup> Mishmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth, <sup>11</sup> Attai the sixth, Eliel the seventh, <sup>12</sup> Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth, <sup>13</sup> Jeremiah the tenth, and Machbannai the eleventh. <sup>14</sup> These Gadites were military leaders; the least led a hundred men, the greatest a thousand. <sup>††15</sup> They crossed the Jordan River‡ in the first month, ‡† when it was overflowing its banks, and routed those living in all the valleys to the east and west. ‡‡

<sup>16</sup> Some from Benjamin and Judah also came to David's stronghold. <sup>17</sup> David went out to meet them and said, ‡‡† "If you come to me in peace and want to help me, then I will make an alliance with you. ‡‡‡ But if you come to betray me to my enemies when I have not harmed you,§ may the God of our ancestors§† take notice and judge!" <sup>18</sup> But a spirit§†† empowered§† Amasai, the leader of the thirty warriors, and he said:§††

Support for David in Hebron

<sup>30</sup> From Ephraim there were 20,800 warriors, who had brought fame to their families. <sup>25</sup>

<sup>38</sup> All these men were warriors who were ready to march. † They came to Hebron to make David king over all Israel by acclamation; †† all the rest of the Israelites also were in agreement that David should become king. <sup>‡39</sup> They spent three days feasting‡† there with David, for their relatives had given them provisions. <sup>40</sup> Also their neighbors, from as far away as Issachar, Zebulun, and Naphtali, were bringing food on donkeys, camels, mules, and oxen. There were large supplies of flour, fig cakes, raisins, wine, olive oil, beef, and lamb, ‡‡ for Israel was celebrating. ‡‡‡

13 David consulted with his military officers, including those who led groups of a thousand and those who led groups of a hundred. <sup>‡‡2</sup> David said to the whole Israelite assembly, "If you so desire and the LORD our God approves,§ let's spread the word§† to our brothers who remain in all the regions of Israel, and to the priests and Levites in their cities, §†† so they may join us. <sup>3</sup> Let's move the ark of our God back here,§† for we did not seek his will§†† throughout Saul's reign." <sup>§†4</sup> The whole assembly agreed to do this, §† for the proposal seemed right to all the people. <sup>§§†5</sup> So David assembled all Israel from the Shihor River§§† in Egypt to Lebo Hamath, §§§ to bring the ark of God from Kiriath Jearim. <sup>6</sup> David and all Israel went up to Baalah (that is, Kiriath Jearim) in Judah to bring up from there the ark of God the LORD, who sits enthroned between the cherubim – the ark that is called by his name. <sup>18</sup>

<sup>11</sup> David was angry because the LORD attacked Uzzah; <sup>25</sup> so he called that place Perez Uzzah, <sup>26</sup> which remains its name to this very day. <sup>12</sup> David was afraid of God that day and said, "How will I ever be able to bring the ark of God up here?" <sup>13</sup> So David did not move the ark to the City of David; <sup>27</sup> he left it in the house of Obed-Edom the Gittite. <sup>14</sup> The ark of God remained in Obed-Edom's house for three months; the LORD blessed Obed-Edom's family and everything that belonged to him.

By loading the ark on a cart, David had violated the instructions in God's law (Exod 25:12-14; Num 4:5-6, 15). Uzzah's action, however innocent it may seem, betrayed a certain lack of reverence for God's presence. God had to remind his people that his holiness could not under any circumstances be violated. <sup>25</sup> tn: Heb "because the LORD

13 The Philistines again raided the valley. 14 So David again asked God what he should do.‡ This time †† God told him, “Don’t march up after them; circle around them and come against them in front of the trees. ††15 When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the trees, then attack. ††† For at that moment the LORD is going before you to strike down the army††† of the Philistines.” 16 David did just as God commanded him, and they struck down the Philistine army from Gibeon to Gezer.

17 So David became famous§ in all the lands; the LORD caused all the nations to fear him. §†

15 David constructed buildings in the City of God and pitched a tent for it. 2 Then David said, “Only the Levites may carry the ark of God, for the LORD chose them to carry the ark of the LORD and to serve before him perpetually. 3 David assembled all Israel at Jerusalem§†† to bring the ark of the LORD up to the place he had prepared for it. 4 David gathered together the descendants of Aaron and the Levites:

5 From the descendants of Kohath : Uriel the leader and 120 of his relatives.

6 From the descendants of Merari : Asaiah the leader and 220 of his relatives.

7 From the descendants of Gershom : §† Joel the leader and 130 of his relatives.

8 From the descendants of Elizaphan : Shemaiah the leader and 200 of his relatives.

9 From the descendants of Hebron : Eliel the leader and 80 of his relatives.

10 From the descendants of Uzziel : Amminadab the leader and 112 of his relatives.

11 David summoned the priests Zadok and Abiathar, along with the Levites Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab. 12 He told them: “You are the leaders of the Levites’ families. You and your relatives must consecrate yourselves and bring the ark of the LORD God of Israel up to the place I have prepared for it. 13 The first time you did not carry it; that is why the LORD God attacked us, because we did not ask him about the proper way to carry it.” §††14 The priests and Levites consecrated themselves so they could bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel. 15 The descendants of Levi carried the ark of God on their shoulders with poles, just as Moses had ordered according to the divine command.

16 David told the leaders of the Levites to appoint some of their relatives as musicians; they were to play various instruments, including stringed instruments and cymbals, and to sing loudly and joyfully. §†17 So the Levites appointed Heman son of Joel; one of his relatives, Asaph son of Berechiah; one of the descendants of Merari, §† Ethan son of Kushaiah; 18 along with some of their relatives who were second in rank, including Zechariah, §†† Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, Mikneiah, Obed-Edom, and Jeiel, the gatekeepers.

19 The musicians Heman, Asaph, and Ethan were to sound the bronze cymbals; 20 Zechariah, Aziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseiah, and Benaiah were to play the harps according to the alamothe style; §††21 Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, Mikneiah, Obed-Edom, Jeiel, and Azariah were to play the lyres according to the sheminith style, §†† as led by 18 the director; 22 Kenaniah, the leader of the Levites, was in charge of transport, for he was well-informed on this matter; 1923 Berechiah and Elkanah were guardians20 of the ark; 24 Shebaniah, Joshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer the priests were to blow the trumpets before the ark of God; Obed-Edom and Jehiel were also guardians21 of the ark.

25 So David, the leaders of Israel, and the commanders of units of a thousand went to bring up the ark of the LORD’s covenant from the house of Obed-Edom with celebration. 26 When God helped the Levites who were carrying the ark of the LORD’s covenant, they sacrificed seven bulls and seven rams. 27 David was wrapped in a linen robe, as were all the Levites carrying the ark, the musicians, and Kenaniah the supervisor of transport and the musicians; 22 David also wore a linen ephod. 2328 All Israel brought up the ark of the LORD’s covenant; they were shouting, blowing trumpets, sounding cymbals, and playing stringed instruments. 29 As the ark of the LORD’s covenant entered the City of David, Michal, Saul’s daughter, looked out

David Thanks God

<sup>8</sup> Give thanks to the LORD!

Let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice!

he carries out judgment throughout the earth. §

the promise he made by oath to Isaac! §††

David Appoints Worship Leaders

<sup>3</sup> That night God told Nathan the prophet, <sup>§§†4</sup> "Go, tell my servant David : 'This is what the LORD says : "You must not build me a house in which to live. <sup>5</sup> For I have not lived in a house from the time I brought Israel up from Egypt§§† to the present day. I have lived in a tent that has been in various places. <sup>§§§6</sup> Wherever I

In this case one could translate, "to give thanks to the LORD § tn: Heb "and with them, Heman and Jeduthun, trumpets and cymbals for sounding, and the instrument of song of God, and the sons of Jeduthun [were] at the gate." §† tn: Heb "to bless his house." <sup>7</sup> " So now, say this to my servant David : 'This is what the LORD who commands armies<sup>20</sup> says: "I took you from the pasture and from your work as a shepherd<sup>21</sup> to make you a leader of my people Israel. <sup>8</sup> I was with you wherever you went and I defeated<sup>22</sup> all your enemies before you. Now I will make you as famous as the great men of the earth. <sup>23</sup> I will establish a place for my people Israel and settle<sup>24</sup> them there; they will live there and not be disturbed<sup>25</sup> anymore. Violent men will not oppress them again, as they did in the beginning<sup>2610</sup> and during the time when I appointed judges to lead my people Israel. I will subdue all your enemies.

" "I declare to you that the LORD will build a dynastic house<sup>27</sup> for you! <sup>11</sup> When the time comes for you to die, <sup>28</sup> I will raise up your descendant, <sup>29</sup> one of your own sons, to succeed you, and I will establish his kingdom. <sup>12</sup> He will build me a house, and I will make his dynasty permanent. <sup>3013</sup> I will become his father and he will become my son. I will never withhold my loyal love from him, as I withheld it from the one who ruled before you. <sup>3114</sup> I will put him in permanent charge of my house and my kingdom; his dynasty will be permanent.'" <sup>3215</sup> Nathan told David all these words that were revealed to him. <sup>33</sup>

David Praises God

David cut the hamstrings of all but a hundred of Hadadezer's<sup>35</sup> chariot horses. 365 The Arameans of Damascus came to help King Hadadezer of Zobah, but David killed 22,000 of the Arameans. 6 David placed garrisons in the territory of the Arameans of Damascus; 37 the Arameans became David's subjects and brought tribute. The LORD protected<sup>38</sup> David wherever he campaigned. 397 David took the golden shields which Hadadezer's servants had carried<sup>40</sup> and brought them to Jerusalem. 418 From Tihath<sup>42</sup> and Kun, 43 Hadadezer's cities, David took a great deal of bronze. (Solomon used it to make the big bronze basin called "The Sea," 44 the pillars, and other bronze items.

David's Officials

19 Later King Nahash of the Ammonites died and his son succeeded him. <sup>2</sup> David said, "I will express my loyalty‡‡‡ to Hanun son of Nahash, for his father was loyal† to me." So David sent messengers to express his sympathy over his father's death. <sup>19</sup> When David's servants entered Ammonite territory to visit Hanun and express the king's sympathy, <sup>20</sup> the Ammonite officials said to Hanun, "Do you really think David is trying to honor your father by sending these messengers to express his sympathy?<sup>21</sup> No, his servants have come to you so they can get information and spy out the land!" <sup>22</sup> So Hanun seized David's ser-

<sup>8</sup> When David heard the news, he sent Joab and the entire army to meet them. <sup>30</sup> The Ammonites marched out and were deployed for battle at the entrance to the city, while the kings who had come were by themselves in the field. <sup>10</sup> When Joab saw that the battle would be fought on two fronts, he chose some of Israel's best men and deployed them against the Arameans. <sup>31</sup> He put his brother Abishai in charge of the rest of the army and they were deployed against the Ammonites. <sup>12</sup> Joab<sup>32</sup> said, "If the Arameans start to overpower me,<sup>33</sup> you come to my rescue. If the Ammonites start to overpower you,<sup>34</sup> I will come to your rescue. <sup>13</sup> Be strong! Let's fight bravely for the sake of our people and the cities of our God! The LORD will do what he decides is best!" <sup>35</sup> So Joab and his men<sup>36</sup> marched toward the Arameans to do battle, and they fled before him. <sup>15</sup> When the Ammonites saw the Arameans flee, they fled before Joab's<sup>37</sup> brother

16 When the Arameans realized they had been defeated by Israel, they sent for reinforcements from beyond the Euphrates River,†† led by Shophach the commanding general of Hadadezer’s army. †17 When David was informed, he gathered all Israel, crossed the Jordan River, †† and marched against them. †† David deployed his army against the Arameans for battle and they fought against him. ††18 The Arameans fled before Israel. David killed 7,000††† Aramean charioteers and 40,000 infantrymen; he also killed Shophach† the commanding general. 19 When Hadadezer’s subjects saw they were defeated by Israel, they made peace with David and became his subjects. The Arameans were no longer willing to help the Ammonites.

20 In the spring, at the time when kings normally conduct wars,†† Joab led the army into battle and devastated the land of the Ammonites. He went and besieged Rabbah, while David stayed in Jerusalem. Joab defeated Rabbah and tore it down. 2 David took the crown from the head of their king††† and wore it†† (its weight was a talent††† of gold and it was set with precious stones). He took a large amount of plunder from the city. 3 He removed the city’s residents and made them do hard labor with saws, iron picks, and axes. †† This was his policy†† with all the Ammonite cities. Then David and all the army returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup> David said to God, "I have sinned greatly by doing this! Now, please remove the guilt of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly." <sup>9</sup> The LORD told Gad, David's prophet, <sup>‡‡‡10</sup> "Go, tell David, 'This is what the LORD says: "I am offering you three forms of judgment from which to choose. Pick one of them.'"<sup>‡‡‡‡</sup> <sup>§11</sup> Gad went to David and told him, "This is what the LORD says: 'Pick one of these: <sup>12</sup> three§† years of famine, or three months being chased by your enemies and struck down by their swords, §†† or three days being struck down by the LORD, during which a plague will invade the land and the LORD's messenger will destroy throughout Israel's territory.' §‡ Now, decide what I should tell the one who sent me." <sup>13</sup> David said to Gad, "I am very upset! I prefer to be attacked by the LORD, for his mercy is very great; I do not want to be attacked by men!" <sup>§††14</sup> So the LORD sent a plague through Israel, and 70,000 Israelite men died.

earth and sky with his sword drawn and in his hand, stretched out over Jerusalem. David and the leaders, covered with sackcloth, threw themselves down with their faces to the ground. <sup>2217</sup> David said to God, "Was I not the one who decided to number the army? I am the one who sinned and committed this awful deed! <sup>!23</sup> As for these sheep – what have they done? O LORD my God, attack me and my family, <sup>24</sup> but remove the plague from your people!" <sup>25</sup>

David Orders a Temple to Be Built

<sup>5</sup> David said, "My son Solomon is just an inexperienced young man, ‡ and the temple to be built for the LORD must be especially magnificent so it will become famous and be considered splendid by all the nations. †† Therefore I will make preparations for its construction." So David made extensive preparations before he died.

<sup>6</sup> He summoned his son Solomon and charged him to build a temple for the LORD God of Israel. <sup>7</sup> David said to Solomon: "My son, I really wanted†† to build a temple to honor††† the LORD my God. <sup>8</sup> But the LORD said to me:‡‡‡ 'You have spilled a great deal of blood and fought many battles. You must not build a temple to honor me,‡ for you have spilled a great deal of blood on the ground before me. <sup>9</sup> Look, you will have a son, who will be a peaceful man. ‡† I will give him rest from all his enemies on every side. ‡†† Indeed, Solomon‡† will be his name; I will give Israel peace and quiet during his reign. <sup>‡†††</sup> He will build a temple to honor me;‡† he will become my son, and I will become his father. I will grant to his dynasty permanent rule over Israel.' ‡†

<sup>11</sup> "Now, my son, may the LORD be with you! May you succeed and build a temple for the LORD your God, just as he announced you would. <sup>‡†††</sup> Only may the LORD give you insight and understanding when he places you in charge of Israel, so you may obey‡†† the law of the LORD your God. <sup>13</sup> Then you will succeed, if you carefully obey the rules and regulations which the LORD ordered Moses to give to Israel. ‡‡‡ Be strong and brave! Don't be afraid and don't panic! <sup>18†14</sup> Now, look, I have made every effort to supply what is needed to build the LORD's temple. <sup>19</sup> I have stored up 100,000 talents<sup>20</sup> of gold, 1,000,000<sup>21</sup> talents of silver, and so much bronze and iron it cannot be weighed, as well as wood and stones. Feel free to add more! <sup>15</sup> You also have available many workers, including stonecutters, masons, carpenters, <sup>22</sup> and an innumerable array of workers who are skilled<sup>16</sup> in using gold, silver, bronze, and iron. <sup>23</sup> Get up and begin the work! May the LORD be with you!"

<sup>2</sup> David<sup>35</sup> assembled all the leaders of Israel, along with the priests and the Levites. <sup>3</sup> The Levites who were thirty years old and up were counted; there were 38,000 men. <sup>364</sup> David said,<sup>37</sup> "Of these, 24,000 are to direct the work of the LORD's temple; 6,000 are to be officials and judges; <sup>5</sup> 4,000 are to be gatekeepers; and 4,000 are to praise the LORD with the instruments I supplied for worship.”<sup>†6</sup> David divided them into groups corresponding to the sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

Jehiel the oldest, Zetham, and Joel – three in all.

Shelomoth, Haziël, and Haran – three in all.

Jahath, Zina,†† Jeush, and Beriah. These were Shimei’s sons – four in all.<sup>†11</sup> Jahath was the oldest and Zizah the second oldest. Jeush and Beriah did not have many sons, so they were considered one family with one responsibility.

Aaron and Moses.

Aaron and his descendants were chosen on a permanent basis to consecrate the most holy items, to offer sacrifices before the LORD, to serve him, and to praise his name.<sup>†14</sup> The descendants of Moses the man of God were considered Levites.‡

<sup>15</sup> The sons of Moses:

‡ sn: Verses 8-10 are confusing. Two different lists of Shimei’s sons appear. In between these lists is the statement “these were the leaders of the family of Ladan,” suggesting that the list just before this includes the sons of Ladan, not Shimei. But verse 8 already lists Ladan’s sons. Apparently the text as it stands is a conflation of differing traditions. †† tn: Heb “and Aaron was set apart to consecrate it, the most holy things, he and his sons, permanently, to sacrifice before the LORD

The sons of Mahli:

Eleazar and Kish.

<sup>22</sup> Eleazar died without having sons; he had only daughters. The sons of Kish, their cousins, married them.§††

Mahli, Eder, and Jeremoth – three in all.

<sup>24</sup> These were the descendants of Levi according to their families, that is, the leaders of families as counted and individually listed who carried out assigned tasks in the LORD’s temple and were twenty years old and up.<sup>§†25</sup> For David said, “The LORD God of Israel has given his people rest and has permanently settled in Jerusalem.<sup>§†26</sup> So the Levites no longer need to carry the tabernacle or any of the items used in its service.”

<sup>28</sup> Their job was to help Aaron’s descendants in the service of the LORD’s temple. They were to take care of the courtyards, the rooms, ceremonial purification of all holy items, and other jobs related to the service of God’s temple.<sup>§†29</sup> They also took care of§†† the bread that is displayed, the flour for offerings, the unleavened wafers, the round cakes, the mixing, and all the measuring.<sup>§§†30</sup> They also stood in a designated place§§§ every morning and offered thanks and praise to the LORD. They also did this in the evening<sup>31</sup> and whenever burnt sacrifices were offered to the LORD on the Sabbath and at new moon festivals and assemblies. A designated number were to serve before the LORD regularly in accordance with regulations.<sup>1832</sup> They were in charge of the meeting tent and the holy place, and helped their relatives, the descendants of Aaron, in the service of the LORD’s temple.<sup>19</sup>

Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

<sup>2</sup> Nadab and Abihu died before their father did; they had no sons. Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests.

<sup>3</sup> David, Zadok (a descendant of Eleazar), and Ahimelech (a descendant of Ithamar) divided them into groups to carry out their assigned responsibilities. <sup>14</sup> The descendants of Eleazar had more leaders than the descendants of Ithamar, so they divided them up accordingly; the descendants of Eleazar had sixteen leaders, while the descendants of Ithamar had eight. <sup>15</sup> They divided them by lots, for there were officials of the holy place and officials designated by God among the descendants of both Eleazar and Ithamar. <sup>16</sup> The scribe Shemaiah son of Nethanel, a Levite, wrote down their names before the king, the officials, Zadok the priest, Ahimelech son of Abiathar, and the leaders of the priestly and Levite families. One family was drawn by lot from Eleazar, and then the next from Ithamar. <sup>17</sup>

Remaining Levites

Shubael<sup>19</sup> from the sons of Amram,
Jehdeiah from the sons of Shubael,
<sup>22</sup> Shelomoth from the Izharites,
Jahath from the sons of Shelomoth.
<sup>23</sup> The sons of Hebron:<sup>19</sup>
Jeriah, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.
Micah;
Shamir from the sons of Micah.
<sup>25</sup> The brother of Micah:
Isshiah.
Zechariah from the sons of Isshiah.
<sup>26</sup> The sons of Merari:
Mahli and Mushi.
The son of Jaaziah:
Beno. <sup>20</sup>
<sup>28</sup> From Mahli:
<sup>29</sup> From Kish:
Jerahmeel. <sup>21</sup>
<sup>30</sup> The sons of Mushi:
Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth.
These were the Levites, listed by their families.

25 David and the army officers selected some of the sons of Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun to prophesy as they played stringed instruments and cymbals. <sup>23</sup> The following men were assigned this responsibility. <sup>24</sup>

God had promised him these sons in order to make him prestigious. ‡‡‡ God gave Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.

<sup>6</sup> All of these were under the supervision of their fathers; they were musicians in the LORD's temple, playing cymbals and stringed instruments as they served in God's temple. Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman were under the supervision of the king. <sup>7</sup> They and their relatives, all of them skilled and trained to make music to the LORD, numbered two hundred eighty-eight. §

§† tn: Heb "and they cast lots [for] service, just as like small, like great, teacher with student." §†† tc: Heb "The first lot went to Asaph, to Joseph." Apparently the recurring formula, "and his sons and his relatives, twelve" has been accidentally omitted from the Hebrew text at this point (see vv. 10-31; the formula is slightly different in v. 9b). If the number "twelve" is not supplied here, the total comes to only 276, not the 288 required by v. 7.

The firstborn Shemaiah, the second Jehozabad, the third Joah, the fourth Sakar, the fifth Nethanel, <sup>5</sup> the sixth Ammiel, the seventh Issachar, and the eighth Peullethai. (Indeed, God blessed Obed-Edom.)

Othni, Rephael, Obed, and Elzabad. His relatives§† Elihu and Semakiah were also respected.

<sup>8</sup> All these were the descendants of Obed-Edom. They and their sons and relatives were respected men, capable of doing their responsibilities. There were sixty-two of them related to Obed-Edom.

The firstborn Shimri (he was not actually the first-born, but his father gave him that status), <sup>11</sup> the second Hilkiyah, the third Tebaliah, and the fourth Zechariah. All of Hosah's sons and relatives numbered thirteen.

Supervisors of the Storehouses

units of a thousand and a hundred, and the army officers. <sup>27</sup> They had dedicated some of the plunder taken in battles to be used for repairs on the LORD's temple.

<sup>28</sup> They were also in charge of everything dedicated by Samuel the prophet, §†† Saul son of Kish, Abner son of Ner, and Joab son of Zeruiah; Shelomith and his relatives were in charge of everything that had been dedicated.

<sup>31</sup> As for the Hebronites: Jeriah was the leader of the Hebronites according to the genealogical records. In the fortieth year of David's reign, they examined the records and discovered§†† there were highly respected men in Jazer in Gilead. <sup>32</sup> Jeriah had 2,700 relatives who were respected family leaders. §† King David placed them in charge of the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh; they took care of all matters pertaining to God and the king. §†

27 What follows is a list of Israelite family leaders and commanders of units of a thousand and a hundred, as well as their officers who served the king in various matters. Each division was assigned to serve for one month during the year; each consisted of 24,000 men. §§†

These were the commanders of the Israelite tribes.

Royal Officials

Zabdi the Shiphmite was in charge of the wine stored in the vineyards. ‡‡

<sup>28</sup> Baal-Hanan the Gederite was in charge of the olive and sycamore trees in the lowlands; ‡‡

<sup>30</sup> Obil the Ishmaelite was in charge of the camels; Jehdeiah the Meronothite was in charge of the donkeys.

28 David assembled in Jerusalem§† all the officials of Israel, including the commanders of the tribes, the commanders of the army divisions that served the king, the commanders of units of a thousand and a hundred, the officials who were in charge of all the property and livestock of the king and his sons, the eunuchs, and the warriors, including the most skilled of them.

<sup>2</sup> King David rose to his feet and said: "Listen to me, my brothers and my people. I wanted to build a temple where the ark of the LORD's covenant could be placed as a footstool for our God. §†† I have made the preparations for building it. <sup>3</sup> But God said to me, 'You must not build a temple to honor me, §† for you are a warrior and have spilled blood.' <sup>4</sup> The LORD God of Israel chose me out of my father's entire family to become king over Israel and have a permanent dynasty. §†† Indeed, §† he chose Judah as leader, and my father's family within Judah, and then he picked me out from among my father's sons and made me king

David Praises the Lord

"O LORD God of our father Israel, you deserve praise forevermore! <sup>11</sup> O LORD, you are great, mighty, majestic, magnificent, glorious, and sovereign‡‡‡ over all the sky and earth! <sup>20</sup> David told the entire assembly: "Praise the LORD your God!" So the entire assembly praised the LORD God of their ancestors; they bowed down and stretched out flat on the ground before the LORD and the king.

David Designates Solomon King

<sup>21</sup> The next day they made sacrifices and offered burnt sacrifices to the LORD (1,000 bulls, 1,000 rams, 1,000 lambs), along with their accompanying drink offerings and many other sacrifices for all Israel. <sup>22</sup> They held a feast<sup>19</sup> before the LORD that day and celebrated. <sup>20</sup>

Then they designated Solomon, David's son, as king a second time;<sup>21</sup> before the LORD they anointed him as ruler and Zadok as priest. <sup>23</sup> Solomon sat on the LORD's throne as king in place of his father David; he was successful and all Israel was loyal to him. <sup>2224</sup> All the officers and warriors, as well as all of King David's sons, pledged their allegiance to King Solomon.

The Lord Gives Solomon Wisdom

<sup>2</sup> Solomon addressed all Israel, including those who commanded units of a thousand and a hundred, the judges, and all the leaders of all Israel who were heads of families. <sup>3</sup> Solomon and the entire assembly went to the worship center‡ in Gibeon, for the tent where they met God‡‡ was located there, which Moses the LORD's servant had made in the wilderness. <sup>4</sup> (Now David had brought up the ark of God from Kiriath Jearim to the place he had prepared for it, for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem. ‡‡‡ But the bronze altar made by Bezalel son of Uri, son of Hur, was in front of the LORD's tabernacle. ‡‡‡ Solomon and the entire assembly prayed to him ‡‡‡ there.) <sup>6</sup> Solomon went up to the bronze altar before the LORD which was at the meeting tent, and he offered up a thousand burnt sacrifices.

Solomon's Wealth

This is something Israel must do on a permanent basis. <sup>§††5</sup> I will build a great temple, for our God is greater than all gods. <sup>6</sup> Of course, who can really build a temple for him, since the sky§† and the highest heavens cannot contain him? 15 In front of the temple he made two pillars which had a combined length§§† of 52½ feet, §§§ with each having a plated capital seven and one-half feet high. 1816 He made ornamental chains19 and put them on top of the pillars. He also made one hundred pomegranate-shaped ornaments and arranged them within the chains. 17 He set up the pillars in front of the temple, one on the right side and the other on the left. 20 He named the one on the right Jachin, 21 and the one on the left Boaz. 22

An alternative translation of the last clause would be, "with their faces to the main hall." §§† sn: The figure given here appears to refer to the combined length of both pillars (perhaps when laid end-to-end on the ground prior to being set up; cf. v. 17); the figure given for the height of the pillars in 1 Kgs 7:15, 2 Kgs 25:17, and Jer 52:21 is half this (i.e., eighteen cubits). §§§ tc: The Syriac reads "eighteen cubits" (twenty-seven feet). This apparently reflects an attempt at harmonization with 1 Kgs 7:15, 2 Kgs 25:17, and Jer 52:21. 18 tn: Heb "and he made before the house two pillars, thirty-five cubits [in] length, and the plated capital which was on its top [was] five cubits." The significance of the measure "thirty-five cubits" (52.5 feet or 15.75 m, assuming a cubit of 18 inches) for the "length" of the pillars is uncertain. According to 1 Kgs 7:15, each pillar was eighteen cubits (27 feet or 8.1 m) high. Perhaps the measurement given here was taken with the pillars lying end-to-end on the ground before they were set up. 19 tn: The Hebrew text adds here, "in the inner sanctuary," but the description at this point is of the pillars, not the inner sanctuary. 20 tn: Or "one on the south and the other on the north." 21 tn: The name "Jachin" appears to be a verbal form and probably means, "he establishes." 22 tn: The meaning of the name "Boaz" is uncertain. It could hold 18,000 gallons. <sup>16</sup> He made ten washing basins; he put five on the south side and five on the north side. In them they rinsed the items used for burnt sacrifices; the priests washed in "The Sea."

ornaments, lamps, and tongs, <sup>22</sup> the pure gold trimming shears, basins, pans, and censers, and the gold door sockets for the inner sanctuary (the most holy place) and for the doors of the main hall of the temple.

5 When Solomon had finished constructing the LORD's temple, he put the holy items that belonged to his father David (the silver, gold, and all the other articles ) in the treasuries of God's temple.

Solomon Moves the Ark into the Temple

<sup>7</sup> The priests brought the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its assigned<sup>22</sup> place in the inner sanctuary of the temple, in the most holy place under the wings of the cherubs. <sup>8</sup> The cherubs' wings extended over the place where the ark sat; the cherubs overshadowed the ark and its poles. <sup>239</sup> The poles were so long their ends extending out from the ark were visible from in front of the inner sanctuary, but they could not be seen from beyond that point. <sup>24</sup> They have remained there to this very day. <sup>10</sup> There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets Moses had placed there in Horeb. <sup>25</sup> (It was there that<sup>26</sup> the LORD made an agreement with the Israelites after he brought them out of the land of Egypt.)

To convey this to the English reader, the translation "you people" has been employed. ‡† tn: Heb "which I placed before you." ‡†† tn: Heb "and walk and serve other gods and bow down to them." <sup>‡†††</sup> tn: Heb "them." The switch from the second to the third person pronoun is rhetorically effective, for it mirrors God's rejection of his people – he has stopped addressing them as "you" and begun addressing them as "them." However, the switch is awkward and confusing in English, so the translation maintains the direct address style. § tn: Heb "them." See the note on "you" earlier in this verse. §† tc: Instead of "I will throw away," the parallel text in 1 Kgs 9:7 has "I will send away." The two verbs sound very similar in Hebrew, so the discrepancy is likely due to an oral transmission error. tn: Heb "and this temple which I consecrated for my name I will throw away from before my face." §†† tn: Heb "him," which appears in context to refer to Israel (i.e., "you" in direct address). Many translations understand the direct object of the verb "make" to be the temple (NEB, NASB, NIV, NRSV "it"). §† tn: Heb "and I will make him [i.e., Israel] a proverb and a taunt," that is, a proverbial example of destruction and an object of reproach. §†† tn: Heb "and this house which was high/elevated." The statement makes little sense in this context, which predicts the desolation that judgment will bring. Some treat the clause as concessive, "Even though this temple is lofty [now]." Others, following the lead of several ancient versions, emend the text to, "this temple will become a heap of ruins." §† tn: Heb "and they will say." §† tn: Heb "fathers." §§† tn: Heb "and they took hold of other gods and bowed down to them and served them." §§† tn: Heb "Hiram" (also in v. 18). <sup>7</sup> Now several non-Israelite peoples were left in the land after the conquest of Joshua, including the Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites. <sup>228</sup> Their descendants remained in the land (the Israelites were unable to wipe them out). Solomon conscripted them for his work crews and they continue in that role to this very day. <sup>239</sup> Solomon did not assign Israelites to these work crews; <sup>24</sup> the Israelites served as his soldiers, officers, charioteers, and commanders of his chariot forces. <sup>2510</sup> These men worked for Solomon as supervisors; there were a total of 250 of them who were in charge of the people. <sup>26</sup>

<sup>12</sup> Then Solomon offered burnt sacrifices to the LORD on the altar of the LORD which he had built in front of the temple's porch. <sup>2813</sup> He observed the daily requirements for sacrifices that Moses had specified for Sabbaths, new moon festivals, and the three annual celebrations – the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast of Temporary Shelters. <sup>2914</sup> As his father David had decreed, Solomon<sup>30</sup> appointed the di-

<sup>16</sup> All the work ordered by Solomon was completed, from the day the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid until it was finished; the LORD's temple was completed.

Solomon's Reign Ends

<sup>12</sup> Jeroboam and all the people reported to Rehoboam on the third day, just as the king had ordered when he said, "Return to me on the third day." <sup>13</sup> The king responded to the people harshly. He§ rejected the advice of the older men<sup>14</sup> and followed the advice of the younger ones. He said, "My father imposed heavy demands on you,§† I will make them even heavier. §†† My father punished you with ordinary whips; I will punish you with whips that really sting your flesh." <sup>§††15</sup> The king refused to listen to the people, because God was instigating this turn of events§†† so that he might bring to pass the prophetic announcement he had made§† through Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam son of Nebat.

hoboam sent Hadoram, <sup>18</sup> the supervisor of the work crews, out after them, but the Israelites stoned him to death. King Rehoboam managed to jump into his chariot and escape to Jerusalem. <sup>1919</sup> So Israel has been in rebellion against the Davidic dynasty to this very day.

11 When Rehoboam arrived in Jerusalem, he summoned 180,000 skilled warriors from Judah and Benjamin<sup>20</sup> to attack Israel and restore the kingdom to Rehoboam. <sup>2</sup> But the LORD told Shemaiah the prophet, <sup>213</sup> "Say this to King Rehoboam son of Solomon of Judah and to all the Israelites in Judah and Benjamin, <sup>4</sup> 'The LORD says this: "Do not attack and make war with your brothers. Each of you go home, for I have caused this to happen.'" <sup>22</sup> They obeyed the LORD and called off the attack against Jeroboam. <sup>23</sup>

Rehoboam's Reign

12 After Rehoboam's rule was established and solidified, he and all Israel rejected the law of the LORD. <sup>2</sup> Because they were unfaithful to the LORD, in King Rehoboam's fifth year, King Shishak of Egypt attacked Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup> He had 1,200 chariots, 60,000 horsemen, and an innumerable number of soldiers who accompanied him from Egypt, including Libyans, Sukkites, and Cushites. <sup>4</sup> He captured the fortified cities of Judah and marched against Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> Shemaiah the prophet visited Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah who were assembled in Jerusalem because of Shishak. He said to them, "This is what the LORD says: 'You have rejected me, so I have rejected you and will hand you over to Shishak.'" <sup>56</sup> The leaders of Israel and the king humbled themselves and said, "The LORD is just." <sup>57</sup> When the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, he gave this message to Shemaiah. <sup>58††</sup> "They have humbled themselves, so I will not destroy them. I will deliver them soon. <sup>59</sup> My anger will not be unleashed against††† Jerusalem through<sup>59†</sup> Shishak. <sup>8</sup> Yet they will become his subjects, so they

A concubine's status was more elevated than a mere servant, but she was not free and did not have the legal rights of a free wife. The children of a concubine could, in some instances, become equal heirs with the children of the free wife. After the period of the Judges concubines may have become more of a royal prerogative (2 Sam 21:10-14; 1 Kgs 11:3). ‡‡ tn: Heb "and Rehoboam appointed for a head Abijah son of Maacah for ruler among his brothers, indeed to make him king." ‡‡† tn: Heb "and he was discerning and broke up from all his sons to all the lands of Judah and Benjamin, to all the fortified cities." ‡‡‡ tn: "and he asked for a multitude of wives." § tn: Heb "also I have rejected you into the hand of Shishak." §† tn: Or "fair," meaning the LORD §†† tn: Heb "the word of the LORD" §‡ tn: Heb "and I will give to them soon deliverance." §†† tn: Or "gush forth upon." §† tn: Heb "by the hand of."

<sup>4</sup> Abijah ascended Mount Zemaraim, in the Ephraimite hill country, and said : "Listen to me, Jeroboam and all Israel! <sup>5</sup> Don't you realize that the LORD God of Israel has given David and his dynasty lasting dominion over Israel by a formal agreement? <sup>6</sup> Jeroboam son of Nebat, a servant of Solomon son of David, rose up and rebelled against his master. <sup>7</sup> Lawless good-for-nothing men†† gathered around him and conspired‡ against Rehoboam son of Solomon, when Rehoboam was an inexperienced young man†† and could not resist them. <sup>8</sup> Now you are declaring that you will resist the LORD's rule through the Davidic dynasty. ‡‡ You have a huge army,‡‡‡ and bring with you the gold calves that Jeroboam made for you as gods. <sup>9</sup> But you banished‡‡‡ the LORD's priests, Aaron's descendants, and the Levites, and appointed your own priests just as the surrounding nations do ! Anyone who comes to consecrate himself with a young bull or seven rams becomes a priest of these fake gods!<sup>§10</sup> But as for us, the LORD is our God and we have not rejected him. Aaron's descendants serve as the LORD's priests and the Levites assist them with the work. <sup>§11</sup> They offer burnt sacrifices to the LORD every morning and every evening, along with fragrant incense. They arrange the Bread of the Presence on a ritually clean table and light the lamps on the gold lampstand every evening. Certainly§†† we are observing the LORD our God's regulations, but you have rejected him. <sup>12</sup> Now look, God is with us as our leader. His priests are ready to blow the trumpets to signal the attack against you.§† You Israelites, don't fight against the LORD God of your ancestors, §†† for you will not win!"

Asa's Religious and Military Accomplishments

<sup>11</sup> Asa prayed‡‡ to the LORD his God: "O LORD, there is no one but you who can help the weak when they are vastly outnumbered. ‡‡‡ Help us, O LORD our God, for we rely on you and have marched on your behalf against this huge army.‡‡ O LORD our God, don't let men prevail against you!" <sup>§12</sup> The LORD struck down the Cushites before Asa and Judah. The Cushites fled, <sup>13</sup> and Asa and his army chased them as far as Gerar. The Cushites were wiped out; §† they were shattered before the LORD and his army. <sup>247</sup> But as for you, be strong and don't get discouraged, <sup>25</sup> for your work will be rewarded." <sup>26</sup>

<sup>8</sup> When Asa heard these words and the prophecy of Oded the prophet, he was encouraged. <sup>27</sup> He removed the detestable idols from the entire land of Judah and Benjamin and from the cities he had seized in the Ephraimite hill country. He repaired the altar of the LORD in front of the porch of the LORD's temple. <sup>28</sup>

<sup>9</sup> He assembled all Judah and Benjamin, as well as the settlers<sup>29</sup> from Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon who had come to live with them. Many people from Israel had come there to live<sup>30</sup> when they saw that the LORD his God was with him. <sup>10</sup> They assembled in Jerusalem in the third month of the fifteenth year of Asa's reign. <sup>11</sup> At that time<sup>31</sup> they sacrificed to the LORD some of the plunder they had brought back, including 700 head of cattle and 7,000 sheep. <sup>3212</sup> They solemnly agreed<sup>33</sup> to seek the LORD God of their ancestors<sup>34</sup> with their whole heart and being. <sup>13</sup> Anyone who would not seek the LORD God of Israel would be executed, whether they were young or old, <sup>35</sup> male or female. <sup>14</sup> They swore their allegiance to the LORD, shouting their approval loudly and sounding trumpets and horns. <sup>3615</sup> All Judah was happy about the oath, because they made the vow with their whole heart. They willingly sought the LORD and he responded to them.<sup>37</sup> He made them secure on every side. <sup>38</sup>

Asa's Failures

16 In the thirty-sixth year of Asa's reign, King Baasha of Israel attacked Judah, and he established Ramah as a military outpost to prevent anyone from leaving or entering the land of King Asa of Judah. <sup>12</sup> Asa took all the silver and gold that was left in the treasuries of the LORD's temple and of the royal palace and sent it to King Ben Hadad of Syria, ruler in Damascus, along with this message: <sup>3</sup> "I want to make a treaty with you, like the one our fathers made."† See, I have sent you silver and gold. Break your treaty with King Baasha of Israel, so he will retreat from my land." <sup>14</sup> Ben Hadad accepted King Asa's offer and ordered his army commanders to attack the cities of Israel. † They conquered‡ Ijon, Dan, Abel Maim, †† and all the storage cities of Naphtali. <sup>5</sup> When Baasha heard the news, he stopped fortifying‡ Ramah and abandoned the project. <sup>56</sup> King Asa ordered all the men of Judah to carry away the stones and wood that Baasha had used to build Ramah. † He used the materials to build up‡† Geba and Mizpah.

<sup>7</sup> At that time Hanani the prophet‡† visited King Asa of Judah and said to him: "Because you relied on the king of Syria and did not rely on the LORD your God, the army of the king of Syria has escaped from your hand. <sup>8</sup> Did not the Cushites and Libyans have a huge army with chariots and a very large number of horsemen? But when you relied on the LORD, he handed them over to you! <sup>9</sup> Certainly‡† the LORD watches the whole earth carefully‡† and is ready to strengthen those who are devoted to him. † You have acted foolishly in this matter; from now on you will have war. <sup>10</sup> Asa was so angry at the prophet, he put him in jail. †† Asa also oppressed some of the people at that time.

Asa's Reign Ends

They made a huge bonfire to honor him. <sup>21</sup>

17 His son Jehoshaphat replaced him as king and solidified his rule over Israel. <sup>22</sup> He placed troops in all of Judah's fortified cities and posted garrisons<sup>23</sup> throughout the land of Judah and in the cities of Ephraim that his father Asa had seized.

There were a thousand officers from Judah. †† Adnah the commander led 300,000 skilled warriors, <sup>15</sup> Jehochanan the commander led 280,000, <sup>16</sup> and Amasi-ah son of Zikri, who volunteered to serve the LORD , led 200,000 skilled warriors.

<sup>17</sup> From Benjamin, Eliada, a skilled warrior, led 200,000 men who were equipped with bows and shields, <sup>18</sup> and Jehozabad led 180,000 trained warriors.

in their royal robes, at the threshing floor at§§§ the entrance of the gate of Samaria. All the prophets were prophesying before them. <sup>10</sup> Zedekiah son of Ke-naanah made iron horns and said, "This is what the LORD says, 'With these you will gore Syria until they are destroyed!'" <sup>11</sup> All the prophets were prophesying the same, saying, "Attack Ramoth Gilead! You will succeed; the LORD will hand it over to the king!" <sup>12</sup> Now the messenger who went to summon Micaiah said to him, "Look, the prophets are in complete agreement that the king will succeed." <sup>18</sup> Your words must agree with theirs; you must predict success!" <sup>19</sup><sup>13</sup> But Micaiah said, "As certainly as the LORD lives, I will say what my God tells me to say!"

<sup>14</sup> Micaiah<sup>20</sup> came before the king and the king asked him, "Micaiah, should we attack Ramoth Gilead or not?" He answered him, "Attack! You will succeed; they will be handed over to you." <sup>21</sup><sup>15</sup> The king said to him, "How many times must I make you solemnly promise in<sup>22</sup> the name of the LORD to tell me only the truth?" <sup>16</sup> Micaiah<sup>23</sup> replied, "I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains like sheep that have no shepherd. Then the LORD said, 'They have no master. They should go home in peace.'" <sup>17</sup> The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "Didn't I tell you he does not prophesy prosperity for me, but disaster?" <sup>18</sup> Micaiah<sup>24</sup> said, "That being the case, hear the word of the LORD : I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, with all the heavenly assembly standing on his right and on his left. <sup>19</sup> The LORD said, 'Who will deceive King Ahab of Israel, so he will attack Ramoth Gilead and die there?' 28 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah attacked Ramoth Gilead. 29 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "I will disguise myself and then enter‡‡ the battle; but you wear your royal attire." So the king of Israel disguised himself and they entered the battle. 30 Now the king of Syria had ordered his chariot commanders, "Do not fight common soldiers or high ranking officers;‡‡† fight only the king of Israel!" 31 When the chariot commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they said, "He must be the king of Israel !" So they turned and attacked him, but Jehoshaphat cried out. The LORD helped him; God lured them away from him. 32 When the chariot commanders realized he was not the king of Israel, they turned away from him. 33 Now an archer shot an arrow at random‡‡‡ and it struck the king of Israel between the plates of his armor. The king‡ ordered his charioteer, "Turn around and take me from the battle line, †† for I am wounded." 34 While the battle raged throughout the day, the king stood propped

4 Jehoshaphat lived in Jerusalem. 18 He went out among the people from Beer Sheba to the hill country of Ephraim and encouraged them to follow‡‡ the LORD God of their ancestors. 20‡ He appointed judges throughout the land and in each of the fortified cities of Judah. 21‡ He told the judges, "Be careful what you do, 22 for you are not judging for men, but for the LORD , who will be with you when you make judicial decisions. 7 Respect the LORD and make careful decisions, for the LORD our God disapproves of injustice, partiality, and bribery." 23

8 In Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed some Levites, priests, and Israelite family leaders to judge on behalf of the LORD 24 and to settle disputes among the residents of Jerusalem. 25‡ He commanded them: "Carry out your duties with respect for the LORD , with honesty, and with pure motives. 26‡‡ Whenever your countrymen who live in the cities bring a case before you‡‡ (whether it involves a violent crime‡‡ or other matters related to the law, commandments, rules, and regulations ), warn them that they must not sin against the LORD . message of his prophets and you will win." 21 He met with the people and appointed musicians to play before the LORD and praise his majestic splendor. As they marched ahead of the warriors they said: "Give thanks to the LORD, for his loyal love endures." ††

22 When they began to shout and praise, the LORD suddenly attacked the Ammonites, Moabites, and men from Mount Seir who were invading Judah, and they were defeated. 23 The Ammonites and Moabites attacked the men from Mount Seir and annihilated them. ††† When they had finished off the men of Seir, they attacked and destroyed one another. 24 When the men of Judah arrived at the observation post overlooking the desert and looked at the huge army, they saw dead bodies on the ground; there were no survivors! 25 Jehoshaphat and his men went to gather the plunder; they found a huge amount of supplies, clothing and valuable items. They carried away everything they could. † There was so much plunder, it took them three days to haul it off. ††

26 On the fourth day they assembled in the Valley of Berachah, where they praised the LORD. So that place is called the Valley of Berachah to this very day. 27 Then all the men of Judah and Jerusalem returned joyfully to Jerusalem with Jehoshaphat leading them; the LORD had given them reason to rejoice over their enemies. 28 They entered Jerusalem to the sound of stringed instruments and trumpets and proceeded to the temple of the LORD. 29 All the kingdoms of the surrounding lands were afraid of God when they heard how the LORD had fought against Israel's enemies. 30 Jehoshaphat's kingdom enjoyed peace; his God made him secure on every side. 18

Jehoshaphat's Reign Ends

31 Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he became king and he reigned for twenty-five years in Jerusalem. 19 His mother was Azubah, the daughter of Shilhi. 32 He followed in his father Asa's footsteps and was careful to do what the LORD approved. 2033 However, the high places were not eliminated; the people were still not devoted to the God of their ancestors. 21

34 The rest of the events of Jehoshaphat's reign, from start to finish, are recorded in the Annals of Jehu son of Hanani which are included in Scroll of the Kings of Israel. 22

35 Later King Jehoshaphat of Judah made an alliance with King Ahaziah of Israel, who 23 did evil. 36 They agreed 24 to make large seagoing merchant ships; 25 they built the ships in Ezion Geber. 37 Eliezer son of Dodavahu from Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, "Because 26 you made an alliance with Ahaziah, the LORD will shatter what you have made." The ships were wrecked and unable to go to sea. 27

21 Jehoshaphat passed away 28 and was buried with his ancestors 29 in the City of David. 30 His son Jehoram 31 replaced him as king.

Jehoram's Reign

2 His brothers, Jehoshaphat's sons, were Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, Azariahu, Michael, and Shephatiah. All of these were sons of King Jehoshaphat of Israel. 323 Their father gave them many presents, including silver, gold, and other precious items, along with fortified cities in Judah. But he gave the kingdom to Jehoram because he was the firstborn.

4 Jehoram took control of his father's kingdom and became powerful. 33 Then he killed all his brothers, 34 as well as some of the officials of Israel. 5 Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he became king and he

In the interest of consistency some translations (e.g., NAB, NRSV) substitute "Judah" for "Israel" here. 33 tn: Heb "and Jehoram arose over the kingdom of his father and strengthened himself." 34 tn: Heb "and he killed all his brothers with the sword."

The Edomites, who had surrounded him, attacked at night and defeated him and his chariot officers.<sup>46</sup> So Edom has remained free from Judah's control to this very day.<sup>47</sup> At that same time Libnah also rebelled and freed themselves from Judah's control<sup>48</sup> because Jehoram<sup>49</sup> rejected the LORD God of his ancestors.<sup>11</sup> He also built high places on the hills of Judah; he encouraged the residents of Jerusalem to be unfaithful to the LORD<sup>50</sup> and led Judah away from the LORD.<sup>51</sup>

Athaliah is Eliminated

son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat son of Zikri. <sup>2</sup> They traveled throughout Judah and assembled the Levites from all the cities of Judah, as well as the Israelite family leaders.

They came to Jerusalem, <sup>19<sup>3</sup></sup> and the whole assembly made a covenant with the king in the temple of God. Jehoiada<sup>20</sup> said to them, "The king's son will rule, just as the LORD promised David's descendants. <sup>4</sup> This is what you must do. One third of you priests and Levites who are on duty during the Sabbath will guard the doors. <sup>5</sup> Another third of you will be stationed at the royal palace and still another third at the Foundation Gate. All the others<sup>21</sup> will stand in the courtyards of the LORD's temple. <sup>6</sup> No one must enter the LORD's temple except the priests and Levites who are on duty. They may enter because they are ceremonially pure. All the others should carry out their assigned service to the LORD. <sup>7</sup> The Levites must surround the king. Each of you must hold his weapon in his hand. Whoever tries to enter the temple<sup>22</sup> must be killed. You must accompany the king wherever he goes." <sup>23</sup>

<sup>8</sup> The Levites and all the men of Judah<sup>24</sup> did just as Jehoiada the priest ordered. Each of them took his men, those who were on duty during the Sabbath as well as those who were off duty on the Sabbath. Jehoiada the priest did not release his divisions from their duties. <sup>9</sup> Jehoiada the priest gave to the officers of the units of hundreds King David's spears and shields<sup>25</sup> that were kept in God's temple. <sup>10</sup> He placed the men at their posts, each holding his weapon in his hand. They lined up from the south side of the temple to the north side and stood near the altar and the temple, surrounding the king. <sup>26<sup>11</sup></sup> Jehoiada and his sons led out the king's son and placed on him the crown and the royal insignia. <sup>27</sup> They proclaimed him king and poured olive oil on his head.<sup>28</sup> They declared, "Long live the king!"

temple of your God. Be quick about it!" But the Levites delayed.

<sup>12</sup> The king and Jehoiada gave it to the construction foremen<sup>22</sup> assigned to the LORD's temple. They hired carpenters and craftsmen to repair the LORD's temple, as well as those skilled in working with iron and bronze to restore the LORD's temple. <sup>13</sup> They worked hard and made the repairs. <sup>23</sup> They followed the measurements specified for God's temple and restored it. <sup>2414</sup> When they were finished, they brought the rest of the silver to the king and Jehoiada. They used it to make items for the LORD's temple, including items used in the temple service and for burnt sacrifices, pans, and various other gold and silver items. Throughout Jehoiada's lifetime, burnt sacrifices were offered regularly in the LORD's temple.
